Welcome and Usage

Welcome to the 2012 Journal of the Baltimore-Washington Conference (228th Annual Session). This is the official record adopted by the Annual Conference held on May 30 to June 1, 2012. Let us know your reactions, concerns and suggestions after using this resource. Please contact Kayla Spears at kspears@bwcumc.org with comments and suggestions.

HOW TO NAVIGATE

Start with the Table of Contents on the first page. Click on any link to be taken to that section (for a full listing of the entire Journal, click on "Journal Table of Contents.") You can click on any of the Journal items to go directly to the page where that item is found. You must select the "hand" tool to enable using links on the Table of Contents page. This tool is located at the top left of your screen and you'll know that you have it when the image of a small hand appears as your cursor.

Once you enter the Journal, at the bottom of your screen, there are blue arrows to move you from page to page, as well as a round green "back" button that will take you back to the previous page. If you get lost, use the scroll bar on the right to take you back to page 1. The plus (+) and minus (-) signs in the upper tool bar help you enlarge or shrink the page.

To copy text from this version of the Journal, click on the "Select Text" tool in the top left corner of the page, then click on and drag over the text you'd like to copy. Release the mouse, right click in the highlighted text and select "copy to clipboard." Next, open the application you want the text placed in (such as a Microsoft Word document), and go to "Edit" at the top and "Paste" in the drop down menu.

Please note that links are disabled when you are using the "Select Text" tool. To allow links to work again, you must re-select the "Hand" tool. If you try to use a link while using the "Select Text" tool and come up with an error message, click the green "Back" arrow at the bottom of the page and then click the "Hand" tool.

To search the Journal for all instances of a name or word, go to "Edit" at the top of the page. Click on "Search" in the drop down menu. A box will appear at the right. After clicking "Search," it will find all instances of that sequence of letters. Remember that if you are searching for a pastor, they are listed by last names first.

III. DAILY PROCEEDINGSTWO HUNDRED TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE*Marriott Waterfront Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland*OPENING WORSHIP*Wednesday morning, May 30, 2012*Grand Ballroom

Lay and clergy members of the 228th session of the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference gathered in the Grand Ballroom of the Baltimore Marriott Waterfront Hotel in Baltimore to the singing of “Love Can Change the World.” We greeted one another in the name of God. To the congregational singing of “All Hail the Power of Jesus’ Name” and led by liturgical dancers, the Cabinet and Extended Cabinet, along with the guest preacher, processed in. Bishop Schol offered words of welcome and introduced the preacher, the Rev. Zan Wesley Holmes Jr., pastor emeritus of St. Luke Community United Methodist Church in Dallas. Rev. Holmes was elected to the Texas House of Representatives from 1968 to 1972, while also serving as a United Methodist district superintendent. He is the author of Reaching for Renewal (1991), Encountering Jesus (1992), and When Trouble Comes (1996). He is widely known for his role as narrator and host of the well-known Disciple I Bible Study video series produced by Abingdon Press.

Liam Greaves gave the Invocation, followed by a two minute video produced by youth and young adults that showed “people on the street” responding to the question: “What does the church mean to you?”

Following the singing of “A New Hallelujah,” Dr. Tracy Radosovic narrated the Scripture: portions of Acts 10 and Luke 22:14-30.

Rev. Holmes’ sermon, titled “Have We Checked Our Egos at the Door?” reminded us that any status or standing we have is a gift. God keeps us coming back because God wants to use us.

After the sermon, Bishop Schol asked that we “give it all to Jesus.” People were invited to come forward to pray. Cabinet and Extended Cabinet members prayed with those who came forward as the congregation joined in singing “All to Jesus I Surrender.”

Bishop Schol reminded us that the offering collected would go toward providing housing for those who are homeless. The offering was received during the singing of “You’re the God of this City,” and “There Is No One Like Our God.”

Bishop Schol and Rev. Holmes led in the celebration of Holy Communion. The congregation was invited “to come as you are.” A variety of people made their way from the four corners of the ballroom to the Communion table, forming a semi-circle around the celebrants. Retirees, Cabinet and Extended Cabinet members served the elements. During the receiving of the bread and cup, the assembly sang “There’s a Spirit of Love in This Place” and “Spirit Song.” After all had shared in the sacrament, the bishop sent us forth with a blessing followed by the singing of “For Everyone Born.”

CLERGY EXECUTIVE SESSION AND BALLOTINGWednesday morning, May 30, 2012*Grand Ballroom

After the opening worship service, the clergy remained in the Grand Ballroom for the Clergy Executive Session. They gathered to the singing of “Blessed Assurance.” Copies of the 2012 Board of Ordained Ministry Report to the Executive Session were distributed. The Rev. Mary Jo Sims, secretary of the annual conference, made the organizing motion: “In accordance with paragraph 602 of the 2008 Book of Discipline, I move that full clergy members of the conference and lay members of the Board of Ordained Ministry be seated with voice and vote; that provisional members under the 1992 and 2000 Disciplines, affiliate members, associate members, and local pastors under full-time and part-time appointment to a pastoral charge, be allowed to sit in the clergy session with voice but without vote; that other persons under appointment as clergy, the Executive Secretary to the Bishop and the Administrative Assistant working with the Board of Ordained Ministry be allowed to sit without voice and vote; and that this be the operative procedure unless the chair deems it necessary to convene a closed session.”

The motion was approved.

The bishop greeted the session and informed the clergy that they would care for the business portion of the session first and then break for lunch, after which there would be a time for the sharing and celebrations. He then called upon the Rev. Ianther Mills, Dean of the Cabinet. Rev. Mills gave the following report in response to Questions 17 of the report: Are all the clergy members of the conference blameless in their life and official administration?

“We support and work closely with all of our clergy and congregations to assist them to become like Christ as they call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples for the transformation of the world. Our goal, as John Wesley challenged each of us, is to move closer to perfection in our personal and professional lives, all for the sake of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Through ordination, commissioning and credentialing at various levels, the church affirms and continues the apostolic ministry through persons empowered by the Holy Spirit. Those who have sought to follow in the path of this tradition, especially as clergy in The United Methodist Church, have covenanted with each other to hold one another accountable to a lifetime of commitment and discipline.

“The bishop and Appointive Cabinet have carefully reviewed the character and conduct of the clergy of the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church in accordance with paragraphs 604.4 and 605.6 of the 2008 Book of Discipline and found that the majority of clergy are faithful in fulfilling their calling while at the same time exemplifying models of Christian character.

“Meanwhile there are some clergy that the bishop and Cabinet are working with on issues of character and effectiveness in accordance with the provisions of The Book of Discipline.”

The bishop then turned to the chair of the Board of Ordained Ministry, the Rev. Joye Jones. Rev. Jones greeted the body and suggested that we could read the information for items at our leisure. The Rev. Mary Kay Totty raised a point of order regarding question 18. Since the Committee on Investigations is no longer a part of the new proposed structure, she wondered why names appeared under the membership of that committee (question 18.a in the report). Rev. Jones pointed out that we still have six months under the “old system.” Those nominated and listed under Question 18, a and b were approved.

Rev. Jones directed our attention to Question 21.a, b, and c, a listing of those appointed as full- or part-time licensed local pastors. The session approved those listed. Questions 25, clergy in good standing from other Christian denominations serving in our conference, and Question 26 b, affiliate members in our conference without vote, were both approved.

Question 27 concerns those who are elected as associate members. The person listed was approved for associate membership. Then the Rev. Stacey Cole Wilson read the names of those elected as Provisional Elders (Question 28.b) and they came before the body. The candidates were dismissed. The motion was made to approve the candidates en masse. The motion carried. The candidates returned to the ballroom, were greeted warmly by the clergy session and welcomed by Bishop Schol and the Revs. Jones, Wilson, and Eugene Matthews. The Provisional Candidates and Associate Member were seated among the body.

Question 29.b required a vote because one of those listed, Shari Michelle McCourt, has exceeded the eight-year time limit allowed a provisional member before ordination. Cited paragraph recommendation that Shari receive one additional year of provisional time. Motion carries.

Questions 31, 32, and 33 concern matters regarding those elected to full clergy membership and ordinations as Deacons or Elders. The Rev. Mark Smiley, Full Member Registrar for the Board of Ordained Ministry, read the names of the candidates. The candidates appeared before the body and then returned to an area beyond the assembly. The candidates approved en masse. They were invited to return to the stage and were most warmly greeted by the body and welcomed by the Revs. Jones, Smiley and Matthews. The bishop also welcomed the candidates and expressed his gratitude for their dedication. Rev. Matthews prayed for both the Provisional and Full Member Classes. The Ordinands were then seated among their sisters and brothers.

Question 42 listed those who have been discontinued as Provisional Members. Those listed have done this voluntarily. The motion carried. Question 48 listed those who have died. We will remember them at our service of the saints.

Question 50 notes those who are on voluntary leave of absence. For those having been on such leave for more than five years, a 2/3 majority vote for approval is required. The motion that Rev. Lawrence Bropleh be approved to continue on such leave carried. Question 50.b concerning involuntary leave also required a vote. The motion that Rev. Glen Strickler continue on such leave also carried.

The Rev. Valerie Barnes then rose to offer two motions for a Declaratory Decision from the Judicial Council. The first motion was as follows: Request for a Declaratory Decision from the Judicial Council on the meaning, effect and application of paragraphs 354, 355, and 337 in determining if the bishop, Cabinet, Conference Relations Committee or Board of Ordained Ministry of the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church could require a leave of absence for clergy in good standing in 2010.

The motion did not pass.

The Rev. Valerie Barnes then made the following: Request for a Declaratory Decision from the Judicial Council on the effect and application of the 2010 Policy Statement and Protocol on appointment making of the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church as well as ¶354, ¶355 and ¶337 (2008 Book of Discipline) in the case of Rev. Valerie A. Barnes.

Specifically, in 2010 did the bishop, Cabinet, Board of Ordained Ministry and Conference Relations Committee appropriately follow the protocol for appointment making of the Baltimore-Washington Conference as well as ¶ 337 (2008 Book of Discipline) in the case of Rev. Valerie A. Barnes? Did the bishop, Cabinet, Board of Ordained Ministry and Conference Relations Committee appropriately apply ¶ 354 and ¶ 355 in lieu of an appointment for Rev. Barnes? Did the bishop, Cabinet, Board of Ordained Ministry and Conference Relations Committee appropriately follow the protocol for request of Leave of Absence (¶ 354 and ¶ 355 2008 Book of Discipline)? Could the Conference Relations Committee and/or Executive Committee of the Board of Ordained Ministry have cancelled the request from Rev. Barnes for Voluntary Leave of Absence in the midst of the process?

The Rev. Laura Easto spoke in favor of the request, reminding the body that “this really is our process in our denomination. It is the only manner in which we currently have in our United Methodist system to check and make sure that policy and procedures are being followed on an annual conference level is to ask the Judicial Council for a ruling. It is really up to us whether we want to allow Valerie’s question to be answered at our highest level. This is really the only mechanism we have right now to hold appointed Cabinets and bishops accountable in this process.” The Rev. Charles Harrell also spoke in favor of the request, contending that it is important for us to be a bit self-critical as an annual conference given recent Judicial Council decisions regarding our processes around disciplinary matters. This is simply another way of maintaining the appropriate checks in our system to make sure we are following good procedures and practices and that the rights of clergy are maintained within the life of the annual conference.

The Rev. Bruce Jones asked for clarification about the circumstances that had raised the debate over this particular issue relating to Rev. Valerie Barnes. The bishop called upon the Rev. David Cooney, former chair of the Conference Relations Committee (CRC), who traced the history of the circumstances surrounding this issue. The request for a change of status was brought to CRC. It originated with both the Cabinet and Rev. Barnes. Rev. Barnes was asked if she were going on voluntary leave and wanted to sign the Change of Status form. She said yes. She was given ample opportunity not to sign the form and was instructed that she was not required to go on voluntary leave and that she could go through our regular administrative hearing process. She chose to sign the form and was placed on voluntary leave by this body (the Executive Clergy Session). The following year, she was invited to make a request to come off voluntary leave and was given ample opportunity to do so. She chose not to do that. The Rev. Laurie Gates-Ward, current chair of CRC, confirmed that the same invitation was issued this year and that once again Rev. Barnes requested to remain on voluntary leave of absence.

Rev. Barnes responded, saying that it had never been her intent to debate the particulars of her case on the floor of the Clergy Executive Session. She said that this year she initiated the contact to determine to whom she was to send her letter regarding her leave status for this year. She explained that in 2010 she was given four options and 24 hours to determine “what would happen to me for the rest of my life.” One of those was voluntary leave of absence. She did not see the statements made by the district superintendent on the form for change of status until one hour before the convening of the Clergy Executive Session in 2010. The 90-day rule was not followed. Rev. Barnes said that there was no conversation with BOOM and that she only spoke with Rev. Cooney by way of emails and phone calls and that even he acknowledged that she had not been given much of a choice other than to sign the form and take leave. She said that she believed there is reason to ask questions about this process.

Rev. Cooney clarified that this matter came together with very short notice and some quick decisions were made. However, it was stated in person (to Rev. Barnes) unequivocally that it was not a requirement to sign the change of status form and that there is a process that can be followed; that if Rev. Barnes were not in agreement with what was offered that she should not sign the form and should take advantage of the protections that are provided. Rev. Cooney also stated that the preference is to be able to have such matters resolved before the 90-day requirement. Many times, leaves of absence come up between sessions or close to sessions of annual conference. If all are in agreement then matters can move forward. If not, there is a process for that.

Rev. Tony Hunt, superintendent of the Baltimore Metropolitan District, said that without getting into details of the supervisory and appointive process as it relates to Rev. Barnes, there is a record of numerous emails and conversations as well as certified letters sent indicating where they were in the appointive process that year (2010) and what the options were looking like for an appointment or appropriate status for Rev. Barnes.

The Rev. Mamie Williams asked about the committee that was to be formed to look into the process(es) regarding leave. Had such a committee been formed? Rev. Joye Jones responded that the committee the Judicial Council recommended concerned involuntary leave, not voluntary leave. That committee had been formed under the leadership of the Rev. Eugene Matthews and they found that, as an annual conference, we had followed procedures relating to involuntary leaves of absence.

The body then voted and the request for a Declaratory Decision passed. The body then took up Question 50.c. It passed. The body also approved those listed in Question 52.c: people who had been granted incapacity leave. Those retiring were noted and approved and were honored at the luncheon following the clergy session. Question 66 regarding the Committee on Investigation for Diaconal Ministers was approved. Question 77 approving those who had been appointed to less than full time service was approved by a better than $\frac{3}{4}$ majority. Question 80.c, those who have been appointed to extension ministries under provisions of ¶ 344.1d were approved by a better than two-thirds majority vote.

Rev. Jones then moved acceptance of the entire BOOM Report.

Rev. Charles Harrell inquired about the circumstances surrounding the name that appeared under Question 46.a, those people who have had their conference membership terminated by withdrawal to unite with another denomination. Rev. Harrell inquired if some light could be shed on the termination of credentials for Rev. Douglas Sands to unite with another denomination. The bishop called upon Rev. David Cooney who explained that in November 2011, Rev. Sands sent a letter to the Episcopal Office and the Board of Ordained Ministry stating that the church he was serving had withdrawn from our denomination and that he was going to serve as its pastor. According to Judicial Council rulings and the Discipline, this is considered withdrawing from the denomination. BOOM reviewed the letter and agreed that indeed Rev. Sands had withdrawn from our denomination. The General Conference Finance and Administration legal department and the Board of Higher Education and Ministry agreed that this was a withdrawal. Such withdrawal also requires a surrender of credentials and that has been requested of Rev. Sands, although he has not yet done so. Numerous letters have been sent, some certified, as well as numerous emails and phone calls. An appeal was made as recently as a month ago saying that we would like him to remain a part of the conference. No response to any of the correspondence has been received.

Rev. Jones received a copy of the letter sent to Rev. Sands, and also a letter sent to her as chair, in which the bishop and Cabinet were requesting that Rev. Sands be considered withdrawn because of the letter he had written. Rev. Jones referred the matter to CRC. On Feb. 10, 2011, Rev. Laurie Gates-Ward, chair of CRC, sent Rev. Sands a certified letter and an email inviting him to a hearing of CRC on Feb. 25. Rev. Sands did not attend the hearing. Consequently, he was informed by certified letter that CRC had recommended that his status be changed from retired to withdrawn. At its March 14 meeting, the Board concurred unanimously with that recommendation. Rev. Sands was notified by email and certified letter (for which he signed) of this decision. The Rev. Laura Easto asked for clarification: Is it the interpretation of the bishop, Cabinet, and Board that the church's withdrawal caused a change in Rev. Sands' status? The answer is yes, Rev. Jones said, because Rev. Sands said in his letter that he was choosing to withdraw along with his church. The Rev. Loretta Johnson asked what impact this change has on Rev. Sand's pension. Rev. Jones replied that this does not affect his pension but does make him ineligible to participate in the retiree health plan. Rev. Sands had called the conference Office of Pension and Health Benefits to inquire regarding the status of his pension and health benefits if he were no longer a part of the denomination.

The Rev. Terri Cofiell rose to draw the body's attention to the omission of the name of the Rev. Marcus Earp, who died in July, among the retired Elders (see Question 48.c) who had died during the past year. She wondered if he would be honored at the Service of the Saints. The bishop responded that this issue would be cared for.

The Rev. David Simpson inquired about the criteria used (see Question 37) in determining who transfers into our conference from other annual conferences. The Rev. David Cooney, assistant to the bishop, responded that there is a delicate balance that includes considering the talent and skill of those from outside who will be able to serve well in this conference balanced with our "homegrown" clergy. There is consideration of those who have a record of turning around churches and who are serving well in our annual conference. In some cases, particular skill sets as well as evaluations from congregations and DSs are considered. Those seeking transfers are interviewed by representatives from the Cabinet and the CRC and then the entire CRC. These groups make recommendations to move matters forward regarding transfers.

The Rev. DaeHwa Park inquired about the process toward ordination for those from other countries who do not have working visas. Rev. Jones responded that there is now a policy in place that no one who does not have work status can be appointed but they are allowed to move through the process towards ordination.

A vote was then taken, and the motion to accept the full Board report carried. Amid applause, the bishop recognized the members of the Board and also thanked Debra Albrecht for all her work in assisting the Board. Rev. Jones, whose tenure on the Board and as chair expires this quadrennium, echoed that appreciation and also thanked the members of the Board. The bishop expressed his appreciation for Rev. Jones' leadership. The bishop then reminded the body that we would reconvene for lunch.

After the clergy had finished lunch, the bishop called us together again for a time of celebration and sharing. The Revs. Rebecca Iannicelli and Laurie Gates-Ward, on behalf of the Board of Ordained Ministry, presented Rev. Joye Jones with a gift certificate to the Waypoint Inn in St. Michael's. Rev. Jones gave thanks for the work of the Board. The Rev. Ianther Mills, Dean of the Cabinet, presented the Rev. Timothy West, pastor of Westphalia UMC in Upper Marlboro, with the Harry Denman Award for excellence in the field of evangelism.

The names of those who are celebrating 50 years of ordained ministry were read: Harry Topping Baxter, Jr., William Humphries Bice, William R. Boyer, Thomas L. Brunkow, Merle D. Correll, G. Edward Grove, Clifford L. Harrison, Eddie L. Henry, Robert L. Hurley, Ludwig L. Lankford, Weller R. Lewis, Jr., Russell B. McClatchey, Lovell Parham, William Louis Piel, Donald S. Stewart Jr., and Maurice E. Vineyard. They came forward to receive certificates of appreciation.

Those who have served 40 years of ordained ministry were likewise celebrated: John H. Campbell, Darryl L. Gill, August G. Lageman and Alva Daniel Tice.

The list of those who had served 25 years as ordained ministers was read. The following came forward to be recognized and receive certificates of appreciation: Robert G. Brennan Jr., Kenda Creasy Dean, Karen N. Gould, Gerard A. Green Jr., Karin C. Walker, Stephen L. Larsen, Patrick J. Malone, Mary S. McCurdy, Norman J. Obenshain, James E. Skillington III, Constance C. Smith, John T. Smith, LaReesa C. Smith-Horn, Mark D. Venson, Suzanne F. Weber, Kathryn T. Woodrow, and Catharine Anne Yarbrough.

Rev. Jones thanked them for their ministry and all the lives that have been transformed through them. Those who are retiring as of June 30, 2012, or who have retired during the past year were recognized. They came forward and received a standing ovation. The list of retirees can be found in the Board of Ordained Ministry Report, Questions 53.a and c; 55.a; and 56.a.

Attention was then directed to the bulletin that had been distributed that included a listing of recent accomplishments among the clergy. The Rev. Byron Brought then offered the benediction.

LAITY SESSION

Wednesday morning, May 30, 2012

Grand Ballroom

Laity were greeted with rousing renditions of “Holy, Holy, Holy,” and “Leaning on the Everlasting Arms” from the praise band led by Jimmy Sherrod. Delores Oden, the conference lay leader, called the laity session together. It opened with a Call and Response Litany, followed by the reading of Luke 10:1-3, Jesus sending the seventy-two out as witnesses. Oden then offered a prayer.

Oden stated that her tenure as Conference lay leader was coming to a close. She said that it has been an honor to serve and she expressed appreciation to the bishop, clergy, laity and staff of the Baltimore-Washington Conference for their journey with her these past eight years. She stated that it was a good walk for her and recognized the support she has received from the district lay leaders. She recognized those district lay leaders who are also ending their terms: Anthony Brzecko, Baltimore Region; Thomas Williams, Washington Region; Gary Mason, Western Region; and Richard Keller, Conference Lay Speaking Director. She also announced that the nominee for the new lay leader for the Conference is Ms. Delores Martin.

United Methodist Women

Nancy Randers-Pehrson, president of the Conference United Methodist Women, gave the first report. She proclaimed, “This is the day that the Lord has made.” She read from 2 Timothy: 1-6 and reminded the assembly to remain faithful. She explained that the new independent organization of the Women’s Division was approved at General Conference. It will be structurally separate while remaining missionally connected to the General Board of Global Ministries. Local, district and conference UMWs will stay the same. They will continue to reach out to serve our neighbors and to demonstrate love in action. She then cited some examples of such love in action, explaining that the BWC UMW has concentrated on immigration, human trafficking, and domestic violence issues:

- Forty-two people traveled to a two-day seminar at the United Nations in New York.
- Seventy-five people attended the first Maryland Legislative Advocacy Day in Annapolis.
- One hundred seventy women attended the Cooperative School of Christian Mission.
- The UMW distributed $400 to $740 to 16 students for scholarships and gave $10,000 to the Epworth House to support a Wesley Seminary student from Germany, Tabea Muenz.
- Along with the Northern Virginia Conference UMW, created a Learning Center at Wesley Seminary to educate new pastors about the UMW.
- In all, conference UMWs contributed nearly $400,000.

United Methodist Men

Darvin Hebron, president of the Conference United Methodist Men, presented the UMM report. He said that while in Nashville last March attending the gathering for presidents of conference UMMs, the Baltimore-Washington UMM received several awards. Among these were awards for chartering men's ministries, EMS (Every Man Shares) memberships, and an award for BWC having paid 100% of our apportionments. Hebron also cited the Potato Project. The men bagged and distributed potatoes provided by the Society of St. Andrew. He ended by saying that the BWC has an awesome group of men. He then presented Bishop Schol with the plaque for the BWC having paid 100% of its apportionments to the General Church. For a fuller report of UMM ministries, see page

The bishop expressed appreciation to both the UMM and the UMW. He also commented on how remarkable our conference laity are. Then he thanked Delores Oden for the eight years that she served as the lay leader to the BWC. He stated that she has been a helpful influence.

Youth Ministry

Tom Price, director for Youth Ministries and Video Production, came to the podium. He thanked the UMW and UMM presidents for their work at ROCK and for the way they love the kids. Price said that 15 years ago, Bishop May asked him to come and work with conference youth. It has been an incredible journey ever since, he said. He related some of the history of Conference Committee on Youth Ministry (CCYM) and ROCK, the annual conference youth retreat. ROCK has grown to 7,000 participants. We no longer need apportionment money to fund this event. ROCK is God's event and it has touched thousands of lives. Price expressed gratitude for what God has done and how God continues to bless him. A more complete Youth Ministry Report is on page

Young Adult Ministry

Darius Butler and Michael Parker presented the report for Young Adult ministry. Butler said that Young Adult Ministry is strong and doing well. The Young Adult Ministry has endeavored to live out the Great Commission in three ways: through Shift, a quarterly magazine produced by the young adults and sent to each local church; through quarterly gatherings of Conference young adults, and through the use of social media to communicate with one another. The Conference young adults understand that they serve a population and community that are very absent in our churches today. However, they persist in covenanting with the Annual Conference to continue to serve this population, confident that God will produce the increase. The Youth Ministry report is found on page

Lay Speaking

Richard Keller, Conference director of Lay Speaking Ministries, reported on that ministry. Local and certified lay speakers in attendance stood and were applauded by the assembly. Keller reminded the session that Lay Speaking is an opportunity for leadership and service within the church. He spoke about the work of the District Directors for Lay Speaking and expressed his appreciation for their efforts. He is stepping down after having served as director for four years. He is grateful for having had the opportunity to serve.

Certified Lay Ministry

Sandra King Shaw, Director for Certified Lay Ministry, directed the attention of those present to the handout detailing information regarding CLM that had been placed on the seats of chairs in the ballroom. Shaw said that God has taught us yet another way to connect God's people with God's mission. She explained the process for becoming a CLM: two years of study consisting of four seven week modules. There is a great deal of reading, study and writing involved plus a demonstration project to be designed by the completion of the fourth term of study. Then those who have completed the study program meet with the district committee on ministry, which recommends to the bishop and Cabinet those to be certified as CLMs. The local church then recognizes the new CLM, who is a minister but not a pastor. Shaw recognized Otis Hayes and Jacqueline Harris who are CLM instructors.

The CLM candidates were asked to stand and be acknowledged: William Ball, Mary Busby, Cecilia Carr, Jack Charlton, Burt Edmonson, Mary George, Irene Gillis, Alice Gray, Charlotte Green, Joyce Harris, Serene Harris, Vernie Huff, Ettadean Hyman, Wesley Jackson, George Jones, Tiffany Jones, Pat Myers, Shirley Myers, Kenneth Newby, Linda Parker, Darlene Howard, Genita Presley, Mary Saylor, Elizabeth Stemley, Eileen Washington, Denice Whalen-White, and William Hyper.

Delores Oden thanked the presenters of the reports. Michael Parker closed the session with prayer and those gathered responded with the singing of “Spirit of the Living God.”

FIRST PLENARY SESSION

Wednesday afternoon, May 30, 2012

Grand Ballroom

Organizing the Conference: Lay and clergy members of annual conference gathered in the Grand Ballroom to the song “Let the Glory Rise among Us,” provided by Jimmy Sherrod and his band. The band then taught the congregation “Cover the Earth.” The singing concluded with a rousing rendition of “And Are We Yet Alive?” The bishop introduced Sherrod, who in turn introduced the band. The bishop talked about the terrific team that backs him up and helps him prepare for annual conference. He then turned to Conference Secretary Mary Jo Sims who made the organizational motion for annual conference. The motion passed.

The bishop asked those who were first-timers at Annual Conference to stand. The bishop welcomed them and thanked them, saying that the number indicates that we are continually renewing ourselves. The Rev. J.W. Park offered the Invocation.

The bishop introduced the team of conference leaders who would be assisting in the Episcopal Address: Paul E. Eichelberger, CFO and conference treasurer; the Rev. Ianther Mills, dean of the Cabinet; the Rev. Tony Hunt, Baltimore Metropolitan District superintendent; and the Rev. Chris Holmes, Annapolis District superintendent. Rev. Holmes read from Isaiah 43.

Text of the Episcopal Address: The Prophet Isaiah had an uncanny sense of timing. He had a habit of sharing God’s compelling vision to the Israelites in just the right way, and just when they needed it the most. Isaiah spoke the Word of God when Israel was facing some tough challenges, having to dig deep to recover their primary identity as God’s people, and at the same time move forward during a time of restoration. These are the words God left ringing in their ears as Israel faced this critical time of renewal. Isaiah 43:19: “Behold, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it?” Now, thousands of years later, those same words from God are still ringing in our ears, even here at this annual conference session, as we face our challenges, recover our primary identity, and live into this time of restoration. “Behold, God is doing a new thing! Now it springs up.” Can you perceive it?

We see a church doing a new thing – a church with a God-sized vision, based in Gospel power that heals diseases, saves souls, eliminates poverty, raises up new dynamic spiritual leaders and grows missional congregations. We see a church where disciples gather for prodigal worship, connect with the non- and nominally religious, grow in small groups, engage in risk-taking mission and give generously to the needs of the world. We see a church that is preparing to receive and disciple new generations of believers.

It is a church whose unwavering belief in the Gospel compels it to be active in its backyard and around the world; a church that is giving bread to the hungry and sharing the bread of life for the soul. It is ending deaths by malaria and ending homelessness through supportive housing.

The church we see is the congregations of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. The world is our parish and you are responding to Jesus' call with daring and determination in partnership with the people of Maryland, Washington, the panhandle of West Virginia and Bermuda and with our Wesleyan brothers and sisters in Zimbabwe, Russia and South Korea. You have thrown open the doors of the church so that all may enter and all may go out in mission and ministry.

We see us emerging to be the church where the non- and nominally religious claim us as a spiritual movement that integrates meaning and purpose into their lives. You have been doing the hard work of communicating the Gospel, and while not changing the message, you are being innovative in how we share God's message and love. We see a new church that is forward thinking with social media and leaning forward into new expressions of the Gospel; a church that is not weighing in on being conservative or liberal, but weighing in on how to create a unified mission in a culture that is deeply divided; a church that is ready to become new and refashioned to connect with new generations of believers.

Let's be honest, the church that you and I grew up with – the church I dearly love, that my mom and dad love, and my grandma loved – is, in large part, no longer relevant to new generations of believers. Our former structure with all those committees, designed to maintain the status quo, focused mainly on serving those already in the church. That inward-looking church, which also tended to practice dispassionate worship, no longer speaks to the non- and nominally religious. New generations of believers are seeking missional action rather than committee talk, they yearn for worship that grabs their hearts and challenges their minds, rather than quieting their spirits, and they long for disciples focused on the people in the community, rather than focused on serving the people in the pews. New believers are moving away from the image of church as a place for comfortable rest and reflection, to the reality of church as a springboard or trampoline for being propelled into discipleship in the world.

We also dare to see a healthy conference that gives shape to the new church and is a model for calling, equipping and inspiring effective leaders to make new disciples, grow vital Acts 2 congregations, and transform lives and communities. If we are going to be this type of conference, we will need to be more nimble at the top and more focused on the conference resourcing congregations for ministry and mission. We must be more focused on calling, equipping, sending and supporting spiritual leaders to make disciples and grow vital Acts 2 congregations for the transformation of the world.

We claim that the Baltimore-Washington Conference exists to develop spiritual leaders who develop new churches in their communities. We are reducing the size and budget of the conference to put more focus on, and resources in, the local church.

For the last six years, we have been on an ambitious adventure – to make more new disciples, grow vital Acts 2 congregations and engage congregations in community and world mission. You have taken on this challenge and, with God's guidance and help, you have made significant progress. The Holy Spirit has been at work through our pastors, laity and staff.

In 2011 we had an increase in the number of new disciples joining by profession of faith. PRAISE GOD! Increasing the number of professions of faith was one of our key spiritual benchmarks.

Also in 2011, more than half of our congregations grew in worship attendance; most of these grew by 2 percent or more in worship attendance. This is more than a 15 percent increase over the previous year. We had more people engaging in mission, we had more new small groups, and we had more children in Sunday school. Wow! The Spirit is at work renewing and transforming lives through our congregations.

The spirit is changing lives. At Olivet UMC, the organist invited her neighbor to come to church to hear her play the organ. The neighbor was of another faith and so the organist was bit surprised when the neighbor came on Sunday. She continued to come and on Communion Sunday, when Pastor Faith said everyone was welcome to come to the Lord's Table, there was some surprise when the neighbor came. The neighbor continued to come and one Sunday, she came forward to join the church. Jocelyn, the neighbor, said it was the invitation. Not the invitation by the organist, although that was key; it was the invitation to commune with Christ that changed her heart and she accepted Christ. God changes lives when we invite everyone.

We also had more than 16,000 of our disciples work in their communities during the Change the World weekend and, in Zimbabwe, we recently completed a new orphanage, community center, parsonage and church building. We have already given more than $600,000 to ending deaths by malaria and the denomination has recognized us as one of ten vanguard conferences because of our leadership in this area. We are moving forward on our plans to build two buildings in our conference that will provide 200 units of supportive housing as we work to end homelessness.

We saw an increase in the number of churches paying 100 percent of their apportionments and, because of your faithfulness, we paid 100 percent of our General Church apportionments for the 15th year in a row. Praise God for all the Spirit is doing through the Baltimore-Washington Conference!

We are already witnessing the new church in congregations and regions throughout the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

- I invite all of those from the Annapolis and Central Maryland Districts to stand. The Annapolis District and the Central Maryland District grew in worship attendance, professions of faith, people in mission, and apportionment giving. An amazing accomplishment. Let's give it up for the Annapolis and Central Maryland districts.
- In the last year, every one of our congregations set five discipleship goals and are now achieving their goals. One congregation reports that working on their plan and goals has re-energized their congregation to look at what God is calling them to be and do and disciples are stepping forward to implement the goals.
- More of our congregations are implementing the 16 drivers of vitality and we are growing in the number of vital Acts 2 congregations in our conference. A congregation that achieved the Acts 2 fruit for the first time said they had been working on this for four years and that had refocused them on what God can do, instead of what they could not do.
- Recently, a pastor reported that she woke up one Sunday morning and she heard God calling her to give an altar call that morning. God also shared that a man named David needed to hear the call and would come forward. What was strange about this was the pastor had never given an altar call. But when she gave the altar call that morning, guess what? David was the first one down the aisle.

God is doing a new thing, it is springing forth, don't you perceive it?

While we are seeing the growth we all prayed and worked for in 2011, we are also experiencing challenges that must be addressed today for the health and continued faithfulness and fruitfulness of our beloved conference. In consultation with conference leadership, the Council on Finance and Administration will present a 2013 budget that eliminates 1 million dollars of spending. This requires changes to our budget, which will affect ministry, staffing and how we organize the conference.

The proposed budget will be smaller for four reasons:

- First, we have fewer worshippers. Fewer worshippers in the Baltimore-Washington Conference means we have fewer people contributing to the mission and ministry of the church.
- Secondly, salary, benefits, General Church apportionments and other expenditures are all increasing.
- Thirdly, in 2011 we experienced less spending on ministry in our congregations, which - equates to a smaller apportionment base and less apportionment income for the conference.

- And finally, we continue to decrease the benevolence factor. The conference leadership committed to decrease the benevolence factor from 24.8 percent in 2005 to 16 percent by 2017. The proposed budget has a benevolence factor of 17.75 percent. If we were apportioning at the old rate, we would have 5 million more dollars for our conference budget. But we believe that 5 million dollars is better left with the congregations to make new disciples and engage in community mission.

We are not alone. Conferences across the United States are having the same, and even more difficult, challenges. We also know that we have congregations that are experiencing these same challenges and, with the 2013 budget reductions, we stand in solidarity with our congregations.

While this is the right thing to do for the future of our congregations and our Conference, it is not the easy thing to do. People's lives are affected, we will have to do some things differently and some things we will need to stop doing. I call upon you to pray for our conference ministry and the staff. These are not easy decisions, but they are necessary decisions to position our congregations and conference to be faithful and fruitful for the future ministry of Jesus Christ. These decisions put more money in the local church for ministry and mission and also require conference leadership to do "a new thing" to achieve the fruit we all desire – new disciples, more non- and nominally religious young people engaged in our churches, ending deaths by malaria, and ending homelessness.

I am willing to bet that you do not realize that the conference budget being proposed for this year will be less than our 2002 budget. As a conference, we have found ways to adapt, and not just to hold the line; we have found ways to thrive and grow in ministry with fewer resources. What you have accomplished with fewer resources is now being replicated in other conferences around the United Methodist Connection. Our conference staff has stepped up to take on more and work smarter so that we can reduce the apportionments.

You have taken on a God-sized challenge to grow at least 600 vital Acts 2 congregations and 438 of our congregations achieved this goal. Congratulations! We are now one of the top 10 conferences for the number of highly vital congregations in the US.

Thank you for everything you are doing to serve Christ here and around the globe. God is doing a new thing, can't you perceive it?

Today I want to talk with you about two hard issues within The United Methodist Church and the Baltimore-Washington Conference. Today I want to talk with you about:

- Discontinuing or merging churches, and
- Homosexuality

In the church, we want harmony and sometimes we want it at the expense of open and forthright dialogue. As a result, we experience misunderstanding, increased anxiety and mistrust within the church. If we are going to be the new church, we must decide how we will live with our challenges and differences. It is my hope that we will commit to engage in honest conversation and let love for Jesus Christ and one another be our aim.

In the last 10 years, 40 of our churches have discontinued or merged. We are saddened when one of our congregations discontinues because the congregation represents people's lives and faith journeys. The congregations added to the faith story of the Baltimore-Washington Conference and their loss is a loss for all of us.

There are misunderstandings throughout the conference. Some people think we are discontinuing churches because we have a bias against small churches, or urban churches, or rural churches, or African-American churches, or congregations that are very liberal or very conservative. There have even been clergy who have used our present challenges to divide congregations and the denomination. This has created confusion and mistrust and it divides the body of Christ.

The Cabinet and the conference leadership are committed to work with every congregation. We honor and work with all of our congregations and it is not our desire for any congregation to discontinue.

Today it is important for me to dispel a myth – the Cabinet and I do not close churches. There are two ways that our polity provides for discontinuing congregations.

- The first is by vote of the charge conference. Almost 100 percent of the discontinued churches and all of the merged churches were by action of the church's charge conference. The leadership of the congregation recognized that they could not continue and voted to discontinue or merge. I know there are people that blame me or blame the district superintendent. They simply misunderstand. The congregation's leaders voted to discontinue or merge because they did not have sufficient resources to pay for their expenses.
- The second way a congregation is discontinued is by annual conference action. A recommendation is brought by the superintendent. Then you, the annual conference, either concur or do not concur with the recommendation to discontinue the church. If the Cabinet brings this recommendation, it generally means that the congregation is not paying for its basic responsibilities – pension and health, apportionments, IRS income taxes, property insurance, deferred maintenance, and mortgage or loan payments. Not just one of these, but generally three or more.

Why are churches discontinuing? Declining worship attendance, increased personnel and building costs and a recession have all led to the challenges congregations are facing. As much as we value and love our congregations, we can no longer subsidize congregations at the expense of other congregations. We have also seen that subsidies generally do not turn congregations around. When the subsidy runs out, the congregation does not pay its bills and votes to discontinue. If we were to subsidize all of the churches that needed or wanted a subsidy, your apportionments would increase by millions of dollars. In one year alone, we subsidized more than 1.5 million dollars just for clergy salaries and unpaid pension and health bills. It is not sustainable.

Sometimes a congregation has done everything possible to turn itself around but in spite of its best efforts, transitioning neighborhoods, declining population or other issues make it too difficult to sustain itself. I witnessed Monroe Street congregation in Baltimore give a heroic effort to do all of the right things, but in spite of the faithfulness of a 12-member remnant, it wasn't enough to fight a mountain of deferred maintenance and rising bills.

Some congregations recognize they need to address issues before it is too late. They merge or become part of a multi-site campus. Trinity Church in Prince Frederick was the merger of three congregations in the 1950's and today it has a strong mission program, is making new disciples and grew to more than 350 disciples in worship.

First Saints was the recent merger of three congregations who decided they would keep three campuses, but work together as one church. Today they are making more new disciples, have an innovative outreach ministry and are in the process of starting a fourth campus. Brighter Day Ministry has done the same involving four congregations in Southeast D.C.

We invite congregations that are facing challenges to explore these possibilities with us.

All of our congregations are important and today we announce our Small Church Initiative that has begun in the Baltimore Suburban District with 10 congregations and 120 people and will spread throughout the conference. Through the Small Church Initiative we will strengthen leadership, grow our witness in the community and create healthy stewardship.

Today I also want to share with you some thoughts and feelings about the Scriptures and homosexuality. I do this in light of my recent experience at General Conference, the fact that this continues to be a sensitive and difficult issue for our denomination, and also from what I am hearing from non- and nominally religious young people.

The Bible has passages that speak clearly about homosexuality. General Conference has been consistent for the past 40 years in saying that the practice of homosexuality is incompatible with Christian teaching and there is no indication that General Conference will change its position in the future. Some wonder if continual conversation about homosexuality just makes things worse for us.

I also understand those who are frustrated because the General Conference votes to keep the same policies and you refuse to accept the General Conference's decision. I understand that there are those of you who are hurt by the policies of the church and that your humanity is turned into an issue rather than seeing you as a child of God.

I am convicted, however, by what I am hearing from non- and nominally religious people. They, by in large, do not understand our preoccupation with human sexuality. They even believe we "hate gays and lesbians." They believe we hate people.

Our inability as a church to hold civil conversations and the reality that our debates communicate more hatred than love is a big problem. To us on the inside, our conversations appear important and clarifying. But to those we seek to reach, to those we want to welcome into a loving relationship with Jesus Christ, it appears that we are preoccupied with one group of people. We appear to be single-minded, and maybe even narrow-minded.

Frankly, I was disappointed that General Conference could not even agree to disagree. I think there is a Christ-like path that we, as The United Methodist Church, have failed to find. I feel that, as a denomination, we have not been Christ-like in our discussions about homosexuality.

Here in the Baltimore-Washington Conference we have done a lot better than the rest of the denomination. Our engagement on this issue as a conference two years ago, which provided open conversation that was not condemning but mutually respectful, was one the most Christ-like things we have done.

As our denomination has debated policy on homosexuality, I have not participated in the debate. Rather, I have worked to create space for healthy conversation. Because of our denomination's inability to admit we disagree and because we are alienating those we seek to reach, I've decided to share with you my personal beliefs and how I intend to lead in light of our differences. I do this in the spirit that faithful Christians and good United Methodists will disagree on this and a number of people will disagree with my understanding. I am not trying to change anybody's opinions or beliefs. I just want to let you know my personal thoughts and feelings, my own struggles and how I will lead when we disagree.

I am not a biblical literalist. I do not believe the earth is only 7,000 years old. I think some of the Bible's teachings about the place and role of women, cultural and racial practices, polygamy, concubines, slavery, marriage and divorce reflect the context and thinking of the time in which Scripture was written and not the timeless truth of God.

Historically, and in some denominations still today, a literal interpretation of Scripture has prevented women from being ordained, people of different races from marrying each other, and divorced people from remarrying or serving in ministry. A strict reading of Scripture might cause some to suppose that women should not wear jewelry or cut their hair short and men should not wear long hair or have tattoos.

The Scriptures are the inspired Word of God for my salvation. Exegesis and hermeneutics, or in other words, knowing what Scripture meant in its original context and then interpreting it for today, is the work of every Christian.

Contrary to a literal biblical interpretation, I believe that sometimes couples become estranged beyond reconciliation, divorce happens and the divorced people can find Christ-like love with another partner. I believe that women and men are fully equal. I believe that menstruation is part of the normal cycle of a healthy body and that women are not unclean.

I also personally believe that gay and lesbian people are children of God, loved by God and saved through the love of Jesus Christ. I believe that gays and lesbians can live in loving committed relationships that reflect God's grace-filled love.

I love the Bible. My entire life is centered in studying the Bible and living in faithful obedience to the God revealed in the Bible. It was Scripture that led me to a personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ. Scripture brought me to my knees as a sinner, humbled me through repentance, lifted me in the utter conviction that I have been saved through the life, death and resurrection of Christ, and convicted me to join a long and continual discipleship adventure that continues to sanctify my heart.

I do not understand all of the mysteries of human sexuality. I believe that our sexuality is a gift from the Creator to be shared in loving committed relationships. I believe this is true whether we are heterosexual or homosexual.

Good people, faithful Christians, good United Methodists will disagree on this. I want you to know what I think and feel. I want to be open and honest with you rather than to appear not to have an opinion.

I want us not to condemn each other when we disagree. I want us to be able to be open and honest with one another and be willing to listen respectfully to one another. So let it begin with me.

As a bishop of the church, I recognize that I have a responsibility to uphold our Book of Discipline. I will fulfill my responsibilities as a bishop to uphold the Book of Discipline.

I also want our pastors to be pastoral to the needs of the people in their communities they serve. I recognize that this may create a conflict. We all need to do the best we can.

I am not asking anybody to change their beliefs or opinions. I want us to listen to each other and respect each other. And I want us to continue to study and learn.

Today I pledge to you that I will continue to study and discern and make corrections as the Holy Spirit and my study lead me. I also pledge to you that I will treat all people, every individual, as a child of God and as a gift from God. I pledge to be a bishop of the whole church and to lead by respecting all people.

I pray for a new church where the basis of our unity will not be our opinions, but our common commitment to making disciples of Jesus Christ, to care for the hungry and homeless, to end deaths by malaria, to visit the prisoners and to proclaim God's favor on all people. I pray for a church that is neither liberal Methodist nor conservative Methodist, but United Methodist; that is neither heterosexual Methodist nor homosexual Methodist, but United Methodist.

We will get through our current disagreements if we continue to love God, each other and our neighbors, if we will be honest and vulnerable with one other, if we listen respectfully to one another, if we pray together and study together and serve the world together.

The world did not say about the early Christians, “See how they agree with one another,” the world said: “See how they love one another.” I want non- and nominally religious people of the Baltimore-Washington region to say about us – “See how they love each other.” It can be so if we choose.

One of the reasons for the difficulty we experience about discontinued churches and homosexuality is that there is a lot of mistrust within the church right now. This is understandable. There is deep change occurring in the church and society, which in and of itself creates natural suspicion. Also, leaders have not always made the right choices in the past, and I myself could have and should have engaged us in these forthright conversations about discontinuing churches and homosexuality sooner. I hope this can be a step in developing greater trust at all levels of the church. When we do not trust one another it is difficult for the Holy Spirit to work through us.

It is also difficult for the world to trust the church when we are divided. Society needs us to help sort through some of life’s greatest challenges. Recently, a 52-year-old man committed suicide on the grounds of one of our churches and our nation was divided racially by the killing of Trayvon Martin. We are in the midst of a divisive election that is dividing our nation by rich and poor, white and black, Mormons and other believers. If we, as the church, allow our differences to divide us, to mislead people that we do not love each other or that we do not love a particular group of people, how will we lead the nation toward the light of God, to the grace of Jesus Christ? I know we will never all think alike, but I pray we will all love, like Christ loved.

While we have challenges and differences, we have much more to rejoice about in our life together. You have done great work in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ. God has bigger plans for us as we seek to become like Christ, as we call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make and cultivate disciples, grow vital Acts 2 congregations and transform the world.

- Tomorrow we will invite you to endorse a bold 2020 Vision that will launch the conference toward continual mission, growth and health. In challenging times, God calls us to put forth bold plans. The 2020 Vision causes us to gulp, inhaling deeply and sharply; may that gulp be the breath of the Holy Spirit that breathes “a new thing.”
- We also invite you to join in committing to build 500 units of supportive housing for the homeless. We have already embarked on this initiative. We have three projects progressing in D.C. and are planning two more in Baltimore. In Washington, Emory Church has embarked on a bold housing venture, and through the Be The Change Development Corporation we are working on the 123 unit North Capital Commons, a $24 million project, which already has $20 million committed to the project. The Calvary initiative will repurpose the Calvary Church building into 80 units of supportive housing for the homeless.
- We invite you to do a new thing by committing to work with us to start two new congregations a year for the next eight years and to start 20 new worship services a year. Congregations that are starting new worship services are growing and connecting with the non- and nominally religious.
- We invite you to support the new Small Church Initiative that seeks to keep faith with our smaller congregations.
- We invite you to implement the 16 drivers of vitality as you work toward the five discipleship goals you set to increase vitality throughout the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

I see God doing a new thing; it is the Baltimore-Washington Conference engaged in passionate worship, connecting with the non- and nominally religious; growing through small groups, engaging in risk-taking mission and giving generously to the needs of the world. It is springing forth, can't you perceive it? Together, let us rise up to meet our challenges, move out in mission, capture the hearts and minds of the non- and nominally religious, and lift up the name of Jesus Christ in everything we do. God bless you all and God bless The United Methodist Church.

The bishop received a standing ovation.

Jimmy Sherrod led us in "We Must Go." The bishop said that following his remarks many came forward, committing to work together.

Resolution to Amend the Rules: The bishop then called upon Jen Ihlo to present the Resolution to Amend the Rules. Ms. Ihlo said that some of the current rules did not reflect current practices of the annual conference. This resolution is an attempt to bring our rules into current practice with current Disciplinary provisions and with current practices. Also, there are some new provisions. Some of the changes are also editorial. Also, some of the recently enacted changes are also included.

The Rev. Bill Brown offered an amendment to change line 16 on page 74 of the pre-conference booklet to read 300 members instead of 400 members. The motion was seconded. Rev. Brown spoke in favor of his amendment. This would allow more laity to represent their local churches. The motion passed.

The Rev. Charles Harrell offered an amendment (page 82 lines 27-37 of pre-conference booklet) to strike the strike out and retain minority reports in our rules. The amendment was seconded. Rev. Harrell spoke to his amendment saying that minority reports help to capture, retain and move forward voices that may not be a minority view on committees or a particular matter but may have important information or insight for us. "Perhaps this [minority reports] is a gift we should rediscover." The Rev. Barry Hidey asked if such reports would be appropriate for the Connectional Table. The bishop responded that the Connectional Table is not a legislative body or committee. A vote was taken and the Harrell amendment passed.

The Rev. Debbie Scott asked for clarification regarding the difference between conference and Conference Corporation (page 76, line 47 of the pre-conference booklet). The bishop clarified that sometimes conferences are incorporated and the Board of Trustees then becomes the trustees of the corporation.

The Rev. David Argo, Conference Director of Connectional Ministries, asked for a division of the question regarding lines 18-20 on page 83 of the pre-conference booklet. The motion was seconded. He encouraged us to vote against this proposal, explaining that the purpose of the Discipleship Council is to review our organizational structure, practices and policies. His proposal would not bypass the Connectional Table but would allow the Discipleship Council to make critical assessments about such matters. Ms. Jen Ihlo spoke against Rev. Argo's motion, explaining that "this change reflects how the annual conference functions and allows for a larger body (i.e. the Connectional Table) to look at proposed changes." A vote was then taken and the motion did not pass.

The Rev. Bryant M. Oskvig made a motion that we change line 16 of page 74 in the pre-conference booklet to read, "may elect lay members to one lay person per 300 average people in worship attendance." A discussion followed. Revs. Katie Bishop and Mark Schaefer both spoke in favor of the motion. The Rev. John Rudisill moved to refer the changes to the Annual Conference Sessions Committee. The motion was seconded and passed.

Julie Tsinger rose to point out that there was an inconsistency between the proposed rules and current practice regarding the right of lay members of BOOM to vote at Executive Session. An editorial correction to lines 31 and 32 on page 77 of the pre-conference booklet will be made to read "with voice and vote." The Rev. Matt Poole inquired about the proposed change surrounding the selection of the Director of Connectional Ministries. Ms. Ihlo responded that the change reflected current practice.

A vote to approve the rules as amended was taken. The rules as amended were approved. The bishop expressed his appreciation for Ms. Ihlo's work.

Report of General and Jurisdictional Delegation: The bishop then called upon the General and Jurisdictional Conference delegates to come to the platform. The Rev. Terri Rae Chattin, chair of the delegation, gave a report on its work. She thanked Darlynn McCrae, who served as the delegation's secretary, and the delegation co-chair, Tom Price. Rev. Chattin said that Richard Peck, a 12-time delegate to General Conference who has served the Daily Christian Advocate and also been a reporter for The United Methodist News Service, made this observation about the recent General Conference: "Somewhat like the advance billing for a high wire act that turns out to be a foot off the ground, so too, this General Conference was billed as the assembly that would make the most sweeping changes since the 1968 formation of the denomination."

Church restructuring received more attention than any other issue. On Friday afternoon of General Conference, the Judicial Council rendered it unconstitutional, declaring that: "The Constitution authorized the Council of Bishops to bear the responsibility for general oversight." Streamlining did occur, reducing the number of board members by 266, or about half of the present number.

Rev. Chattin continued the report by stating, "Difficulties with homosexuality did not originate in Tampa and the journey through these difficult waters will not end there." A morning session at General Conference had been set aside to deal with sexuality issues. The Rev. Mike Slaughter offered a substitution to (Book of Discipline) ¶ 161.f that sought to clarify that United Methodists disagree over whether homosexual practice is contrary to God's will. There was a demonstration at the Communion table and the session was brought to a close. That afternoon opened with prayers and the demonstrators left. Words declaring that we stand united in our faith that God's grace is available to all; that nothing can separate us from the love of God In Christ Jesus; and that we pledge to continue to be in respectful conversation with those with whom we differ, to explore the sources of our differences, and to honor the sacred worth of all persons as we continue to seek the mind of Christ and do the will of God in all things was added to the preamble of our Social Principles.

The General Conference also approved a petition calling for opposition to Israeli settlements on Palestinian land through nonviolent responses. General Conference voted to end guaranteed appointments. It also designated $5 million for theological education in the Central Conference and $7 million to recruit and train young clergy in the United States. A modified clergy retirement system will save 15% of those costs for annual conferences.

Of particular significance was An Act of Repentance service toward healing relationships with indigenous peoples by recognizing and repenting of actions taken against Native peoples of all nations. The United Methodist Church also entered into full communion with a number of historically black pan-Methodist denominations. General Conference also approved making the United Methodist Women an autonomous organization; while setting aside a proposal that would have allowed for a bishop to serve as president of the Council of Bishops without responsibility for overseeing a geographic area.

Tom Price reflected on the inclusion of younger members within the delegation, saying they are fearless. He also expressed gratitude for the "veterans" in the group.

Episcopal Nominations: Rev. Chattin returned to the podium, saying that now that General Conference is over, the delegation is looking toward the Jurisdictional Conference, where three new episcopal leaders will be elected. The delegation had a process to follow in determining whom to endorse. They gathered on Feb. 11. After four ballots, there was still no super majority concerning the three persons who had presented their names for endorsement: Laura Easto, Wade Martin and Rodney Smothers. After a great deal more prayer and discussion, the delegation passed a motion to endorse two candidates, the Revs. Rodney Thomas Smothers and Laura Blauvelt Easto. Therefore, the Rev. Chattin placed before the body those two names for consideration as episcopal candidates for the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference. She reminded the assembly that the candidates' Statements of Call could be found in the Daily Connection. The bishop thanked the delegation and the Annual Conference affirmed the bishop's appreciation.

Conference Nominations Report: The bishop then called upon Gay Green-Carden, chair of the Conference Nominations Committee. Ms. Green-Carden came to the podium to present the committee's report. She stated that the Nominations Committee invites nominations from across the Conference and develops a process that ensures regional, racial, gender, cultural, and congregational-size inclusiveness. The process also calls and nominates laity and clergy who model discipleship, actively participate in and work to develop fruit-bearing congregations; possess the gifts, skills, experience and track record necessary for the position; think and act multi-culturally; and demonstrate excellence in ministry and a commitment to eliminate the organizational and administrative barriers so that resources assist Conference congregations to make and engage disciples and bear Acts 2 fruit. In presenting the report, which was found on pages 90-94 of the pre-conference booklet, Ms. Green-Carden offered the following corrections: replace the name of Deborah Haskins with Rhoda Slade on line 30 of page 91; add the word chair after the name of Sam Marullo on line 32; remove the word Rev. before the name of Leo Yates on line 49; on line 45 of page 92 remove the entire line regarding diaconal minister—Julie Tsinger; on line 46 of the same page remove the name of Rev. Limja Gim; on line 50 remove the name of Rev. Eugene Matthews and add Rev. Clarence Davis; on page 93, line 14, remove the name of Rev. J. W. Park and add Rev. Rick Andrews (1) (2016) and also remove the name Vivian Otto; and on line 19 remove the name of Rev. Rick Andrews and add the name of Rev. J. W. Park (1) (2016).

The bishop said that with those corrections, the nominations report was before the body. The Rev. Debbie Scott asked what is our conference policy regarding those who do not regularly attend committee meetings. The bishop said we would need to research that. Rev. Scott said that at one point the conference policy had been that a person who missed three meetings was no longer considered an active member of a committee. She also reminded the body that in 2010 there was a CFA recommendation to Annual Conference that we update our conference policies and procedures.

A vote to accept the Nomination Report as corrected was taken. It passed. Kelly Robier, a member of Conference Youth Council, offered the Benediction.

SECOND PLENARY SESSION

Wednesday evening, May 30, 2012

Grand Ballroom

The members of the Annual Conference gathered to the singing of "Blessed Be the Name of the Lord." The youth choir that represented the Conference at General Conference led in the singing of "We Will Declare Your Name." Then the Rev. Carletta Allen led prayer.

Greetings from Mayor of Baltimore: The bishop introduced Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake, who welcomed the annual conference to Baltimore. She reminded the audience that she had been raised as a United Methodist. She said that those present get the experience of being in the special place that is Baltimore City. She thanked Bishop Schol for holding the Conference in Baltimore and she mentioned the upcoming commemoration of the War of 1812 and the events surrounding the writing of “The Star Spangled Banner.” The mayor said that since its founding in Baltimore, the Methodist Church has been a force within this city. The mayor is committed to improved housing in Baltimore and spoke about an event in the fall, Journey Home, which raises funds to put women and families into homes. She thanked the conference for rallying around these issues. Working together, the mayor said, “We have made Baltimore better, safer, and stronger.” Bishop Schol prayed for the City of Baltimore and for the mayor. The Conference Youth Choir responded with the singing of “High and Lifted Up.”

Additional Episcopal nominations: The bishop welcomed Jen Ihlo, who reviewed the nominations process for episcopal candidates. In her remarks, she covered key points pertaining to the delegation’s role: the Annual Conference process logistics surrounding additional nominations, if any; the voting process; and the requirements for an election(s).

The bishop then invited additional episcopal nominations from the floor. The Rev. Sarah Dorrance nominated the Rev. Wade Martin. The Revs. Rachel Cornwell and Barry Hidey nominated the Rev. Karin Walker and the Rev. Charles Harrell placed in nomination the Rev. David Wayne Simpson.

First Presentation by Clif Christopher: Bishop Schol introduced the speaker for the evening, the Rev. Clif Christopher, founder and president of Horizons Stewardship Company, a church fundraising and financial consulting company based in Arkansas. In his introduction of Rev. Christopher, the bishop called him “the guru of stewardship.”

Christopher said that he is concerned about the church, not just The United Methodist Church but also the church as the body of Christ. In many ways, he said, we see the church reflecting the mirror of General Motors, a company that for many years dominated the American automobile market and then recently had to go before Congress to seek a bailout. There was a time when religion received 60% of charitable gifts; now that rate is about 30%. We have to stop saying that people will give to the church because we are the church. People are now asking whether the church is the best place to give their dollars. That is the question that we need to be prepared to answer.

Christopher quoted Lyle Schaller in The New Context for Ministry: “The new face of American philanthropy is distinguished by our unprecedented level of competition for the charitable dollar. For well over 90% of all Christian congregations, . . . this means they will not be able to compete.”

Christopher reminded the audience that the world is not what it was. However, most congregations are still bringing the same stewardship message. The competition for the charitable dollar has grown by 50% over the last 10 years. Churches have tried and failed to compete in the same way we have always done. But, there is time to change. There are things that non-profits know that laity and clergy don’t.

Christopher went on to explain the top three reasons why people give, which are: belief in the mission of the institution, regard for staff leadership, and being fiscally responsible. He concluded his remarks by saying that there’s nobody on the planet called to make disciples but us and that no one but Jesus has the power to change this world through the disciples we can make on his behalf.

At the conclusion of Christopher’s presentation, Bishop Schol drew attention to the brochures from the Mid-Atlantic Foundation that had been placed on seats earlier. He recognized Jack Brooks and Frank Robert from the Foundation. The bishop also extended a warm welcome to Bishop Forrest Stith, who was seated nearby on the platform.

Recommendations from Conference Board of Pensions and Health Benefits: The body then turned its attention to legislative matters. The Rev. Jackson Day presented 12 recommendations from the Conference Board of Pensions and Health Benefits (BPHB). These recommendations were printed on page 63 of the pre-conference booklet. The first three recommendations concerned retiree health insurance. Last year the Board of Pensions and Health Benefits had recommended that the conference cap these expenses by ceasing retiree health coverage for new clergy joining the Conference. The Annual Conference did not accept that proposal and referred it back to the Board. Meanwhile, the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits had alerted the Conference Board to a new possibility called Extend Health. After hiring a consultant and studying this possibility, the Conference Board adopted, on September 14, Extend Health as the conference plan for retiree health insurance. The plan will become effective January 1, 2013.

In recommendations 4-9, the Board sought approval regarding the rates, procedures and grants that are already in process. Items 10 and 11 pertain to established policies and item 12 is the annual resolution concerning retiree housing. The Rev. Ray Roberson asked if there are provisions in place if the Supreme Court strikes down the Affordable Health Care Act. The answer was that this particular plan does not seem to be contingent on health reform. The law already provides for the type of exchange this program offers. A vote was then taken and the recommendations from the BPHB were approved by the body. The bishop then introduced Paul Eichelberger, Conference CFO and treasurer, and Frances Tagoe, benefits administrator, who work closely with the BPHB. The Conference expressed its appreciation of their hard work with a round of applause.

Adoption of Consent Calendar: The Conference Secretary the Rev. Mary Jo Sims then moved adoption of the Consent Calendar, listed on page 4 of the pre-conference booklet and page 6 of the Conference Booklet, with the removal (as requested previously by five members of the Annual Conference) of the Grow Mission Overview, the contents of which were found on page 16 of the pre-conference booklet. The motion was seconded and passed.

Resolution to Create a Rules Committee: The bishop once again called upon Jen Ihlo who came to the podium to present a Resolution to Create a Rules Committee for the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference. Ihlo stated that both the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference and the General Conference have rules committees so it seems appropriate that the Annual Conference would also have one. The motion was seconded. The Rev. Charles Harrell spoke in favor of the proposal. The bishop asked if Ihlo had reviewed conference policies regarding the numbers of people allowed to serve as members on a committee. She replied that she believed the membership was within the stated policies of the Conference. A vote was then taken and the proposal passed.

The Rev. Eliezer Valentín-Castañón was granted a moment of personal privilege. He thanked the conference for the many kindnesses directed toward him and his family upon the recent death of his mother. District Superintendent Vivian McCarthy prayed for Rev. Valentín-Castañón and his family. Then Rev. Paul Johnson offered the Benediction.

THIRD PLENARY SESSION

Grand Ballroom

Lay and clergy members of the Annual Conference were greeted by the uplifting music of Salvador as they entered the Grand Ballroom. The band played and sang “You Lift Us on Wings Like Eagles,” “There Is No One Like You,” and “Nothing but the Blood of Jesus.” The bishop thanked the band. The Rev. Jason Shank gave the Invocation. The bishop expressed thanks for Jason and his brother David and all those who are stepping out to take risks. He then addressed the conference, saying that we had a great day ahead of us.

Second Presentation by Clif Christopher: The bishop re-introduced Clif Christopher, the Conference guest speaker on financial stewardship. Rev. Christopher thanked the Mid-Atlantic Foundation for sponsoring his presentation to the Conference. He then continued his previous discussion of our need to make some changes in the church regarding financial stewardship. He offered the following quote from Peter Drucker in Managing the Non-Profit Organization: “A business discharged its task when the customer buys the product, pays for it and is satisfied with it. Government has discharged its functions when its policies are effective. The non-profit institution neither supplies goods or services or controls. Our ‘product’ is a changed human being; a changed human life altogether.

He asked how are we, the church, changing lives in 2012 in the name of Jesus? He reminded us that people are looking for Jesus and if we do what we say we do, people will come and they will fill the plate when it’s passed. There are six things that the church needs to start doing right now:

- Clergy must tithe and witness to it in a way that is clearly understood. “The sheep ain’t going where the shepherd ain’t leading.”
- We must become a high expectation church. John Wesley did not start a low expectation church. We have worked too hard to get members at the exclusion of disciples.
- Pastors need to know the giving of their members; they must know, not guess. We’re not in the money business; we’re in the Jesus business, but money tells you an awful lot about where Jesus is in someone’s life.
- Utilize all three pockets of giving: the annual pocket; the capital pocket and the planned giving pocket. You need a vision that is always out there: if someone walked up to you and said he would give the church a million dollars, what would you do with it?
- The leaders in the church need to know Emmaus Road, not just Wall Street. There is nothing in the Bible that says balancing the budget means you are faithful.
- We’ve got to learn to say thanks; pastors need to write 10 thank you notes a week.

Bishop Schol expressed appreciation for Rev. Christopher. Then the bishop addressed the Conference and testified about how Mrs. Schol and he tithe and also give additional monies for mission endeavors dear to their hearts. There was a time, he said, when they double tithed, even during a year when they had three children in college.

The five candidates for episcopal nomination were invited to the platform. Bishop Schol led a prayer of thanksgiving for the candidates and asked that God give the members discerning minds and open spirits. Each of the candidates -- the Rev. Laura Easto, the Rev. Wade Martin, the Rev. David Simpson, the Rev. Rodney Smothers, and the Rev. Karin Walker -- addressed the Conference for three minutes. Afterwards, the Conference showed its appreciation through applause. Bishop Stith then greeted the Conference, reminding us that grace and peace are ours because God is the creator of all of life and Jesus Christ the redeemer of each and every life. He said it is good to be home.

Bishop Schol shared with the members that more than 25 leaders provided input for this year’s Leadership Report. He introduced the Rev. Katie Bishop, team leader for the Young Adult Council; Cynthia Taylor, chairperson of Discipleship Council; Delores Oden, Conference lay leader; Charlie Moore, chairperson of CFA; and the Rev. Tony Love, chair of Conference Trustees. Along with Bishop Schol, these leaders presented the Leadership Report.

Leadership Report

Bishop Schol: Today we continue to report on the state of the church within the Baltimore-Washington Conference. I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; don’t you perceive it? Isaiah 43:19. God is doing a new thing in the Baltimore-Washington Conference. I see it through clergy who are taking risks to connect disciples to the mission of God. I see more laity stepping forward to be a witness in their testimony and mission. Lasting renewal is always spiritual and begins with a heart change and a transformation of the mind – there is a new evangelical breeze blowing that seeks to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

We are also facing stiff winds from cultural change and economic forces beyond our control. You are leaning into these winds, which threaten to blow us off course, with faith and daring. Our sails are catching Spirit-winds, sails refashioned with new ideas, new dreams and new ministries. We are reshaping church structures and how we do ministry to capture the innovative Holy Spirit winds of our time.

Rev. Katie Bishop: As we face these challenging headwinds, we are discerning how to honor our tradition and do a new thing; how to have appropriate structure and the freedom to be innovative. Transformation is happening in and through our congregations. Our congregations are exploring new ways to organize, new ways to connect with the non- and nominally religious and new ways to engage in mission.

Delores Oden: Did you know that we have churches that have streamlined bureaucracy and now operate with only three committees? We have churches where people do not have to ask permission to start a new ministry. We have churches whose mission is to remove the roadblocks that get in the way of people experiencing Jesus' healing, grace, salvation and justice.

Bishop Schol: Our Book of Discipline allows congregations to organize and provide ministry in many innovative ways. We invite you to work with your Guides to become more innovative and risk-taking. Will mistakes be made? Sometimes. On occasion will people do the wrong things? Yes. But it is better to risk and learn how to create flow and Spirit movement, than to play it safe behind our committees and rules. We are finding that where Spirit movement and innovation is occurring, we are making new disciples, congregations are growing and disciples are engaged in transformative community mission.

Rev. Tony Love: Jesus began his ministry at a time when faith needed to be renewed. He also faced stiff winds. He reinvigorated healing and ministry among the poor, filling the law with love and discipling leaders to go and disciple others.

John Wesley began his ministry at a time when the church and faith needed to be renewed. He was also buffeted by the strong winds of his time. But he hoisted sails to capture the power of small groups, the transformative practices of the means of grace, and the dual movement of personal piety and social change.

Bishop Schol: Innovation has always been a part of the church and Methodism. The Cabinet and I are going to support innovative and risk-taking clergy who are seeking to renew the church to capture new generations of believers with or without guaranteed appointments. We will come alongside of you and hoist sails with you to capture Spirit winds in the choppy waters of cultural change, rather than playing it safe by avoiding rough seas and stiff winds.

Jesus came to do a new thing, don't you perceive it?

Jesus said, "Behold, I make all things new," and taught that you cannot put new wine into old wine skins.

Cynthia Taylor: More and more we are following in Jesus' footsteps. We are deeply committed to loving God and one another. We are practicing love for our neighbor, we are working together to end homelessness and malaria, and we are serving the poor, the wealthy and the working class. We are not perfect, but there is a lot of love demonstrated throughout the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Bishop Schol: In some instances, we have other loves that we put before our neighbors and new generations of believers. We love our buildings, we love our programs, we love our past and we feel secure in our structures. People outside our church doors are confused by our love.

Katie Bishop: Today, new generations of believers and the non- and nominally religious are troubled by our priorities and want to know, what is the meaning and purpose of church. They do not find meaning in committees, buildings and institutional structures. The non- and nominally religious will tell you, I am having church while sitting in Starbucks talking about God with my friends, or church is working to end homelessness and malaria, or church is caring for a friend who lost their sister because of leukemia. In the most recent past, we thought of church as a noun, but today's new generations of believers think of church as a verb. The church is not committees and laws to live by, but rather, people engaged in doing and being the love of God for the world – people engaged in the means of grace.

Bishop Schol: John 15:13 says, Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends. Today, I am asking some of our long-time lay members to do something very hard. We need you to lay aside the desire to hold on to the way church used to be. Many of our members have already made this sacrifice and we invite others to join us so we do not inhibit the Spirit-winds from filling our sails to connect with the non- and nominally religious.

I invite all of our disciples to let a new church emerge. When sailing, you can work with the wind or you can work against it. You can work with the new winds of our time, or you can resist and be blown off course and even capsized. Jesus said it this way, the Spirit blows where it wills, you hear the sound that it makes, but you do not know where it is going, so it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit.

Charlie Moore: One of our churches fought the wind in the past. Breezes blew homeless people to their doors. They put up fences to keep the homeless from sleeping on the steps. New leadership emerged in the church and they took down the fences and worked with the Spirit-winds. They put a shower in the church so the homeless could get a good hot shower and did the laundry for the homeless who came by. God rewarded their hoisting of new sails to capture the homeless winds that blew their way with new young adults joining the church who wanted to be engaged in such meaningful ministry.

Bishop Schol: These changes are not easy. Asking long term members to change attitudes and embrace new ideas is hard, particularly when what they used to do worked so well. I also call upon our clergy to continue to be pastoral. It is not easy for people to change. They need your support and direction. They also need some congregation's ministries to speak to their needs.

Charlie Moore: I am seeing new winds blowing in my church. This past Sunday, Community Church in Crofton teamed with Wilson Memorial to hold an incredible Revival with a global theme of "One God, One Family." I believe it is the first revival in the history of our congregation. While revivals have not been a part of our faith experience, we had many people who responded to an invitation to commit their lives to Christ. As a congregation, we have also been very active in mission at home and around the world. Our youth and adults participate in Appalachian Service Projects and our congregation has worked with Methodist clinics and schools in Guatemala. Over the past 15 years, over forty members of Community Church have traveled to the Murewa District in Zimbabwe where we have funded and participated in the building of three churches, a parsonage, a medical clinic and two schools. Plans are currently underway to return in early 2013 to work on our third school project. We have demonstrated the love of Christ around the world. But that is only half of the story. Transforming the world is our calling, but so is transforming hearts, saving souls, and receiving Christ Jesus in our hearts. My own personal experiences in Zimbabwe have helped me to better love – to love Jesus Christ and to love the people we serve. One of the things I appreciate is how our conference is calling us to heart transformation and world transformation.

Cynthia Taylor: At my church, Epworth Chapel, we have been growing older together. There is nothing wrong with growing older; it is just that having young people around makes my heart sing. I love being with young people and I love working with young people. The conference is helping to reshape our ministry. The Discipleship Adventure teams have helped reframe our congregation's ministry. The appointment and conference support for a new associate pastor, Kelly Grimes, have further strengthened our commitment to reach young people. Today we have 20 children coming forward for a children's message each Sunday. Our Sunday school engages in quarterly mission projects such as Imagine No Malaria, collecting and delivering needed supplies for a local shelter and raising funds for children in Haiti.

Katie Bishop: As a young person, I have recognized that some structure is needed but I never preferred big organizational structures. In my local church, our Discipleship Guide has worked with us to focus on the people, rather than the committees, and supported me in leading the congregation through challenging times. At the conference level, when we wanted to develop a young adult magazine resource, they did not require us to go through an entire approval process but said, "Follow your passion." Today Shift, a young adult magazine, is one of the best around. Not that we want to be the best, but we want to excel so that we can be the best for Christ and for young adults.

Delores Oden: Together, as the congregations and leadership of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, we are working in collaboration to call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders who are making disciples and growing vital Acts 2 congregations to transform the world. Through our ministry last year, we

- Tony Love: Baptized 2,503 children and new disciples.
- Charlie Moore: Made 4,233 new disciples who joined our churches through profession and reaffirmation of faith.
- Katie Bishop: Engaged 42,138 disciples in mission in their backyards and around the world, and
- Cynthia Moore: And once again we rocked with more than 7,000 youth and their leaders at our annual youth retreat in which more than 1,500 youth committed their lives to Jesus Christ. PRAISE GOD!

Tony Love: In each of these areas we grew over the previous year and we changed lives. While the numbers illustrate the progress we are making, the individual stories are testimonies that witness to all God is doing in our midst.

Katelyn, a St Mary's college student, went to Zimbabwe with us last year. Her heart was strangely warmed and she grew in her faith and her understanding of mission. Right now she is in Ghana. God may be calling her to the mission field. One of our own blessed because of our global reach and our commitment to open the door for Christ to change a heart and transform a life.

Charlie Moore: We are in the top 10 conferences and in some cases even the top three conferences in the United States and around the world in the following:

- The percentage of highly vital congregations,
- Diversity,
- General Church apportionment payments,
- Professions of faith,
- Baptisms,
- Percent of our worshipers engaged in mission,
- Gifts to Imagine No Malaria,
- Mission giving,
- Percentage of congregations growing in worship and making new disciples.

Your commitment to Christ has resulted in renewed congregations. Your faithfulness has resulted in our fruitfulness.

Katie Bishop: Our laity are instrumental in our transformation. The United Methodist Men and the United Methodist Women have joined forces for prayer, staffing our prayer center weekly and praying for our congregations, our pastors, our laity and the needs of people in the world. It is making a difference.

Our Certified Lay Ministers are working in congregations on a variety of discipleship and mission ministries that are changing lives. The lay leaders and lay speakers are bearing a powerful witness to the grace and mission of Jesus Christ.

Delores Oden: Today, as the lay leader of the conference, I want to thank our pastors. You serve faithfully in challenging circumstances and inspire us with your faith, teaching, preaching and visitation. We do not tell you enough how God is using you to change lives. Thank you.

We are making progress together. As we pray, unite and serve together, God will continue to bless us.

Cynthia Taylor: To continue our growth and development, we will need to recognize that winds are shifting and the Spirit calls us to be visionary and address our challenges. For this, we need your support in two areas: First, with our 2020 Vision, and Secondly, with our 2013 budget.

Bold ideas and bold visions have always been a part of the faith journey. God's vision for Moses to lead the people to the Promised Land was courageous and history changing. God's plan for Esther to save the Jewish people was daring and life saving. Nehemiah's plan to rebuild the wall galvanized the people and restored hope. Paul's vision to establish new faith communities throughout the region gave birth to a worldwide movement that has changed our lives today.

Tony Love: In the midst of stiff winds such as fewer worshippers, challenging finances, fewer congregations, rising needs like homelessness and malaria, we need a bold vision to propel us through challenges. In each of the biblical visions, the community of believers faced stiff winds but the vision both sliced the wind and navigated the community through rough waters.

The 2020 Vision is a bold vision with courageous goals that seeks to meet our challenges and navigate through the rough waters the church is facing. It seeks God's plan for our conference and the people in this region. It aligns growth, mission and discipleship with the biblical call to be faithful and fruitful.

Delores Oden: The 2020 Vision process began two years ago when the Discipleship Council recognized the strong progress we were making toward our 2012 goals and that, as shifting winds within the culture and the church blew, there had to be clear vision for growth, mission and discipleship beyond 2012. To complete our current goals and not have a new vision in place would impede our progress and potentially lose ground in our growth, mission and discipleship. So we went to work.

The Discipleship Council engaged more than 450 people throughout the conference to help us shape the 2020 Vision. As the Discipleship Council went to every district of our conference, people said:

1. The conversation in our conference has shifted from membership to discipleship. We are moving from enlisting members to discipling believers for faithful living in the world.
2. They said that the conference is empowering congregations for mission and ministry and this is a good thing.
3. They also affirmed the purpose of the conference, to call, equip, send and support lay and clergy spiritual leaders and leadership development is key to the future health of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. Gifted, faithful and fruitful leaders make new disciples, grow healthy congregations and engage disciples in ministries of mercy and justice.
4. And they said, we need to focus on growth. Growing disciples, growing mission and growing our congregations are urgent and critical for our future.

Katie Bishop: The 2020 Vision recommit to our purpose, to call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples and grow vital Acts 2 congregations for the transformation of the world.

As a conference, we will focus on developing Christian leaders to grow vital congregations where new disciples are made and engaged in mercy and justice ministry in the community and around the world.

We ask you to approve the goals of the 2020 Vision. The goals will focus our efforts in four areas:

- Leadership development – each goal area calls for equipping lay and clergy spiritual leaders.
- Discipleship – making new disciples, particularly engaging the non- and nominally religious and younger generations of disciples.
- Mission – we plan to engage 54,000 disciples in mission in our backyards and around the world and to do our part to end malaria and homelessness by raising 2.1 million dollars to end malaria and build 500 units of permanent supportive housing for the homeless.
- Congregational development – we plan to start 20 new worship services a year, begin two new faith communities a year and reach out to more than 400 of our smaller congregations through the Small Church Initiative.

Cynthia Taylor: Bold visions and plans call for prayer and innovative thinking. For instance, our North Capital Commons supportive housing for the homeless in Washington, D.C. will break ground in February and will have 123 efficiencies specifically designed with input from the homeless and will have support social services on site. It will have space for a new faith community. New congregations will have the opportunity to emerge in the middle of the mission without having to be focused on the facilities.

The Calvary Place project, also in D.C., will break ground in 2014 and is repurposing the Calvary Church building. It will have 81 units of supportive housing for the homeless and will also have space for a new faith community to emerge in its midst, without the burden of having to care for the building. We are doing a new thing, can you perceive it!

Bishop Schol: In the midst of stiff winds of poverty, fewer worshippers and fewer resources, we need to join together in hoisting sails that catch bold Spirit-winds filled with visions that are as challenging and bold as God's plan for Moses, Esther and Paul.

Cynthia Taylor: While we invite you to adopt the goals of the 2020 Vision, we also invite you to journey with us in establishing a pathway over the next eight years to resource all we want to do.

To raise $228 million is a significant challenge but you have shown that you are ready to work with God to meet our challenges. First let us take a look at the challenge. One-half of the $228 million is anticipated through our $124 million dollar projected apportionment giving and ministry income over the next eight years. This figure takes into consideration our current realities. We can do this, and it will fund our goals related to equipping leaders, growing vital Acts 2 congregations, making disciples and our apportioned mission efforts.

A further $80 million is for permanent supportive housing for the homeless. We have already secured $20 million through grants, individual gifts and tax credits. The additional funding will continue to be raised through grants and tax credits.

We have already raised 30% of the funds for eliminating deaths by malaria through church and individual contributions to the Imagine No Malaria efforts.

Over the next four to six months, the pathway for the remaining funds will be identified by Conference leadership with the assistance of a professional fundraising firm. The results and recommendations from this broad, comprehensive planning study will be brought back to the annual conference at the appropriate time for review and final approval.

Tony Love: The 2020 Vision:

1. Commits to bold discipleship goals that engage our congregations in disciple-making and mercy and justice ministry.
2. Works toward appropriate apportionments so that we maintain our commitment to create healthy congregations.

3. Develops funding beyond the apportionments to do our part to end homelessness, strengthen small churches and grow our mission partnerships.
4. Puts forth a bold vision that will help us to grow and change the world.

The 2020 Vision will build on the Spirit-winds that are already filling our sails and strengthening our ministry for the mission of God in the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Delores Oden: Now let us turn our attention to the 2013 budget. The 2013 budget will reduce more than $1 million dollars in spending, reduce the benevolence factor to 17.75 percent and keep us on pace to make new disciples, grow vital Acts 2 congregations and transform the world.

As you heard yesterday, we are experiencing challenges. Costs are increasing, we are losing worshippers, we are decreasing the benevolence factor, and the apportionment base is less in 2011 than in 2010. We will share with you what this means in very practical terms.

Charlie Moore: First, a decrease in worshippers significantly alters what we can and cannot do in mission. Last year's worship attendance declined across the Baltimore-Washington Conference by 952 worshippers. When this decrease is spread over hundreds of congregations the impact is not as dramatic. But when combined, we as a conference feel it significantly. This reduction of these worshippers equated to a $387,000 dollar decrease in conference apportionments. That is a significant loss for our mission. It equates to us not doing any one of the following:

- $387,000 dollars provides one-third of the Hope Fund to build churches, clinics and orphanages in Zimbabwe.
- or starts more than three new congregations a year.
- or provides housing for one year for 31 homeless people.
- or funds four campus ministers.
- or funds health insurance for 150 retirees.

What we want you to understand is that a decrease in worshippers is significant! It impacts our mission and people's lives.

Katie Bishop: Also there are certain costs that continue to increase every year, and these costs take a greater percentage of our budget. There are four areas that make up the largest portion of our budget:

1. Conference salaries and benefits are 33 percent of the conference budget. This compares to an average of 43 percent for personnel costs in our congregations.
2. General church apportionments are 26 percent of the conference budget. This compares to the conference receiving 11.6 percent of our congregations' total spending.
3. Retiree health insurance is 10.6 percent of the conference budget.
4. Capital expenditures, the Mission Center, camps, liability insurance and abandoned church property are 19 percent of the conference budget. Our new Mission Center is saving us money or this percentage would be higher.

Delores Oden: It is important for you to understand that conference spending in these areas is below what our congregations spend on these areas, and it is below what the General Church apportions us. We also want you to understand that 89 percent of our budget includes things we do not want to reduce or that we cannot reduce without seriously impacting our mission and ministry.

Tony Love: Over the last six years we have significantly reduced conference staffing, particularly in the Guiding Ministry. We have reduced our full time Guides by nine or 40% from when we started this ministry in 2006. Over the last six years, we have reduced the number of administrative staff, Guide staff and program staff by 22 staff, or 30 percent of the staff, who serve in the Mission Center. We know you have had similar challenges in your congregation as well and that together we are all making difficult decisions for the health of our mission.

Charlie Moore: We have also reduced the benevolence factor. The benevolence factor is the percentage we apportion your church. This has reduced the conference income by more than $5 million dollars, but it has allowed more than $5 million dollars to remain in church budgets. The 2013 budget is an appropriate budget to continue our mission and grow congregations. But we will face greater challenges over the next several years as we continue to reduce the benevolence factor.

The 2013 budget, combined with the 2020 Vision, keeps us moving forward to grow our mission and support our purpose to call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples and grow vital Acts 2 congregations for the transformation of the world.

Today we recommend this budget which will have a 17.75 percent benevolence factor and a total apportionment of $14.1 million dollars, a budget less than our 2002 budget.

Bishop Schol: Sailors on the Chesapeake Bay understand how shifting winds and choppy waters create greater navigation challenges. They adjust their sails and, in some cases, use different sails when facing stiff winds. Our leaders have done well to navigate the Conference through these challenging times. They have both adjusted and raised new sails and carefully plotted a course that will keep us relevant, strong and engaged in the community and the world. The 2020 Vision and the 2013 budget are realistic, hope-filled and a positive course for our future.

Isaiah prophesied that God was doing a new thing. Jesus said it would take new wine skins to contain the new thing God was doing. I believe God is doing a new thing in us and through us. God wants us, demands of us as the church of Jesus Christ, to reach new generations of believers, to understand and engage the non- and nominally religious and to grow vital Acts 2 congregations. It is the mandate for us as the church and it will take new sails to catch the new Spirit-winds that are blowing. It will require:

- New methods for starting new faith communities and repurposing buildings,
- New ways to call and equip spiritual leaders,
- New apportionment considerations,
- New ways to raise money, and
- A new bold vision.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference has encountered challenges in the past and great laity and clergy have emerged to lead faithfully and fruitfully. You will do it again because you are gifted by God and called by God for such a time as this. Let us hoist sails that will catch new Spirit-winds, navigate the challenges of our time and lead The United Methodist Church boldly into the new thing God is doing. Amen!

At the end of the Leadership Report Bishop Schol recognized Delores Oden who has served as Conference Lay Leader during the last quadrennium. Ms. Oden received a standing ovation. Ms. Delores Martin is the newly elected Conference Lay Leader.

Service of the Saints: Families of the departed saints processed into the ballroom to the singing of "For All the Saints." The Rev. Rachel Cornwall led the Call to Worship followed by the Rev. Kendrick Weaver offering the opening prayer. The Rev. Lisa Jordan read the Gospel lesson from John 11:32-37.

Bishop John Schol delivered the sermon entitled, "Order out of Chaos." Afterwards, a soloist sang "When the Saints."

The Rev. Mary Jo Sims, Conference Secretary, read the names of the departed clergy as candles were lit on behalf of the departed saint's family. Families stood when their loved one's name was called.

We remembered with thanksgiving and celebration the lives of these clergy:

Rev. Harold A. Ammons	Rev. Stanley Bice, Jr.
Rev. William Wesley Dodge	Rev. Marcus Avery Earp III
Rev. John W. Farris	Rev. John Wesley Linwood Ford
Rev. Frederick William Forkel	Rev. William Robert "Bill" Hannen
Rev. C. Alan Hogle	Rev. Pennell "Penny" V. Jester
Rev. Millard Knowles	Rev. John Lansing
Deaconess Sandra Wimberly Leathery	Rev. Donald L. Mason
Rev. Shirlimarie McAroy - Gray	Rev. John Anson "Jack" Mote
Rev. James Perry	Rev. Edwin Austin Schell
Rev. John D. Snowden, Jr.	Rev. Arthur Frederick Walz Jr.
Rev. Edwin Williams	Rev. Carl Young

The sung response, "Praise God," followed.

The Conference Secretary then read the names of the following clergy spouses who were remembered with thanksgiving and celebration:

Dorothy Beatrice Kyle Bennett	Elizabeth "Betsey" Campaigne
Agnes Allen Carrington	Dorothy Mae Chastain
Frances Molly Clulow	Barbara Weaver Warfield Ehlers
Ruth Ann Esaias	Mary Lawrence Forkel
Betty Fraim	Carroll Nichols
Betty Roberts	Pauline Sraver
David Ward	Vlasta Stadler
Marjorie Logan Wolf	Lillian Caton Womack
Mary Dodd Zepp

Again, the congregation responded by singing, "Praise God."

The names of Lay Members to Annual Conference who had died were remembered with thanksgiving.

We celebrated the lives of:

Joseph Emeric Hannah	Viola Hill	Dr. W. Astor "Bill" Kirk

Once again, the congregation joined in the singing of "Praise God."

Bishop Schol offered a Word of Hope and Prayer followed by the dismissal with a blessing. The families of the departed and the congregation emptied the ballroom to the singing of "Marching to Zion."

FOURTH PLENARY SESSION

Thursday afternoon, May 31, 2012

Grand Ballroom

The bishop welcomed the laity and clergy back to begin the afternoon session. Salvador led in the singing of "Beautiful One" and "You Are My Everything." The Rev. Kecia Ford offered the Invocation.

Black College Fund Representative: Gabrielle Mariah Johnson, who comes from Silver Spring and is a sophomore from Bennett College, spoke on behalf of the Black College Fund. She professed that God has immensely changed her life — that the Lord has turned around situations in her life on several occasions and has worked out things that once seemed unattainable. She hopes that her story can in turn bless others. She expressed gratitude for the Black College Fund and shared how funding from it had made Bennett College more handicap-accessible and had helped air condition some of the buildings on campus. She thanked the BWC for support of the Black College Fund.

Balloting: Kevin Silberzahn from Wesley Freedom UMC prayed before the ballots for the episcopal endorsement were distributed. The ballots were collected and the bishop declared the balloting closed.

First Presentation by Kenda Creasy Dean: Bishop Schol introduced the Rev. Kenda Creasy Dean, professor of youth and young adult ministries at Princeton. One of Dean's passions is exploring how young people connect with the church. In her opening remarks, Dean thanked Tom and Becky Price who have been working to make young disciples long before it was popular.

Dean said that where you sit determines what you see. What is supposed to happen in youth ministry in churches is that we help youth see life from God's perspective, but research tells us that most churches aren't doing that. Instead, youth ministry winds up perpetuating who we already are. She showed a video in which fleas, after they are released from a glass jar, continue to behave as if they are still confined to the jar. Dean asked, "Does your congregation expect youth ministry to train fleas?"

Dean shared an overview of the 2005 National Study on Youth and Religion. Most think that adulthood in the United States begins at age 26. She likes the definition that anyone in their first third of life is a youth.

One result of the national study is that it reframes the issues facing youth ministry. It also makes clear that these are the very issues facing the church. The study revealed the following:

1. Teens are not hostile toward religion. This is because they don't care about religion.
2. Teens mirror their parents' faith to an astonishing degree.
3. Teens are incredibly inarticulate about religion.
4. A significant minority of teens (40%) say that religion is important to them and makes a difference in their lives. However, only 8% are "highly devoted."
5. Sixty percent of teens found religion to be inconsequential.

However, teens do have a "common faith." Moralistic Therapeutic Deism is the unacknowledged religious creed of teens.

- God exists.
- God want us to be good.
- The central goal of life is to feel good about oneself and to be happy.
- God doesn't need to be involved in one's life unless one has a problem.
- Good people go to heaven when they die.

Sociologists concluded that Moralistic Therapeutic Deism is the dominant religion in America having supplanted Christianity in our churches. Young people do not practice Moralistic Therapeutic Deism because they have misunderstood what we have taught them in church. They practice it because this is what we've taught them in church. Dean asked how had we allowed this "mutant" strain of Christianity to overtake what we are trying to do in American churches? She said that we have lost track of the church's missional imagination — the ability to imagine existing for anyone other than ourselves. She continued by saying that mission is the very identity of the church. Mission is not optional. If we don't have mission, we don't have a church.

Andrew Wall, a Scottish pastor, says that Jesus is God's perfect translation. Jesus sends us into the world as translations as well. Mission means that we translate the faith across the generations. The best way to translate anything is through people, not programs. If we leave translating the faith to youth to programs, it will be a "wooden" translation. Dean reminded us through several illustrations that we learn best what we love most. It's also easier to share what we love with others. The question is: do we love Christ enough to share Christ with our kids? She reminded us that translation gives power to those on the edges but this scares people who are in charge.

Balloting: The bishop announced the results of the first ballot for episcopal nominee. There were a total of 864 ballots cast. Three of those were invalid. There was no election. The balloting was as follows: Rodney Smothers, 320; Karin Walker, 204; Laura Easto, 155; David Simpson, 107; Wade Martin, 57; and no designee, 21. The Rev. David Simpson came to a microphone and requested that his name be eliminated from future balloting. Dwight Watson led the Conference in prayer. The ballots that had been distributed for the second ballot were collected and the bishop declared the balloting closed.

Presentation to Beverly Schol: Mrs. Beverly Schol was asked to come forward. The president of the Conference Council for Youth Ministry (CCYM) presented her with an iPad. She thanked them and then motioning toward the youth on stage reminded the Annual Conference that "This is your future. Without them, we will be no more." She added that the youth have a lot to offer. The United Methodist Women presented Mrs. Schol with a cross. She thanked them for the gift and what they do for the conference.

2020 Vision: Cynthia Taylor, chair of the Discipleship Council, introduced council members Rev. David Argo, Director of Connectional Ministries; Kerry Kidwell-Slak; the Rev. Ken Walker; and the Rev. Bob Clipp. Taylor said that during the Regional Listening Days, sponsored by the council, churches said they wanted to grow not only members but also disciples. She noted that on page 97 of the pre-conference booklet was a listing of Discipleship Goals. Also on the same page were Leadership Goals and Congregational Development Goals. Taylor said that on page 98 was what she calls our stretch goals—these are the Mission Goals for 2020 Vision. She reminded us that we have a goal to raise $2,100,000 to end malaria, but that we have already raised $600,000 in that pursuit. At the end of her remarks, Ms. Taylor asked for the blessing of the Annual Conference and hoped that we would adopt the goals of 2020 Vision. The bishop thanked her and said that the 2020 Vision Report was before us and asked if we were ready to vote on the goals listed on pages 97 and 98 found in the pre-conference booklet.

Sharon Leatherman offered an amendment to add a comma and then the words "through mercy and justice ministries" after the word mission on line 4 of page 98. The motion was seconded. Matthew Sichel then proposed an amendment to that amendment: "insert a comma after mercy, then include justice and then add the word evangelism after the word and." The motion was seconded. Matt Munk spoke against the second amendment. When the vote came, the Sichel amendment to the amendment passed. The Leatherman amendment also passed. The second Mission Goal, originally found on page 98 of the pre-conference booklet, now reads: "Increase the percentage of our worshippers engaged in mission, through, mercy, justice and evangelism ministries, within their community . . ."

Mike McCurry spoke in favor of 2020 Vision. The Rev. Katie Bishop asked a question regarding page 97, line 39. She wondered if there would be the same measurable matrix applied to that goal as there was to similar goals in 2020 Vision. She also asked if when we voted we are approving the financial part of 2020 Vision found on page 98 since a feasibility study had not been done. The answer to the financial question was that we are not approving the financial piece today, there will be a consultant who will conduct a feasibility study on this issue. The Rev. David Argo, Director of Connectional Ministries, said that the conference would be happy to work with Rev. Bishop and the Young Adult Council to get the matrix broken down in the same matrix as the rest of the goals.

Richard Weaver, a lay member, moved to amend the Mission Goals of 2020 Vision to acknowledge our collaboration with partners. On line 3 of page 98 in the preconference booklet he moved to add the word "help" after "to" and to add the words "death by" after "end." Line 3 would read: "Raise $2.1 million to help end death by malaria." The motion was seconded and passed.

In answer to an inquiry regarding line 2 on page 98 of the preconference booklet, the response was that the projects are still in the planning stages. Rev. Dean Snyder shared what is happening in the D.C. area. In response to Ms. Duckett's question about how leaders serving on the boards are chosen, the Revs. Karin Walker and Dean Snyder responded, saying that a certain percent of the boards must be United Methodist.

The Rev. Tim Warner asked what the total Annual Conference expenditures of Be the Change in Baltimore and Washington were in terms of apportionment dollars and other sources. The Rev. Karin Walker answered that, in Baltimore, no money has been spent. The Rev. Dean Snyder said that Foundry UMC has spent some thousands and some money has been invested by the Greater Washington District from a special fund. Warner wanted to know how such expenditure were connected with the closure of churches. The Rev. David Argo explained that a church in the District had closed about nine years ago and the property was sold. The Discipline allows that where this happens in an urban area the money is to be kept in that area and that the interest can be used in mission endeavors. Some of the interest from the sale of that church's property has been used in the initial stages of Be the Change in Washington.

Most of the money for Be the Change has been raised outside the annual conference, the bishop said. Also, the youth at the ROCK retreat raised $17,000 for the work of ending homelessness. No apportionment monies have been used in Be the Change Washington. They have spent about $50,000 of donated money. Those dollars will be reimbursed through funding provided by tax credits.

In response to another question, Rev. Walker said that 501(C)3 status has been applied for. Both Be the Change Baltimore and Washington have selected boards of directors. In Baltimore, one of the 12 board members is not United Methodist; the other members are United Methodist clergy and laity who have particular expertise in housing/homeless issues. Rev. Dean Snyder listed the members of the Washington Be the Change Board. The Rev. Ed Grove asked if some of the smaller endeavors throughout the Conference, such as Berkeley County Cluster of United Methodist Churches, which has completed four Habitat for Humanity houses, fit into the 2020 Vision goal of building 500 units of permanent, supportive housing to help end homelessness (see line 2, page 92 of the pre-conference booklet). Taylor replied that currently the focus is on Baltimore and Washington but that does not preclude what might happen in the future. The bishop also responded, saying that we hope to build more than 500 units for the homeless and that we want to enlist people across the Conference to end homelessness. He said that he had been to Berkeley County (West Virginia) and even kissed a pig to help raise funds to help end homelessness in that region. Grove reminded the conference that it is critically important to keep in mind that poverty is as much a part of our rural communities across the conference as it is in our urban centers.

The Rev. Charles Harrell proposed the following amendment to be added as a new bullet point to line 42, page 97 of the pre-conference booklet: "Establish the goal of 20% of elected conference leadership be age 35 and under by 2020, and 35 % by 2030. Further, we urge congregations to elect lay members who are youth and young adults with a goal of 20% of members of Annual Conference be age 35 and under by 2020 and 35% by 2030." When the motion had been seconded, Harrell spoke in its favor, telling the conference, "If we want to see the change, we need to model the change."

Russell Williams spoke in opposition to the amendment. The Rev. Deb Scott made the following amendment: that we would have our meetings at a time when our youth and young adults can attend. The motion was seconded. After Rev. Scott had spoken in favor of its passage, there were two speeches against its approval. The Rev. Bruce Frame asked if this would apply to Annual Conference. The reply from Scott was yes. The bishop reminded the assembly that according to the Discipline, the bishop determines the times and dates of annual conference. A great many considerations go into the selection of when annual conference occurs. The Rev. Sarah Schlieckert wondered how binding this amendment would be if it were passed. The bishop responded that it would serve as a guide.

Balloting: The bishop then announced the results of the second ballot for episcopal nominee. There was no election. A total of 884 ballots were cast; 873 of them were valid, 11 were not; 577 ballots were needed to elect. The election results were as follows: Rodney Smothers, 419; Karin Walker, 283; Laura Easto, 131; No designee, 23; and Wade Martin, 17.

Sherry Perrine came to a microphone to pray before the next balloting. The ballots were distributed and collected and the bishop then declared the balloting closed.

Stewardship Report and Recommendations: Bishop Schol said that we needed to shift to the budget. He introduced Charlie Moore, chair of the Conference Committee on Finance and Administration. Moore directed our attention to the proposed budget for 2013, which was located on pages 8-16 of the Conference Booklet.

Moore detailed the process of developing the Conference proposed budget. He said that in September, CFA had looked at three key factors:

- An estimate of what local churches had spent for the prior year. This is done even before the actuals are received.
- The benevolent factor that gets applied to these local church expenses.
- An estimate of how much of the “billing” churches will actually pay.

The Committee on Finance and Administration also made three assumptions:

- That expenses in the local churches would increase by 3% over the prior year.
- That in an effort to continue the downward trend regarding the Benevolent Factor, it should be 17.75 % for the 2013 budget year.
- That the collection rate for local church apportionments would be 91.5%.

Moore said that when the church statistics were compiled and reviewed early in January, it became evident that, in fact, the expenses for local churches decreased by more than 2%, which meant that CFA had less of an expense apportioned base on which to draw. This meant that the proposed budget that had been presented and reviewed earlier at the October Connectional Table would need to be reduced by about 5% or approximately $1.4 million. Between February and late March a tremendous amount of work was done on how to address this. About 70% of the Conference Budget is spent in three areas: (1) compensation and benefits, (2) General Conference apportionments, and (3) retiree medical benefits. That left about $1.1 million for discretionary or operational expenses. CFA was successful in identifying around $700,000 in decreased expenditures without “cutting into the bone.” That left about $400,000 for adjustments to be made. Discussions were held regarding Conference organizational structure and staffing resources. The proposed budget for 2013 reflects staff restructuring and adjustments to staffing levels.

The Rev. David Cooney, Assistant to the Bishop, came to the podium to explain the criteria used in determining staff restructuring and adjustments to staffing levels. He said that this process was difficult, challenging and painful. It became not just a discussion about balance sheets but about lives and livelihoods, not just about cherished programs and ministries, but about cherished people. Fifteen staff positions at the Conference were impacted. In looking at the Conference organizational structure, he asked how could we fulfill our mission in light of reduced staffing? The goal was to impact as few people as possible. The desire was to spread the reductions across the body, across teams so that no one area was too heavily impacted.

Moore then directed the Conference’s attention to pages 8 and 9 of the Conference Booklet as he summarized the proposed budget. He assured us that while the budget envisions a change in how we do things it does not envision a change in what we do — equip disciples for Jesus Christ. He said that the process used in the Annual Conference is similar to what local churches have just experienced and what General Conference has just gone through. “We’re all adapting,” he said. “These times call for radical leadership.” He then referred the proposed budget and associated resolutions to the Annual Conference.

The Rev. Barry Hidey directed a question to Rev. Cooney, asking if he could share the names of those who are being terminated so we would know who is being impacted by the budget. The bishop responded that a letter listing the conference positions that were impacted had been sent out. He said, "this is a difficult time. Sharing those names would not be helpful to the body." The bishop ruled Rev. Hidey's question out of order. David Hosey asked, "Does the cut to the Campus Ministry budget permanently eliminate a Campus Ministry program at the University of Maryland in College Park or is there provision in the budget for a permanent position at that school?" Moore responded that there is funding for some resources at University of Maryland.

The Rev. Katie Bishop asked if we were dealing in the CFA motion with what was contained in the Daily Connection as well as in the Conference Booklet? The answer was no, not at this time.

Julie Pointing asked additional questions about funding for the Campus Ministry program at the University of Maryland. Paul Eichelberger stated that $45,000 of the $317,000 budgeted for Campus Ministry is dedicated to closing the ministry gap at the University of Maryland at College Park and to help complete and continue that ministry. All of these monies are from appointed funds. John Sanford from United Church in D.C. asked if it would be possible to get some recognition from the conference for the Campus Ministry program the United Church currently funds. Starting next year it will be the only Mainline Protestant Campus Ministry at George Washington University. Bishop Schol said that a Task Force to study Campus Ministry throughout the conference is going to be formed. It will examine how we can continue to connect with campuses throughout the Conference. It will report back to the Annual Conference with recommendations.

The Rev. Dellyne Hinton asked why on line 10, page 8 of the proposed budget we are going from reimbursement income of $357,000 to $32,000. With the adoption of Extend Health, we will no longer be receiving reimbursement under Part D of the coverage that we now receive under the current retiree health plan. Matthew Munk asked about the meetings funds ($1,000) listed under each region. Could these funds be reallocated for Campus Ministry? These funds are miscellaneous expenses that the staff has with clergy and churches. Nancy Clarkson expressed concern about the overall message the budget is sending and wondered how if we are reducing Conference positions we are going to reach greatness.

Cooney responded to her concerns and explained how we are able to provide leadership for our youth even in the midst of reductions in the budget. There are still enough funds for the University of Maryland Campus Ministry to continue all its current ministries.

The Rev. Laura Easto asked about the discretionary fund listed under the Episcopacy Committee (see line 10). The response was that this really is the bishop's Discretionary Fund. The Rev. David Simpson asked about the Youth Ministry Budget found on page 13, line 3. He asked if we are spending no apportionment dollars for youth ministry. The answer was yes, although staffing for 2012 is outside of that fund. In the future, the contracting for that ministry staff will be fully funded under that line item.

The Rev. Mary Kay Totty moved to amend the benevolence factor to 18% with the first $200,000 additional income being designated for Campus Ministry within the bounds of the Conference. The motion received a second. Rev. Totty then spoke in favor of the motion, saying that Campus Ministry changes the lives of young people. The Rev. Karin Walker asked what does that mean for a local church budget? This increase would add about 1.5 % to the apportionment rate for local churches. Rev. Walker then spoke against the motion, saying that we need to rethink Campus Ministry just as we rethink church. Melanie Olivet, a recent graduate of American University who is now attending Wesley Seminary, spoke in favor of the motion.

The Rev. David Cooney offered a speech against the motion, saying that simply providing more money will not necessarily improve our effectiveness in Campus Ministry. He said that we need to live within our means and urged us to stay the course regarding the budget. Charlie Moore added that these decisions and proposals regarding the budget were not made quickly and they have not been taken lightly.

The Rev. Kirk Van Gilder spoke in favor of the amendment. There was a motion and second to table the Totty amendment motion until the next plenary session. The motion passed.

Someone asked if there were guidelines on how the Equitable Compensation funds in the budget would be used or distributed. The bishop directed the inquirer to the Revs. Ianther Mills and Karin Walker.

The Rev. Laura Easto moved to lift off the table the Totty amendment that had recently been tabled. The motion was seconded. It passed. The Rev. Cynthia Moore spoke against the amendment, saying she would like to give folks an opportunity to study Campus Ministry. Jen Ihlo asked if there were some reason why the study couldn't go on even if we voted additional funding for campus ministry. The bishop responded that once the study is completed, we will know best how to allocate the money. There's nothing in the amendment that says how to allocate the money. There was a call for the question. It was seconded. It passed. The amendment was brought forth for a vote. It did not pass. The Rev. Deb Scott moved to table the budget discussion until the next plenary session. The motion was seconded but did not pass.

The Rev. David Argo spoke in support of the budget. The Rev. Scott Shumaker spoke in opposition to the budget. The Rev. Chris Holmes said that he strongly supported the budget.

Matthew Munk asked if we could achieve some of the goals of 2020 Vision by counting campuses as newly created congregations and appointing clergy of nearby churches to form a cooperative parish with those campuses. The bishop said this would be referred to the Task Force that will be studying Campus Ministry. Daniel Marshall of Glyndon gave another speech against the budget. The previous question was called and seconded. The motion passed. The budget was now before the body. The Annual Conference voted on and passed the budget. The bishop thanked CFA for its hard work and also the Annual Conference. Then the president of CCYM, Nick Poole, delivered the Benediction.

SERVICE OF COMMISSIONING OF PROVISIONAL MEMBERS AND ORDINATION OF DEACONS AND ELDERS

Grand Ballroom

Bishops John Schol, Forrest Stith and Gregory Palmer, the Cabinet, Extended Cabinet, members of the Board of Ordained Ministry, clergy of the Annual Conference, and those to be ordained, commissioned or recognized processed in to the singing of "The Church's One Foundation." The service continued with the singing of "We've Come this Far by Faith."

Ek Ching Hii led the Call to Worship. Bishop Schol and Bishop Stith greeted the congregation and Kirkland Reynolds offered the opening prayer.

Bishop Schol led those present in the recognition of our common ministry. During the singing of "Your Grace is Enough," the bishop walked up and down the aisle sprinkling water as a symbol of the reaffirmation of our baptism.

The candidates to be commissioned, ordained or recognized proceeded to the bottom of the platform stairs. Conference Lay Leader Delores Oden and the Chair of the Board of Ordained Ministry Joye Jones presented the peoples to be commissioned for the work of an Elder, recognized as an Associate Member of this Annual Conference, ordained Deacon, or ordained Elder.

Each candidate walked onto the stage as their name was read. The Rev. Mark Smiley, Full Member Registrar for the Board of Ordained Ministry, read the name of each candidate to be commissioned: Sheridan Barclift Allmond, Adam Briddell, Andrew Scott Greenwood, Elizabeth H. Jackson, James Kevin Johnson, Tiffany Renee Kromer, Bonnie J. McCubbin, Sandra Lee Phillips, Twanda E. Prioleau, Wendy Ruth van Vliet, Dana L. Werts, Heath E. Wilson, and George L. Winkfield. The candidate to be recognized as Associate Member was Keith B. Schukraft.

The Rev. Mark Smiley then read the full name of each candidate to be ordained and recognized as a Deacon or as an Elder.

Candidates for Ordination as Deacon: Katherine Elizabeth Leffler Brown and David S. Showalter. Candidates for Ordination as Elder: Walter Lee Beaudwin, Jalene Cynthia Chase-Sands, Curtis Christian Ehr Gott, Ek Ching Hii, Janice Elizabeth Leith, Frankie Allen Revell, Kirkland Reynolds, David S. Showalter, Marlon B. Tilghman, and Judy Smith Young.

Bishop Schol said that these people are, by God's grace, to be commissioned, recognized or ordained to ministry in Christ's holy church and that we believe them to be duly called to serve God. He asked if the congregation trusted that they are worthy, by God's grace, to be commissioned, ordained or recognized? The congregation responded in the affirmative and pledged to uphold the candidates in their ministry.

The bishop then examined the candidates, reminding them that they are called to serve rather than to be served, to proclaim the faith of the Church and no other, and to look after the concerns of God above all. He then prayed that "May God, who has given you the will to do these things, give you grace to perform them that the work begun in you may be brought to perfection. Amen."

Bishop Schol introduced the guest preacher, Bishop Gregory Vaughn Palmer, who was assigned as episcopal leader of the Illinois Area of The United Methodist Church Sept. 1, 2008. He received his undergraduate degree from George Washington University in Washington, D.C., and the Master's of Divinity degree from Duke University Divinity School, Durham, N.C. In 2000, Palmer was elected to the episcopacy by the North Central Jurisdictional Conference. He was assigned to the Iowa Area where he served until assuming responsibilities in the Illinois Area. Bishop Palmer served as president of the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry from 2004 to 2008 and president of the Council of Bishops from April 2008 to May 2010.

Jalene Chase-Sands read the Gospel lesson from Luke 4:16-21. Bishop Palmer delivered the sermon.

During the singing of "Spirit, Spirit of Gentleness, the provisional candidates moved to the platform. Bishop Schol examined them. Then the candidates knelt and were commissioned with the laying on of hands. Family members and friends were invited to stand where they were for silent prayer during the laying on of hands as the candidates were commissioned. The new associate member was also recognized.

During the singing of "Spirit, Spirit of Gentleness," the two Deacon candidates came forward. The bishop explained the duties and calling of a Deacon. Bishop Palmer prayed for the candidates. Then the Deacon candidates each knelt and the bishops laid hands on them and said the words of ordination over them.

The Elder candidates then processed onto the platform and faced Bishop Schol who listed the duties of an Elder. The candidates confirmed that they believed they were called to fulfill those duties. Bishop Stith prayed for the candidates. Each candidate then came forward for the laying on of hands and to receive the words of ordination. Family members and friends stood and offered silent prayers during the laying on of hands for each Elder ordinand. Afterwards all present celebrated with the singing of “A New Hallelujah.”

Bishop Schol then issued an invitation to the congregation, saying, “This very day the Spirit of God is among us to call a new generation of pastors and servant-leaders to take up the mantle of leading the church of Jesus Christ.” He said that perhaps there were those in the congregation who sensed a nudge toward ordained ministry. Such moments are the way the Holy Spirit gets our attention. He invited those who sensed an inner calling to respond and come forward. He urged the congregation to pray for those who responded. Salvador played as several responded to the call. The newly ordained and members of the Board of Ordained Ministry greeted those who came forward. The Closing Prayer was led by Katherine Elizabeth Leffler Brown and David Showalter gave the dismissal with a blessing. The bishops and clergy recessed to the singing of “God of Grace and God of Glory” and “Sois la Semilla” (You Are the Seed).

FIFTH PLENARY SESSION

Grand Ballroom

Balloting: Jimmy Sherrod and band opened the session by singing “Glory, Glory Hallelujah, God Reigns” and “How Great Thou Art.” The Rev. Terri Cofieffler offered the Invocation. The bishop greeted us and then read the results of the third ballot for episcopal candidates. There were 849 ballots cast, 19 were invalid. Five hundred forty-eight were needed for a nominee to be lifted up. There was no nominee. The bishop read the results of the balloting: Rodney Smothers, 495; Karin Walker, 235; Laura Easto, 66; No designee, 29; and Wade Martin, 5.

The bishop announced that according to our rules we were now going to our final ballot. The Rev. Karin Walker came to the microphone and withdrew her name from consideration as an episcopal nominee. The Rev. Joe Daniels came to a microphone and said he would like to make a motion. The bishop said that was out of order because we were going to a ballot. Daniels then asked for a point of order. When the bishop said that a point of order was in order, Daniels asked why a motion was out of order. The bishop said that unless the motion has to do with our rules that it is not in order in the midst of a ballot. Daniels said he would like the Conference to consider going back to the delegation’s recommendation that we send two candidates forward as episcopal nominees. The bishop said that such a motion was not in order. The bishop then led the conference in a period of silence and prayer. The ballots were distributed and collected and the bishop declared the balloting closed.

Second Presentation by Kenda Creasy Dean: The bishop then welcomed back the Rev. Kenda Creasy Dean to continue her remarks about how we in the church can connect with youth and young adults. Dean showed a video clip of an escalator that had stopped with two people on it. The people remain on the escalator, calling out for others to come and help “unstuck” them from the escalator. Dean asked the assembly, “Does anything in your congregation’s ministry feel stuck where young people are concerned?” and “What’s keeping you on the escalator?”

Dean told the story of a conference of young clergy she had attended. During a small group breakout session, one young pastor asked her colleagues if they would attend the church they were serving if they were not paid to do so. Only two said yes. Dean said that the age of those in a congregation or its theology are not the issues. It’s the absence of life. The key to being a young church is not youth, it’s hope. What we are looking for is hope in Jesus Christ. What young people know is that we are not limited by time. The future is open ended — that is the promise of Jesus Christ. The question for us is how do we raise the threshold of our hope? Dean said that if we are really serious about trying to address a younger church we need to look at two myths associated with young people and the church.

Myth 1: Young people will save the church. We hear this all the time. Young people can't save the church; only Jesus Christ can save the church. We think of young people as a defense against the church's demise. Dean calls this Vampire Theology. We look at youth not as people in their own right but as young blood to save the church. We tend to blame young people for leaving us but research suggests that institutions abandon them more rapidly than they do us. Instead of talking to young people about discipleship, we talk to them about membership, something they don't understand. We have taught young people since they were young children that institutions are there to serve and benefit them, not the other way around.

Myth 2: Youthfulness depends upon the young. The fastest growing religious group in the United States is the Nones. These are people without a religious preference. One out of four Americans ages 18 to 26 is a None. Most of them were raised in religious homes. They are not atheists or agnostics. And, they do have religious habits: (1) they gather together in "sacred" spaces (such as Starbucks); (2) they engage in prophetic witness; and (3) they have rituals that help create communities or belonging. Nones are also more likely to be poor white males under 30. Probably one reason for this is that poor children grow up thinking that institutions such as the church have nothing to do with them.

Jon Stewart of the Daily Show said that "The United Methodist Church is the University of Phoenix of religions." Indeed, it's easy to get a religious credential from us. We don't want to inconvenience young people with the Gospel; we don't want to make them uncomfortable with Jesus. We ask little and we get less. As Clif Christopher said yesterday, we are not a high expectation church.

Dean looked at churches that are doing a good job with emerging adults. Much of the research Dean cited came from Rev. Drew Dyson's unpublished dissertation, "Mending the Nets: Towards a Wesleyan Response . . . Emerging Adult Faith Drift." Churches that do well with young adults have a missional ecclesiology that includes:

- They wrestle with meaning. These churches grapple with meaning and help young adults ask such questions as: "What is the purpose of our being here?" and "Does God matter?"
- They "major" in belonging. These churches are huge communities of belonging. People feel that they belong; they are not only spectators but also participants.
- They practice radical hospitality. They are radically open to others, whether they are like us or not, whether they think like us or not. People come to church because they like the people. Dean said that whether we like it or not, the test for the church's radical hospitality for 18 to 29 year olds is the way we treat their gay and lesbian friends. The first thing that 91 percent of young people ages 18 to 29 say when they think about Christians is that they are anti-homosexual. Four out of five young people in church are concerned about the church's position on homosexuality, and of the more than 8 million young people who have left the church, three out of five of them cite the church's views on homosexuality as one of the major reasons they left. Dean said, "If we lose this generation, this will be the reason why. . . This is about our hospitality. Are we hospitable enough to those who may or may not be like us?"

It's time, Dean said, for us to question the strategy of giving young people space to sow their wild oats with the assumption that they will come back to church when they have children. This is a risky proposition. Data suggests that this won't happen. After high school graduation, religious affiliations become less important to people. There are two exceptions to this: (1) those highly devoted as teens who had religiously active parents while the teen was in high school, and (2) those who had a profound religious experience as a young person. Moreover, young people are more likely to return to church when they get married, not when they have children. However, fewer people are getting married in the United States and they are marrying at a later age. And, as people age, their faith declines.

Furthermore, young people see right through our Vampire Theology. They are sick of being used by congregations to save our ecclesial skins. Dean said that she's not sure it matters if the UMC is here 50 years from now. Jesus did not come to found denominations; he didn't even invite people to church. What does matter is that 50 years from now people will know Jesus Christ because back in 2012 in the BWC there were people who came alongside them while they were young and showed them what a missional imagination looks like and invited them to participate alongside them in it.

The key to a younger church is hope; the future is unbounded, it is wide open with possibilities. We have the conviction that the future is a gift through Jesus Christ. Everyone who is bound to Jesus Christ is a youth because death is not our horizon. According to Jürgen Moltmann, it's the future (in Christ) that makes us young.

Dean said that when she talks to groups about Moralistic Therapeutic Deism, a pall usually falls over the room. It reminds her of the story in Luke of the rich young ruler. His approach is like ours — he wants the benefits of religion. We are asking what we must do so that the young people we love can get what Jesus has promised to them. If we too want eternal life, we need to let go of what is killing us. Is that what is happening to us as a church? It's dawning on us that this means we have to change our lives forever. The thought is so daunting that we want to quit before we even get started. We feel stuck. Like the rich young ruler, we go away sad. Dean wondered if giving young people a missional imagination might not be as scary as we make it out to be as we help them resist Moralistic Therapeutic Deism and embody the Gospel as part of their daily lives.

There are two sources for shaping religious identity:

1. Parents
 - Invest in your own faith.
 - Share what you love.
 - Tell your faith story to your kids.

Dean asked what would happen if we each did one radical thing, did it in front of our children, and explained that we were doing it because of Jesus. What if we did this as a church? Would we still be stuck?

We don't need to fix the escalator, Dean said. What matters is that we move; that we wake up to where God is already at work in the world and we follow Christ there. Young people look for game-changing grace and it never occurs to them to look for it in church. The point of missional imagination is not to mask the suffering but to name the fact that in Jesus Christ death is no match for what God has to offer. And if we could get this right, if we miss no opportunity to participate in game-changing grace, we would be a young, more hopeful church and we might stand a chance against self-serving spiritualities like Moralistic Therapeutic Deism. We might get unstuck.

There are examples of groups who do embody missional imagination, such as the Coup Klutz Clowns and Improv Everywhere. Improv Everywhere's mission statement is to give people the story of a lifetime. Why isn't the church doing this? Aren't we the story of a lifetime? What would happen if we were the ones going into people's lives and imagining it differently for them? If we enacted the Kingdom of God being at hand? We viewed an Improv Everywhere video, "The Best Game Ever." Afterwards, Dean asked, "What's stopping us from offering game-changing grace?"

Election of Episcopal Nominee: The bishop thanked Dean. He then reported that we had elected Rodney Smothers as our episcopal candidate. Rev. Smothers joined the bishop on stage. The bishop said that our prayers go with Rev. Smothers. He addressed the conference, saying that throughout his life he has been embraced by this church. He said, "I don't know what the future holds but I am thankful to God.” He asked that we continue to challenge him to be the best leader he can be, to pray for him and his family, and to pray for all our leaders. He thanked God and all of us. Bishop Schol led us in prayer for Rev. Smothers and his family and for the Jurisdictional Conference. The Conference gave Smothers a standing ovation.

The Rev. John Campbell made a motion that we hold up to four more additional ballots in order to possibly elect a second nominee to the episcopacy. The ballot would consist of all people on the original ballot, except Rodney Smothers, including those who had subsequently withdrawn. The bishop explained that we can’t require somebody to be on the ballot, they will have to indicate this if the motion passes. The motion was seconded. The Rev. Katie Bishop offered an amendment that we take only one additional ballot. It was seconded. It did not pass. The Rev. Matt Poole spoke against the Campbell motion. Rev. Campbell spoke in favor of his motion. Jen Ihlo also spoke against the motion. A vote was taken and the motion did not pass.

The bishop thanked all those who had put themselves forward as candidates to become episcopal nominees. The conference gave them a standing ovation.

As the space was being prepared for the Service of Passage, the bishop thanked Jimmy Sherrod and the band.

Celebration of Passages in Ministry: Bishop Schol greeted the congregation, which then sang the opening hymn, “Spirit of God.” The Call to Worship was led by the Rev. Gay Green-Carden. The bishop then recognized the Retiring Class of 2012, who stood along with their spouses as their names were called:

Ann P. Adams	Donna Hennessy Bennett	Kenneth Brown
Kim Capps	Linda Coolbaugh	Richard B. Craig
Sandra Demby	Charlotte Hendee	Bob Hershberger
Hosea Hodges	Mary Ellen Huzzard	Diana Hynson
Judith Kelly	Richard Kroll	Ronald Kurtz
Mapipi Isaac Mawokomatanda		Vera Louise Mitchell-Mallett
Calvin S. Morris	Albert Moser Jr.	Lynn Nulton
Lucius Ross Jr.	Richard Shamer	Judith Stone
Daniel Gordon Taylor	Jimmie L. Ward	Nancy Jarrell Webb
Jean Weller	M. Monroe Wright	Dennis Yocum

Bishop Schol then addressed the retiring class, saying that they have lived a life of passion, excitement and an enthusiasm for the work of our Lord. The congregation responded that we were thankful to God for calling, supporting and guiding them.

Bishop Schol responded that they were called to embody the servant leadership of Christ and that by God’s grace “you did many things that seemed to be beyond your power.” The congregation gave thanks for the vision and obedience of the retirees.

Bishop Schol told the retirees to never lose sight of the many ways in which God had used them and reminded them to always be faithful to God’s calling.

The congregation responded with a prayer of thanksgiving for the retirees.

Both the Old Testament lesson, Joel 2:28-29, and the New Testament lesson, Luke 4:17-19, were read by a youth from the Conference Council on Youth Ministries. The bishop offered a brief explanation of the practice of anointing with oil. Then he prayed over a bottle of oil, asking that those who received it may be consecrated to God’s service, emboldened by God’s presence, and sustained with God’s assurance that God is always with them.

The congregation responded with the singing of “Holy Spirit, Come.”

Retirees and spouses left the platform and made a line to anoint the newly ordained, newly received and newly commissioned. Newly licensed local pastors came to the stage and were seated. Each local pastor stood as their name was read.

Myung-Ha Baek	Scott Clawson
Nathaniel Green	Joseph Heath
Alan Hemming	Selena Johnson
Jerome Jones, Sr.	Richard Keller
Melissa Richardson	Donald Wayne Sloan
Ian Grant Spong	Shannon Sullivan
Beth Williams	Linda Yarrow

Bishop Schol then offered a prayer on their behalf, giving thanks for their willingness to serve. The congregation responded with the singing of “Holy Spirit, Come.” The local pastors were anointed by the retirees. The Commissioning Class came to the stage and their names were read. (See the Service of Commissioning and Ordination.) Bishop Schol prayed on their behalf, asking that God continue to speak in their lives. The retirees then anointed the commissioned with oil and prayed for them. The congregation responded with the singing of “Holy Spirit, Come.” The newly ordained came to the stage and were seated. Their names were read. (See the Service of Commissioning and Ordination.) The bishop asked them Wesley’s historical questions. He then prayed for them, asking God to help them. The congregation again responded with the singing of “Holy Spirit, Come.” The ordinands were then anointed by the retirees.

Each district superintendent then read the appointments in his or her district. The newly appointed stood at their seats. After the reading of all the appointments, the Rev. Gay Green-Carden led the congregation in the Covenant Prayer in the Wesleyan Tradition. Bishop Schol extended an invitation to laypeople who might be discerning a call upon their lives. The service ended with the singing of “Here I Am, Lord.” Bishop Schol then offered the dismissal with a blessing.

Appreciation for Conference Volunteers and Staff: The bishop called those who helped with Annual Conference to the stage. He thanked the Rev. Mandy Sayers and the Worship Planning Team. He then thanked the tellers, pages, highlighters, marshals and those who helped with balloting and registration. He recognized the Rev. Pauline Wilkins, who has served as the coordinator for pages and tellers for 20 years. He also recognized the Rev. Jeff Paulsen, who has served as chair of the Arrangement Committee. The bishop thanked the Conference staff whose efforts and hard work make the Conference run smoothly. Those assembled gave all these folks a standing ovation.

Stewardship Presentation Continued: Then Charlie Moore, chair of Conference CFA, came to the podium. The bishop continued his remarks by explaining the necessity of passing the budget yesterday. If there had been amendments to the budget, our rules require that it goes back to CFA. We had to finish the budget yesterday. CFA was prepared to meet last night. If we had continued the budget discussion into today and there had been amendments, we would have had to have a special session of Annual Conference to approve the budget. We are going to move forward with two things: (1) a Task Force that will look at Campus Ministry and will come back to next year’s Annual Conference with recommendations. It will include Conference leaders, campus ministers, students, persons from the Board of Higher Education and Ministry, and clergy and laity throughout the conference. (2) We are forming a team to look at the benevolence factor. We know what the realities are. This team will include leadership from key areas in our Conference, youth and young adults, and laity and clergy representing the whole conference.

The bishop then expressed appreciation for the leadership of Charlie Moore, who has led ably and well. He has led with wisdom and compassion. The Annual Conference applauded Mr. Moore. Moore then placed in nomination Paul Eichelberger to continue as Treasurer and Chief Financial Officer of the Annual conference. The nomination was approved by the conference. The bishop said that Paul Eichelberger has done a superb job.

To clarify results from the previous balloting for episcopal candidate, in which Rev. Smothers was nominated, Bishop Schol took a break from the proceedings and announced the totals of the fourth ballot. There were 546 ballots cast. All were valid. Votes need to nominate: 361. The balloting was as follows: Laura Easto, 50; Wade Martin, 6; Rodney Smothers, 451; no designee, 39.

The Rev. David Cooney then made the following motion: "I move to suspend our rules in order to facilitate our discussion and voting on legislation. Specifically that if no one wants to speak against a motion or amendment, the body may call for the question." The Rev. Joseph Whalen asked for a point of order, saying that since there was a motion on the floor and an amendment to the motion, he wondered if the motion were out of order. The bishop said that this is technically a point of order and does supersede the motion and amendment that are on the floor. Rev. Whelan then asked for a parliamentary ruling. The bishop ruled that the Cooney motion was in order and is before the body. Jen Ihlo asked if this were necessary. The bishop said that this just means that someone can call for the question if no one rises to speak against a motion. The Cooney motion passed.

At the bishop's request, the Secretary then read the Harrell amendment. Dan Marshall spoke against the amendment as did Rev. Sandy Taylor. The Rev. Kate Murphey spoke in favor of the amendment. The amendment did not carry.

The motion to approve the 2020 Vision plan was now before the body. The Rev. DaeHwa Park moved an amendment in reference to the Congregational Development Goals found on page 97 of the pre-conference booklet: "The church and conference to explore and enhance the awareness of the multi-contextual ministry in our church and equip a multi-cultural resource center by 2016, so that local churches may be relevant to the rapidly changing world of cultural diversity." The motion was seconded. Rev. Park spoke in favor of his amendment. The Rev. David Argo moved that we table the amendment until next Annual Conference so that the implications of this motion may be clarified and studied. It was seconded. The motion passed.

It was then brought to our attention that we didn't vote on the Scott amendment. We voted on that amendment. It did not pass.

Christie Latona moved that an independent audit be done of the relationship between Be the Change and the Baltimore-Washington Conference. The audit should include an evaluation of the risk-assessment process for identifying at-risk congregations and how interventions and next steps help the Baltimore-Washington's mission to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Since there was already a motion on the floor, this should be an amendment. However, the bishop said this really wasn't an amendment and suggested that this be made a motion after we finished considering the 2020 Plan.

The Rev. Steve Ricketts asked about the goal of reducing the benevolence factor and if we approve the 2020 plan does this tie CFA's hands? The bishop responded that it's a goal, not a mandate. Kenneth Moore asked about Leadership Development Goals in lieu of recent studies on clergy ages and trends: is there a way we can add language that will embrace seasoned and middle-aged clergy as well as younger clergy as we try to recruit clergy leadership? The bishop said that he could make an amendment and would get back to him.

The question was asked that if this body approves the 2020 Vision would this body be responsible for funding the 500 units of permanent, supportive housing? The Rev. Dean Snyder responded that in Washington the funding will come through government and foundational funding and tax credits. No apportionment money has been requested at this point. The Rev. Karin Walker said the same is true in Baltimore — funding comes through foundations, grants and vouchers from local and federal governments.

The Rev. Mark Schaefer made the following amendment to the 2020 Vision: Amend page 98, line 8 “228 million” to read “230 million;” amend page 98, line 13 “124 million” to read “125 million;” amend page 98, line 14 “104 million” to read “105 million;” amend page 98, line 26; append: “Create a Foundation for Campus Ministry to support the existing work of campus ministry and provide for the planting of new campus ministries in the Baltimore-Washington Conference -- $ 2 million. The motion was seconded.

The bishop said that since Campus Ministry is going to be looked at and studied, it is important to have something like this amendment in the plan. The motion was seconded. Rev. Mark Schaefer then spoke in support to this amendment.

Charlie Moore raised a point of order saying that he understood that the main motion only goes down to line 6 on page 98 and he didn’t think the amendment was in order. The bishop said that what we are approving is the goals and the bishop thought that this is the appropriate place for such an amendment. The body voted on the amendment. It was approved.

The Rev. Ron Kurtz called for the question. There was a speech against the motion. We voted on the call for the question, it carried.

The 2020 Vision was now before the body. Jen Ihlo asked what we were voting on. The bishop responded that we were voting on page 97 beginning with the section entitled Discipleship Goals through page 98, line 6 (in the pre-conference booklet). The body voted on the 2020 Vision. It passed.

The bishop then called upon Christie Latona who again read her motion. (See above.) The motion was seconded. She then spoke in favor of her motion. The bishop asked that the Rev. Tony Love, chair of Conference Trustees, come to the podium to respond to some of Ms. Latona’s concerns about possible conflicts of interest. He asked Rev. Love if any property has been sold or any churches closed in order that Be the Change might use those properties. Love responded that no properties were closed by the Conference and no funds received by Be the Change by that method at all. The bishop then asked what if a church on its own wants to repurpose part of its property for Be the Change. How do the Trustees handle such matters? Love said that the only properties the Trustees have concerns with would be those churches that are discontinued or closed. Churches who sell their own properties determine the use of the proceeds. Be the Change would not be involved without the local church’s approval. The Rev. Anthony Hunt, superintendent for the Baltimore Metropolitan District, said that with regard to the active congregation in Baltimore that had repurposed some of its property, that decision had come through the church’s Charge Conference.

Jen Ihlo amended the motion to specifically include in the audit to review any conflicts of interest involving the Conference Treasurer as also being the Treasurer of Be the Change. The amendment was seconded. Ms. Ihlo spoke in favor of her motion. The Rev. Joseph Whalen asked a question of clarification on the issue of funding as it related to the motion. He said he thought that Rev. Argo said yesterday that the interest from the sale of church property, amounting to $50,000, was used. Now we are being told that no money from the sale of church property was used. The Rev. Argo said that he did not say that $50,000 had been spent. The sale of the property in Landover Hills generated proceeds and in the Greater Washington District the interest from the proceeds of that sale has been used in a variety of ways for ministry in the District. Interest from the proceeds has been used to help fund a support person.

The Rev. Lynn Burnett asked where the money for such an audit would come from. The Conference treasurer responded that was a good question and that they would need to identify the source of those funds and whose responsibility (Conference or Be the Change) it would be. The bishop then shared that these two non-profits were started to help with this ministry [to the homeless]. They want to protect the assets of the Conference and establishing the non-profits provided some fire wall for the Annual Conference against liabilities. They are taking all the precautions necessary. All monies will be reimbursed. The conference has put very little money toward this ministry. Because we are getting federal money, for example for Calvary, the property will be purchased. The property will be sold according to the policies of the Book of Discipline. However, the property and the ministry will still be controlled by people of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, who will hold title to it. The bishop said that the Conference Chancellor and other legal advisors are making sure that we carry through with these things properly.

Clint Stretch made a speech against the amendment. The Rev. Charles Harrell made an amendment to the amendment: That the audit be funded by the Operations Budget of 2013 Budget Contingency Line (page 14, line 50 of the Conference Booklet) up to $10,000. Paul Eichelberger said that those funds include monies for a thirteenth payment on the Mission Center's mortgage, thus reducing the contingency fund to $24,000. The bishop asked what Mr. Eichelberger would do if an audit cost more than $10,000. He said he would try to find the funds and would also get another quote and try to make it happen; he would also go back to CFA if necessary. The Conference annual audit costs about $45,000 to $50,000. The Rev. Joye Jones raised a point of order saying that we have not voted on the Ihlo amendment and she did not see how the Harrell amendment is relevant to the Ihlo amendment. Also, we can't amend an amendment.

We voted on the Ihlo amendment. It passed. The Rev. Katie Bishop asked if this audit could be added to our annual audit. Our audit was just completed. Ken Ow spoke against the amendment to have an audit. He read the names of the Be the Change Board in DC area. The question was asked if these positions are held by person or title? The Rev. Snyder said it is not by position, but by person.

Matt Sichel asked if we were going to vote on the Charles Harrell amendment. The body voted on the amendment. It did not pass. The original motion to request an outside audit was then before us. It passed.

The bishop thanked CFA and those who worked on the 2020 plan. They received a round of applause.

The Rev. Philip Tocknell presented the recommendations from the Commission on Equitable Compensation, found on page 65 of the pre-conference booklet. The Rev. John Rudisill offered the following amendment: "I move to amend the Report of the Commission on Equitable Compensation by the following addition to line 5 on page 65 of the pre-conference booklet: For new appointments beginning July 1, 2013, or thereafter." The motion was seconded. Rev. Rudisill spoke in favor of his proposed amendment. The amendment was approved. The body also passed the recommendations from the Commission on Equitable Compensation. Rev. Tocknell is finishing his term as chair of Equitable Compensation. The Conference applauded his efforts.

Policy and Procedure Regarding Sexual Misconduct, Abuse or Harassment for the Baltimore-Washington Conference:

The bishop called upon the Rev. David Cooney, Assistant to the Bishop, who came to the podium to present the Policy and Procedure Regarding Sexual Misconduct, Abuse or Harassment for the Baltimore-Washington Conference. Rev. Cooney said that we have had a policy for a number of years. This is an attempt to bring the policy up to date with our Book of Discipline and also to make it more understandable and streamlined. We tried to bring clarity to the policy by connecting it with the Book of Discipline and by being clear about definitions, to lay out appropriate boundaries and clear reporting procedures and guidelines for reporting. The Connectional Table did not vote concurrence of the policy in February as stated in the pre-Conference Booklet. The policy was further developed and modified and was then presented to the Discipleship Council, which did give its concurrence.

The Rev. Laura Schultz made a motion to amend the policy on lines 6 and 9 of page 68 by striking the words "sexual relationship." The motion was seconded. Rev. Schultz spoke in favor of her amendment. The Rev. Mark Schaefer spoke against the amendment. Matt Sichel spoke in favor of the Schultz amendment. When called upon by the bishop, Rev. Cooney responded that the point is to have transparency and to set good boundaries and to make sure it's not a power over relationship, in which people feel they have to be because of their job or position. With all three, “dating,” “romantic” or “sexual relationship,” it’s clear and covers everything.

A. Carville Foster Peck made a motion to delete line 52 on page 67 and lines 1 through 10 on page 68. After it was seconded, he spoke to his amendment. Rev. Cooney said that the intent is not to encourage illicit relationships. The intent is to set boundaries and to be able to be transparent in a relationship and that it’s reported ahead of time so it’s known. We think this helps with boundaries. The bishop added that a staff person of a church, whether clergy or laity, is perceived in a particular way, and when they are working with people they can become very vulnerable. Boundaries can be crossed. That’s what this policy is speaking to. It’s trying to create healthy boundaries both for clergy and lay employees within our congregations. Steve Ricketts wanted to know if staff means paid staff or otherwise. The policy is talking about paid staff.

John Sanford said that he thought that everyone involved in church is a “ministry participant.” David Cooney explained that not all ministry participants are necessarily church members. Mr. Sanford then asked if the two members of his church’s council who announced they intended to get married should have asked the pastor’s permission before they began dating. Rev. Cooney said that if one of them were a staff member it should have been discussed before they got to that point.

The Foster amendment to the Schultz amendment was voted on. It did not pass. Rev. Scott Shumaker spoke against the Schultz amendment. A call for the question was interrupted by a point of order. Russell Williams suggested that the way the policy reads it would appear that ministers might need to report any sexual activity they have with their spouses. Bishop Schol responded that this refers to people who are not married and crossing boundaries. Move to the vote on the call for the question, which passed. Then the body voted on the Schultz amendment. It did not pass.

The Rev. Charles Harrell offered an amendment to line 13 on page 69 that would insert the words “written and signed” between the words “all” and “complaints.” After the motion was seconded, Rev. Harrell spoke in favor of his amendment. Rev. Cooney said that the language of complaint here is not a formal complaint but when someone expresses a concern. If we require a written complaint at the beginning of a concern, it does not allow the process to move forward to investigate what happens. If we insert “written” then it would need to follow disciplinary complaint rules. The Rev. Fred Crider spoke in favor of Rev. Harrell’s amendment. Rev. Rebecca Iannicelli expressed concern that we could get ourselves in situations that could impact potential criminal investigations. The Rev. Bob Hunter spoke in favor of the Harrell amendment.

There was a call for the question and a second. The amendment did not pass.

Nancy Clarkson proposed the following amendment to be added to the policy, page 69, line 51: “Include proactive policies to end sexual harassment, abuse and rape for all ages and gender orientation, not limited to: encourage clergy, staff, and relevant laity to seek training in responding to the needs of all persons involved, including victims, perpetrators and silent witnesses; provide a safe place for all ages and gender orientations and develop or identify educational materials; and publicize a zero-tolerance position.”

The amended was seconded. The conference approved the amendment. The Rev. Vivian McCarthy spoke in favor of the policy. The Rev. Andrew Cooney asked how would this impact the teaching of sexuality within the life of the church. (See page 67, line 41+). The Rev. David Cooney said that it does not prevent teaching and education. Andrew Cooney noted that on line 2, page 68, it references a church leader (actual or perceived) and a ministry participant. He said that many of his church’s youth are perceived leaders and wondered how this might impact them. David Cooney responded that if someone is using the power or perception of power over others, that is a concern.

The Rev. Steve Ricketts made the following amendment to line 12 on page 68: to strike the word “behavior” and add the words “abuse, misconduct or harassment.” The motion was seconded. Rev.

Ricketts spoke in favor of his amendment. The amendment passed.

Julie Tsinger raised a point of order, saying that what we just passed was within a definition [of sexual misconduct]. She wondered if we needed the Conference Chancellor to get involved [in the discussion]. The bishop said that we will make sure this happens; that it was a very good point.

A speech against the resolution followed. The Rev. Cynthia Moore made a speech in favor of the proposed policy, saying that is a good thing to have something written in place and this is an improvement from what we currently have. The Rev. Iris Farabee-Lewis also spoke in its favor. There was a call for question. It was seconded. A vote was taken and the policy was approved.

The bishop then said, "Friends, we are at 12:58." He said that because of our contract with the hotel we had to end by 1 p.m. He said he knew this is not satisfying and that there are a number of other important pieces of legislation. He said we will need to reflect on how we are going to work with this and what we may need to do to bring the conference back together to look at any of the pieces of legislation. While the bishop was expressing thanks to everyone, he noticed someone at a mike and asked if it were a point of order. The Rev. Laura Schultz asked if it were appropriate to request a ruling of law. The bishop replied that yes, that was in order. Rev. Schultz said that because there is language in this particular policy that seems to condone sexual relationships outside of marriage and that she believes that goes against the law of The United Methodist Church, she thinks we need a rule of law to see if we should be changing the language. The bishop then clarified that because the Discipline has certain language, is the policy going against the Discipline in our language?

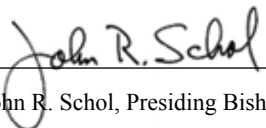

The bishop said that ending on legislation never feels like a good way to end the conference but that that is the work of holy conferencing. He said that he might not get an opportunity to say this again and that he wanted to thank the Baltimore-Washington Conference. "This has been a great conference." He said that this is an outstanding group of clergy, laity and congregations and that he appreciates all that we are and all that God is doing in our midst.

The bishop then turned to the Conference Secretary who made the following motion: "I move that the 228th annual session of the Baltimore-Washington Conference stand adjourned following the closing prayer, and that all reports printed in the pre-Conference Booklet or distributed in the Conference Packet that are not otherwise acted on, be considered received by the Annual Conference, and that any unfinished business be referred to the appropriate Conference agency for consideration and action, and reported at the next session of the Annual Conference.

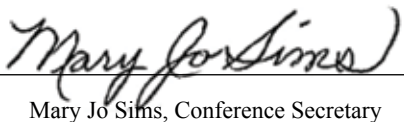

"Further, that the 229th annual session be convened at the call of the Presiding Bishop on May 29, 2013, at the Waterfront Marriott Hotel in Baltimore, Maryland.

"Further, that the conference Discipleship Council, the Conference Connectional Table and appropriate Boards, Commissions, Councils and Committees be instructed, authorized and empowered to handle all appropriate business or emergencies between meetings of the Baltimore-Washington Conference according to the structure of the Conference, provided the requirements of the 2012 edition of the Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church are not violated in any given situation."

The motion passed. The Rev. Ingrid Wang offered the Benediction.

Board of Ordained Ministry Report to the Executive Session of the Baltimore-Washington Conference

PART II PERTAINING TO ORDAINED MINISTERS AND LOCAL PASTORS

(Note: A (v) notation following a question in this section signifies that the action or election requires a majority vote of the clergy session of the Annual Conference. If an action requires more than a simple majority, the notation (v 2/3) or (v 3/4) signifies that a two-thirds or three-fourths majority vote is required. Indicate credential of persons in Part II: FD, FE, PD, PE, and AM when requested.)

17. Are all the clergy members of the conference blameless in their life and official administration (§604.4, §605.6)?

Response from the Dean and the Cabinet.

Ianther M. Mills

We support and work closely with all of our clergy and congregations to assist them to become like Christ as they call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples for the transformation of the world. Our goal, as John Wesley challenged each of us, is to move closer to perfection in our personal and professional lives all for the sake of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Through ordination, commissioning, and credentialing at various levels, the church affirms and continues the apostolic ministry through persons empowered by the Holy Spirit. Those who have sought to follow in the path of this tradition, especially as clergy in The United Methodist Church, have covenanted with each other to hold one another accountable to a lifetime of commitment and discipline.

The Bishop and Appointive Cabinet have carefully reviewed the character and conduct of the clergy of the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church in accordance with §604.4 and §605.6 of the 2008 Book of Discipline and found that the majority of clergy are faithful in fulfilling their calling while at the same time exemplifying models of Christian character. Meanwhile there are some clergy that the Bishop and Cabinet are working with on issues of character and effectiveness in accordance with the provisions of The Book of Discipline.

18. Who constitute:

- a. The Committee on Investigation (§2703.2)? (v) requires four clergy in full connection and three professing members with six alternate members, three clergy in full connection and three professing members to be elected quadrennially.

VI. REPORTS

DISCIPLESHIP REPORTS

Overview of Connectional Ministries (CC)

To become more like Christ is our central activity as disciples. As an annual conference, our Grow Disciples Team, Grow Congregations Team, Grow Missions Team and Grow Spiritual Leaders Team serve as the vehicles to call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to grow vital Acts 2 congregations for the transformation of the world.

The reports that follow are a glimpse of the activities that have led to transformed lives within our conference and across the globe. You will quickly discover the centrality of our local congregations in disciple-making and in disciple-shaping. As you read further, you will find this reinforced in the stewardship ministries as we continue our commitment to have more resources available for congregations.

Our goal to have 600 congregations experience the impact of growing in professions of faith, average worship attendance and mission giving through 100 percent payment of apportionments continues to be a strong indicator of our shared commitment to healthy communities of faith where the witness of Jesus Christ leads to transformed lives and a transformed world. At the end of 2010, we were two-thirds of the way to our goal with 408 congregations. This year provides us with the opportunity to come closer to this goal, which we set for 2012. As followers of Christ, you continue to be the ones called to be leaders in growing vital congregations.

In reviewing these reports, my prayer is that you will find one or more places that you experience the presence of the Holy Spirit nudging you into a decision to give yourself more fully to what you are being called to do in Christ's name.

Rev. A. David Argo, Director of Connectional Ministries

GROW CONGREGATIONS

Overview of Grow Congregations (CC)

The Grow Congregations Team carries out functions assigned by the Book of Discipline to a Committee on Parish and Community Development and includes ministries that seek to plant and grow new faith communities and to provide resources to help existing congregations grow and become revitalized. These ministries represent the Baltimore-Washington Conference's response to the critical adaptive challenge identified by the Call to Action issued by the Council of Bishops:

“To redirect the flow of attention, energy and resources to an intense concentration on fostering and sustaining an increase in the number of vital congregations effective in making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.”

In particular, the Grow Congregations Team sees its role as one of helping pastors and congregations reach non-religious and nominally religious people and turn around the decline in worship attendance, which the Rev. Lovett Weems calls our “worship recession.”

To achieve this goal, the focus of Grow Congregations has been, and will continue to be, centered on two strategies:

- Start new faith communities that grow and multiply

- Recruit, assess and coach new church planters
- Provide Discippler Groups for active and potential pastors of new faith communities
- Start new congregations as conference strategic church plants
- Help vital congregations parent new churches
- Help vital congregations extend to additional sites for worship and ministry
- Facilitate the creation of house churches and other non-traditional faith communities
- Facilitate vital mergers that create strong new congregations
- Provide resourcing to grow and revitalize existing congregations
- Help vital congregations start new worship services targeted at attracting new believers or those who have been turned off by the church
- Sponsor an annual Prodigal Worship event to equip local churches to provide more vital worship
- Help vital congregations restart ministry by adopting non-viable congregations and infusing them with a core group of laity and the DNA of a vital Acts 2 congregation
- Provide access and training for the demographic tool MissionInsite, to help congregations identify and reach unchurched people in their community
- Resource congregations to achieve sustained growth by sponsoring workshops and training for local church teams
- Provide scholarships to events such as Exponential and Church of the Resurrection Leadership Institute, which teach growth principles and strategies
- Offer consultation to help congregations overcome attendance barriers
- Provide models of church growth within the Baltimore-Washington Conference
- Actions/projects/programs sponsored by Grow Congregations over the past year include:
 - Provided more than $150,000 in grants to support new church starts in Anne Arundel and Harford counties
 - Provided more than $400,000 in multiple grants to local congregations to support ministry development throughout the conference
 - Provided more than $73,000 in Equitable Compensation Grants
 - Sponsored the New Church Leader Institute attended by more than 40 potential church planters to help start and grow churches
 - Sponsored a Grow Members Workshop attended by teams of pastor and laity from 10 congregations to help grow mid-size churches
 - Sponsored two workshops with consultants Jim Ozier and Bill Easum for pastors of larger congregations to help grow churches with 400 or more in worship
 - Provided scholarships for attendance at the School for Congregational Development, Exponential Conference, Church of the Resurrection Leadership Institute, and New Church Leader Institute to help grow churches of all sizes
 - Worked with regional teams to develop strategies for starting new faith communities and new worship services in each region
 - Purchased MissionInsite in order to make demographic data readily available to every congregation
 - Held training in all regions to help congregations learn to use MissionInsite to identify and reach unchurched people in their communities
 - Sponsored the Prodigal Worship Event with focus on growing worship attendance and participation in churches of all sizes
- Plans for the coming year include:
 - Working with regional teams to start at least two new faith communities
 - Working with regional teams to identify potential locations for new faith communities in subsequent years

- Hosting a New Church Leader Institute in the fall
- Providing consultation and coaching for pastors of congregations averaging 400 or more in worship attendance
- Sponsoring two Grow Members workshops involving teams of pastors and laity from at least 20 mid-size congregations
- Sponsoring Growth Workshops in each region for teams of pastors and laity from congregations averaging fewer than 100 in worship
- Continuing to provide training and support for local church utilization of MissionInsite
- Designing online tools and podcasts to help local congregations implement growth strategies

Rev. Andy Lunt, Director of Grow Congregations

Strengthening the Black Church for the 21st Century (CC)

Vision

To become a resource committee that will empower and encourage local black churches to be effective in ministry within the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Mission Statement

We, the committee of the Strengthening the Black Church for the 21st Century in the Baltimore-Washington Conference, seek to empower and strengthen churches through spiritual revivals, community relevance and effective discipleship. We shall covenant to aid and assist local black congregations to facilitate effective and faithful ministries through the Discipleship Adventure.

Accomplishments

In 2011 our committee continued to carry the vision of empowering and encouraging black United Methodist churches to be effective. Throughout this year, we have been in partnership with Church and Society, BMCR, and the B-WARM committees to co-sponsor the last Bridges to Wholeness workshop. These workshops have targeted some of the focus areas that the National SBC 21 Committee has emphasized, developing principled Christian leaders for the church and the world and strengthening and renewing existing congregations.

We continue to be in partnership with BMCR, the Young Adult Council and Emory UMC. Our year has been successful and we are relying on the Lord, because we have heard the Lord clearly say, "From everyone to whom much has been given, much will be required." (Luke 12:48)

Rev. Sandra E. Demby, Chair
Sandra Ferguson, Staff

GROW DISCIPLES

Overview of Discipleship Ministries (CC)

Vision

To grow disciples for Jesus Christ.

Mission

To engage, equip and empower people in their spiritual growth.

Goal

To increase professions of faith by 1/2 percent over 2010.

Strategy

To work with the Grow Disciples Team, the Board of Discipleship and local churches to create learning opportunities and resources for transformation.

Accomplishments

- The Grow Disciples Team collaborated with the Board of Discipleship to develop a comprehensive strategy, resources and learning opportunities focused on call and commitment to Jesus Christ. (See the Board of Discipleship report for more details.)
- The Early Childhood Educators Conference in August 2010 had 324 participants who attended 48 workshops and received CEUs to satisfy their training requirements. This event resulted from a partnership with Christian Educator's Fellowship and the Early Childhood Educators Director's Round Table.
- Retreat and Camping Ministries increased attendance at summer camp for West River (5 percent) and Manidokan (3 percent) for a total of 1,100 campers. These increases were the result of a thorough market analysis, reworking of publicity materials and an enhancement of the website. More than 10,000 participants attended retreats at BWC camps including Camp Harmison. (See the Retreat and Camping Ministry report for more details.)
- ROCK had more than 5,200 participants in 2011 who were engaged in worship and breakout sessions. Two thousand youth made a commitment to Christ. The Sunday offering raised $24,750 for Imagine No Malaria. More than 300 youth and youth leaders participated in the regional "one-day ROCK" events for worship, fellowship and leadership training in August. (See the CCYM report for more details.)
- ENCOUNTER was a successful youth event at Camp Manidokan involving 150 youth and youth leaders in spiritual growth and mission engagement. This increase was the result of the new date (September) and marketing strategy. (See the Retreat and Camping Ministry report for more details.)
- Each of our campus ministries -- at American University, Frostburg University, Howard University, and the University of Maryland at College Park -- offered vehicles to vocational discernment and growth in leadership. In addition, they established partnerships with local congregations for vital worship and risk-taking service. We welcomed newly appointed campus minister, the Rev. Michael Armstrong, at Howard University. (See the Board of Higher Education and Ministry report for more details.)
- The Young Adult Council published three editions of their Shift Magazine, in addition to an Advent and Lenten devotional guide on the website. Seven YAC members went on a mission trip to Haiti over the summer to serve as the hands and feet of Jesus. (See the Young Adult Council report for more details.)
- The Christian Educators Fellowship sponsored seven events designed for spiritual formation and to equip participants to lead transformational ministries. Their offerings included prayer and reflection around Thanksgiving and Christmas, a Vacation Bible

School showcase,

- a closer look at Safe Sanctuary policies, understanding and celebrating the connectional church, and mental health awareness.
- A total of 138 conference older adults gathered in the spring and fall for Day Away Retreats at West River Camp for worship, Bible study, and break-out sessions led by Revs. Ianther Mills, Karin Walker, and Anders Lunt. (See the RCM report for more details.)
- Other resources provided by the Grow Disciples Team this year include The Adventure Devotional Guide (sold 2,750 copies), The Immersion Series, A Welcoming Life (sold 270 copies), Sacred Encounters (now on sale), and the free faith-based Finances Immersion Resource on the conference website. Visit www.bwcumc.org/immersion.

Discipleship opportunities and resources are growing each year as we focus on spiritual growth and commitment to Christ. I am grateful for the collaboration of our gifted and committed conference staff, pastors and laity who are called to make disciples of Jesus Christ.

Rev. Mary Dennis, Director for Discipleship

The Board of Discipleship

The Board of Discipleship has spent the year in a process of identifying its relevance and function in light of the work and purpose of the Grow Teams. To that end, we met regularly with the Grow Disciples Team in order to better understand its work and how the work of the Board could better support, not only the Grow Disciples Team, but all the Grow teams. We are looking forward to developing strategies that support the work of our conference in making disciples.

Rev. Michelle Holmes Chaney, Acting Chair

The Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry (CC)

Purpose

The conference Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry interprets and promotes the United Methodist ministries in higher education that are specifically related to the Baltimore-Washington Conference. (Book of Discipline, para. 634)

Objective

To draft a strategy for organizing campus ministers, their board members, pastors, BHECM, district superintendents and Guides to support campus ministry.

Actions of campus ministers

- Creatively use social media to connect campus ministry with the broader church.
- Advocate to have campus ministry alumni join the Campus Ministry Board in order for them to give back to the ministry, which touched them and offer another facet to strengthen the connection with local churches.

Actions of campus ministry board members at each campus

- Secure sponsorship (financial or in-kind) from at least two United Methodist churches to provide food for at least one campus ministry event during the academic year.
- Secure new financial support for campus ministry with each individual campus ministry board setting the annual goal for its campus.

- Get a campus ministry alumni group started or strengthen an existing one as another resource to build meaningful partnerships with local churches.
- Use social media to tell the “campus ministry story” in the broader church; use campus ministry alumni when possible. For example, share PowerPoint presentations in local church worship services and/or council meetings about why campus ministry is important and why it is vital for our United Methodist campus ministries to have local church support.

Actions requested of pastors in local churches

- Provide names of youth entering American University, Frostburg State University, Howard University, or the University of Maryland to the designated UM campus minister:
 - American University, Rev. Mark Schaefer, schaefer@american.edu
 - Frostburg State University, Rev. Cindy Zirlott, c.zirlott@frostburg.edu
 - Howard University, Rev. Michael Armstrong, revmwarmstrong@msn.com
 - University of Maryland, College Park, Rev. Kim Capps, umc@umd.edu
- Identify someone in the congregation with campus ministry experience, preferably a recent college student or graduate, to speak at church during an annual “Campus Ministry Moment.”
- Encourage congregations to pray for campus ministries regularly throughout the year.
- Encourage congregations in the vicinity of American University, Frostburg State University, Howard University, or the University of Maryland to sponsor (financially or in-kind) the nearby campus ministry.
- Link young people in the congregation who may be feeling a call to ministry with a campus ministry via social networking to facilitate discussions about college or seminary selection, service opportunities and other sundry issues.
- Encourage the Higher Education and Campus Ministry Committee in the local church to raise funds to help finance a young adult’s participation in an Exploration Conference.

The Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministries

Provides training and resources for campus ministry boards at area universities, as well as for Higher Education and Campus Ministry Committees in local churches.

Actions requested of district superintendents and Guides

- Include the following item among the questions in Charge Conference reports to be completed for the Baltimore-Washington Conference: “Indicate how your church has supported campus ministries during the year, including, but not limited to, giving names of college students attending our conference’s campus ministries at American University, Frostburg State University, Howard University, or University of Maryland.”
- Annually arrange for one of the campus ministers to speak with pastors about campus ministries at a district meeting.

Rev. Arthuree Wright, Chair, Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministries

Committee on Retreat and Camping Ministries (CC)

Mission

To grow disciples of Jesus Christ by immersion in Christian community and the building of relationships in the midst of God’s creation.

Vision

To be a key cornerstone in the Discipleship Adventure by providing unmatched opportunities to individuals and local churches for spiritual transformation in the midst of God’s creation.

Retreat and Camping Ministries had an eventful year. There were a number of successes, celebrations and challenges that were faced.

- Manidokan Camp and Retreat Center successfully hosted ENCOUNTER, an outdoor music festival and retreat for youth. The three-day event in September was attended by 150 youth and adults. There was a wonderful spirit, powerful messages and anticipation for growth in the years to come.
- After several years of declining attendance at summer camp at West River and Manidokan, 2011 saw a reversal of that trend. West River experienced a 5 percent increase while Manidokan saw a 3 percent increase in campers. There were 351 volunteers that shared their faith, leadership and commitment with 1,100 summer campers. Eighteen 16- and 17-year-old campers took on leadership roles in the summer camp program as junior counselors, developing their skills to engage campers to grow in their faith.
- The summer campers at Manidokan and West River demonstrated risk-taking mission and service. Manidokan campers raised more than $3,500 from their camp store accounts which translated to 10,000 meals for Stop Hunger Now. Sixty-three people returned in the fall to help pack those meals. West River campers raised more than $750 to support a child through World Vision for the next two years. In addition, 50 West River campers, led by 11 volunteer adults, partnered with the South County Faith Network and spent their week of camp working on homes of the elderly and needy in the southern Anne Arundel County area.
- Retreat usage at all sites started out strong through the spring. The fall usage dropped as the troubled economy continued to have its impact. Groups had lower numbers than usual and there were a number of cancellations. Still, more than 10,000 people participated in retreats and other program experiences at Harmison, Manidokan and West River.
- Once again, Camp Harmison was host to Camp Joy, a home repair ministry that has grown out of the ministry of Hancock UMC. The Camp Joy committee, under the leadership of Rev. Sheldon Reese, directed 208 youth and adults in assisting families in West Virginia and Maryland. Retreat and Camping Ministries is blessed to be in partnership with this important ministry.
- Significant capital improvements were made to the bathhouses at Camp Harmison and the dining hall at Manidokan this past year through the effort of many volunteers and staff. We are very grateful for the continued support of the Conference Board of Trustees in providing resources so the facilities can be improved and kept in good condition for the use and enjoyment of our guests.
- For the fourth year, Retreat and Camping Ministries partnered with the Board of Child Care and the Hope Council under the Bishop's Hope for the City Initiative to provide children and youth who have been victims of violence in Baltimore City with a week of summer camp at West River and Manidokan. We are grateful to the Board of Directors and Tom Curcio, executive director of the Board of Child Care, for their passion and support for this outreach to youth in Baltimore City and for providing valuable staff and resourcing as well as financial support for this program. The Rev. Sheridan Almond coordinated the effort for the Hope Council to recruit campers and church support in Baltimore City for 74 campers to participate in this program. We are still striving to reach the full allotment of 100 campers in the summer of 2012. Thanks also to Rev. C. Anthony Hunt, the Hope Council and the churches of Baltimore City for their efforts and outreach through this ministry.
- West River continued the spring and fall Day Away Retreats, geared toward Older Adults. Rev. Daryl Williams spoke in the spring to 73 participants on the key contributions older adults continue to make to the church. Rev. Ianther Mills led the Bible study and worship. In the fall, 65 people attended to hear Rev. Anders Lunt talk about the keys for church growth. Rev. Karin Walker led the Bible study and worship. A host of workshops and special interest groups were offered at each event.
- Volunteers give of themselves in the summer to provide leadership and share their faith with the hundreds of campers to make disciples. The staff of Retreat and Camping Ministries annually recognizes those that have given outstanding efforts for many years by presenting the Dorothy Ordwein Award for Volunteer Service and the Richard S. Lord Award for Volunteer Service to the Sailing Program at West River. It has been a few years since these have been recognized in the Conference Journal. The recipients for the Ordwein Award are in 2009, Randall Adams of Epworth UMC in Gaithersburg for his leadership for more than 15 years on the summer bike camp; in 2010, Ken Middleton, of Ebenezer UMC in Sykesville for his leadership at camps at Manidokan and in 2011, Rev. Charles Harrell, of Trinity UMC in Prince Frederick, for his leadership in youth camps at West River. The recipients for the Richards S. Lord Award for contributions to the Sailing Program at West River are: in 2009, Jack Hartle of Marietta, Pa.; in 2010, Rev. Joe Donovan of Trinity Lutheran Church in Middleton; and in 2011, Rev. Jim Goudie, of Colemanville UMC in the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference.

I want to express my gratitude to Amy Marshall, administrative assistant for Retreat and Camping Ministries, Keith Puffenberger, caretaker at Camp Harmison, Chris Schlieckert and the staff at Manidokan, and to the staff at West River for their passion and commitment to this ministry and for providing radical hospitality to the guests and participants who grace our sites. I am also incredibly indebted to the countless numbers of summer camp volunteers, summer staff and youth and adult retreat leaders who work hard to create faith-full experiences that change lives for the people who come to the sites and opportunities for them to grow in their Discipleship Adventure.

Retreat and Camping Ministries does indeed offer unique opportunities for children, youth and adults to spend extended time together in intentional communities. Apart from other distractions, worries and issues of daily life, it is through these times that faith experiences can blossom. But it is most effective when there is a strong partnership with the local church, an ongoing body of disciples seeking to live out and grow in their faith together. It is in that spirit that we look forward to the times ahead, that together we can make disciples that truly will transform the world.

Andrew Thornton, Director of Retreat and Camping Ministries and the West River Center

Council on Youth Ministries (CC)

Recognizing that youth are a vital part of the Body of Christ, CCYM is committed to:

- Focusing on joyful Christian discipleship;
- Developing programs, resources, and events that promote Christian fellowship, growth, and unity;
- Encourage, empower, and equip youth leaders;
- Being both a forum and an advocate for youth of the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

It is our prayer that God will continue to use CCYM to focus our youth ministries on the transforming power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and that we will be emboldened by the Holy Spirit to be agents for renewal in our church and that we will continue to grow in Christian servanthood.

God continues to bless the CCYM. We gather together monthly from every corner of the conference to worship, share, plan and have fellowship. Our youth are learning to be leaders in the church as they lead in CCYM. We gather from city, suburb town and country churches – many coming from more than two hours away, to be part of what has become an exciting, energetic, productive, disciple-making body.

The cornerstone event of CCYM is the ROCK Retreat held each January in Ocean City. The team that organizes and puts on ROCK is student-led and it is a joy each year to work with new young leadership. In addition, we have a strong and committed group of adults who are in leadership and provide mentoring as well as chaperoning for these young disciples.

In spite of being in the third year of a very down economy, in which groups (including churches) are cutting back in many areas, we are blessed to have once again not only filled the large hall on the first floor but also to have more than 900 people in “overflow,” in what we call our “Upper Room.” Each year, we strive to make the “Upper Room” more and more the “complete experience” that is felt downstairs. This year, once again, one of the Main Stage presentations by Steve Fitzhugh was held in the Upper Room, as well as having live emcees, bands, drama and Communion.

CCYM plans all year long for ROCK and as a result the youth are growing in leadership skills, fellowship, and discipleship. It is a joy to watch.

This year for the first time we had a mass choir at ROCK, which included around 200 singers from all over the conference. Most are youth, but some young adult (and not so young adult) singers also participated, including some pastors. Some of the churches participating only sent one youth, which reminds us that while many of our churches are smaller, together we are a mighty voice for the Lord.

This year’s ROCK also marked the first major appearance of BRIDGES, which is the praise team originated by alumni officers of CCYM. Many alumni return each year to help in many ways at ROCK, and this year BRIDGES also led praise at the event on Sunday morning. In addition, BRIDGES has been selected to sing at General Conference in Tampa, Florida, this year.

Another cornerstone ministry of CCYM continues to be CCYM News, the award-winning media ministry.

One of our ongoing resources is the “Life After Rock” video series for our churches. This will be our third year creating a four-part video youth ministry resource series for our local churches. Each video is available online for free at the conference website, bwcumc.org. We also will have each video available on DVD for $10. (To purchase contact Pam Bowen at pbowen@bwcumc.org). The purpose of this video series is to give local churches a resource to use to deepen the experience they had at the ROCK retreat and to strengthen the connections and commitments made that weekend. It has been a powerful experience for me to relive that weekend as part of the preparation of this resource. We’ve gotten some wonderful feedback on this project and have heard it has blessed youth groups that have used it.

CCYM is developing this resource with the ROCK 2012 speaker, Steve Fitzhugh. Each of the four resources actually includes three distinct video portions. One is a main stage session with Steve Fitzhugh at ROCK 2012, one is a resource for youth workers to prepare them for using the youth portion and also to strengthen them in their understanding; and one is a video specifically for youth. We have designed the resource videos as teaching/coaching sessions led by Steve Fitzhugh, the Main Stage speaker at ROCK 2012. Everyone who was at ROCK 2012 has a relationship with him from that event, and this video builds on that and allows the viewer to be in a “small group” led by Steve. In addition to the three videos, each of the four sessions also includes downloadable instructions for the youth group leader to assist them in using the resource.

We are working together with district youth leadership, local churches, Messiah College and Salt ‘N Light Ministries to once again provide a unique one day experience for youth and youth leaders in the summer of 2012 This one-day ROCK will include afternoon sessions with training for youth leaders (both beginning and veterans) and an evening session of worship including music, drama, dance, video and a message from Stephen Gallaher.

We are grateful for the blessings God has bestowed upon us and look forward with enthusiasm to all that lies ahead. Thanks be to God!

Tom Price, Director for Youth Ministries

Young Adult Council (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference Young Adult Council seeks to make disciples of young adults, ages 18 to 35, in our local congregations by loving God, loving others and loving the world. In 2011, we worked hard to empower local congregations through our Shift Magazine and quarterly training sessions held at the Mission Center. We also took seriously the call of Christ to care for the least, the lost and the lonely as we took a young adult mission trip to Haiti.

We have set ambitious goals for 2012.

Love God

We believe creating relevant worship experiences for young adults to celebrate and connect with God is critical in bringing effective young adult ministry to our conference. To that end we plan to provide one retreat-style worship and spiritual formation opportunity in 2012 and plan a conference-style worship and spiritual formation opportunity event for 2012. We will also publish Shift Magazine, a quarterly printed training resource for local churches with practical ideas for young adult ministry, specifically focusing on developing young adult-friendly services.

Love Others

We affirm that spiritual formation happens not in a vacuum but in the context of healthy community. In order to address some of the challenges of creating these groups for young adults to connect with each other and develop their faith, we will utilize an online networking tool for young adults to connect regionally in small groups. We'll also provide quarterly small group curriculum designed specifically for young adults in our conference. This resource is found in the Shift Magazine.

Love the World

We recognize that we are called to take our faith out into the world. In order to empower young adults to share their faith and serve the world we plan to gather quarterly as young adults in worship, training and service to the world and provide one annual conference level inner city mission experience in 2012.

In 2012, we will also be looking for district and regional young adult leadership to multiply this ministry as we make disciples. If you are interested in serving or would like to learn more about the Young Adult Council, please visit our booth at Annual Conference or stop by www.bwcumc.org/youngadults.

GROW MISSIONS

Overview of Grow Missions (CC)

The diversity and faithfulness of the people of the Baltimore-Washington Conference were reflected in amazing ways this year as the Grow Missions Team lived out its vision to serve as God's transforming presence in our world.

Among the many ministry highlights was the Change the World event the weekend of Oct. 8. An unprecedented 15,800 area United Methodists joined together in mission projects in their local communities. The spirit of God was truly alive in our midst as people built houses, sent cards to soldiers in Afghanistan, cared for the earth, sang for the elderly in nursing homes, made meals for people suffering with HIV/AIDS and participated in hundreds of other mission projects. Particular accolades are given to Olivia Gross, one of the Grow Missions staff, along with the board and agency chairs.

Another highlight was the launching of our ambitious, God-sized goal to end homelessness in the Baltimore-Washington region. Change the World Washington was incorporated as a 501(c) 3 and began the Calvary House project. Change the World Baltimore also incorporated and began what is expected to be a year-long feasibility study to provide supportive housing at Govans Boundary and New Hope UMCs. In addition, in a variety of projects, congregations reached out to assist the homeless in a myriad of creative undertakings. Through this outreach, a special partnership has been created with ecumenical and government leaders throughout the Baltimore Region.

The conference ministries dealing with disaster response also had a busy and productive year. More than 300 responders were trained to help in relief efforts during times of disasters; and teams from our conference were deployed to assist in other annual conferences.

Area United Methodists also served as the hands of Christ in a variety of settings around the globe. Young adults from the BWC joined their counterparts from our partnership in Korea to work in mission in Haiti. A pastor's school in Zimbabwe was made possible by efforts from our conference leaders, who taught classes, shared resources and assisted in numerous other ways with developing leadership among our partners in Zimbabwe. We continue to distribute thousands of malaria nets and the new partnership between McDaniel College in Westminster and Africa University is in full swing. Efforts to expand our partnership with the Black Soil District in Russia came to fruition this year as leaders from both countries met to explore how to best make disciples and grow churches.

The Grow Mission Team brings many mission and justice ministries together in effective ways that enables us to resource and equip local church leaders to be engaged in ministry with the poor and disenfranchised.

Sandra Ferguson, Director for Social Justice and Missions

Advocacy Report (CC)

"The church should continually exert a strong ethical influence upon the state, supporting policies and programs deemed to be just and opposing policies and programs that are unjust" (The Social Principles of the United Methodist Church, para. 164). Advocacy gives the local church opportunities to raise its collective voice to seek justice for everyone. Goals for the year included outreach to local churches and participation in a variety of social justice issues.

United Methodists throughout Maryland, Washington, D.C., and West Virginia showed their support for social justice in a variety of ways including visits with legislators, written and oral testimony in hearings, letter-writing, phone calls, sign-on petition forms, and participation in rallies, marches and prayer vigils.

The 2011 Maryland General Assembly session offered opportunities for Marylanders to get involved. Our Board of Church and Society focused efforts on human trafficking legislation, the in-state tuition bill for immigrant students, and the alcohol tax to support health and community services.

A Legislative Day, sponsored by United Methodist Women, offered a unique opportunity for advocates to be in Annapolis for a day. Participants spent the morning learning about the legislative process and focusing on one of three issues. After lunch, small groups met with key legislators to ask for their support in the areas of human trafficking, health care and immigration.

After a busy session of advocacy, we were able to celebrate the passage of priority bills. Three bills that will help human trafficking victims passed through the General Assembly. An alcohol tax also passed. Although it was not the original Lorraine Sheehan Health and Community Services Act, the coalition celebrated and agreed to continue to advocate for the revenue to help fund needs identified in the original Lorraine Sheehan legislation (health care coverage, programs for people with developmental disabilities and mental health needs, drug, tobacco and alcohol abuse prevention, cessation and treatment, and health care worker training).

The Maryland Dream Act also passed. However, a successful petition drive has put the legislation on hold, and Maryland voters may be voting on this issue in 2012. We will continue our advocacy for state legislation that will allow immigrant students to pay in-state tuition rates at our state colleges.

During the 2011 General Assembly Session, United Methodists also showed support for a housing bill that would eliminate housing discrimination based on one's source of income. This bill failed in committee. As our Conference becomes more engaged in helping homeless people obtain permanent housing, we are also becoming more organized and more proactive to advocate for passage of a similar bill next year.

Although advocates delivered strong testimony for the Death Penalty Repeal bill, the repeal legislation was unable to move through the legislative process in 2011. We are working with churches in key districts to encourage United Methodist advocacy.

As churches seek to engage members in advocacy ministry, resources including bulletin inserts, the Advocacy Toolkit and opportunities to do advocacy are available on the Conference Advocacy webpage. The advocacy consultant is also available to work with church groups who want to learn and do more.

Our work for justice continues locally, statewide, nationally and worldwide. United Methodists will speak out for those who are poor, those who are vulnerable and those who are hurting. Thanks to all who have been a part. A special thanks to Sandy Ferguson and Sharon Leatherman for their ongoing support and guidance.

Board of Church and Society (CC)

“Justice concerns itself with the proper ordering of things and people within a society. Justice isn’t just about giving people their rights, it involves the active duty of establishing rights. When justice is present, things align themselves with the will of God.” (Dare to Speak)

To this end the Board of Church and Society has engaged in ministry to educate about, and provide opportunities for, local churches to engage in social justice ministries.

The board’s fourth and final Bridge to Wholeness forum on inclusion in the church focused on “The Global Church,” exploring the issues related to establishment of the Central Conference churches, changes being experienced in those societies and challenges to connectionalism within U.S. churches.

Through our advocacy consultant, we provided information on several issues during the year, including human trafficking, immigration, housing, workforce issues and the alcohol tax. We either worked with or formed coalitions around these issues. A most successful Advocacy Day was held in Annapolis in cooperation with the United Methodist Women.

The board supported four resolutions to annual conference, seeking to move the resolutions on to General Conference 2012. The board, as a member of the Grow Mission Team, also participated in the “Change The World” mission event in October. It maintains connections with the General Board of Church and Society and was represented at Ecumenical Advocacy Days sponsored by the National Council of Churches, and the Status of the Black Church event.

The board works with a number of issues to provide support and to share information with local churches on such topics as Peace with Justice, prison ministry, HIV/AIDS, homelessness and poverty.

A main form of communication with local churches is through the conference website. The site is periodically updated and information on coming events and issues is posted.

As the board looks forward to 2012, our priorities will be immigration and homelessness.

To be engaged in social justice ministries, we encourage all congregations to obtain and study the Social Principles and to participate in the Peace with Justice Sunday offering and educational opportunities.

Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns (CC)

The Commission continues to establish and promote dialogue across all lines, including denominational and religious ones. The development of the community of God, the household of God, requires our coming together at the table, listening and speaking, valuing and empowering, to build community.

- The goal of training in community and partnership development has been provided and was met through other agencies and boards and our website.
- We have developed a page to highlight ecumenical and interreligious activities, events, concerns and news in an ongoing project that is found on the BWC website.

- Three organizations, the Central Maryland Ecumenical Council, West Virginia Council of Churches and Washington Interfaith Council, have members at the table.

Through the unified grant applications, several organizations continue to be funded to promote their continuing efforts in ecumenism and interreligious concerns.

Dellyne I. Hinton, Chair

InterFaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington (CC)

The InterFaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington (IFC) was founded in the fall of 1978, a move initiated by three key regional faith leaders: Bishop John Walker of the Washington National Cathedral, Bishop James K. Mathews of The United Methodist Church, and William Cardinal Baum of the Archdiocese of Washington. When joined by leaders of the Jewish and Muslim faiths, IFC brought together for the first time in the U.S. (and probably in the world) Islamic groups with Jewish, Protestant and Roman Catholic organizations for the dual purpose of interfaith dialogue and collaboration for social justice. In the subsequent 30 years, the Baha'i, Buddhist, Hindu, Jain, Latter-day Saints, Sikh and Zoroastrian faith communities in the Washington, D.C., area have also joined, bringing our participating membership to 11 faith communities. The InterFaith Conference was born of the conviction that community can be created from diversity and that in diversity is the unity that can change the world. Today that need is even more apparent.

Today the work of the IFC is coordinated through three program task groups:

- the InterFaith Center for Advancing Justice,
- the InterFaith Center for Building Community, and
- the InterFaith Center for Nurturing Understanding.

InterFaith Center for Advancing Justice

The InterFaith Conference Board of Directors adopted a policy statement on immigration. The annual meeting featured a dialogue planned by the Steering Committee for this Center on the theme of "Welcoming the Stranger." It highlighted three immigrants from three continents and three religions reflecting on the impact of their faith and their faith communities on their immigrant experience.

In 2011, IFC supported green congregations through its collaboration with Greater Washington Interfaith Power & Light (GW-IPL), the local affiliate of this national network of IPL groups that are building a national religious response to the climate crisis. Specifically, we enabled a successful "Greening Our Sanctuaries" workshop and expo that drew members of 40 local congregations. In 2012, we hope to involve all of our 11 faith communities in becoming more green. GW-IPL is providing significant leadership in the national Interfaith Power and Light network across the country, both about engaging congregations of diverse faiths and in deepening the understanding of the importance of inter-religious work on the environment.

We held a news conference calling for the prompt release by Cuba of Alan Gross on humanitarian grounds. More than a dozen leaders of diverse faiths participated and some 50 other people attended this event held at the rectory of St. Mathew's Cathedral downtown.

InterFaith Center for Building Community

The dialogue at the Seventh InterFaith Bridge Builders Awards program in June was moderated by Rabbi Batya Steinlauf and featured a key-note address by Rev. Phil Wogaman, retired dean of Wesley Theological Seminary, on what he has learned from people of diverse faiths.

Our 32nd InterFaith Concert was held Nov. 15, at Washington National Cathedral. In addition to groups participating from five of our member faith communities, the audience of more than 900 people enjoyed the songs of the Washington Revels, since their program in December featured music from the Andalusian period in Spain, when Christian, Muslim and Jewish groups enjoyed two centuries of freedom, mutual support and friendship.

Making use of new media, our e-newsletter is delivered bi-monthly to some 1,400 people and we have begun a weekly Moderated Chat Room featuring both current topics and leaders of our 11 faith communities.

InterFaith Center for Nurturing Understanding

In 2011, IFC increased religious literacy and tolerance through schools and religious education programs. We have now made our "Teaching About Religion" (TAR) teacher manual available online and completed our TAR supplements on Values and the Environment. These resources are directed at schools and young people in congregations. They are currently being used in several school systems in our region, and orders are coming from afar. In 2012, we intend to distribute these resources more broadly and to produce two new supplements focused on Scriptures and Religious Freedom.

Leaders of the steering committee for this Center have also been active in training teachers and in leading conversations with those engaged in this field in Muslim countries in the Middle East. For example, the Center's chairperson recently taught 90 social studies teachers in the 5th, 7th and 9th grades in the Harford County schools in the use of our book and its supplements as well as worked with a local imam on our Board to raise tough questions with Saudi educators visiting the United States about what is being taught about Jews and Christians in the Saudi Arabian schools.

In July, IFC published and distributed to direct service agencies in the Maryland, Virginia and D.C. Metro Area the 27th Annual "Emergency Food, Shelter and Health Care Directory" (EFSHCD). In 2011, IFC served approximately 300,000 people in need in the Washington metropolitan area through our compilation of the EFSHCD, which is distributed to agencies that refer clients to essential social services. In 2012, we expect to produce the 28th annual directory with an added section on transitional housing and employment training. Recognition in the booklet is available to sponsoring donors.

Board of Global Ministries (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference continues to live out the John Wesley belief that "the world is our parish." The Conference continues to make significant contributions toward designated giving and missionary support.

We honor the Baltimore-Washington churches for their annual support of GBGM missionaries which totaled $ 68,815. We salute churches in our conference for continuing to support missionaries globally, and for hosting Miquel Mairena and Nan McCurdy, missionaries to Nicaragua, this past year.

We thank Revs. John and Bonnie Campbell who are the key resource people in support of our partnerships. Furthermore, we thank Rev. Jeffrey Odom for coordinating our Conference Volunteers in Mission and Briton Weber coordinating our disaster relief work. We thank Judy Beisner for her servanthood ministry on the Board of Global Ministries.

As a team, we thank Sandy Ferguson for helping us participate in the transformation of the world. Her passion and diligence as director of missions and social justice enables us to remain focused on making disciples and building God's Kingdom.

Commission on Disability Ministries (CC)

During this period, this committee had no chair and did not meet. At the time of this writing, the committee is reorganizing with the Rev. Nancy J. Webb as its chair and Sandra Ferguson as conference staff. We have plans to connect with the state of Maryland in facilitating benefits and services for uninsured persons with disabilities. We intend to call on local churches to help us make connections with individuals who would be eligible for these benefits and services.

We would like to affirm the commendations that were in the committee's report for 2008:

- We support the celebration of disAbility Awareness Sunday in the local church setting.
- We encourage each congregation to take stock of the physical and attitudinal barriers to ministry alongside people with disabilities, and work toward any changes that need to be made.
- We encourage laity and clergy alike to recognize the ways that the Holy Spirit works through all people in the body of Christ, and to make room for contributions from people with disAbilities in ministry in the local church.
- We recognize the need to encourage efforts to move from individual compassion to justice at the state and federal levels. We support any legislation that would extend more dependable care for those facing disAbility issues, and encourage churches and communities to go beyond the letter of the law in the spirit of making places of worship more accessible for all.

Communities of Shalom (CC)

Communities of Shalom (or Shalom Zones) are faith-based empowerment zones encompassing a certain geographic area ranging from four-square city blocks, to a neighborhood or one-square mile, or an entire rural community where shalom work is active. This is a grassroots, faith-inspired community development network in the United States and Africa.

- Initiated by the General Conference of the United Methodist Church in Los Angeles in 1992, which quickly spread to other Shalom Zones.
- Supporting local congregations and community groups as they work together with representatives of all faith traditions and community organizations to create economically and ecologically sustainable communities of peace, justice, hope, healing and wholeness in which all God's people experience shalom.
- Coordinated and equipped by Drew University Theological School in partnership with the General Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference has a goal as part of the Hope for the City 10-point plan. In the Baltimore Region there are 10 Shalom Zones: Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial, St. Matthews, New Life, St. James, New Covenant, Mt. Zion, Mt. Winans, Christ, Ames Memorial, Unity, and Christ Church of the Deaf, in addition to Emory Beacon of Light in Washington, D.C. and Westminster Community of Shalom in Westminster.

A variety of community-focused ministries are carried out by these Shalom Zones including: developing youth leadership, furthering community health, advocating for decent housing, after school programs, summer enrichment programs, disaster relief training, and converting a defunct community elementary school into a multi-use center in one of the city's most needy areas.

Theme

Shalom Zones are a seven-point approach to community transformation that can easily be remembered by the letters of SHALOM:

S = systemic and sustainable change

H = healing, health, harmony and wholeness

A = asset-based community development

L = love for God, self and neighbor

O = organizing for direct action

M = multicultural, multi-faith collaboration

To learn more about Communities of Shalom or for information on training, contact Rev. Bruce F. Haskins at RevDrBFHaskins@aol.com or 410-448-9028 or visit the national Shalom website at www.CommunitiesofShalom.org.

Conference Secretaries to Global Ministries (CC)

There are currently 12 missionaries related to the Baltimore-Washington Conference, serving through the General Board of Global Ministries. More than 100 of our conference churches are in supportive relationships with these missionaries and some churches with more than one. Our goal for 2012-2013 is to increase the number of supporting churches by 10. This is a wonderful opportunity for your church to be involved in the mission of The United Methodist Church and benefit from the direct contact with one or more of our missionaries.

As Conference Secretaries of Global Ministries, we are available to your local church to assist in identifying missionaries you might like to support, arranging visits to your local church when they are in the area, and helping you with the process of becoming a covenant relationship church. You can go to the link on the Conference website (www.bwcumc.org/ministries/missionaries-baltimore-washington-conference) to see the list of missionaries and find out more information about each of them.

We can be reached at revjohnncampbell@gmail.com or revbonniecampbell@gmail.com

Commission on the Status and Role of Women (CC)

The General Commission on the Status and Role of Women is helping the church to be a more reliable and trustworthy agent of the liberating Gospel of Jesus Christ, so that we recognize every person as a “full and equal part of God’s human family.”

Through training, advocacy, research and monitoring, COSROW:

- Nurtures women leaders in the church,
- Addresses gender discrimination,
- Confronts sexual harassment and abuse and advocates for victims,
- Raises awareness about women’s issues and opportunities,
- Identifies institutional sexism and recommends ways to diminish it.

This year COSROW will celebrate its 40th anniversary. We are planning a program in March, which is Women’s History Month. Bishop Peggy Johnson will be the keynote speaker; BWC District Superintendents will lead worship and breakout sessions along with COSROW committee members, Sandra Ferguson and the United Methodist Women. The event will be inclusive with sign language and Spanish interpreters. The theme is “We’ve Come a Long Way Baby, But....”

Our plans for the coming year include a clergy family survey, resourcing local churches and a follow-up on a study about clergywomen, which was conducted eight years ago.

Committee on Deaf Ministries (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference is wonderfully unique in that we are the only Conference throughout United Methodism providing targeted outreach to the Deaf, Deaf-Blind, and Hard-of-Hearing communities. There are four facets to this ministry.

Christ UMC of the Deaf in Baltimore has been serving the Deaf community since 1895. Christ UMC of the Deaf provides culturally appropriate, Christ-centered, indigenous worship. Community ties are strengthened during weekly fellowship lunches, which immediately follow worship and at the many social events which aim to bring together this amazingly diverse group of believers. The church seeks to not only encourage faith development, but also servant leadership. The weekly lunches, food pantry, computer lab and Deaf Shalom Zone provide opportunities for individuals to put faith into action as servant ministers. Christ UMC of the Deaf also strongly believes in the connectional church, often joining with other churches in worship and mission. As the church continues to passionately celebrate, connect, develop, serve and share, the Call to Action is at the forefront of the ministry.

Christ UMC of the Deaf also continues its long-standing commitment to outreach through Christian education at the Maryland School for the Deaf in Columbia and Bible study at Foxwell apartment complex. This past year, the church was excited to begin a partnership with Towson University to bring interns to work with the church and Shalom Zone. This has proven to be extremely beneficial for both the students and the church. The church continues to be in ministry with other organizations such as the Baltimore Association of the Deaf Blind (BADB), ESL programs, Deaf Camps Inc., Deaf Young Adult Camp, Deaf-Blind Camp, ROCK, and the Deaf Walk to Emmaus. Christ UMC of the Deaf shows the spirit of hospitality through welcoming outside groups to use the building for parties, community forums and classes, and mentoring sign language and interpreting students.

Magothy UMC of the Deaf was established in 1975 to serve the Pasadena area of Maryland. The church continues its commitment to creative and passionate worship, and this past year a new small group was started – a weekly signing prayer group, which is the first in the area, providing a Wesleyan model of discipleship and spiritual support for Deaf individuals. Working cooperatively with Magothy UMC, the Deaf church continues to serve the community through the Door Step Mission, a food distribution program. The mission committee and many mission-minded members worked hard to see that the church is a positive witness for Jesus Christ not only within the walls of the sanctuary, but also throughout the community and world.

The Deaf Shalom Zone ministers to the needs of the Deaf, Deaf-Blind, and Hard-of-Hearing communities by providing a food pantry, advocacy training and support (ADA rights, literacy and consumer skills,) and other social services. In October, the Deaf Shalom Zone hosted a 10th Anniversary Gala which honored the many dedicated staff and volunteers who have made this ministry possible and cast a vision for the future, which includes providing a domestic care house for Deaf-Blind men.

The Methodist Campus Ministry at Gallaudet University in Washington, D.C. offers ministry to students, faculty and staff on the campus of the only liberal arts university in the world for the Deaf. Regular Bible study builds understanding and community while encouraging attendees to be engaged in mission on the campus and in the surrounding community. The Methodist Campus ministry also works with the Office of Campus Ministries to provide ecumenical worship and service opportunities.

While Deaf ministry is alive and going strong, it is not a time to be content with the current ministries. The vision for the future includes reestablishing the religious education program at Maryland School for the Deaf in Frederick, starting a new Deaf worship service in the Washington, D.C., area, hosting an immersion experience for seminary students, and establishing a house which would provide a safe, communication-rich environment for Deaf-Blind men.

Disaster Response Committee (CC)

Members that are trained as Early Response Team Members continue to grow. We are now 300 strong and still growing. Our plan for the upcoming year is to increase our team size to 400.

If you are interested in becoming a team member, please go to the conference website (www.bwcumc.org), then click on missions, then on VIM Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church. You may also contact me or any of the Regional Coordinators listed on the webpage. Our team will welcome you with open arms and hearts to help people who have been in a disaster.

There will be eight trainings this year. Each region of the Conference will have one in the spring and one in the fall. These events will be listed on our webpage. All classes start at 8 a.m. and run until 4 p.m. The fee for the class is $25. This covers classroom materials, a background check, your Photo ID, and lunch.

The Disaster Response Team responded to three locations this past year. The first was to Alabama, for hurricane damage; then to North Carolina for tornado damage; and lastly to New Jersey for flooding damage. All early response personnel used their training to help these people in need.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference Disaster Response Team assisted in helping to form the Susquehanna Conference of The United Methodist Church with its new Disaster Response Team.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference invites you to join our team and help people in time of need during a disaster.

Parish Nurse Ministries (CC)

A committee of parish nurses continues working with Sandra Ferguson, the conference's social justice and missions director. We support and encourage current and new parish nurse programs in the conference and are available to consult with clergy, registered nurses and others who are interested in development of a parish nursing or health ministry program for their congregation. We provide information about the practice of parish nursing, initial steps for developing a program for the church, and helpful denominational, regional and national resources that are supportive of this specialty.

In order to encourage United Methodist registered nurses to complete a basic parish nurse preparation course, the committee is in the process of developing the policies, procedures and application to offer scholarships. The money for the scholarships is a grant from GBGM for parish nursing.

Parish nurses have the ability to increase connections within the congregation and focus on the promotion of health within the context of the values, beliefs, practices, mission and ministry of a faith community. They recognize that health is more than the absence of disease. Parish nurses (also known as faith community nurses) provide a holistic approach to empower individuals, families and the congregation to achieve a fullness of life. Russia Covenant Partnership (CC)

In the late 900s – according to the Primary Chronicle, Russia’s book mingling facts and legends about how the world came to be and the Russians became a nation – Grand Prince Vladimir, wanting to unify his country around a new religion, sent observers out in different directions to examine the great faiths of the world and bring back a recommendation. When they returned, they came with a report which told, from their point of view, mostly about the quirks and flaws of each religion as they experienced it. But then they told of being in the great church in Constantinople, where, guided by the emperor himself (who welcomed and explained everything about the service to them), the little delegation experienced the majesty of Christian worship in the Greek tradition. They came back, saying, “We no longer knew if we were in heaven or on earth, because earth has no glory such as this.” Not surprisingly, the Prince chose to embrace Orthodoxy, which has been the dominant form of Christianity in Russia ever since.

A little more than 100 years ago, Methodist Christianity was planted in Russia, and became known for its two emphases of warm personal faith and active social holiness. Even after the Communists came to power in 1917, Methodist relief work continued until the early 1930s, leaving a strong witness and legacy as a beacon of hope during years of terror and famine. With the fall of communism in 1990, The United Methodist Church re-established a presence in Russia, bringing both humanitarian aid during the difficult years of transition to a market economy, and its emphasis on “the heart strangely warmed”, personal faith in Jesus Christ. Disciples were formed; churches were planted; and a vigorous expression of Wesleyan Christianity took root once again in the Russian soil. With minimal material resources and using what by our standards is limited freedom, our Eurasian United Methodist brothers and sisters are doing amazing things in the name and power of Christ.

It was against this background that Bishop John Schol and Bishop Hans Växby led the Baltimore-Washington Conference and the Central Black Soil District of the South Russia Provisional Annual Conference into a covenant partnership agreement in 2008. This is the conference’s third such partnership, alongside those with Zimbabwe and South Korea. Since the early 1990s, local churches in our conference had already been doing important work in Russia, partnering with believers there. But this new partnership made possible a coordination of effort and resources which opened new doors and laid the groundwork for additional partnerships between congregations here and there.

2011 saw growth in the size and depth of that partnership. In addition to already existing relationships between churches in our conference and congregations in St. Petersburg, Voronezh, Oryol and Khimki and outreach works in the cities of Moscow and Vladimir, new links were forged with start-up churches in Latnyaya and Lipetsk. Through Volunteers in Mission, disciples went to share in the ministry at our United Methodist Camp “Crystal” near Voronezh. Relationships continue to be built and ministry plans shared via regular meetings over the Internet (using Skype) between Americans and Russians. All of these works, and more, are in accordance with the ministry plan or “Road Map” of the Eurasian UMC – a sort of “A Call to Action” and strategic plan developed by the churches there.

Yet these things tell only part of the story. A group of lay and clergy from our conference and Virginia Conference travelled to Russia in the summer to learn more and explore new partnerships for ministry. There we learned of new congregations – blossoms and offshoots of mother churches that began as Bible study groups – being planted in Ertel and Sary Oskol. We learned the story of sacrificial prison ministry near Voronezh, and our hearts were warmed by the lavish love shown in a camp for Down syndrome children. We experienced a camp called “Spring” for children and youth from troubled homes, carried out by Grace Church at a country location near the border with Finland, where 40 children experienced the love of Christ through caring adults and many came to living faith in Jesus. We experienced powerful worship, and fellowship with pastors and churches in the south, center, and north of the country. Meanwhile, congregations here in America were blessed by visits from Russian friends, pastors and lay people, who share the bond of faith and ministry in Christ.

The church in Russia faces many challenges. They are meeting those challenges with faith and determination through the Road Map, which focuses on leadership development, evangelism, and a move to self-sufficiency through stewardship development, among other emphases. Through church-to-church connections, our conference’s link to the Central Black Soil District, and above all personal relationships between American and Russian Christians, we learn from one another and share in mutual ministry and growth.

In the coming year, we will be sending additional teams to Russia for service at the camp and with our partner churches. We are seeing new ties develop between our United Methodist Women here and in Russia. We are helping to invest in the development of Russian leaders through the seminary, advanced training, and continuing education initiatives. And we are always seeking additional congregations for church-to-church partnerships. In 2013 we plan to offer another “familiarization” trip for those interested in experiencing ministry in Russia and learning more. But there’s no need to wait; it is possible to get involved now through our conference’s Russia Initiative group, learning about the work in Russia, or participating on one of the teams going over this year.

Over a thousand years have passed since Christianity was first planted in Russia. Still, as we experience the Holy Spirit working among us with our partners in Eurasia, we really “no longer know if we are in heaven or on earth”, for God’s glory is still seen and God’s power is at work through the connectional ministry of covenant partnership!

United Methodist Community Services (CC)

The UMCS mission is to provide coordinated assistance ministries and refer people to services and resources that are reliable and accessible. UMCS offers a conferencewide compassionate response to those living in poverty.

Ministries provided by UMCS include:

UMCS Centers and The Promotion of Covenant Relationships

In a covenant relationship, one or more churches commit to be partners to a church performing significant assistance ministries.

Service Centers, located at United Methodist churches, provide food pantries, hot meals, clothing, temporary shelter and limited financial assistance. Volunteers, supplies and financial support are contributed by Covenant churches, by the Conference and through Advance Special giving. Two new Service Centers have been added this year: Ames UMC, located in the Baltimore Metropolitan District, and Bells UMC, located in Camp Springs in the Greater Washington District. They have become important additions to the UMCS network.

Conferencewide Online UMCS Human Services Directory and the Communications Center

The purpose of the online directory is to assist pastors and missions volunteers in guiding people who seek assistance to reliable and accessible resources. The website provides information about services being provided by local United Methodist churches, our Conference, interfaith and community organizations, non-profit organizations and government agencies. Searchers can locate resources according to zip code, city, county, District of Columbia or by the provider's name. To reach the site bring up the Conference Home Page, then choose, Ministries, Mission, and United Methodist Community Services in that sequence.

We urge your church to share information about outreach ministries it offers or supports by including the details in the online directory.

To enter or change your church's outreach ministries information, please click on the following link: <https://gateway.bwcumc.org/bwcssa>. Login using your Gateway ID and password. Next, click on the link located on the left navigation labeled, "UMCS Home Page for Church Leaders".

Communications Center Support

In addition to other functions, the Communications Center office, located at Linthicum Heights UMC, responds to inquiries from throughout the Conference by providing Conferencewide referrals to people seeking assistance. The toll-free number is 1-877-386-UMCS and the e-mail address is UMCSBWC@Verizon.net.

The Development of Regional/District UMCS Teams

An important UMCS goal is to establish regional UMCS teams, with the purpose of developing and supporting existing and new outreach ministries at the district or regional level.

Your advance special contributions are needed. We urge churches and individuals to contribute to United Methodist Community Services ministries. As an agency of the Conference Board of Global Ministries engaged in vital human services, we depend on contributions to continue and expand our important work. UMCS is a Conference Advance Special. Contributions may be sent to 11711 East Market Place, Fulton, MD 20759, clearly marked in the memo line.

United Methodist Men (CC)

What good is it? My brother and sister, if you say you have faith but do not have works? Can faith save you? If a brother or sister is naked and lacks daily food, and one of you say to them, "go in peace, and keep warm and eat your fill," and yet you do not supply their bodily needs, what good of that? So faith by itself, if it has no works, is dead. James 2:14-17

The Baltimore-Washington United Methodist Men Commission has a commitment to reaching men; our spiritual guide (Jesus Christ) has guided a handful of gifted disciple-makers to help local church men reach and disciple the men of the church. We have advocated for building men's fellowships that value and empower all people for full participation in the church and community.

Accomplishments

On Feb. 28, Darvin Hebron reported that Baltimore-Washington United Methodist Men received recognition from the General Commission United Methodist Men for having the most activity (Each Man Share or Evangelism Mission Spiritual Life), financial support contributions in the General Commission United Methodist Men.

In April, James Gainey, of the Advanced Lay Speaking Ministries at the General Commission on United Methodist Men, led Baltimore-Metropolitan District President William Weller, and eight Baltimore-Washington UMM leaders for eight weeks of Understanding Men's Ministry. Gainey will conduct a second session January 2012 at New Covenant Worship Center.

In May, the BWCUMM held its first Men's Ministry dinner, with 40 participants joining together to learn ways to prepare the ground for purposeful planning and effective disciple-making and implementation of guidelines.

In May, a Conference Prayer Breakfast was held in Annapolis District's Calvary UMC. Rev. Kevin Smalls was the guest speaker. His subject was a review of past BWC history of men's ministry. Two hundred men participated, and each District Fellowship and many local churches' fellowships have had prayer and Bible study sessions for their men in Christ.

In June, First UMC in Hyattsville, Greater Washington District, held a health fair. Many doctors, health services, banks, insurance companies, food services advisors, county leaders and the community at large participated in a day long fair. Dr. John Ojeifo, president of First Church UMC UMM, was coordinator to bring all services and opportunities to the community at-large.

In September, the Central Maryland District, in November, the Baltimore Metropolitan District and in December, the Annapolis District each distributed a truckload of 40,000 pounds of potatoes, expanding hunger relief efforts to needy people in their communities. The men bagged and distributed the potatoes provided by the Society of Saint Andrew. The last report was that BWC contributed more than $4,000 to Saint Andrew's The SOSA ministry services hunger relief nationwide.

Baltimore Suburban, Frederick and Cumberland-Hagerstown Districts were organized into the Baltimore-Washington United Methodist Men Commission; they have been overlapped for many years. Each established their own small business bank account. Washington East District also established a small business bank account. The Washington East District treasurer died, no one in the district was available from the earlier administration with banking signature authority.

Members of BWCUMM seek prayers for our president, Darvin Hebron, who went through an eye operation, and former treasurer Marvin Hall after a long illness.

"Worship The LORD your GOD. And his blessing will be on your food and water. I will take away sickness from you." Exodus 23:25

United Methodist Women (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference United Methodist Women (UMW) is vital, active, and on fire for the Lord. This organization is blessed with women filled with faith, hope and love. They unselfishly share their gifts, talents and energy, locally and globally, in the service of missions to others, especially women, children and youth – all for God’s glory.

“What does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God.” (Micah 6:8)

2011 Highlights:

- We continued to increased social action activities, including workshops, seminars and other activities, with priority emphasis on immigration, human trafficking and domestic violence.
- Three of our members, Nancy Randers-Pehrson, Colleen Cates, and leesha Gillis attended the Women’s Division’s National Seminar in Birmingham, Ala., where they also participated in protests regarding immigration, human trafficking and climate change.
- Forty-two people traveled to New York City to participate in a two-day custom-designed United Nations seminar on violence against women and children in domestic and global arena, held at the Church Center for the United Nations.
- About 75 people participated in the first Maryland Legislative Advocacy Day, in Annapolis, co-sponsored by the conference United Methodist Women and the conference Social Justice/Missions Ministry. The very successful event included emphasis on human trafficking, immigration and an alcohol tax proposal.
- We were represented at the Women’s Division “Voices, A Transformative Leadership Event,” held in Nashville, Tenn., at the UMW-owned Scarritt-Bennett Center. In response to this event, we made a concerted, successful effort to find a Language Coordinator, Sue Bradshaw-Shelton from the Annapolis District, as a new Mission Team member.
- The UMW Social Action Coordinator, Ann Price, joined three other United Methodist conference social action coordinators to represent the Women’s Division at Ecumenical Advocacy Days 2011 in Washington, D.C., on the theme, “Development, Security, and Economic Justice: What’s Gender Got to Do With It?”
- The 2011 Cooperative School of Christian Mission was held in Hagerstown, with studies based on books titled, “The Journey: Joy to the World!, Mission in the Age of Global Christianity,” and a geographical study on Haiti. Approximately 170 people participated in the school, under the leadership of Rev. Anthony Love. We donated about 20 large lawn bags of flip-flops for Haiti and more than $5,000 in “Coins for Haiti, UMCOR Relief for Prevention of Cholera” campaign.
- The Baltimore-Washington Conference and the Northern Virginia Conference United Methodist Women created a Learning Center for Wesley Seminary students to highlight the importance of our work to the United Methodist Church. The Rev. Linda Monroe was the chapel speaker.
- One of our United Methodist Women Conference Projects, Epworth House, awarded a $10,000 scholarship to Tabea Muenz from Germany, to study at Wesley Theological Seminary.
- Despite a period of economic downturn, the Baltimore-Washington Conference United Methodist Women contributed approximately $400,000 to mission in 2010.
- We awarded scholarships to 16 students in the amounts ranging from $400 to $740.
- At the 2011 annual conference, we held our first United Methodist Women’s Special Luncheon. We also hand-made 85 beautiful prayer shawls, received from all eight districts, which we donated to the delegates to Jurisdictional and General Conferences, newly ordained people, Bishop Schol and his wife, two visitors from Zimbabwe, and Ronald McDonald House children.
- The BWC United Methodist Women for decades has provided outstanding leadership for programs beyond our conference. In this tradition, we are proud that Sabrina White, of the Baltimore-Metropolitan District, is currently president of the Northeast Jurisdiction. Jane Grays, of the Washington East District, is serving a two-year term as dean of Upper Atlantic Regional School of Christian Mission, a leadership program for the Northeast Jurisdiction United Methodist Women.

- We helped the Northeast Jurisdiction United Methodist Women to spearhead its Hershey Fair Trade Campaign, to bring attention to the Hershey Company's reluctance to join its competitors in adopting Cocoa/Chocolate Fair Trade certification standards, and which will end in a demonstration and meeting at the Hershey Company, Hershey, Pa., the day before the Quadrennial Jurisdiction Meeting, June 14-16, 2012.

Please visit our new website, at bwcumw.org, where you can find our upcoming and recent conference and district UMW events, our "The Flame" newsletter, and other relevant information. We hope to start a Facebook page in 2012.

We are a community of women whose purpose is to know God and to experience freedom as whole people through Jesus Christ; to develop a creative, supportive fellowship; and to expand concepts of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church.

Volunteers in Mission (CC)

In 2005, the tragedy of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita had one beneficial result: a reawakening of interest in United Methodist Volunteers in Missions as hundreds of UMVIM teams from around the United States headed for the Gulf Coast to assist in the rebuilding effort. These efforts are still, six years later, a work in progress; teams are still going to the Gulf Coast and more are needed.

In 2010, another tragedy occurred when an earthquake hit Haiti, causing a similar response as our churches first prepared thousands of Health Kits and began to plan to send UMVIM teams there as well. To date, the unstable nature of Haiti and the difficulties and expenses of international travel make a rapid and large scale response still awkward. But, UMVIM teams are going to Haiti and making some progress.

In 2011, first with a rash of tornadoes in the spring and early summer, followed in late summer by Hurricanes Irene and Lee, nearly every annual conference along the east coast had a similar result with much damage and much work to be done.

Many of you are already sending teams from your churches. In the past year, Baltimore-Washington Conference churches have sent approximately 150 teams to meet the needs and to share the love of Jesus Christ. This is a 7 percent increase over 2010. Because many teams still do not register, the exact number of teams cannot be provided. We remind you again: registration is a simple (and free) process, and can be done online through the UMVIM portion of the Conference website (www.bwcumc.org/microsites/f/vim).

We again want to take this opportunity to urge those forming teams to not only register the team with the Conference UMVIM Committee; more importantly, we urge you to purchase insurance for your team members thorough either the General Board of Global Ministries or the Northeast Jurisdiction's UMVIM Coordinator's office (both can be contacted through the UMVIM Conference website portal referred to above.) This insurance is inexpensive and can provide a vital safety net when accidents or sickness occur.

Scriptural Basis for VIM Teams

There are many reasons why we encourage you and your churches to participate in UM Volunteers in Mission, and the most important comes directly from the teachings of Jesus.

When Jesus washed the feet of his disciples (John 13:3-5, 13-17), he stated clearly that sacrificial service is the very nature of life in the Kingdom of God, and therefore, the life into which we are called (“I have set you an example that you should do as I have done for you.”). Perhaps a more specific teaching of Jesus in this regard is in Matthew 25, where Jesus states, “Then these righteous ones will reply, ‘Lord, when did we ever see you hungry and feed you? Or thirsty and give you something to drink? Or a stranger and show you hospitality? Or naked and give you clothing? When did we ever see you sick or in prison and visit you?’ And the King will say, ‘I tell you the truth, when you did it to one of the least of these my brothers and sisters, you were doing it to me!’” (see Matthew 25:37-40). Jesus calls us and expects us to meet the needs of those who are in need.

The Nature of UMVIM teams

For more than 20 years, Baltimore-Washington churches have been sending volunteer teams to meet such needs. We have seen countless answers to prayer; we have become more trusting in God’s promises as we see God at work as we work; we have been encouraged by seeing people whose lives we have been able to touch and team members whose lives have been changed. And, we have seen churches become more alive by testimonies of returning team members.

For those of you who are not familiar with UMVIM let me share these words from the UMVIM Training Manual for Mission Volunteers; they will give you a sense of the team experience by reviewing these “Characteristics of UMVIM Teams.”

The characteristics of a UMVIM team include the following:

- Are open to God’s blessings
- Radiate God’s love
- Share Christ’s great spirit of kindness, acceptance, and unity
- Serve Christ and his people
- Lift up God in all they do
- Have a healthy prayer life
- Think team, not self
- Are flexible, patient, and relaxed
- Realize that people are more important than work results
- Understand that cultures are different, not superior or inferior.

Who among us cannot understand the value of these characteristics and who could not benefit from a UMVIM team experience, and likewise, understand how it can change the local church as well?

The major objective of the Conference UMVIM Committee is to make reaching those in need more of a reality. To those of you who think “I can’t really do anything – I have no skills,” we want to remind you again of the example of the Apostle Paul. In Acts 27 and 28, Paul found himself shipwrecked on an island and not in good physical shape. In Acts 28:3, Paul is gathering wood for the fire. If Paul, with his infirmities, could gather wood, it seems that everyone of us can gather wood, or perhaps paint, or sand, or pray, or become a listening ear, or provide financial support, or perform some of the many behind the scenes jobs that enable others to do more skilled work.

The goal of the UMVIM Committee continues to be that every church sends at least one team per year, even if it is in cooperation with another church.

Purpose of United Methodist Volunteers in Mission

The purpose of the United Methodist Volunteers in Mission is to give United Methodists and other volunteers the opportunity to reach out locally, nationally and internationally, with compassion to those in need. It is a chance to share our gifts and talents from our gracious Lord, while at the same time helping our faith grow in ways that can sometimes be a complete surprise to us.

UMVIM works closely with United Methodist Commission on Relief (UMCOR) providing teams as well as individuals to assist in recovery from natural disasters and sometimes even violent conflicts.

This benefits:

- Those who serve on teams because volunteers are truly changed and blessed by giving of their time and talents to those they serve,
- Churches who send teams because congregations are renewed as they become involved in this mission outreach,
- Others to seek this opportunity as they are inspired by volunteers sharing their UMVIM stories,
- Those who are the beneficiaries from the recovery efforts during their time of a disaster or conflict.

The Conference UMVIM team also works with the Conference Emergency Response Team when necessary for disaster response, especially within the boundaries of the Baltimore- Washington Conference.

Assisting the Church

The Conference UMVIM Committee assists local churches in responding to needs for teams. We have a dedicated team of volunteers, made up of coordinators for each region, who meet regularly to plan to better assist local churches with training team leaders and providing resources to keep them updated with new information. The coordinators are available to train those who want to lead teams and to share information for forming teams. They can also assist local churches to find speakers on UMVIM to inspire local church involvement.

The Conference UMVIM Committee is always open to new ideas to better assist you in carrying out this ministry. You can contact the Conference UMVIM Coordinator, Rev. Jeff Odom, at jvodom@comcast.net, with your ideas and suggestions. You may also contact your Region's UMVIM Coordinator. (See their names at the end of this report.)

Accomplishments

In the past year, as noted above, Baltimore-Washington Conference churches sent at least 150 teams to meet the needs and to share the love of Jesus Christ. Many went (some for the second, third or more times) to the Gulf Coast to help with hurricane recovery. Many others went to other locations all over the United States. In addition, teams went to a number of countries, such as Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Russia, Senegal, Uruguay, Ukraine, and Zimbabwe.

Teams helped to build (or rebuild) homes, schools and churches. Hungry people were fed; medical needs were met; Bible schools were held to help children (and often their parents) meet our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Often teams return to the same location annually, building on relationships as they complete new work and assist in ongoing programs.

Training events were held several times around the Conference to train people to lead teams. Enthused volunteer trainers brought life to the concept of volunteering. The Conference UMVIM Committee sponsored a conferencewide team leaders training in March, featuring as special guest, NEJ UMVIM Coordinator, Greg Forrester.

Plans for the Coming Year

The UMVIM Committee's hope and goal for next year is that every church will participate by sending teams or sending members to participate in teams with other churches. Our desire is to continue to be a resource to these teams and to provide the leadership training needed for those who choose to lead a team. We are also working to more clearly define our role in assisting the Conference and our churches in how to meet needs more effectively.

In 2004, the General Conference authorized each Annual Conference to set aside a Sunday to observe a UMVIM Awareness Day. To date, our Conference has not done this in an organized way. Our goal for 2012 is to fully promote this, perhaps over a month's time. We will develop a packet of materials to assist the churches to participate in this special day.

As mentioned, Jesus calls us to meet the needs of "the least of these." But Jesus not only calls us to do this; Jesus did it himself. In a very real sense, in the Incarnation, Jesus came to minister to us, meeting our greatest need, our separation from God.

We encourage you to obtain the recently updated informational DVD about Volunteers in Mission. Local church representatives participated in the DVD by sharing their inspirational stories about their UMVIM experiences. A free copy is available by contacting Sandra Ferguson, at 410-309-3431 or sferguson@bwcumc.org.

You are encouraged to visit the United Methodist Volunteer in Missions section of the Conference website www.bwcumc.org/microsites/f/vim as well as review the UMVIM Models in Ministry page at www.bwcumc.org/models/vim. These sites provide information about upcoming events; volunteer opportunities, including upcoming teams that need more members; forms to register your team and obtain insurance; and links to other helpful UMVIM information.

It is our hope and prayer that God is speaking to you, urging you to get involved with a UMVIM team. I would like to encourage you to be open to the frequent needs that come our way to minister to "the least of these" and, when appropriate, take the opportunity these mission experiences provide to "go and make disciples."

Luke's Gospel tells us that "As Jesus drew near, he saw the city (Jerusalem) and wept over it" (Luke 19:41). Jesus was weeping out of compassion and grief. As we encounter the devastation that is so widespread, even in our own region, how should we respond? If the heart of Christ breaks over the conditions of our world, should not we do everything we can to make a difference for those in need.

Looking Ahead

As a result of one of the 2008 General Conference actions, the 2012 General Conference will receive a report from the Call to Action Task Force, calling for a restructuring of General Church agencies into a Center for Connectional Ministry. The Center for Connectional Ministry contains four missional offices, each directed on four of the United Methodist Church's priorities. A fifth office (Office of Shared Offices) concerns administrative functions. The missional offices are the following:

- Office of Congregational Vitality (New Places for New People)
- Office of Leadership Excellence (Developing Leaders)
- Office of Missional Engagement (Global Health)
- Office of Justice and Reconciliation (Ministry with the Poor)

This restructuring, when approved, should allow for a new focus on UMVIM, which in many ways, addresses each of these four areas. Our Conference UMVIM Committee will explore ways to assist our Conference in each of these critical areas.

DC-MD Justice for our Neighbors (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference continues to support the plight of immigrants in this country and to that end, they awarded a grant to the Emory Beacon of Light, Inc.(EBOL) to facilitate the process of establishing an organization that would keep our services to the immigrant populations ongoing this calendar year.

First UMC in Hyattsville, along with Emory and Salem UMCs, joined forces to create a nonprofit organization that will serve as the entity responsible for immigration services in the Baltimore-Washington Conference. The pastors of each congregation nominated three individuals to serve on the board of this newly created organization. During the year, EBOL hired a contract attorney while guiding the churches through the process of the creation of DC-MD JFON. Each church is also represented by the Clinic Coordinator for JFON. The organization created by-laws and is now incorporated in the State of Maryland. This was not an easy task, but it was done successfully.

During this calendar year, we served more than 154 clients at all three sites. Many of the cases are still pending and remain open, but here are two examples below of cases that have been resolved this year.

The first was a client from El Salvador who had neurological impairments that made it difficult for her to retain information. She applied for her citizenship once and failed the test. When she applied again we were able to help her get the certifications she needed from the doctors to exempt her from having to take the test and her application was granted. She became a citizen during the month of November.

The second client was from Sierra Leone and her case had been with the federal agency for more than a year with no action. Our attorney assisted her in getting her application approved by immigration and subsequently was able to get her immigration court case closed. The attorney is now in the process of helping her and her husband, who is a U.S. citizen, apply for her green card.

Now that the clinics are up and running successfully again, we anticipate that the case load will increase next year and in the years to come.

Commission on Religion and Race (CC)

As the Commission on Religion and Race continues to journey through another year, we give God thanks for the opportunity to continue to be a part of The United Methodist Church and a committee of hands-on actions as we support and encourage righteousness and completeness to all. Our vision is to remain connected as a team for God as we construct communities, not only in and through the church, but also throughout the world.

This year, we were blessed to have a team, which included the Revs. Joan Carter-Rimbach, Cynthia Burkert, Wayne Chung, and Ms. Rachel Birkhahn-Rommelfanger, who traveled to the Facing the Future Conference on Cross-racial and Cross-cultural Appointments held in Los Angeles. The event was sponsored by the General Commission on Religion and Race and the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry. Participation in this conference allowed these people to bring back to us additional and new information to enlighten, educate and resource our team on the Commission on Religion and Race to other levels of awareness and outreach, and overcome stumbling blocks of sin and racism. We continue to stand up to eliminating the “I” word (Illegal), for God made us all. We must stand in the gap as Christ draws us all together.

Our vision and goals for 2012 are to become even more known in every community throughout this conference and beyond the bounds of our conference, to reach out to all in the light of Christ, and to share God’s Word as we connect to all, regardless of religion or race, as children of the Most High God. We, as the Commission on Religion and Race, have a charge to keep.

Quality of Life Retreats (CC)

The Quality of Life Retreats are a ministry under the Grow Missions Team of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. These retreats are a ministry for people living with HIV/AIDS. The retreats began in 1988 and now in 2011, we have held 87 retreats and served more than 3,408 participants. The objective of these retreats is to provide a safe, loving environment in which participants can be fully themselves, free of fears and inhibitions, and can deal openly with their deepest concerns. This is a supportive ministry to individuals who many times have experienced discrimination and rejection. It is a chance to get away, get together, interact, share and learn the techniques and attitudes that are effective in dealing with the journey and issue of long-term survival with HIV/AIDS. The participants invariably say in their evaluation of each retreat that “it is so good to be with people who understand me and want to help me be who I am.”

During 2010, there were 109 registered HIV+ participants, with a leadership staff of 29. A demographics survey indicates 46 males, 49 females, two transgendered individuals; 19 homosexual, 53 heterosexual, four bisexual, and one lesbian. Racial responses indicated eight Caucasian, 85 African American, two Latino and two Native Americans; ages range from 18 to 69. Some young participants were born with HIV+. Due to inclement weather, the February retreat was cancelled the next day.

These retreats are an opportunity for personal growth and spiritual encounters. It is a learning opportunity which involves both individual reflection and group exploration. These retreats are designed to address persons affected by HIV/AIDS from a variety of faith traditions and of ethnic and cultural backgrounds, different genders, and different sexual orientation.

The retreats are held four times a year for three days (February, June, September and December). They are held at The Washington Retreat House, West River Center, and Camp Manidokan. A bond of community is established very quickly. Activities include plenary speakers, reflection groups, worship, healing service, crafts, bingo, festive dinner, a talent/no talent show, and sometimes there is a massage therapist and other professionals (such as lawyers and dance leaders.).

We sent out introduction letters and a brochure to the areas: the Western Region, Central Maryland and Baltimore Metropolitan District. Our Strategic Plan calls for us to educate the BWC about Quality of Life Retreats and we will be sending out this material to the rest of the conference to circulate to all churches in the Conference. Raymond Shattuck, Chairperson, and Lance Hogue, RN, have joined the State of Maryland Faith Based Advisory Board representing the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Lance Hogue and Raymond Shattuck attended “United Methodist Global AIDS Fund 20/20 Visioning an AIDS-Free World” held at Foundry UMC in Washington, D.C.

Partnership with South Conference, Korea (CC)

The partnership Covenant Agreement signed on April 10, 2010, between the South Conference of the Korean Methodist Church and the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church continues to serve as the guiding document for this partnership, which provides possibilities and opportunities to celebrate our common Wesleyan heritage and gain insight into our common calling to make disciples for Jesus Christ.

As the partnership moves forward, there will be further opportunities to clarify and implement plans that promote the best ways to achieve our common goals.

Director of Connectional Ministries

Zimbabwe Partnership (CC)

Since 1997, the Baltimore-Washington Conference has been a ministry partner with the Zimbabwe Episcopal Area of The United Methodist Church “Zimbabwe Conference.” At the 2008 General Conference, the Baltimore-Washington Conference and the Zimbabwe Conference signed a new covenant that extends its working relationship through 2012. The covenant states that it will focus on issues such as theological training, community and economic development, young adult ministries, preaching biblical studies and leadership in the Zimbabwe Episcopal Area.

In 2009, the Zimbabwe Partnership formed with a vision statement that says, “Our vision is to see a joyful, peaceful, prosperous, self-sufficient, empowered, healthy and reconciled Zimbabwean nation that works together in the spirit of Chabadza. We will work ceaselessly and passionately along side of other Christians to support efforts leading to sustainable living and freedom to grow in Christ for all Zimbabwean people.”

The Zimbabwe Partnership consists of laity, pastors and conference staff. The executive team has the following members:

- Rev. Karin Walker, District Superintendent, Grow Missions Team
- Sandy Ferguson, Director for Social Justice and Missions
- Jo Chesson, Associate for Grow Spiritual Leaders
- Olivia Gross, Associate for Grow Missions

- Charlie Moore, executive team member and advisor.

As the Executive Team for the Zimbabwe Partnership, each person plays a very strategic role, although we could not function without the support, dedication and servant heart of many individuals, churches and national and international partners who we work together with to meet the challenges facing our brothers and sisters in Zimbabwe.

Achievements in 2011

- Annapolis District UMVIM team – This UMVIM team worked with the Mushunje Orphan Trust leaders and spent time with their orphans and caregivers. Annapolis District has been assisting orphans with school fees, shoes and blankets, sustainable food, bicycles for caregivers, a borehole for clean water and establishment of the Bazeley Bridge Resource Center Hope Fund Project since its involvement.
- Hope Fund projects
 - Chegutu West Parsonage was completed and dedicated in June 2011.
 - Bazeley Bridge Resource Center was completed and dedicated in June 2011.
 - Shamva Parsonage – in process.
 - The team is also exploring other sites at Mukoba North Sanctuary, Chipfunde Sanctuary and Gwindingwi parsonages.
- Zimbabwe Pastors School
The Baltimore-Washington Conference and the Zimbabwe East and Zimbabwe West Annual Conferences Pastor School was held June 13-17, 2011, at Africa University. There were more than 300 pastors in attendance, who traveled from Harare and Mutare and from some of the far corners of Zimbabwe and Malawi to take part in this week that happens every other year. Some of the pastors spent days walking, finding public transportation and/or hitching a ride just to attend the Pastor School.

Every day started with worship and Bible study, followed by the daily topics that were presented in both a teaching format and participatory format with discussions and exercises presented by both the clergy for the BWC who traveled on the team with Bishop Schol and the pastor of the ZEAC and ZWAC under the direction of Bishop Nhiwatiwa. Some of the topics presented were Understanding Jesus and Preaching the Gospel of John, Theology of the Common Pool, Prophetic Evangelism in the 21st Century versus Pre-Canonical Prophets, Interpreting the New Testament, The Pastor and the Judicial System of the UMC, The Priesthood of all Believers, The Pastor and Self Care, Teaching Techniques for Teaching Bible Study. Also, taught by Mrs. Nhiwatiwa, was a class on the Role of the Pastor's Spouse in the Ministry.

This was the first year that the BWC partnered with the Western Pennsylvania Conference's team as they introduced the Laity Academy, which dovetailed at the end of the Pastor School and utilized the same tools, techniques and facilities at Africa University. What a great experience to see on that last day of the Pastor School and the first day of the Laity Academy, with a combined worship of more than 500 Zimbabweans, the joining together in Communion under the backdrop of an African sunset in the beautiful Kim Lin Chapel. The teams have been blessed by the leadership that has emerged from our Zimbabwean team through our partnership. The Baltimore-Washington Conference looks forward to the next Pastors School in 2013.

GROW SPIRITUAL LEADERS

Overview of Grow Spiritual Leaders (CC)

The Call to Action has made clear what we have instinctively known – excellent leadership, lay and clergy, is needed to grow Acts 2 congregations that invite people into relationship with Christ, provide inspiring worship of our Lord, train in the ways of discipleship and send disciples into mission. We, as a conference, are committed to calling, equipping, sending and supporting spiritual leaders prepared to fulfill the mission.

Spiritual leadership begins with call. Spiritual leaders are not self-selected, but rather God-selected. We believe that Christ Jesus calls every baptized Christian into discipleship and service and provides the gifts necessary for answering that call. The goal of the Grow Spiritual Leaders Team, and the dozens of people who are an extension of that team, is to aid people in discerning the call and to help to develop and hone the gifts and skills needed for responding to the call. You will read about this in the attached reports about our Discipleship Academy and the multitude of courses offered in every region and online, not to mention the important work being done related to certified lay speakers and certified lay ministers. Hundreds of faithful lay people are saying they want to serve more effectively and the training is helping.

Through the Board of Ordained Ministry and conference staff, we have provisional mentoring groups, Discippler groups, and clergy coaching. The Board of Ordained Ministry provides a valuable service in assessing both the potential and the readiness of those responding to a call to ordination. The Board of Laity assures that those not called to ordination, but very much called to service and spiritual leadership, can deepen both in faith and excellence.

We have embarked upon an ambitious strategic effort to devise a comprehensive leadership development plan that will literally train the best spiritual leaders in the world. It is no secret that the challenges facing the church today are very different from the challenges faced just a few decades ago. What are the skills needed by spiritual leaders today and tomorrow? How can those who are called learn and practice those skills? What training and support should be provided to equip our leaders? These are just a few of the questions continually asked by the Grow Spiritual Leaders Team and the answers are driving our strategic planning.

I am so appreciative of the hours of work done by so many on a regular basis, mostly with little recognition. On every region, faithful workers recruit trainers and teachers, arrange for curriculum, plan for meeting sites, register class participants and coordinate certification programs and training events. You will see in the reports the number of classes and trainings offered throughout the year, each needing people to make them happen. Those serving on the Board of Ordained Ministry, both on the district and conference levels, dedicate hours of time in meetings and retreats and with sub-committees. Those on the Board of Laity have their hands full as well. These are all leaders lifting up leaders and I am grateful for them. As a conference, we are proud of each of them.

Faith-Fire-Fruits: this is what we need in and from our spiritual leaders. We are committed to growing just such spiritual leaders. We pray the Holy Spirit will fill each one.

Rev. David Cooney, Director of Grow Spiritual Leaders

Board of Laity (CC)God's people called to love and serve

The Board of Laity of the Baltimore-Washington Conference supports the mission of our annual conference to seek to be more like Christ as we call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to grow Acts 2 congregations.

As the lay leadership, we equip and develop ourselves to support local church laity to develop into more effective spiritual leaders. We learn and grow spiritually through meditation, study and personal discipline. As we nurture, serve and witness to our communities and the world we are striving to make disciples of Jesus Christ.

Across the conference, laity are engaged in addressing social and political injustices with advocacy efforts; ministering to communities through outreach efforts; participating in conference, regional, district and local church events; being instrumental in the planning, training, facilitation and participation of the Discipleship Academy. Also, we are visible and active with the Connectional Table, boards and committees, as well as focus groups. Our second Bishop's Day Apart with Laity was a time of spiritual strengthening, learning and fellowship. Lay ministries are visible, active and effective.

The Certified Lay Ministry Program continues to grow as lay people develop themselves to better support clergy, local church congregations and communities.

The Lay Speaking program engages laity in discipleship through leading, caring and communication ministries. Each year hundreds of people are trained and certified.

The United Methodist Men's ministries enable spiritual growth as they serve as prayer advocates and feed hundreds of people through the Potato Drop Project. The men oversee Scouting ministries, as well as being available to offer a helping hand to groups across the conference.

United Methodist Women support women and children. They offer training and leadership opportunities through the annual School of Christian Mission. UMW mission projects at home and abroad help numerous families in many and varied ways.

Young adult and youth ministries equip and empower young people spiritually. The ROCK retreat brings together thousands of youth each year as they experience and renew a relationship with Jesus Christ.

Older Adults gather twice annually to share, be in fellowship, be resourced and rejuvenated and have fun at West River Camp.

Last December, our conference lay leader was privileged to visit the Zimbabwe West Annual Conference as a member of a conference team. The Baltimore-Washington Conference reciprocated by inviting and hosting the Zimbabwe West Annual Conference lay leader and a district lay leader to the 2011 annual conference. From May 23-31, our special guests from Zimbabwe were able to visit and sightsee in Washington, visit our Conference Mission Center, participate in our annual conference session in Baltimore, worship and speak at a local church and fellowship with members of our annual conference. In June 2011, our conference lay leader was fortunate enough to journey back to Zimbabwe as a member of the Baltimore-Washington Conference team that participated in the Zimbabwe Annual Conference pastors and laity schools. While there, the team was able to see many of the projects, schools and orphanages our annual conference sponsors and supports in Zimbabwe.

As God's people, called to love and serve and as we embark on the next quadrennium, we ask ourselves: Where is God calling us and how can we more effectively equip the laity of our conference to meet the adaptive challenges of our denomination as we continue to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world?

It is our commitment to be more vital, vibrant and forever in God's presence.

Delores M. Oden, Conference Lay Leader
Rev. David Cooney, Staff

Board of Ordained Ministry (CC)

The gifts he gave were that some would be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until all of us come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to maturity, to the measure of the full stature of Christ.
Ephesians 4:11-13

The Board of Ordained Ministry is charged with the care of the current and future leaders of our church. We understand that every baptized Christian is in ministry, and all of us are called to a life of Christian service. The time of discernment is not about whether one is called to ministry but rather, how one is called to serve. Ordination is one way, but other ways include Local Pastors, Certified Lay Ministers, Lay Speakers and committed lay people, each serving faithfully where God has placed them.

We seek to identify candidates with the faith, fire and fruit needed in spiritual leaders. As candidates for ordination or licensing move through the process, the board, the district committees and the local churches are looking for fitness, readiness and effectiveness.

In 2011, we fully implemented new procedures for evaluating candidates for ordination, commissioning and licensing. While we are still working on perfecting the process, we believe these procedures are helping us to make better recommendations for the good of The United Methodist Church in general and the conference in particular. The district committees on ordained ministry will be doing more of the initial work in discerning candidates' calls and readiness for ministry; for this reason, the size of our district committees has been increased. They will also be working with the SPRCs of local churches to help them discern calls to ministry among their members.

We continue to see many excellent candidates for ordination and commissioning. However, as the number of appointments available continues to go down, the board and Cabinet will need to wrestle with a seeming surplus of clergy before long. For the 2012 evaluation retreat, we will consider 15 candidates for ordination and 24 for commissioning.

Under the guidance of Rev. Lynn Glassbrook, the board continues to support the License to Preach School (LTP). The 2011 school drew 23 students from seven annual conferences. In addition to our own conference, Peninsula-Delaware, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Upper New York, New England, and the Dakotas conferences sent participants. The 16 men and seven women spanned decades of age, the youngest was 28 and the oldest 72. We accomplished the intensive 80 contract hours with a cadre of excellent instructors. Tuition covered all expenses. This LTP was unique in the depth of bonding between the students. They have continued to share prayer requests, best practices and resources as they are developed. Drawing on the Lakota language base of one student, this LTP is aptly known among the participants as "The Spirit People" for the Holy Spirit continues to weave the group together for the Lord.

Next year's LTP will be held from Wednesday, May 16, through Friday, May 25, at West River Camp. Using the new curriculum revision from the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry for License to Preach Schools, and coordinating with Rev. Mark Derby who heads up the orientation for transitional pastors coming from other denominations or other conferences, the 2012 LTP will begin with topics important to both LTP students and transitioning pastors, and then move into the remaining LTP topics. Several potential students have already contacted the BWC in preparation for the 2012 School.

In addition to our work with candidates for ministry and those who are Provisional Members, the board also cares for those seeking leaves of absence or retirement. Following a recommendation from the Judicial Council, the board examined the procedures used in putting clergy on Involuntary Leave of Absence, and found that the board followed all the steps required by the Book of Discipline. The board did not investigate procedures of clergy requesting Voluntary Leave of Absence.

The board, together with the conference pensions & benefits staff, continues to sponsor a Pre-Retirement seminar each year. We urge all clergy to consider attending one of these seminars at least five years before anticipated retirement.

In July, members of the board met with members of the faculty of Wesley Theological Seminary to discuss seminary training. One area that must come increasingly to the forefront is how we train, identify and select leaders for the church of the future. As a colleague said, most of our current clergy were trained to be pastors and shepherds. We now need apostles.

In October, the bishop, Cabinet and Board of Ordained Ministry met together to discuss areas of mutual interest and concern, including identifying candidates with gifts for transformational ministry. As a follow up to the discussions, the board and Cabinet have invited Gil Rendell of the Texas Methodist Foundation to lead us in further discussions on developing effective leaders who can make disciples who, in turn, will make disciples.

The board and our district committees have very heavy workloads, and I commend every member of the board and all committees for the spirit of commitment and generosity they bring to their work. A special thanks also to Debbie Albrecht, who serves as our administrative assistant, makes sure that centralized work and documents are handled appropriately, and sees to it that, when our meetings run long, we receive refreshments.

This is the end of the 2008-12 quadrennium, so I will be leaving the Board. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve the conference and church for 12 years on the Board of Ordained Ministry, the last four as the chair. I am also grateful to the excellent leaders and members of the board who have worked well together, as we seek to do the best for the church of Jesus Christ.

I pray that God will continue to guide the work of the Board, conference, and denomination as we seek to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Joye F. Jones, Chair, Board of Ordained Ministry

Discipler Groups (CC)

Discipler Groups are small groups in which pastors participate for spiritual growth, collegial support, leadership development and sharing of best practices. Discipler Guides serve as facilitators for these monthly gatherings. Video presenters alternate between leaders in the denomination and leaders from our conference who share their expertise and experience. Pastors have completed 56 monthly sessions over the years.

Topics covered during the last year include: How to Start a New Worship Service, How to Develop a Worship Design Team, On-Ramps to Mission, Leading Change: The Biblical Imperative, The Power of Appreciative Inquiry, Meeting Adaptive Challenges, Missional Imagination, Missional Church, and Living Sent. Discippler materials can be downloaded from the conference website at www.bwcumc.org/disciplergroups.

Rev. Mary Dennis, Director for Discipleship

The Discipleship Academy 2011 (CC)

Grow spiritual leaders. That is the mandate that is given to each of the training and learning labs of the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Purpose

To offer individual and team-based training opportunities for the calling, equipping and sending spiritual leaders.

Goal

To assist in the spiritual and leadership development of the lay disciples as local church leaders, and to the clergy for spiritual renewal and training. We do this by providing an overview of training events offered by annual conference agencies. We have become the umbrella for such groups as Lay Speaking – Basic and Advanced; Certified Lay Ministry; School of Church Leadership; regional one-day training events and other training workshops that equip local church leaders in the areas of finance, staff-parish relations, trustees, worship and more.

Objective

To create a culture in which clergy and lay leaders practice the “Call To Action,” principles.

Strategies

1. Understand and communicate a vision for disciple-making,
2. Call, equip, deploy and support effective, disciple-making leaders,
3. Structure and organize ministry for disciple-making,
4. Facilitate worship that inspires disciples to deeper faith and Christ-like lives,
5. Build lasting, significant relationships,
6. Facilitate theological understanding and growth in faith,
7. Equip the saints for ministry and mission,
8. Engage laity in strategic evangelism,
9. Grow holistic stewardship,
10. Equip small groups and families to minister among themselves.

Mission

The mission of the Academy is to provide centralized general and specialized training opportunities and events to grow disciple-making spiritual leaders that inspire spirit-led, faith, fire and fruits. The Discipleship Academy’s trainings are designed to inspire, equip and support disciple-making spiritual leaders to grow Acts 2 congregations for the transformation of the world.

Accomplishments

The Discipleship Academy board has expanded the course offerings for the winter, spring and fall sessions through 2011 with centralized and specialized training across the conference, which includes but is not limited to:

- The Certified Lay Ministry program class of 2010-2012 has 28 candidates; class of 2012-2013 has 22 candidates. The re-certification course for the class of 2008-2009 had 65 students registered.
- Leadership Days were offered January and February 2011 in all four regions with great attendance. The Baltimore Region had 288 in attendance; Washington Region had 172; Annapolis Southern Region had 262; and the Western Region had 32 in attendance.
- The Lay Speaking Ministries and the School of Church Leadership offered classes in all the regions in the spring and fall seasons. The Baltimore Region's attendance for the spring was 92 students at five locations and 106 students in the fall at seven locations. The Washington Region's attendance for the spring was 75 students at one location and 62 students in the fall at two locations. The Annapolis Southern Region's attendance for the spring was 43 students in five locations and in the fall 94 students at two locations.
- School of Church Leadership also offered several online training classes. "Deepening Your Effectiveness" had six students and "United Methodist Polity" had 11 students registered. Also offered were one-day courses and workshops such as "Starting a New Worship Service," which was held in all the regions. The Academy also hosted training around the Call to Action which had more than 1,000 in attendance at 11 locations around the conference.
- In 2011 the Discipleship Academy offered more than 140 classes/courses, with more than 2,600 registrants, at 60 different locations throughout the conference.

Plans for the Coming Year

The Discipleship Academy will continue to focus on growing spiritual leaders across the conference with winter, spring and fall trainings. We will continue to offer two certification programs: Certified Lay Ministry (CLM) and Lay Speaking Ministries (LSM), as sanctioned by the denomination. Leadership Days are being offered in each region, followed by a variety of training opportunities in specific work areas and for spiritual growth, including additional online classes under the School of Church Leadership, and Coach Approach Ministry training for clergy.

I am grateful for the board members and staff at the Baltimore-Washington Conference, to the Discipleship Academy for its commitment, encouragement, faithfulness and support, and to the students who make the commitment to become the best God has to offer.

This Discipleship Academy would not have been so successful if it were not for the dedication, commitment and foresight of the board, staff and instructors who make the students' experience invaluable and for that I am grateful. I also want to lift up those who serve on the Academy's board: Rev. Joan A. Jones, (Annapolis Southern Region) Darlynn McCrae, (Baltimore Region); Carol Travis, (Washington Region) and Tim Donaldson, (Western Region); along with Delores Oden, conference lay leader; Richard Keller, director of Certified Lay Speaking; and Sandra King-Shaw, director of Certified Lay Ministry, and the Guide representatives from each Region. We also give thanks to Rev. Evan Young for his leadership to the Discipleship Academy as he moves on to new responsibilities and welcome Rev. David Cooney as the new Director of Grow Spiritual Leaders.

2012 REGIONAL REPORTS

Annapolis Southern Region 2012 Annual Conference Report

The Annapolis Southern Region consists of two districts, Annapolis and Washington East, and has 44,882 members. The 141 congregations are served by 143 pastors. This large geographical region is comprised of five counties: Anne Arundel, Prince Georges, Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's, and includes urban, suburban and rural congregations.

This year Christian activist Shane Claiborne of The Simple Way was the Leadership Days guest presenter. More than 400 clergy and laity were encouraged to be "Transformational Leaders in the 21st Century." Some of the ways lives are being transformed through regional, district and local church ministries include:

- The Annapolis Southern Region continued forming a partnership with the Black Soil District of the Russian Annual Conference. The region's clergywomen have united to partner in ministry with the clergywomen of the Black Soil District.
- Lives are being transformed through new worship services and spaces. Queens Chapel UMC and Westphalia UMC completed their building projects and are continually reaching more worshippers and new disciples. Trinity UMC in Annapolis is reaching more worshippers after receiving into membership a Hispanic congregation that had been using space. La Plata UMC began a casual mid-week service which is attracting young adults and singles who were not attending Sunday worship. Trinity UMC in Prince Frederick and the Smith Chapel/Alexandria Cooperative Parish launched Saturday evening worship services.
- Lives are being transformed through new young adult ministries. Journey of Faith UMC, Olivet UMC, and St. Paul UMC in Lusby launched new young adult small groups. The congregations are engaging young adults through small group study and support, Facebook, and mission projects.
- Lives are being transformed through new mission ministries. Glen Burnie UMC partnered with the Boys and Girls Club to hold a Vacation Bible School at the Club. Hall UMC initiated Dunkin Disciples, an outreach in which members engage in planned flash ministry mobs at the local Dunkin Donuts. Severna Park UMC refurbished and established a transitional house in Baltimore for women and children affected by the injustices of the sex industry, prostitution and addiction. Zion UMC partnered with Mike's Bikes to provide meals at Christmas for More than 2,400 families.

The Annapolis Southern Region had 1,057 professions of faith in 2011 as compared to 1,047 in 2010. Average worship attendance for 2011 was 17,502, which was slightly down from 17,571 in 2010. The number of persons engaged in mission in 2011 was 10,555 as compared to 9,944 in 2010. Our region paid $3,819,237 in apportionments in 2011 which represented a payment rate of 96.9% – an increase from 94.8% in 2010. More than 59.7% (86) of our congregations met the goal of 1 profession of faith for every 25 in worship. More than 37.5% (54) of our congregations met the goal of 2% increase in average worship attendance. More than 89.6% (129) of our congregations paid their apportionments in full. And the region celebrates that 75% (108) of our congregations are Acts 2 churches.

Baltimore Region 2012 Annual Conference Report

The Baltimore Region consists of two districts, Metropolitan and Suburban, and has 42,589 members. The 182 congregations are served by 151 pastors. The region includes the city of Baltimore and surrounding counties including Harford, Baltimore and part of Carroll County, as well as a sliver of Anne Arundel County.

In the Baltimore region, 100% of the congregations established goals and began to work on the Call to Action plans. Eighteen congregations began new worship services and the region had More than 7,000 people involved in the Change the World day. Below are several examples of strategies the region is continuing to develop for the purpose of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Several congregations repurposed their buildings for mission and ministry. Two congregations in Harford County are utilizing their parsonages for formerly homeless families. St. Paul's Praise and Worship Center moved to the former Ames Sudbrook UMC building. Two congregations, by charge conference action, are working with the region and Be the Change Board to consider using their buildings for supportive housing initiatives. Bentley Springs in Freeland is now a disaster response HUB for the Northeastern Jurisdiction.

Shalom Zones are gearing up for a new day and a renewed commitment to serving their communities. Ten congregations are continuing training in this endeavor and using an asset-based approach to partnering with their communities to address the needs of the people who live and worship there.

The small church initiative has 17 congregations and 140 leaders More than a period of two years learning and developing leaders to identify the strengths of the congregations and utilize those for development of a strategic plan to be in mission to the communities in which they exist. These congregations are beginning to understand their unique niche to which God has called them and focusing on their strengths as a witness in the community.

The Baltimore Region celebrates 1,014 professions of faith in 2011 as compared to 1,024 in 2010. Average worship attendance for 2011 was 15,302 compared to 15,905 in 2010. Our region paid 83% in apportionments in 2011, down slightly from 2010. 129 congregations paid 100% apportionments. More than 54% (98) of our congregations met the goal of 1 profession of faith for every 25 in worship. More than 30% (55) of our congregations met the goal of 2% increase in average worship attendance. More than 71% (129) of our congregations paid their apportionments in full. More persons participated in mission than ever before.

We are grateful for the tireless effort of the pastors and laity in the region and their commitment to doing the hard work required to be the church today.

Washington Region 2012 Annual Conference Report

The Washington Region consists of two districts, Central Maryland and Greater Washington, and has 47,514 members. The 142 congregations are served by 148 pastors. The geographical region is widely diverse, encompassing the City of Washington, D.C., suburban, ex-urban, and rural communities, people from at least 87 countries and numerous ethnic communities. In Maryland, the region includes Montgomery and Howard Counties and parts of Carroll and Frederick Counties.

The focus for the Washington Region this year in terms of training and encouragement was on transforming lives through worship and small groups. Following an emphasis on small groups at our charge conferences in the fall, our Leadership Day (which welcomed 200 attendees) and Discipleship Academy offered classes on forming small groups while the guides celebrated and supported new worship services reaching new populations. We will lift up just two of many examples of how churches in the Washington Region are transforming lives.

Montgomery UMC in The Central Maryland District is transforming lives at their new Holy Grounds Café on Sunday evening. This informal, low-key worship service features a free coffee bar and dialogue-style worship where people who are not attracted to more formal worship are drawn into a relationship with God. Montgomery has welcomed 106 new disciples through profession of faith in the last 3 years and is having trouble finding places for everyone to park!

McKendree-Simms-Brookland UMC (MSB) in the Greater Washington District is transforming itself physically and spiritually. In order to free itself for ministry and meet the needs of the community better, MSB has renovated and repurposed several of the properties it inherited through mergers. These once unusable facilities have been transformed not only to meet the needs of those in the community through a food and clothing pantry, but also the needs of young clergy. One of its properties was renovated with the purpose of renting to United Methodist clergy who with their housing allowance cannot afford to live in DC. A transformation of spirit has led to the creation of a new worship service and 14 members joining by profession of faith in 2011. This represented 11% of their worshipping congregation. In 2011 MSB became an Acts 2 congregation.

The Washington Region celebrates 996 professions of faith in 2011 as compared to 1,084 in 2010. Average worship attendance for 2011 was 17,871 compared to 17,912 in 2010. Our region paid $5,065,191 in apportionments in 2011 which represented a payment rate of 91.1% – an increase from 89.8% in 2010. There were 13,833 people engaged in mission as compared to 13,931 in 2010. More than 54% (80) of our congregations met the goal of 1 profession of faith for every 25 in worship. More than 38.4% (56) of our congregations met the goal of 2% increase in average worship attendance. More than 73% (107) of our congregations paid their apportionments in full. And the region celebrates that 61.2% (87) of our congregations are Acts 2 churches.

These are just a few of the signs and wonders of God's grace at work transforming lives through the churches and pastors of the Central Maryland and Greater Washington Districts!

Western Region 2012 Annual Conference Report

The Western Region consists of two districts, Frederick and Cumberland-Hagerstown, and has 42,897 members. The 181 congregations are served by 150 pastors. This large geographical region is comprised of eight counties, Carroll, Frederick, Washington and Allegany in Maryland; Berkeley, Jefferson, Mineral and Morgan in West Virginia, and includes urban, suburban, and rural congregations.

For the third time, the region planned and sponsored Prodigal Worship. The theme of Prodigal Worship 2012 was “Be the Light.” More than 342 people registered and attended the event at Queen’s Chapel UMC in Beltsville to experience the ministries of Leonard Sweet who discussed “Jesus’ MRI Operating System for the Church: Moving a Gutenberg Church into a Google World” and Rudy Rasmus who expounded on “Why is it important to be Missional in an urban Methodist church?”

Lives are being transformed through Radical Hospitality and Risk-Taking Mission. Williamsport UMC offered water, food and rest to more than 2000 bicyclists as part of the 25th annual Bike Virginia Tour. The mission of the church is to reach out to the larger community. Neighboring Rehoboth UMC in Williamsport offered a June weekend street fair where they served 680 cheeseburgers and 300 hot dogs and 400 cream cones to the community and received the names of 82 children who will be cared for at the beginning of school in the fall with supplies, prayer and support. Otterbein UMC in Hagerstown leads the way with its on-going 200 plus Bikes for the World collection each year, which involves connecting the mountains of Western Maryland with the plains of central Africa.

Lives are being transformed through intentional faith development. Salem UMC in Wolfsville offers the Hero’s Club every Monday from 3:30-6 p.m. This after school program is a joint venture of the church, in consultation with the local elementary school, where children can come for homework help, snacks, recreation and safety after school. It also provides a place for children and families to grow in their faith and learn more about the community.

The lives of young people are being transformed through worship. First UMC in Berkeley Springs, W.Va. has increased its worship and youth gatherings by starting a third service offsite (in a local fitness club) and a mid-week youth (middle and senior high focused) worship and fellowship. In cooperation with the community and the Extravagant Generosity of neighboring Trinity-Asbury UMC, Berkeley Springs First UMC is building an off-site building for even more youth, family, congregational and community ministries.

Lives are being transformed for Jesus Christ in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia: as 25 United Methodist Congregations funded and built a Habitat for Humanity home for a single mom and three children; through the Hispanic/Latino Ministry that worships and works at Calvary UMC in Martinsburg; and through the evangelist outreach of Berkeley County United Methodist Churches that hand out Bibles and Christian literature at the Berkeley County Youth Fair. God is blessing our lives with worship, service and witness.

The Western Region had 650 professions of faith in 2011 as compared to 669 in 2010. Average worship attendance for 2011 was 14,989, which was slightly down from 15,072 in 2010. The number of persons engaged in mission in 2011 was 9,190 as compared to 9,937 in 2010. Our region paid $2,547,335 in apportionments in 2011 which represented a payment rate of 92.6% – a slight decrease from 93.5% in 2010. More than 59% (107) of our congregations met the goal of 1 profession of faith for every 25 in worship. More than 31% (56) of our congregations met the goal of 2% increase in average worship attendance. More than 89% (170) of our congregations paid their apportionments in full. And the region celebrates that 66% (119) of our congregations are Acts 2 churches..

STEWARDSHIP REPORTS

Council on Finance and Administration (CC)

The General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits, in association with the General Council on Finance and Administration, hosted a Financial Leadership Forum March 1-2, 2011, in Fort Worth, Texas, in which every annual conference was invited to send a delegation to discuss the future sustainability of The United Methodist Church as a denomination, as annual conferences, and as local churches. The delegation learned that more than 26% of the attendees felt that their annual conferences were finding it difficult to meet their financial needs. These same attendees estimated that only 9% of the annual conferences were having difficulty five years ago. As more questions were asked, 35% of the attendees reported to the group that their conferences had no plans to build or maintain critical reserves, and more than 23% had no financial plan for funding the start of new congregations. The delegation also studied numbers showing the increasing burdens of debt and operating expenses on our local churches. The challenges for our denomination, our annual conferences, and our local churches are daunting.

In these challenging times, it is with humble gratitude that the Council on Finance and Administration (CFA) for the Baltimore-Washington Conference celebrates another year of strong financial health and recognizes the value of our conference's long-term plans for maintaining critical reserves and funding the start of new congregations. As we provide the summary of CFA activities for 2011, we focus on the future challenges in front of both our annual conference and our local churches. The steps that are being taken today are important to our long-term sustainability and outreach to our communities. In your reading of this report, we welcome your thanksgiving for our current financial health and your prayers for the future.

2011 Financial Results (Pre Audit):

Income

Total income for 2011 was $18,126,488, which was $178,712 (1.0%) more than the budgeted $17,947,776. Key to this performance was the apportionment income of $14,833,552, which was $33,788 (0.2%) over the budget of $14,799,764. The apportionment income represented a 90.46% collection rate. This rate is slightly less than the 90.51% recorded in 2010. Five hundred twenty-two of the BWC's 648 churches, or 81%, gave 100% of their apportionments. This compares to 516 churches, or 79%, who gave 100% in 2010. It is encouraging to note that many of the churches that gave less than 100% in 2011 actually increased their giving to two-times and three-times their previous levels of giving as they made strong long-term commitments to increase their apportionment support.

The collection rates for several of the past years are as follows:

2010:	90.51%	2006:	90.52%
2009:	89.24%	2005:	89.78%
2008:	87.00%	2004:	89.87%

The non-apportionment income of $3,432,936 was $284,924 over the budget of $3,148,012. Gifts to the conference and increased contributions for retiree health insurance costs accounted for most of the increases in the non-apportionment income.

Expenses

The expenses for the year were $17,830,700, which was $117,196 (0.2%) under the budget of $17,947,895. The overall net income prior to audit was $435,908.

Statistical Data Collection

The statistical data gathering process was further refined in 2011 as local churches continued to implement the new statistical guidelines that were introduced in 2010. This has resulted in a $412,000 reduction in the estimated income for 2012. The leadership team has made adjustments to its anticipated 2012 spending to accommodate this lower estimated income. These adjustments have not impacted the mission program initiatives approved by the annual conference.

BWC Apportionment Base

The expenses of a local church, minus dollars that are spent on mission, outreach and capital projects essentially comprise what is known as the apportionment base for a church. The apportionment for a local church is derived by multiplying the apportionment base by the benevolence factor that has been approved by annual conference for a given budget year.

The apportionment base for the BWC is calculated by adding all of the apportionment bases together for each of the local churches in the conference. The following table shows the historic trend of the BWC apportionment base over the last seven years. It is very significant change that the apportionment base will actually be decreasing by 5.6% in the 2013 budget. This is a reversal from the 3 to 6% growth normally recorded by the conference.

BWC Apportionment Base Historic Trends

	Apportionment Base	Apportionment Base Growth
2013	87,341,343	-5.6%
2012	92,516,624	10.0%
2011	Used 2010 Data	N/A *2yr% growth
2010	84,095,541	3.0%
2009	81,646,157	3.8%
2008	78, 672,464	5.7%
2007	74,441,687	6.6%

Note: The table is listed by applicable year for the budget. The apportionment base is from 2 years prior to each budget year.

2013 Budget

The reduction in the apportionment base for the 2013 budget forced the CFA to reconsider the potential long-term implications to the conference. Instead of taking steps to close a budget shortfall for a one-year period, the CFA chose to conduct an overall evaluation of the budgetary needs of the conference for today and into the future. This evaluation also includes the analysis of optimistic and pessimistic trends associated with the apportionment base. The evaluation is intended to provide a better understanding of the conference’s core missions and ministries, and ensure they are aligned with the potential changes in the apportionment base.

Other InitiativesSelection of New Independent Auditor

The Audit Committee of the Council on Finance and Administration conducted a search for an independent auditor in the first half of 2011. Several firms provided proposals, including McGladrey and Pullen, the current auditors. The committee announced at the 2011 annual conference session the selection of Ellin & Tucker for the 2011 year-end audit.

Usury Notice to Churches

As follow-up to the Usury resolution considered at the 2011 Annual Conference, the CFA published a letter to churches in October 2011 urging the local church finance committees to inquire about the lending practices of the financial institutions used by their church. Several guidelines were provided as a standard for evaluating acceptable financial institutions.

Conference Mission Center

After one full year of operation in the new Mission Center, the actual expenses and income, including the funding of the replacement reserve fund, are aligning very well with the cost models that forecast $2.5 million of savings in the new building over a 20-year period. It is anticipated that future cost reduction efforts at the Mission Center will lead to long-term savings well in excess of the model.

We are also pleased to welcome the African Art Museum of Maryland and their Executive Director, Doris Lignons, as a new tenant at the Mission Center. They relocated from Columbia, June 5, 2011, and formally opened their doors to the public in October. The museum is willing to set up on-site displays at our churches and conduct educational classes for all ages. As our partner at the Mission Center, we encourage our churches to explore programming, including Sunday School classes, youth outings, and mission fund raisers that can take advantage of the museum's wealth of resources and information.

Summary

As the delegation learned at the Financial Leadership Forum in Fort Worth, there are many annual conferences that are struggling to meet their financial commitments. It is in light of those observations that the Council on Finance and Administration thanks all of the local churches for their strong support of our connectional system and the joint ministry and outreach we provide to our regions. With focused attention on reducing administrative and operational expenses, the conference is positioned well to handle the current trends in the apportionment base. This focus will allow our ministries and outreach to remain strong as we maintain our high commitment to deliver quality services to the conference.

Concluding Thoughts

Our report would not be complete without extending a special note of appreciation to our conference leadership team and all of the members of our finance team who continue to work so diligently in managing our financial resources. Over this past period of great economic volatility, our team has been proactive in making the necessary adjustments to our conference budgets in a manner that has resulted in more dollars staying at the local church level. Our conference is truly blessed.

Conference Treasurer (CC)

We introduced seven key strategies for our long-term financial health last year that we are using to guide the stewardship efforts of the conference. I am pleased to report the progress that was made last year toward these objectives. It is this focus that will help us optimize mission and ministry opportunities with our combined resources.

Maintain a courageous and forward-leaning conference mission that is strengthening congregations and the conference for mission and ministry.

The 2020 Vision continues to address the importance of financial decisions in our long-term efforts to strengthen local congregations and the conference for mission and ministry. In addition, the Board of Trustees also made significant steps towards strengthening our congregations by launching the Facility Sustainability Ministry. This program is focused on helping churches evaluate how well their facilities support their ministry within the community.

Use technology to increase efficiency, improve analysis, and save the conference money.

Comprehensive evaluations of the conference's finance systems were performed in 2011 to identify a technology roadmap for continuous improvement. Steps will be taken in 2012 to implement system changes that will provide for better access to local church apportionment and direct billing records. Technology improvements are also anticipated in light of the conference's move to a new network management firm at the end of 2011 to better support the complexities of our network and distribution of applications. The Council on Finance and Administration also oversaw changes in 2011 to the conference's banking and financial audit relationships in efforts to maximize the value of these services.

Take advantage of new Mission Center cost controls.

After completing the first full year of operation in the new Mission Center, the evaluation of actual operating costs indicate that we should exceed the projected savings of $2.5 million over 20 years. The limited data estimates a total savings closer to $3.7 million as we continue to reduce the length of the 25-year mortgage by making 13 monthly payments each year and providing full funding to the capital replacement reserve.

Don't spend money without a plan and ensure spending furthers our vision, mission and goals.

When some of our long-term budget assumptions changed this year, this objective gave us motivation to further evaluate the next couple of budget cycles to ensure Conference priorities were in line with the efforts to lower the benevolence factor to roughly 16% to reduce apportionments to 10% of all the spending of our congregations. The decision this year to delay the formal rollout of the 2013 budget until the Pre-Conference sessions was in support of the analysis required to fulfill this objective.

Continue to increase the quality and strength of staff and conference leadership.

I am pleased to welcome Stacey Riley (Senior Accountant), Kiana Smith (Payroll), Moe Battley (Facility Manager), and Ricky Shaw (Facility Assistant) to our staff this year. They have each filled key positions as the staff continues to assess the most efficient ways to support the conference.

Hold congregations accountable for paying apportionments and clergy pension and benefits.

We increased the number of churches that gave 100% of their apportionments from 516 in 2010 to 522 in 2011, which now puts us at 81 percent for the entire conference. As we celebrated the 47 churches that increased their apportionment to 100% in 2011, it was also recognized that 41 churches with strong histories of giving 100% were unable to meet that goal last year. Understanding these changes gives us hope that our conference has the potential to soon report years in which 90% of our churches are able to meet a level of 100% apportionment support. These are good signs of health since the ability to lower the benevolence factor for local churches is tied directly to our ability to increase the overall apportionment collection rate of the conference.

Promote healthy stewardship in congregations.

Strides were taken this year to increase the transparency of the apportionment calculations for each church. Established guidelines are in place and continue to be updated with feedback from local churches.

I thank the Council on Finance and Administration, the Conference Board of Pensions, and the Board of Trustees for holding all of us accountable to these objectives. The members of these committees serve the conference with an admirable passion and dedication. With their leadership, the BWC is able to maintain a vital outreach to our communities and throughout the world.

Paul J. Eichelberger, Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer

Board of Trustees Report (CC)

As Trustees of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, our mission of supervision and maintenance is to provide good stewardship over all of the conference properties for the purpose of effective ministry. By doing so, we seek not only to embrace, but also to enhance, our conference's calling – to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. To this mission, we are committed and ever seeking to remain faithful.

While it would be difficult to summarize all of the Trustee Board's work, I would like to note some of the board's accomplishments:

We continued to work with our bishop and Cabinet to improve communication, increase workload efficiency and help identify conference properties that would be available for sale. Upon the Cabinet's approval, the Trustees took appropriate steps to prepare each property for sale and care for its disposition. Given the current market trends, this endeavor has proven to be tedious and arduous. This year, our bishop, Cabinet and board met more often to discuss our policies, procedures and practices related to church closures in an effort to improve our handling of these properties.

A number of church closures demanded the board's attention and care. With the discontinuance or closure or abandonment of a church, by Discipline, the Trustees assumed responsibility for the church's assets, records, buildings and land as well as its disposition. The board continues to work diligently through the disposition of: (Baltimore City churches) Olive Branch - Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, Strawbridge United Methodist Church; Monroe Street United Methodist Church; and the 1000 West Saratoga Street property; as well as Dover United Methodist Church in Reisterstown; Browns Chapel United Methodist Church in Dayton; and Keys Chapel United Methodist Church in Union Bridge. In addition, during this past year, the following churches were discontinued: on July 1, 2011, John Wesley United Methodist Church in Joppa; and Mahnes Chapel United Methodist Church in Berkeley Springs, West Virginia. Otterbein United Methodist Church in Green Springs, West Virginia, was discontinued Oct. 31, 2011. The board will be placing the Ceresville property on Liberty Road in Frederick, Maryland, on the market for sale and continuing to work through the sublease of 4831 Telsa Drive in Bowie, Maryland.

Challenges have faced the board as well. In the fall of 2011, White Rock and Johnsville United Methodist churches in Sykesville, announced that the congregations had decided to leave the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church and sought ownership of their properties. In the spirit of cooperation, the Trustees working along with our bishop, Cabinet and legal counsel have sought to mend the brokenness of these churches while remaining resolved to preserve and protect the “Trust Clause” of the Book of Discipline.

The Trustees celebrate the partnership they share with our Baltimore-Washington Conference’s effort to end homelessness and in particular, the “Be the Change” ministry, with the re-purposing of the Calvary-Casa del Pueblo United Methodist Church in the Columbia Heights area of Washington, D.C., to become the home of Calvary House, a permanent supportive housing residence building of 79 single person efficiency units. This missional outreach re-purposing of church property reflects the collaborative endeavors of the connectional church at its finest. The board also celebrates that the last available 900 square feet of our Mission Center have been subleased to the African Arts Museum. With more than 3,000 works of art to offer and numerous missional ties to Zimbabwe, Africa, the museum has found a home among “kindred folk” in the Mission Center.

The Episcopal residence and the Washington East District’s parsonage were inspected. The board is working toward making the necessary repairs and upgrades to both houses, which will assure our conference leadership has comfortable and adequate living space to call home. With both residences being more than 15 years old, particular attention will be given to each home to ensure proper care and maintenance.

Per the Book of Discipline, the Trustees have drafted a resolution concerning “Governmental Landmarking of Church- Owned Property.” After much research to investigate the matter, the board seeks endorsement of the resolution to help guide our annual conference’s work in purposing and re-purposing our properties.

The Board of Trustees continues to provide training at the Regional Leadership Days on the role and responsibilities of local church Trustees as well as to support local churches by being available.

I offer my sincere appreciation and thanks to all of the Trustees who faithfully serve and to the conference office on Finance and Administration. I am profoundly grateful for your cooperation and assistance to the Board of Trustees. I extend a sincere welcome to Joseph “Moe” Battley who has joined our conference as our new IT Facilities Manager. Shalom!

Until, remain blessed,
Rev. Antoine C. Love, President

Board of Pensions and Benefits (CC)

The Board of Pensions and Health Benefits continues to pursue its goal of enabling clergy and lay staff to accomplish their missions without concern for their long-term financial protection. We continue to position ourselves to face the challenges that lie ahead and to assist clergy and staff in their mission.

Pre-1982 Service: The General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits administers funds for the pre-1982 pension program. We currently contract for a rate of 0.8% of the Conference Average Compensation (CAC). This translates to a Past Service Annuity Rate (PSAR) of $553 per year of service for 2012.

The 2012 Past Service Rate (PSR) is confirmed at $553. The PSR for 2013 shall be set at $568. The Book of Discipline Para. 1506.7 grants authority to the annual conference to review the annuity rate for Pre-82 service and to adjust the PSR rate as appropriate taking into consideration the changes in the economy. Such annuity rate may remain the same or be increased without restriction.

Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP): The General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits actuarial valuation for MPP Annuities as of January 1, 2011, showed a fully funded plan, with no monies to be paid by BWC. Monies previously contributed to MPP will continue to be held in individual participant accounts.

Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP) Funding: The Baltimore-Washington Conference funds the program as follows:

- BWC is required to collect 3% of a participant's plan compensation (salary plus housing) for the Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP). CPP provides death and disability benefits for all eligible participants.
- BWC is required to collect an additional 3% of participant's plan compensation (salary plus housing) to fund the participant's Defined Contribution (DC). The DC part of the plan is similar to the old MPP, in which monies accumulate in an individual's personal account. The primary difference is that these contributions are not limited by the Denominational Average Compensation (DAC).
- The Defined Benefit (DB) portion of the plan provides for a guaranteed benefit at retirement. (That benefit would be equal to 1.25% of the DAC at the time of retirement times the number of years of service). In order to ensure that this benefit will be fully funded, the Annual Conference is required to make an additional payment for the Defined Benefit. Because the DB is the same for all retirees and tied to the DAC, the BWC shall collect 12% of each participant's plan compensation limited by the DAC. The reason for this is that all full-time clergy for the years 2006 and forward received the same Defined Benefit based on the number of years of service after Jan. 1, 2007. Part-time pastors receive a DB based on their percentage equivalent of a full-time appointment.

HealthFlex: For the past two years, the Conference Board of Pensions and Health Benefits has been working hard to evaluate modifications to our current retiree health insurance program that will balance concerns about the rising health care costs for retirees, the impact on apportionments to congregations, the high unfunded liability of the current plan imposed on the Conference, and our mission to the world.

Based on that evaluation, the CBOPHB brought a resolution to the 2011 Annual Conference proposing to discontinue retiree health benefits for all new clergy who enter the conference after 2012. The proposal sought to be faithful to the clergy who are presently retired and who are serving with the BWC as well as to our congregations and mission. The Annual Conference referred this action back to the CBOP for further study and information.

Recently, the denomination's General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits has made available a new retiree insurance option that is offered by Extend Health (www.extendhealth.com/gbophb). The new option is an insurance exchange, which offers a choice of several high-quality health insurance policies for Medicare-eligible retirees age 65 and older. This new option would allow retirees to choose policies better suited to their individual needs in terms of both coverage and overall cost to them; allowing the Conference to fund the costs, now and for the foreseeable future; and provide coverage in retirement for all future retirees, including those hired after Dec. 31, 2012. After studying the new option very carefully, the CBOPHB voted to adopt this new option effective January 1, 2013.

This new option does not affect retirees who are under age 65 or any future participants who retire before age 65. Pre age 65 retirees will remain on the active plan until the month they turn 65.

Further, the Board strongly recommends that all clergy of the Conference participate in Social Security since eligibility for Medicare is dependent on Social Security contributions. The CBOPHB and the BWC benefits staff will work with retirees in the transitioning to Extend Health.

Arrearages: Medical and Pension debts reached an all-time high during 2010. In order to remedy this situation, the Cabinet and Arrearage Committee adopted a new policy that went into effect in September 2010. This new practice provides for a closer working relationship between the Conference Guides and church officials. The goal is to identify a specific payment plan for past debt that would eliminate the arrearage while simultaneously enabling the church to stay up to date with current invoices. If there is no plan in place, or if a church is unable to identify a joint solution, there would be a formal recommendation for a change in appointment; a change in church alignment; church merger/closing or reduction in pastor's salary, which would be forwarded to the Cabinet. As of Dec. 31, 2011, there has been progress and reduction to the overall debt. We will continue to be diligent and work with those churches that require our assistance.

Final Comments: The Baltimore-Washington Conference thanks Frances Tagoe, the benefits administrator, for her enthusiastic and professional work on behalf of our participants and the Board. She effectively communicates and administers the benefits based on plan rules and regulations, the Book of Discipline, the Conference's policies and procedures, and all applicable state and federal laws so that there is an understanding of the benefits for our clergy and lay employees. It is her goal and the Board's goal to continue to provide the best possible benefits package for our Plan participants, while maintaining the utmost care for and fiduciary responsibility to you, the Plan participants, and those in the Baltimore-Washington Conference for whom we owe the same. We wish to also give thanks to Pier McPayten, controller, and the Guides and the district superintendents who all support the work we do.

Stewardship Center and Foundation (CC)

Mid-Atlantic United Methodist Foundation, Inc.

Investment management, endowments, stewardship education, charitable gift annuities, and planned giving advice are some of the many services available for local churches and agencies through the Mid-Atlantic United Methodist Foundation, Inc. The Foundation is an independent 501(c) nonprofit investment corporation established July 1, 2010, by merger of the United Methodist Stewardship Foundation of the Baltimore-Washington Conference and the Eastern-Pennsylvania-Peninsula United Methodist Foundation. The merger was approved by their respective boards of directors May 5, 2010, and May 13, 2010. The Mid-Atlantic United Methodist Foundation serves the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference, Peninsula-Delaware Conference, and the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

The ministry of Mid-Atlantic United Methodist Foundation focuses on being the primary resource for each Conference in five areas:

- Investing long-term assets on behalf of United Methodist churches and agencies;
- Leadership on the creation, management and governance of endowment funds;
- Assistance for individuals in planning gifts through donations, wills, or trusts;
- Comprehensive stewardship educational programs and materials;
- Conference leadership training in financial education and fiscal responsibility.

The Foundation advises individual churches and agencies on the process of establishing endowment funds, stewardship programs, charitable gift annuity programs and writing investment management policies. This process can often include creating and writing both endowment and investment policies with the church. Additional support is given by conducting seminars and sermons at both the district and church level in investment education, trust and estate planning, planned giving, fiduciary responsibilities and the overall importance of stewardship in funding ministry. The Foundation is particularly pleased to be sponsoring this year's featured speaker at annual conference, F. Clif Christopher, who will be educating all on financial stewardship.

A hundred percent of assets invested by the church with the Foundation's Investment Advisors are managed according to the Social Principles of the Book of Discipline. The Foundation's board of directors is comprised of both clergy and lay members of all three annual conferences.

Commission on Equitable Compensation (CC)

The Commission on Equitable Compensation (COEC) serves God and the Baltimore-Washington Conference with our main focus to help churches make Disciples and to be Acts 2 churches. The COEC helps provide financial support to struggling congregations to pay for full-time pastors, set standards for parsonages, sick leave, maternity/paternity, parsonage pet policies, etc. and provide training, networking and other resources.

The COEC met and discussed ways to be good financial stewards of the churches we serve. Consequently, the COEC recommends the following:

Under the church guidelines the following statement be added to the parsonage guidelines:

- In the event that the pastor appointed is not a provisional or full member of the Annual Conference, the church/charge may request at the introduction meeting with the SPRC a security deposit of up to $1,000 payable over the first six-month period of the appointment or a signed agreement that a portion of the last month of pay, not to exceed $1,000, be withheld until a final inspection of the parsonage is completed at the end of an appointment.

Commission on Equitable Compensation
Member, Joint Funding Task Force

Commission on Archives and History (CC)

The mission of the Commission on Archives & History (CAH) of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, as stated by the Book of Discipline(¶641) is:

- “to collect, preserve, and make accessible the historically significant records of the annual conference and its agencies, including data relating to the origin and history of the conference and its antecedents;
- “to encourage and assist the local churches in preserving their records, compiling their histories, and celebrating their heritage;
- “to provide for the permanent safekeeping of the historical records of all abandoned or discontinued churches;
- “to nominate to the General Commission on Archives and History buildings, locations, or structures within the annual conference for designation as historic sites or heritage landmarks; and
- “to maintain contact with officially designated historic sites and heritage landmarks in their bounds.”

In carrying out this mission, the Commission works jointly with the United Methodist Historical Society (UMHS) of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, with the Northeastern Jurisdiction and the General Commissions on Archives and History, and with the Strawbridge Shrine Association (SSA) in preservation of the Robert Strawbridge House and associated structures near New Windsor.

Challenges

The year 2011 was one of change and challenge for the CAH. Director James E. Reaves resigned in March to pursue other opportunities. A search ensued which resulted in the appointment of Robert W. Shindle in August. The Commission is indebted to several people who stepped in to carry on in the interim period, especially Assistant Director Wanda Barnes Hall.

In September, Mrs. Hall announced that she would be retiring at the end of the year and the Strawbridge Shrine Association announced that Resident Curator Laura Apostol would be resigning to relocate out of state. Searches will be undertaken for both positions in 2012.

On Nov. 25, the Rev. Edwin A. Schell died. He had been involved with the UMHS since 1955 and with the CAH at the Conference, Jurisdiction and General levels since their inception. Conference Historian and Archivist until 1995, Rev. Schell continued to be an invaluable resource called upon by staff and researchers until the week before his death.

Jurisdictional Meeting

The primary accomplishments of 2011 were associated with the annual meeting of the Northeast Jurisdiction CAH, which we hosted in New Windsor May 3-5. These annual meetings rotate among the ten conferences of the jurisdiction. Ten years ago, this conference hosted a meeting in the Washington region and twenty years ago in the Baltimore region. The 2011 meeting in our western region allowed participants to tour the Strawbridge Shrine and other historic places in Carroll County.

The Rev. Wm. Louis Piel, a CAH member and secretary of the SSA, chaired the planning committee for this event, which included the Revs. Emora Brannan, James Chance, Galen Menne, Dwight Sheesley and Arthur Thomas, as well as Dorothy Dougherty, Joan Ford, Wanda Hall, Carolyn Menne, Judy Piel, and Floyd and Lonise Robinson.

Vice-President Gabrielle Patrick served as the meeting registrar; and Paul Nichols and Richard Rhorer, treasurer and assistant treasurer, served as the meeting's bursars. Mrs. Hall set up and tended to the display area at the Conference Center in the Brethren Service Center where participants were housed.

The Rev. C. Anthony Hunt, Cabinet representative to CAH, welcomed and led the opening worship on Tuesday for nearly a hundred participants. Richard Rhorer offered a presentation on his experience as part of a team from the National Institute of Standards & Technology on the project to preserve the Declaration of Independence at the National Archives.

Wednesday's bus-tour from New Windsor included McDaniel College (the former Western Maryland College) in Westminster, where visitors were greeted by Dr. Roger Casey, its newly installed president. The college has historic ties to the Methodist Protestant Church, and was a frequent site of annual conference sessions through the end of the last century. Wednesday's luncheon was provided by Westminster UMC.

The video, "We Have Come This Far by Faith II: Celebrating the past, envisioning the future," was part of the first day's proceedings and prepared participants for Wednesday's luncheon presentation by the Rev. William Bobby McClain, the Mary Elizabeth Joyce Professor of Preaching and Worship at Wesley Theological Seminary. Dr. McClain spoke of African-Americans who remained in the Methodist Church despite the attractions of predominantly African-American denominations and despite enforced segregation in the Central Jurisdiction.

Also on Wednesday's program was a video on the experience of two young women held as fugitive slaves who were rescued from jail through the efforts of Methodist supporters. In the video, our own CAH member Lonise Robinson, historian of Asbury UMC in Washington, read a letter kept by a descendant of one of those women, now a member of Asbury. The day concluded with a choral presentation by Asbury's choirs directed by Everett P. Williams.

The Rev. Robert Williams, General Secretary of the General CAH, spoke to the gathering on "Does United Methodism Have a Usable Past?" Dr. Williams highlighted the career of "the fighting parson," John M. Chivington (1821-1894), a onetime Presiding Elder, Indian missionary and abolitionist, who in 1864 led 700 troops of the Colorado Volunteers to a peaceful village of more than 100 lodges at Sand Creek where they slaughtered several hundred Cheyenne people, the majority of them women and children. Col. Chivington remained a local preacher after the massacre. The 1996 General Conference issued an apology for the actions of this "prominent Methodist" and in 2011, the General Commission on Christian Unity & Inter-religious Concerns (CUIC) gave $50,000 to the National Park Service toward the establishment of a learning center at the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site, calling it "only a single step in a very complex and emotional journey for our church."

This incident is one we might like to forget, but reminds us of the fallibility of leaders in both church and state, and the need to atone for past injustices. The Civil War experience promises to be center-stage at next year's Jurisdictional Conference, which will be hosted by the Susquehanna Conference in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Strawbridge Shrine

The main attraction of the Jurisdiction CAH Annual Meeting was, of course, the Strawbridge Shrine. The Rev. James Talley, Dorothy Shindle and Laura Apostol; president, treasurer and curator respectively of the SSA, organized and led the bus tour to the Shrine where the visitors were met by tour guide coordinator Marian Goette and others in colonial era costumes who shared their knowledge and love of the site and its history.

Working in part with funding in the Conference budget for Archives & History, the Strawbridge Shrine Association was able to repair, restore and revitalize the site. The Strawbridge House was painted and protected against the elements, repairs were made to the barn, a meditation trail was laid out, the visitor center was equipped with a research room and the curator's second floor residence was refurbished in preparation for the next curator.

The SSA is blessed with a large and active membership willing to volunteer in activities ranging from repairs to tours. The CAH is particularly indebted to them for their work on this year's program.

Lovely Lane

Historic Lovely Lane UMC is home to the conference archives, research library and museum. While the staff is present and working throughout the week, researchers and visitors are welcome Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and by appointment. Telephone and e-mail queries are welcome, but may not be answered immediately as there are few electronic resources to call upon for quick answers.

In August, the HVAC unit, which controls the climate in the archival vault, failed and, unexpectedly, needed to be repaired and then replaced. The UMHS appropriated $10,000 to replace the air conditioning and dehumidification units with a single unit capable of carrying out both functions, along with a new system to carry condensate outside the building. Installation was completed in mid-November.

Boilers and heating systems in the church were replaced and repaired this year, resulting in a great deal of ongoing construction activity in the halls around the archives, library and museum. The removal of temporary flooring when work was complete revealed the extent to which the tile flooring on the ground floor is breaking up. The CAH, UMHS and the church Trustees recognize the need to deal with a situation, which is at present unsightly before it becomes unsafe.

Exhibits at Lovely Lane have remained static this year, in part due to the absence of staff to curate them, and in part due to the ongoing work in the museum area. Despite this, in 2011 an estimated 800 visitors toured the museum and the Library hosted 107 researchers, using library materials and archival records. Staff answered 439 inquiries by phone or e-mail.

Volunteers contributed 668 hours of service to the library and archives in 2011. This number does not include the work of CAH/UMHS officers, of Lovely Lane Church docents (or the Strawbridge Shrine Association).

At an end-of-year luncheon, brothers John and Bill Parrish were commended for their 360 hours of volunteer service in 2011, and for their many years of volunteer service. Other active volunteers this year included Elinor Thompson, Dave Hall, Joan Ford, Galen Menne, Juanita Warrick Williams, Joyce White, Violeta Sharp Jones, Ed and Wilmeta Chance, Doug and Nancy Hobbs

Local Church Histories

In an effort to document the unique history of each church in the conference, the CAH encourages every church to write and publish its history. Each year, we sponsor a Church History Contest with categories for churches with fewer than 200, from 200-500, and more than 500 members. If there is only one entry in a category, no prize is given and the history is carried over to compete in the next year's contest.

In 2010-2011, there were four entries in the Class II category (200-500 members) of the Local Church History Contest. The winning entry was "The History of Messiah United Methodist Church, previously called Mount Pleasant United Brethren in Christ Church: 160 years in Taneytown, Maryland," by the Rev. Arthur Dicken Thomas Jr. There were no winners announced in the other classes, as there had not been enough submissions in the past year.

We have a large vertical file on local churches in our library. Local churches are encouraged to forward to Lovely Lane significant documentation of their history (church anniversary celebrations, new building or new ministry dedications, membership directories, etc.)

A special project this year has been the effort undertaken by Elinor Thompson to copy records of historically African-American churches in southern Anne Arundel County. The commission stands ready to assist any church that has a particular problem in suitably storing and preserving its own records. While we are only mandated to take in records of closed churches, it is our goal that no records be lost for lack of suitable storage or enough effort on our part.

Strawbridge Shrine Association, Inc. (CC)

The Strawbridge Shrine Association owns and maintains the 35 acres and seven buildings that comprise the property that was first settled by Elizabeth and Robert Strawbridge in the early 1760s. Robert Strawbridge is now accepted as the "first preacher" of Methodism in America. No report to the Baltimore-Washington Conference should begin without thanking the Conference and Bishop John Schol for the wonderful support, spiritual and financial, that they give the Shrine. Our site is one of the finest of its kind in the country and your financial support has played a great part in its development.

I am happy to report the following accomplishments during 2011:

- All white buildings scraped, primed and painted.
- Major repair to main beams in barn by skilled Amish workers.
- All plumbing in Curator's Residence repaired/replaced.
- Well water holding tank replaced.
- Received many items and artifacts of historical significance.
- Successful Heritage Day with increase in attendance.
- Detailed review of Curator's contract with complete re-write.
- Completion of Curator's Manual of Duties.
- Construction of Meditation Pathway (continuing).
- Contract with Arbaugh Studios for planning a major expansion of Visitor's Center.
- Careful review of Insurance Policy.
- Hosted a very successful meeting of the Northeastern Jurisdiction Commission on Archives and History
- Held a "packed Log Meeting House" Christmas Vesper Service.
- Completed a total remodel of unused space in curator's residence into an Archives and Research Room. Thanks again to the BWC for furnishings retrieved from the Conference Center move.
- Chinked the Evans House in the area where we hope to add a kitchen.
- Received a Civil War display, which is in the Strawbridge House
- Purchased a computer system for the Archives and Research Room.

Our Board is comprised of exceptional people who love the Lord and The United Methodist Church, and are committed to keeping the church's founding place alive and vibrant. My personal involvement now exceeds 50 years and it is an honor to serve as president. Thank you for your support. Please visit the Shrine at 2650 Strawbridge Lane in New Windsor or at www.StrawbridgeShrine.org. Gifts and donations may be sent to PO Box 388, New Windsor, MD 21776.

Rev. James F.W. Talley, J.D, President

United Methodist Historical Society of The Baltimore-Washington Conference (CC)

Incorporated in November, 1855, as the "American Methodist Historical Society" (in order to emphasize a pan-Methodist hope that shared history and heritage could become a unifying and re-unifying force) the Baltimore-Washington Society is arguably the oldest in The United Methodist Church and the model for the current national United Methodist Historical Society and for all other existing conference societies. For 156 years, through civil and international conflict, economic prosperity, depression and recession, calamitous fire and storm, the Society has faithfully sought to carry out its mission of gathering, preserving and sharing our United Methodist and Pan-Methodist heritage as an instrument of discernment and empowerment for mission and discipleship in the world, where God has placed the "people called United Methodists" who are "one throughout the world" witnesses together to the truth of John Wesley's last words: "The best of all is that God is with us!"

In May, 2011, the Historical Society enjoyed helping to host the annual meeting of the Northeastern Jurisdiction Commission on Archives and History held in New Windsor, with special focus on the work of our sister organization, the Strawbridge Shrine Association. This excellent meeting is reported upon in detail in the Report of the Commission on Archives and History. The Jurisdictional meeting rotates among the conferences and will return to us sooner now that the number of annual conferences is reduced in the Northeast. We congratulate the Rev. Wm. Louis Piel and all who worked with him to make our hosting such a success. The 2012 meeting of the NEJCAH will be hosted in May by the Susquehanna Conference in Gettysburg.

The annual meeting of the Society convened June 11, 2011, at Lovely Lane United Methodist Church: Baltimore City Station. Business conducted included the election of officers – who also serve as officers of the Commission on Archives & History – recognition of winners of the local church history contest, and other annual reports. The highlight of the day was a presentation by the Rev. Raymond T. Moreland, a retired Elder of the Conference who previously served as executive secretary of the Maryland Bible Society. The Maryland Bible Society, which celebrated its 200th anniversary in 2010, has now ceased to be a physical presence in Baltimore City and operates entirely online. The Historical Society wished to acknowledge the invaluable work of the Bible Society in which United Methodists – of all strands – have played an important leadership role. Of course, being United Methodists, the day concluded with a bountiful meal which was enjoyed by all. Plans are underway for the 2012 Annual Meeting to be held in the Southern Region in Annapolis at Asbury UMC (87 West Street).

The past year has been one of transitions for the Historical Society and the Commission on Archives & History. Early in 2011, James Reaves, who had served as Director of the Archives and Museum for more than six years resigned. Wanda Hall, who had served as assistant to the director for more than nine years, announced her intention to retire effective at the close of 2011. Wanda had "held the fort" alone during the period that a successful search for a new director went forward. In August, Robert Shindle began service as the new director of the archives and Lovely Lane Museum. We feel most fortunate to have Robert on board. Most recently, he has been the archivist for the University of Baltimore. While he is an active member of the Episcopal Church, Robert comes with a United Methodist heritage. His grandfather was a clergy member of this Conference from the United Brethren (Old Constitution) and Methodist branches. Robert brings both professional experience and academic credentials combined with a deep love of church history, which will bear fruit in renewed and fresh ideas for our work together. Special appreciation should be expressed to Paul Eichelberger for his assistance in the search and selection process and for his continued guidance with the archival responsibilities of the Commission.

In addition, Paul Nichols, who has served splendidly as treasurer of the Society for the past six years, indicated a desire to leave that office at the close of 2011. Paul has been a tremendous help and we will miss his steady care for our finances. We are pleased he will stay on as part of the Society's Finance Committee. The treasurer of the Society is a voluntary position. It is with pleasure that we report that Lee Norene Bernadette Scott will serve as the new treasurer and Richard Mather Rogers will serve as the new assistant treasurer.

In December 2011, the Society was touched by the deaths of two good friends and supporters: Rev. Millard Knowles – long-time pastor of Old Otterbein Church and a Director of the Society – and Rev. Harold Ammons who, with his wife Betty, has given long hours of service to the museum across the years.

On November 25, 2011, the Historical Society suffered the loss of our Executive Secretary, emeritus, the Rev. Edwin Austin Schell. Present from the establishment of the Museum at Lovely Lane – in 1955 at the centennial of the Society – more than any other single individual Ed Schell is responsible for making the Collection and Museum at Lovely Lane the world-recognized repository that it has become. When one traveled about the United States, east, north south or west, or even to Canada or overseas to historical gatherings, the mere mention of his name inspired respect and recognition. His reputation was world-wide. Leaders and scholars sought his counsel and valued highly Ed's skill and learning.

Ed was a great historian who studied history to liberate his mind to transform and shape the world. He was the author of numerous articles in scholarly, religious and secular publications. He was the driving force behind and the writer of substantial portions of what remains the definitive history of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, "Those Incredible Methodists." He continued research and writing – if anything, with more vigor and freedom – after his formal retirement from itinerant ministry in 1988. He had compiled his personal memoirs, had completed but not fully revised and edited "A History of the Historical Society of the Baltimore-Washington Conference" (founded in 1855 as the American Methodist Historical Society), and was working on a much-needed history of Lovely Lane Church: Baltimore City Station. He was an engaged historian. This man of truly encyclopedic knowledge and passionate devotion to the task of the Historical Society will be sorely missed.

With all this transition, we can report, however, that we are optimistic about our future. Stabilization of staff and the good fortune to have secured new and able leadership in key areas encourages us to move forward with confidence.

There are major challenges before us, such as:

- Deterioration of the original floor of the museum, which will require costly replacement and simultaneous re-evaluation of the entire museum layout for both research and display.

- A noticeable attrition of local churches: When these fail to merge with other ongoing congregations, the care of their records devolves upon the Commission on Archives & History. This creates a crisis of seeking additional fire-proof vault storage space. The so-called “new” vault (constructed under the south portico of Lovely Lane in the late 1960s-early 70s) and the original Lovely Lane Vault (1885) are now both virtually filled to capacity. Exploration and engineering studies must be undertaken to consider construction of additional archival quality vault space.
- In addition to records, closing of churches often produces a variety of artifacts which should be added to the Historical Society Collection. These require both storage and appropriate display space. The Curatorial Committee of the Society is in discussion with the Trustees of Lovely Lane concerning a proposal to expand the museum display and interpretation space into the original chapel on the main level of the Lovely Lane building. This multi-purpose sharing of space in such a very active structure is complex, but it is exciting and a most promising development.
- The year 2016 will mark the bicentennial of the death of Bishop Francis Asbury. While he died in Virginia on the way to General Conference in 1816, his public funeral services and interment took place in Baltimore as part of the General Conference in May. Asbury’s death marked the end of an epoch as a purely “American” church could now develop on its own after the pioneer bishop’s tutelage. Preparation for an appropriate observance in Baltimore of this major historical milestone will form an important undertaking during the quadrennium ahead. Such an observance would likely include a gathering of scholars and other public events under the auspices of the General Commission on Archives & History, the General Church United Methodist Historical Society, and the United Methodist Historical Society of the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

A major focal point of such observances will, of course, be Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Asbury’s final resting place. Mt. Olivet is unique among the historical sites of the denomination. Within its 53 acres, more than 200 United Methodist preachers lie buried. In the “Bishop’s Lot” alone a host of those who were the light of their times are gathered. To name just a few: Francis Asbury, founding bishop; Bishop John Emory, namesake of Emory University now in Atlanta; Bishop Beverly Waugh, long-time senior bishop of the M.E. Church; Bishop Enoch George, among the earliest American-born bishops; Robert Strawbridge, first Methodist preacher in America; Elizabeth Strawbridge, Robert’s spouse and probably responsible for the evangelization of the first “convert” in America; Jesse Lee, pioneer of Methodism in New England and first historian of the church; Lyttleton F. Morgan, passionate advocate for education of African Americans and namesake of Morgan State University in Baltimore; E. Stanley Jones, world-renowned missionary (who was converted and made his commitment to service in the old Memorial Church on the grounds of the cemetery); and the planned resting place of the late Bishop James K. Mathews. It is also the site of the time capsule interred by the World Methodist Council in 1966 at the celebrations of the bicentennial of the introduction of Methodism in America; it is to be opened in 2066. Seeing that this historic site is ready to receive the anticipated stream of distinguished visitors and national and worldwide pilgrimage groups must be a priority for Baltimore-Washington Conference United Methodists.

Fundamentally, the Historical Society of the Baltimore-Washington Conference exists and carries on its mission supported by the membership of concerned United Methodists. The writer of this report would challenge every member, clergy and lay, of this great conference – among the oldest in the denomination – to become a member. Dear Reader, are YOU a member? Together let us recall with Samuel: “Hitherto hath the LORD helped us.” (I Sam. 7:12)

The great Christian scholar, C. S. Lewis, wrote in his “Literary Essays”:

To study the past does indeed liberate us from the present, from the idols of our own market-place. But I think it liberates us from the past too. I think no class of men are less enslaved to the past than historians.

In a period of great transitions, your Historical Society looks to the future, a future of service to you, and with you to all of humankind, in the name of Jesus Christ.

Communications (CC)

The communications department of the Baltimore-Washington Conference continues to make progress in several areas this year, as we share how God’s story intersects with the churches and people of the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

On the personnel side, Mark Fondersmith was hired in September as the conference graphic designer. He will lead the day-to-day management of the art direction for various conference initiatives, including the design of the award-winning conference newspaper, the UMConnection.

With a new staff member and a design revision of the UMConnection and a complete redesign of the conference Web site, the two chief communication vehicles for the conference have a new look and feel. The communications group was also particularly active in the secular media in 2011, by promoting and interpreting news in the conference.

Social media has become an emphasis for the conference. The conference has a strong presence on Facebook, Twitter, YouTube and a library of podcasts that are available as resources on iTunes.

The communications department will continue to provide new resources and develop new ideas to tell the conference story in a way that is fresh, innovative and relevant. We invite you to continue to share your story with others in the connection, as together we live out the conference vision: to “seek to be like Christ as we call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples and grow 600 Acts 2 congregations.”

RECOMMENDATIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

STEWARDSHIP MINISTRIES

Recommendations from the Council on Finance and Administration

The proposed budget of $17,086,722 shall be adopted for 2013, including an apportionment income budget of $14,185,326. This represents a reduction of 6.4% in the apportionment asking from the 2012 budget.

The Benevolence Factor (BF) for 2013 is set at 17.75%, a reduction from 18.00% in 2012. The collection rate assumption for 2013 is set at 91.5%, an increase from 91.0% in 2012.

As required by the Book of Discipline, the ratio for World Service and Conference Benevolences shall be set as follows: 33% for World Services and 67% for Conference Benevolences and other General Church Benevolences, with fine adjustments being made between Conference sessions by CFA.

The firm Ellin & Tucker is approved as independent auditors to audit the Conference Treasurer's financial records for 2011.

The date for the closing of the 2012 books shall be set as January 15, 2013, with all payments to be received by the Treasurer's office not later than January 15, 2013.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference grants authority to the Council on Finance and Administration, in consultation with the Bishop, to act on financial matters between sessions of the Annual Conference.

NARRATION OF 2013 BUDGET

Apportionment Collection Rate: 91.5%

The projected collection of the amount apportioned to churches in the 2013 Budget.

Benevolence Factor – 2013: 17.75%

The benevolence factor is the percentage churches are apportioned based on their operating expenditures less exclusions. The percentage for 2013 decreased from 18.00% to 17.75%.

REVENUE

Apportionments: $14,185,326

A church's share of the local and global mission work and operating expenses of the Annual Conference as determined by the apportionment formula.

Grants: $113,300

This represents grants given directly to the conference for ministry and mission. For example, General Church grants to operate the Episcopal Office and residence.

Event Registration: $1,916,073

This includes Annual Conference registration, workshop registrations, camping and retreat registrations (majority of line item) and other conference events.

Publications: $19,176

This includes sales or rentals of publications and videos; Discipleship Adventure Guide books, paid UMConnection subscriptions, DVDs and other materials.

Individual Gifts:

Gifts coming from individuals for specific programs. These are for the conference specifically rather than for ministries outside of the conference. No such gifts are anticipated in 2013.

Reimbursements: $32,000

The conference receives reimbursements from denominational agencies for specific operating programs. The Trustees are reimbursed for the expenses of property upkeep when that property is sold.

Other Income/Sources of Funds: $777,847

Miscellaneous income or sources of funds, such as the use of funds held from previous years, funding from agency reserve funds, etc.

Interest: $43,000

An estimate of the interest the conference will earn on operating funds in investment vehicles.

TOTAL OPERATING REVENUE: $ 17,086,722

EXPENSES

DISCIPLESHIP

Regional Ministry: $2,702,506

Funds to operate the ministries that call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples and grow Acts 2 churches. The Regions are, the Annapolis-Southern Region, Baltimore Region, Washington Region and Western Region. This includes Guides and District Superintendents.

Discipleship Ministry Teams

Connectional Ministries: $592,458

Funds to operate the administrative aspects of the Ministry Teams including salary expense, benefits, travel, and continuing education. Funds are also allocated for Discipleship Council and Connectional Table.

Grow Missions:

a. Conference Mission and Social Justice Programs: $507,838

Through Grants to specific Social Justice Ministries such as Action for the Homeless, Appalachian Development, Justice for Our Neighbors and UM Community Services, the conference seeks to grow mission and ministry.

Other specific ministry areas funded through this ministry area are our advocacy partnerships with Conferences and ministries in other Conferences, such as Zimbabwe, Korea, Latin America and Russia.

There will be funds devoted to the new Hope for the City Initiative through Shalom training and Community and Church Development.

This ministry team also contains the funding for Deaf Ministries and Justice for Our Neighbors.

b. General and Jurisdictional Apportionments: $3,495,730

The funds that the denomination and Northeast Jurisdiction request for ministry and programs from each conference. The conference is proud of its track record of consistently paying 100% of these apportionment askings for over a decade. They include contributions to the specific funds listed below.

- World Service

To help our denomination to strengthen its evangelism efforts, stimulate church growth, expand Bible studies and enrich spiritual commitment. This fund allows us to share in a worldwide ministry, including support for missionaries.

- Interdenominational Cooperation

This fund allows United Methodists to have an effective presence in the activities of ecumenical organizations.

- Africa University

This fund supports the further development of the first private university for men and women in Africa.

- Black College Fund

This fund represents the denomination's support of the operation and capital funding of historically black colleges and medical schools.

- Ministerial Education Fund

This fund provides our church support for the recruitment and education of future pastors and bishops.

- Episcopal Fund

This fund pays the salaries and benefits of active bishops in the denomination and supports retired bishops.

- General Administration

This fund supports administrative areas of the church, such as the General Council on Finance and Administration, the General Conference session, and Archives and History.

- Jurisdictional Administration

This fund supports mission and ministry throughout the Northeastern Jurisdiction.

Recommendations from Conference Board of Pensions and Health Benefits

1. The BWC will continue to provide retiree medical to all eligible participants – must be on our medical plan five consecutive years prior to retirement.
2. The age 65 retiree health insurance changes from HealthFlex Medicare Companion Plan to the new option, Extend Health.
3. The pre-age 65 retirees remain on the active plan (HealthFlex) until the month they turn 65, then change to Extend Health.
4. The CRSP Defined Benefit rate shall remain 12% of the participant's Plan Compensation limited by the DAC.
5. The CRSP Defined Contribution rate shall remain 3% of the participant's Plan Compensation.
6. The CPP contribution rate shall remain 3% of the participant's Plan Compensation.
7. The CRSP and CPP contributions shall be paid monthly to the Annual Conference by the church or other salary paying unit.
8. That in accordance with paragraph (e) of Supplement One, the surviving spouse benefit shall continue to be 85% of the participant's formula.
9. That the special grants for Marguerite Hall, Madelyn Hoffman, Dallas Beall and Grace Jones be continued.
10. Pre-1982 Service – Past Service Rate (PSR): The Annual Conference shall approve the following pre-1982 prior service funding plan in compliance with the Disciplinary requirement listed in ¶1506.8: The Past Service Rate for 2012 is confirmed at $553. The PSR for 2013 shall be set at $568. ¶1506.7 grants authority to the Annual Conference to review the annuity rate for Pre-82 service and to adjust the PSR rate as appropriate taking into consideration the changes in the economy. Such annuity rate may remain the same or be increased without restriction.

For the past several years, the Conference Average Compensation (CAC) has increased by an average of almost 4% per year, and we expect that pattern to continue. The PSR will automatically increase to the amount needed to maintain the minimum of 0.8% of the CAC.

11. The Annual Conference shall approve the following pre-1982 prior service funding plan in compliance with the Disciplinary requirement listed in ¶1506.8: As of Jan. 1, 2011, assuming 2% annual PSR increases, the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits' actuarial valuation of the plan for the Conference shows more assets than benefits obligations.*

The funding plan as of Jan. 1, 2011, for 2013 is summarized below.

Supplement One Liability.....	$50,568,135
Current Plan Funding.....	$74,162,371
Funded Status, 1/1/11.....	$23,594,236

*Assuming 7 % interest and the RP 2000 Mortality Table.

12. The following resolution, as required for IRS compliance, should be approved:
Resolutions Relating to Rental/Housing Allowances for Retired or Disabled Clergypersons of the Baltimore-Washington Conference

The Baltimore-Washington Conference (the "Conference") adopts the following resolutions relating to rental/housing allowances for active, retired or disabled clergypersons of the Conference:

WHEREAS, the religious denomination known as The United Methodist Church (the "Church"), of which this Conference is a part, has in the past functioned and continues to function through ministers of the gospel (within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code section 107) who were or are duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of the Church ("Clergypersons");

WHEREAS, the practice of the Church and of this Conference was and is to provide active clergypersons with a parsonage or a rental/housing allowance as part of their gross compensation;

WHEREAS, pensions or other amounts paid to active, retired and disabled clergypersons are considered to be deferred compensation and are paid to active, retired and disabled clergypersons in consideration of previous active service; and

WHEREAS, the Internal Revenue Service has recognized the Conference (or its predecessors) as the appropriate organization to designate a rental/housing allowance for clergypersons who are or were members of this Conference and are eligible to receive such deferred compensation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

THAT an amount equal to 100% of the pension or disability payments received from plans authorized under The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church (the Discipline), which includes all such payments from the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits (GBOPHB), during the years 2012-2013 by each active, retired, or disabled clergyperson who is or was a member of the Conference, or its predecessors, be and hereby is designated as a rental/housing allowance for each such clergyperson; and

THAT the pension or disability payments to which this rental/housing allowance applies will be any pension or disability payments from plans, annuities or funds authorized under the Discipline , including such payments from the GBOPHB and from a commercial annuity company that provides an annuity arising from benefits accrued under a GBOPHB plan, annuity or fund authorized under the Discipline , that result from any service a Clergyperson rendered to this Conference or that an active, retired or disabled Clergyperson of this Conference rendered to any local church, annual conference of the Church, general agency of the Church, other institution of the Church, former denomination that is now a part of the Church, or any other employer that employed the Clergyperson to perform services related to the ministry of the Church or its predecessors, and that elected to make contributions to, or accrue a benefit under, such a plan, annuity or fund for such active, retired, or disabled Clergyperson's pension or disability as part of his or her gross compensation.

NOTE The rental/housing allowance that may be excluded from a Clergyperson's gross income in any year for federal income tax purposes is limited under Internal Revenue Code section 107(2) and regulations thereunder to the least of: (1) the amount of the rental/housing allowance designated by the Clergyperson's employer or other appropriate body of the Church (such as this Conference in the foregoing resolutions) for such year; (2) the amount actually expended by the Clergyperson to rent or provide a home in such year; or (3) the fair rental value of the home, including furnishings and appurtenances (such as a garage), plus the cost of utilities in such year.

Recommendation from Commission on Equitable Compensation

- In consideration of the current economic times, to help struggling churches financially the COEC recommends that increments be decreased from 30 years to 15 years (maximum increments at $250 per year not to exceed $3,750.), for new appointments beginning July 1, 2013, or thereafter.
- The COEC did not recommend raising the minimum salary in 2011. The COEC recommends that there be a modest cost of living increase of 2% (an increase of $763.70) raising the minimum to $38,948 for calendar year 2013.

Resolution to Change the Rules of the Session

RULES OF THE SESSION

¶5410. Rules of the Session —

1. Rules of Organization and Order.

The Rules of the Session of the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference (hereinafter “Conference”) of The United Methodist Church (hereinafter “UMC”) shall be subject to the current Book of Discipline of the UMC (hereinafter “Discipline”).

A. Membership of the Conference shall consist of the following:

1. Deacons and Elders in full connection¹, Provisional members², Associate members, Affiliate members³, and Local Pastors under full-time and part-time appointment to a pastoral charge.⁴
2. Lay members.
 - a. Lay members elected or appointed to membership in the Conference shall have been members of the UMC for two years preceding their election or appointment, and shall have been active participants in the UMC for at least four years preceding their election or appointment.
 - b. Lay members and alternates shall be elected by each charge equal in number to the clergy members appointed to that charge. In addition, each charge may elect lay members equal to one lay person per 300 church members and fraction thereof, if the - total number of lay members would thereby exceed the number of clergy members appointed to that charge.

- c. Lay persons needed to equalize lay and clergy membership, as reported by the Conference Secretary. This number of laity shall be appointed annually, in equal numbers from each District, by the District Superintendent.
 3. The Conference Lay Leader; the Conference Director of Lay Speaking Ministries; Conference Presidents of the United Methodist Women, United Methodist Men, United Methodist Youth, Conference College Student Organization and the Conference Young Adult organization; the Conference Scouting Coordinator⁵; and lay persons who chair conference agencies.
 4. District Lay Leaders.
 5. Three youth from each district selected by the Conference Council on Youth Ministries.
 6. One young adult (aged 18 - 30) from each district⁶, selected by the Conference Young Adult Organization.
 7. Lay members elected to the Discipleship Council, the Council on Finance and Administration, the Board of Ordained Ministry and the Rules Committee, who are not otherwise members of the Conference.
 8. Members of the Staff Management Team of the Conference who are lay persons and who are members of churches within the Conference.
 9. The Conference Chancellor(s), if not otherwise a member of the Conference.
 10. Lay members and elected staff of General Boards and Agencies of the UMC who are members of churches within the Conference.
 11. Deaconesses and home missionaries as defined in the current Discipline.⁷
 12. Diaconal Ministers whose membership is in the Conference.⁸
 13. Other Conference attendees who shall be seated in the Conference sessions and given the privileges of the floor without vote.
 - a. Lay missionaries regularly appointed by the Board of Global Ministries in nations other than the United States;
 - b. Certified lay missionaries from nations other than the United States serving within the bounds of the Conference;
 - c. Diaconal Ministers serving in a church-related agency within the bounds of the Conference, whose church membership is in another Annual Conference.

B. Officers and Duties.

1. The Presiding Officer shall be the Bishop of the Washington Episcopal Area, or, in case of inability, as provided by the current Discipline. The Presiding Officer shall see that all business pertaining to the Conference is brought before it, and conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Discipline and the Rules of the Session; and shall appoint all committee members who have not been otherwise nominated by the Conference Nominations Committee and elected by the Conference.
2. The Conference Secretary, having served as Secretary-Designate for one year, shall be elected by the Conference¹⁰ on nomination by the Conference Nominations Committee, in consultation with the Bishop.
 - a. The election shall be at the annual session preceding a regular meeting of General Conference and shall be for a four-year term.
 - b. The duties and responsibilities of the Conference Secretary shall include: keeping an accurate record of the proceedings of the Conference session; ensuring that the Official Journal of the Conference (hereinafter “Journal”) is printed, substantially bound, and disseminated. The Secretary shall ensure that the Journals and papers of the Conference are preserved.

- c. The Secretary shall submit to the General Conference any petitions passed by the Conference.
- d. The Secretary shall appoint and train persons to serve as Tellers and Pages during the annual Conference session.
3. A Secretary Designate, as needed, shall be elected by the Conference on nomination by the Conference Nominations Committee, in consultation with the Bishop. The Secretary designate shall perform such tasks as the Secretary may direct and become familiar with the duties of the office.
4. The Conference Statistician, having served as Statistician Designate for one year, shall be elected by the Conference¹¹ on nomination by the Conference Nominations Committee, in consultation with the Bishop. The election shall be at the annual session preceding a regular meeting of General Conference and shall be for a four-year term. The duties and responsibilities of the Conference Statistician shall include: receiving, critically checking for errors, and, after making all necessary corrections, compiling the statistical reports of all the churches. These reports shall be published in the Journal.
5. The Conference Treasurer shall be nominated by the Council on Finance and Administration and elected by the Conference at the annual session following General Conference.¹² The term of office shall be for four years to commence on January 1 following the election. The duties and responsibilities of the Conference Treasurer shall be those defined by the current Discipline,¹³ as well as any other duties required by the Conference.
6. The Director of Connectional Ministries shall be appointed by the Bishop. The one-year term shall commence July 1, and the tenure shall not exceed eight years. The duties of the Director of Connectional Ministries shall be those recommended¹⁴ in the *Discipline*¹⁵ and set by the Bishop.
7. The Conference Lay Leader shall be nominated by the Conference Nominations Committee and elected by the Conference at the first session following General Conference for a four-year term. The Conference Lay Leader's duties and responsibilities shall be those defined by the current Discipline.¹⁶
8. The Conference Chancellor(s) shall be nominated by the Presiding Bishop and elected by the Conference¹⁷ at the first session following General Conference for a four-year term. The duties and responsibilities of the Conference Chancellor(s) include.
 - a. Working with and advising the Bishop, the District Superintendents, Conference Treasurer, Conference Trustees, and the Conference Secretary concerning legal or quasi-legal problems, as they arise.
 - b. Representing the Conference Trustees in all legal matters, especially those concerning legacies, gifts received by will or by deed, and any matters concerning church property in cases of abandonment, or in sales to be made by the Conference or the Conference Corporation.
 - c. Receiving and accepting funds on behalf of the proper legatees, devisees or beneficiaries in accordance with the instructions of a particular will. Funds that are not specifically designated for a particular purpose shall be placed in the custody of the Conference Trustees, who in turn shall recommend any disbursement thereof to the Conference.
 - d. Defending, compromising, or settling (in consultation with the Conference insurer, where appropriate) any lawsuit or bill of equity filed against the Bishop and/or Cabinet, the Conference Corporation, or the Conference Trustees.
 - e. With the prior approval of the respective District Superintendent(s), answering legal questions of the various churches located within the bounds of the Conference, but only after said churches have first consulted the current Discipline and their District Superintendent or Guide regarding the problem or need. Agreeing, upon request, and at his/her discretion, to serve a local church in more than an advisory capacity. Under such circumstances, any fee becomes the responsibility of the local church.

C. Annual, Special and Adjourned Sessions

1. The Conference shall convene in annual session on the dates fixed by the Presiding Bishop and at a place selected by the Conference Sessions Committee.¹⁸
2. A special session, or an adjourned session, may be held at such time as shall have been determined by the Conference or by the Bishop with the concurrence of three-fourths of the District Superintendents, and at a place selected by the Conference Sessions Committee.¹⁹ A special session shall have only such powers as are stated in the call.²⁰
3. An adjourned session is a regular session that has been suspended to another time; therefore, its agenda shall be established through the normal procedure.

D. Clergy Executive Session.²¹

The Bishop shall order an Executive Session of the clergy members in full connection to consider questions relating to the matters of ordination, character and Conference relationships. Lay members of the Board of Ordained Ministry may attend the Clergy Executive Session with voice and vote.²²

E. Standing Committees.

The standing committees of the Conference shall be those councils, boards, commissions, committees and task forces included in the Nominations Committee Report and approved by the Conference. The Nominations Committee Report shall include a Role and Mission Statement (purpose), Accountability Statement, and the membership of each council, board, commission, committee, and task force. The required Role and Mission Statements and Accountability Statements may be printed in the Journal once each quadrennium and referenced in succeeding Journals.

F. Distribution of Materials.

1. Pre-Conference Reports.

- a. Each report shall include a heading with the following information: the name of the council, board, commission, committee, or task force making the report; the names and conference relationship of the persons submitting the report; and the date on which the report was submitted.
- b. Each report is to include those matters referred by action of the previous Conference Session, together with the results of the action taken on those referrals.
- c. Each report is to be written as concisely as possible, avoiding wordiness and duplication of statements within reports or among separate reports, so as to save as much as possible on printing costs.
- d. References to material printed elsewhere shall be limited to the name of the publication, page number(s), and paragraph designation, rather than direct quotation. Sensitivity to compliance with copyright laws is imperative.
- e. All recommendations on which Conference action is required shall be clearly identified and grouped at the conclusion of each report under the heading "Recommendation(s)" or "Action Items" and numbered consecutively.
- f. Unless otherwise specified, December 15 shall be the deadline for submitting reports or other materials to be included in that year's Pre-Conference Reports Booklet. This deadline does not apply to submission of resolutions or petitions. (§ 5410.1.H.1).

²¹ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 605.6, 369.5.

²² 2008 Discipline, ¶ 605.6.

- g. Any agency or group making more than spelling or editorial changes to a report submitted for inclusion in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet, shall make copies of such changes for insertion in the members' registration packets at Annual Conference.
2. Conference Packets.
 - a. Packets may include reports not printed in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet, as well as publicity and promotional materials of Conference agencies.
 - b. Any materials to be included in the packets shall be furnished in quantities as established by the Director of Connectional Ministries, who shall be responsible for collation and distribution of the packets.
3. Only the Daily Connection, worship materials and those legislative materials declared to be emergency measures by the Presiding Officer shall be distributed on the chairs or otherwise within the bar of the Conference.
4. Other informational materials and promotional items may not be distributed closer than twenty (20) yards from the doors of the room where the Conference is in session, in a manner that does not impede or interfere with the entrance or exit of persons, provided that these materials are consistent with the current Discipline and a copy has been furnished in advance to the Secretary.
5. Exhibits may be displayed in accordance with policies set by the Conference Sessions Committee, provided that they are consistent with the current Discipline and do not interfere with the conduct of business within the bar of the Conference. Exhibits will be closed during scheduled periods of worship.

G. Parliamentary Procedure.

1. Calling the Conference to Order.

The Presiding Officer shall call the Conference to Order and preside over the Session (§5410.1.B.1), or, in case of inability, as provided in the current Discipline.
2. Authority of the Presiding Officer
 - a. Points of Order. The Presiding Officer shall decide points of order raised by a member and shall rule on points of order not raised by the members, as the Presiding Officer deems necessary, to conform to these Rules of Order, subject in both cases to an appeal to the Conference by any member without debate, except that the Presiding Officer and the appellant, in the order here named, shall each have three minutes for a statement in support of their respective positions. A tie vote in the case of appeal shall sustain the Presiding Officer. Any member who raised a point of order shall cite by number the rule adjudged to have been violated.
 - b. Recess a Session of the Annual Conference. The Presiding Officer shall have the right to recess a session of the Annual Conference at any time at the Presiding Officer's discretion and to reconvene at such time as the Presiding Officer shall announce. The Presiding Officer shall also have the right to stipulate that the session shall reconvene with only members, authorized personnel and authorized guests permitted to attend such a session following recess.
3. Quorum.

A quorum shall consist of those members present and voting at any session of the Conference.
4. Order of Business.

The order of business of the daily sessions shall be prepared by the Conference Sessions Committee and published in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet. The Conference Sessions Committee is authorized to make adjustments as necessary during the sessions. The Conference Sessions Committee shall be responsible for seeing that the appropriate matters in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet and other legislative matters are presented to the Conference.

The Council on Finance and Administration, in consultation with the Conference Secretary, is authorized to screen and edit any materials presented that have financial implications (§5410.1.G.30).

5. Consent Calendar.

Provision shall be made for a Consent Calendar (hereinafter “CC”), which shall contain all reports printed in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet, whether programmatic or administrative. Any report may be lifted from the CC by request of ten (10) members or the Conference Chancellor(s) before the CC is presented to the Conference for adoption. A list of all reports assigned to the CC shall be provided at the front of the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet, with the letters “CC” printed in bold type beside the titles of the reports. No action item, resolution or petition shall be included on the consent calendar.

6. Voting Area of Conference.

The Conference Secretary shall declare the voting area of the Conference at the opening business session. Voting on matters by members entitled to vote shall take place within that area.

7. Attendance of All Members and Seating of Alternate Lay Members.

No clergy or lay members, unless hindered by sickness or otherwise, shall be absent from the sessions of the Conference without reporting to the Secretary and their District Superintendent. An alternate lay member, in the absence of the lay member, may be seated with all the privileges and duties of the lay member. At no time shall the lay member and alternate lay member be seated at the same time during business sessions.

8. Persons Without Right to Make or Second Motions.

A person seated in the Conference with the right to speak, but without vote, does not have the right to make a motion or second motions.

9. Directions for Securing the Floor.

A member desiring to speak to the Conference shall go to a microphone and will not speak until recognized by the Presiding Officer. On recognition, the member will first announce his/her name and charge or Conference relationship. The Presiding Officer shall recognize members in order and in various sections of the voting area in rotation.

10. Interrupting the Speaker.

No member who has the floor may be interrupted except for a point of order, a misrepresentation, a parliamentary inquiry, a point of information or to call attention that the time has arrived for a special order.

11. Speaking More than Once; Length of Speech.

a. No member shall speak:

- i. longer than three minutes, unless the time shall be extended or reduced by the Conference.
- ii. a second time on the same question if a member who has not spoken desires the floor.
- iii. more than twice on the same subject under the same motion.

b. Any extension or reduction of time shall be by motion and second and passed by a majority vote of the Conference members present and voting.

12. Speaking For and Against.

When a motion is under consideration, the Presiding Officer shall ascertain, when recognizing a member of the Conference, on which side the member proposes to speak. The Presiding Officer shall not assign the floor to any member proposing to speak on the same side of the pending question as the speaker immediately preceeding, if any member desires to speak on the other side thereof. Except for undebatable motions, no question shall be decided without opportunity being given for at least two speeches for and against such question. After three speeches for and against, the question shall be put automatically.

13. Point of Order.

A member wishing to raise a point of order shall arise and address the Presiding Officer and say, “I rise to a point of order.” The Presiding Officer shall interrupt the proceeding; if a member is speaking, that one shall immediately yield the floor. The Presiding Officer shall then direct the member raising the point of order to briefly state the point, citing by number the rule adjudged to have been violated. The member shall not presume to decide the question or argue the point. The Presiding Officer shall decide a point of order without debate. At the discretion of the Presiding Officer, the Presiding Officer may submit the question to the Conference for advice or decision. When the Presiding Officer rules on the point, debate is closed, but the decision may be appealed to the body of the Conference.

14. Motions and Amendments in Writing. Any motion or amendment of five words or more shall be submitted to the Secretary in writing on the official duplicate forms.
15. Voting Procedure. Voting shall be by such method as announced at the beginning of the session and may include vote by a show of cards or hands (if cards have not been distributed) and voice, by standing, or by secret ballot. Secret ballots may be taken by written or electronic means. If the vote is in doubt after a show of cards (or hands) and voice, the Presiding Officer may order a standing vote. A standing vote count may be ordered on call of any member supported by one-third of the members present and voting. A vote by secret ballot may be ordered on call of any member, supported by one-third of the members present and voting. No other business shall be in order when a vote is being taken until the process is completed, except such as relates to the vote itself or such business as the Presiding Officer may deem appropriate. All vote counts shall be made by the Tellers, as appointed and assigned by the Secretary.
16. Division of Question.

Before a vote is taken, any member shall have the right to a call for a division of the question, if it is subject to such division as the member indicates. If no member objects, the division shall be made; but if there is objection, the Presiding Officer shall put the question of division to vote, not waiting for a second.
17. Motion for Adoption of Reports Unnecessary.

Whenever a report of a board, committee, commission or council is printed in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet, it shall be deemed in proper order for consideration by the Conference without the formality of a motion to adopt and a second thereto.
18. Undebatable Motions.

The following motions shall be acted upon without debate:

 - a. To adjourn, when unqualified, except to adjourn the Conference finally.
 - b. To suspend the rules.
 - c. To lay upon the table.
 - d. To take from the table.
 - e. To call for the previous question.
 - f. To reconsider a non-debatable motion.
 - g. To limit or extend the limits of debate.
19. Rights of the Main Question.

The main motion may be opened to debate under the following motions: to adopt, to commit or refer, to substitute, to postpone, and to reconsider. No new motion, resolution or subject shall be entertained until the one under consideration shall have been disposed of as provided in ¶5410.1.G.15. The foregoing does not apply to secondary motions, if otherwise allowable in the existing parliamentary situation.
20. Precedence of Secondary Motions. If any one or more of the following motions shall be made when one or more other motions are pending, the order of their precedence in relation to one another shall be the same as the order of their listing below:
 - a. To fix the time when the Conference shall adjourn. (This motion is subject to amendment, or it may be laid upon the table.)
 - b. To adjourn.
 - c. To take recess.
 - d. To lay upon the table.

- e. To order the previous question.
- f. To limit or extend the limits of debate.
- g. To postpone to a given time.
- h. To commit or refer.
- i. To amend or to amend by substitution (see ¶ 5410.1.G.21, ¶5410.1.G.22).
- j. To postpone indefinitely.

21. Amendments.

Every original main motion may be amended. The amendment may also be amended, but the “amendment to an amendment” (an amendment of the second degree) cannot be amended. A substitute shall be considered an amendment.

22. Procedure for Amending by Substitution.

When a resolution or committee report is properly before the Conference for consideration and action, even if amendments thereto are pending, a substitute may be offered by any member moving that the same be substituted for the report, resolution or amendment under consideration. This substitute shall be an alternative to what is before the Conference. The Conference shall then proceed first to perfect the original report or resolution, including consideration and action upon any amendments which may be offered to it. The same perfecting process shall then be followed with respect to the substitute. The question shall then be put first on the motion to substitute, which if it prevails becomes the main motion. If the substitute fails, the main motion is before the Conference. The motion for the previous question shall not be in order on the adoption of the main motion or the substitute until opportunity has been given for at least two speeches on each side of the main motion or the substitute.

23. Tabling Related Motions.

No motion that has another motion adhering to it can be laid upon the table by itself. If laid upon the table, it carries with it everything that adheres to it.

24. Referring Reports.

It shall be in order for the Conference to refer a part of a report or resolution that is before the Conference or any amendment offered thereto.

25. Previous Question.

Any member who moves the previous question (that is, that debate cease and the vote be now taken on the motion or motions pending) shall also indicate to what it is intended to apply, if any secondary motion or motions are also pending. If said member does not so indicate, it shall be regarded as applying only to the immediately pending question. This motion shall be taken without debate and shall require a two-thirds vote of members present and voting for its adoption; if it is adopted, the vote shall be taken on the motion or motions to which it applies without further debate except as provided in ¶¶5410.1.G.12 and .18. [See also ¶5410.1.G.29.b.iii]

26. Improper Motion After Speech.

It shall not be in order for a member immediately after debating a pending question and before relinquishing the floor to make a motion whose adoption would limit or stop debate.

27. Reconsideration.

A motion to reconsider an action of the Conference shall be in order at any time if offered by a member who voted with the prevailing side. If the motion proposed to reconsider is undebatable, the motion to reconsider may not be debated.

28. Minority Report.

A minority report shall be considered as a substitute for the report of any board, commission, committee, or council, provided that the minority report shall have been published in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet, or distributed at least one day prior to its consideration. A minority report shall be signed by at least one-fifth of the members of said board, commission, committee or council. A minority report shall be considered as a substitute for the majority report pursuant to ¶5410.1.G.22, as would any other substitute. A member selected by the signers of the minority report to present the same shall have the same rights and privileges in relation thereto which belong to the presenter of the majority report. In closing debate on the minority report, the member presenting the minority report shall speak first and the majority presenter last.

29. Exceptions to Majority Vote.

A majority of members present and voting shall decide all questions with the following exceptions:

- a. One-third of members present and voting shall suffice to sustain a call for:
 - i. A vote count in the event the decision of the Presiding Officer is doubted. [See ¶5410.1.G.15] A secret ballot. [See ¶5410.1.G.15]
- b. Two-thirds of members present and voting shall be required to:
 - i. Sustain a motion to suspend the rules [See ¶5410.1.G.32]
 - ii. Amend the rules [See ¶5410.1.G.33]
 - iii. Sustain the motion for the previous question [See ¶5410.1.G.25]
 - iv. Set aside a special order.
 - v. Consider a special order before the time set therefore.

30. Proposals Requiring Funding.

Any proposals requiring funding shall be referred to the Council on Finance and Administration for consideration and recommendation before final action is taken by the Conference. Recommendations and motions which come before the Council on Finance and Administration shall carry reasonable cost estimates of the total cost of the project, plus a statement as to the source of funds, in addition to the proposed benefits. Rationale: The Council on Finance and Administration presents a bottom-line budget. If there are any additions, there must be corresponding deletions.

31. Effective Date of Legislation.

All legislation of the Conference shall become effective on January 1 following the session of the Conference at which it was enacted, except:

- a. Persons elected by the report of the Nominating Committee shall take office on July 1 following the Conference session.
- b. Legislation specifying its own effective date.

32. Suspension of Rules.

The operation of any of the provisions of the Rules of the Session may be suspended at any time by two-thirds of the members present and voting. [See ¶5410.1.G.29.b.i]

33. Amending Rules, Procedures, and Guidelines.

Amendments to the Rules of the Session shall first be referred to the Rules Committee and recommendation to the Conference. Rules may be changed or amended by a two-thirds vote of the Conference members present and voting, provided the suggested change or amendment shall be presented in writing and lay over one day; however, amendments to the Rules of the Session may be considered immediately when presented to plenary session, provided such amendments have been printed in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet [See ¶5410.1.G.29.b.ii].

34. Robert's Rules of Order, Supplemental Authority.

In any parliamentary situation not clearly covered by the Rules of the Session, the Conference shall be governed in its actions by the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order.

H. Resolutions to the Conference

1. Resolutions to the Conference must be submitted to the Secretary by January 15, for inclusion in the Pre-Conference Reports Booklet and for consideration during the ensuing spring session. Each resolution shall address a single issue with 500 words the recommended maximum length. Resolutions should be submitted using the following format: title of the resolution; budget implications, if any; implications for the annual conference, the general church, and/or the world; body of the resolution using standard resolution wording; rational for the resolution; the name(s) and conference relationship of the person(s) submitting the resolution; and the date submitted.

- 2. Resolutions shall be reviewed by the Secretary for consistency with the current Discipline. Resolutions with financial implications shall be reviewed by the Council on Finance and Administration.
- 3. The Connectional Table shall review all resolutions submitted to the Conference. That entity shall then report the resolution to the Conference Session with a recommendation of concurrence or non-concurrence. Resolutions submitted after January 15 may be referred to the ensuing spring session of Conference if the Presiding Officer determines the contents to be of an emergency nature. Otherwise such petitions may be held until the following year.

I. Procedure for Petitions to General Conference.

- 1. Any Conference congregation, Conference organization or individual who is a member of a congregation within the Conference, may submit a petition to General Conference by following the procedures outlined in the current Discipline.²³
- 2. The Secretary shall provide a form for petitions consisting of instructions and an example of how to prepare a petition.
- 3. Petitions shall be submitted to the Secretary no later than January 15 of the year delegates are elected to the General Conference.

2. Rules and Guidelines for the Election of Delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences

A. When Delegates shall be elected –

Clergy and Lay delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences shall be elected at the session of the Conference held in the calendar year preceding the sessions of the General Conference.²⁴

B. Delegates to Special Sessions of General and Jurisdictional Conferences --

Clergy and Lay delegates elected to the preceding General and Jurisdictional Conferences shall be the delegates to any special sessions of the respective Conferences.

C. Number of Delegates to be Elected

- 1. The number of Clergy and Lay delegates to the General Conference shall be determined according to the provisions of the Discipline.²⁵
- 2. The number of Clergy and Lay delegates to the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference (NEJ) shall be determined according to the provisions of the Discipline.²⁶
- 3. The duly elected Clergy and Lay delegates to General Conference shall be delegates to the Jurisdictional Conference. Additional Clergy and Lay delegates shall be elected to complete the total number of delegates for the NEJ.
- 4. The additional NEJ delegates, in order of their election, shall be reserve delegates to the General Conference.
- 5. Four Clergy and four Lay alternate delegates shall be elected. The alternate delegates, in order of their election, shall be reserve delegates to the NEJ.

D. Delegation Leader(s)

- 1. The Delegation Leader shall alternate between the first Lay delegate and first Clergy delegate elected. For example, in 2008, the Delegation Leader was the first Lay delegate elected; in 2012, the Delegation Leader shall be the first Clergy delegate elected; in 2016, it shall be the first Lay delegate elected, and so forth.

²⁵ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 502

²⁴ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 502.4

²⁶ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 514

2. It is recommended that the first elected Lay delegate and the first elected Clergy delegate work together, as a team, as much as possible.
3. Delegation leaders shall attend any general conference briefings that are offered.

E. Expectations of Delegates

1. The Delegation shall consist of all elected delegates, including jurisdictional delegates and alternates. Election as a delegate to the General and Jurisdictional Conferences or as an alternate is an honor and a responsibility. Therefore, all delegates, including alternates, are expected to attend all regularly scheduled delegation meetings.
2. Withdrawal of a Delegate
 - a. In the event a delegate withdraws, for any reason, that delegate will be replaced by the next elected alternate, as described in ¶5410.2.C.4 and 5.
 - b. The Delegation may ask a delegate who misses more than two consecutive, unexcused meetings to withdraw as a member of the delegation.

F. Nominations

1. Generally

- a. In January of the year during which General and Jurisdictional Conference Delegates and alternates are to be elected, the Conference Secretary and the Conference Lay Leader shall notify the Conference, by publication in The UMConnection, posting on the Conference website, and in such other manner as reasonable, about the
 - i. Requirements for Election as a General or Jurisdictional Conference delegate or alternate (¶ 5410.2.F.2);
 - ii. Expectations and responsibilities of delegates (¶ 5410.2.E.1-3 and ¶ 5410.3.b), if elected, including emphasizing the rigorous schedule and long hours during General and Jurisdictional Conferences;
 - iii. Number of delegates to be elected (¶ 5410.2.C);
 - iv. Method of nomination (¶ 5410.2.F.3);
 - v. Rules regarding campaigning (¶ 5410.2.I); and
 - vi. Time for prayer and discernment regarding nomination of potential delegates (¶ 5410.2.F.1.c).
- b. In addition to the notice required by ¶5410.2.F.1.a, the Conference Lay Leader shall send a letter to all Lay members of the Conference in January of the year in which an election is to be held. This letter shall contain the same information described in ¶ 5410.2.F.1.a.
- c. During February and March of the year elections are to be held, the Conference shall be in a time of prayer and discernment regarding potential nominees, both Lay and Clergy, for election as delegates to General and/or Jurisdictional conference or as alternates.

2. Requirements for Election

- a. All ordained ministerial members in full connection with the Conference (herein referred to as “Clergy”) shall be eligible for election, except as limited by the Discipline.²⁷
- b. All Laity who are members of the Annual Conference, have been professing members of the United Methodist Church for at least two years next preceding the election, and have been active participants in The United Methodist Church for at least four years next preceding the election, as required by the *Discipline*²⁸, shall be eligible for election.

3. Method of Nomination

- a. Clergy
 - i. On or before April 1 of the year elections are held, any Clergy wishing to be considered a prospective delegate or to nominate someone else shall submit a petition of support bearing the names of at least 15 Clergy who are full members of the Conference. The Secretary shall provide a standard form for such petitions. Clergy who nominate someone else shall first confirm that the person is eligible for election, is familiar with the expectations of delegates (as described in ¶ 5410.2.E.1.i) and is willing to serve.

²⁷ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 35.

²⁸ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 36

- ii. Persons for whom such petitions have been received shall provide a statement (Statement) of their qualifications and relevant experiences, not longer than 150 words, by April 1 of the year elections are held.

b. Laity

- i. Lay members wishing to become a nominee or to nominate someone else shall return a typewritten statement (Statement) to the Conference Lay Leader or Secretary, as directed in the call for nominations, before April 1 of the year elections are held. The Statement shall provide the nominee's full name, address, phone number, home church, district and, in 150 words or less, a brief explanation of his or her qualifications and relevant experiences.
- ii. Persons who nominate someone else shall first confirm that the person is eligible for election, is familiar with the expectations of delegates (as described in ¶ 5410.2.E.1.i) and is willing to serve.

- c. No nominations for Clergy or Lay delegates shall be considered after the April 1 deadline.

G. Publication of Delegate Nominee Information

- 1. On or before April 15 of the year Delegation elections are to be held, alphabetized lists of the Lay and Clergy delegate nominees shall be made by the Conference Lay Leader and the Conference Secretary.
- 2. On or before May 1 of the year Delegation elections are to be held, the lists of all delegate nominees (Lay and Clergy) along with their Statements shall be published in The UMConnection, referenced in the e-connection, and published on the Conference website.
- 3. A booklet containing the names and Statements of the Delegate nominees shall be created for inclusion in the Conference packets.

H. Identification of Delegate Nominees During Annual Conference

- 1. The Sessions Committee shall identify and provide a way to clearly identify each Lay and Clergy nominee.
- 2. Each Lay delegate nominee shall be introduced to Lay members of the Conference during the Laity Session.

I. Campaigning

- 1. There shall be no campaigning for or by a nominee before or during the Annual Conference.
- 2. No letters, buttons, or other publicity materials that advocate or oppose the election of any nominee shall be distributed by the nominee, or by any delegation, caucus, or support group of that nominee.²⁹

J. Balloting

- 1. Balloting shall be by written or electronic ballot.
- 2. Clergy and lay delegates to the General Conference shall be elected first by separate ballot, to be followed, after all the delegates to the General Conference have been elected, by balloting for delegates to the NEJ. After all NEJ delegates have been elected, an additional ballot shall be cast, and the four clergy and lay persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected as alternates to the NEJ. Should the scheduled time for final adjournment be within one hour without the necessary delegates having been elected, a ²⁹ See 2008 NEJ Rules of Order, Article I, Rule 31.

- final ballot shall be taken and those receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected, in order, as delegates and alternates according to the number required.
3. Lay members, as described in these Rules (§ 5410.1.A.2), shall be entitled to vote for Lay delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences. If a Lay member is absent, the properly seated alternate Lay member shall be entitled to vote.
 4. Clergy members in full connection with the Annual Conference Clergy shall elect delegates to General Conference and Jurisdictional Conference, as provided by the Discipline.³⁰ Clergy and Lay members shall be entitled to vote only within the voting area of the Conference.
 5. Ballots shall contain only the number of names for the places to be filled for that ballot. A majority of the valid ballots cast shall be required to elect. In the event that a larger number of persons than there are places to be filled receive a majority, then the person or persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected to the total number of places to be filled. A tie vote between two or more persons, when but one place remains to be filled, shall be disregarded and another ballot cast.
 6. Invalid Ballots
 - a. Any ballot that contains more or fewer names than places to be filled on that ballot shall be invalid.
 - b. Any ballot that contains the name of a person already elected shall be invalid.
 - c. Any ballot that contains the name of a person not in the official nominations pool shall be invalid.
 7. The Conference Secretary shall appoint the Chief Teller and such other tellers as are necessary to expedite the election procedure.

3. Guidelines for the Delegation

A. Delegation Meetings

1. Delegation meetings prior to General and Jurisdictional Conferences shall be held at least monthly, beginning as soon after the election as possible, but no later than September of the year the election is held.
2. The Delegation leader(s) (§ 5410.2.D) shall determine the specific date, time and location of the first Delegation meeting; subsequent meeting dates, times and locations shall be decided by a majority of the Delegation.
3. At the first meeting of the Delegation, a Secretary shall be elected from the membership of the Delegation.
4. The Delegation shall meet as necessary during General or Jurisdictional Conference, at times and locations to be determined.

B. Responsibilities

1. Become familiar with the legislative and other matters about which Delegation members will be required to make decisions during the General or Jurisdictional Conference(s) to which he or she is elected; Attend all pre-General and Jurisdictional Conference meetings of the Delegation;
2. Attend the General and/or Jurisdictional Conference to which he or she was elected;
3. Preparation by alternates to attend, even on short notice, the Conference to which he or she may become a member;
4. Discern and recommend to the Annual Conference a nominee for Episcopal election at NEJ.

C. Process for Delegation Recommendation of Episcopal Nominee(s)

1. During a month to be determined by the Delegation, but not later than the month of October of the year prior to the next regular session of the NEJ in which an episcopal candidate will

³⁰ 2008 Discipline, ¶35

- be elected, the Delegation and the Conference shall be in a time of prayer to discern the names of persons to be considered for the episcopacy.
2. At least one month prior to the month of prayer and discernment, in addition to the role, responsibilities, duties and age requirements for Bishop, as defined in the *Discipline*³¹, the Delegation shall discern and publish the qualities and characteristics that the Delegation determines should be considered in any nominee for episcopal endorsement. For example, such qualities and characteristics might include a record of spiritual leadership, demonstration of church growth and community development, experience within the conference and connectional system, ability to work with people as a team leader. Due consideration shall also be given, as recommended in the *Discipline*³², to inclusiveness “with respect to sex, race, and national origin” of the Bishops then serving in the NEJ.
 3. At least one month prior to the month of prayer and discernment by the Conference, the Delegation leader(s) shall inform the members of the Annual Conference, by publishing articles in The UMConnection, referenced in the e-connection, posted on the Conference website, and in any such other manner as deemed appropriate, about the time of prayer for and discernment about nominees for recommendation by the Delegation and endorsement by the Conference.
 4. Following the month of prayer and discernment and on or before a specific date and time to be set by the Delegation, the name(s) of possible nominees shall be submitted to any member of the Delegation, the names and contact information of the Delegation members having been provided in The UMConnection, the e-connection, and posted on the Conference website.
 5. Any Elder who meets the requirements of the Discipline is eligible for nomination as a candidate for the episcopacy. Nominations may come from individual members of local congregations within the Conference, groups of individuals, or organization/caucuses. A person may recommend him or herself, though recognizing that discernment also involves the consideration of others, it is recommended that each person who feels called to the episcopacy should be in a time of prayer with others to further discern his or her call.
 6. Person(s) nominated shall submit a written statement (Statement) of not more than 500 words describing his or her call to the episcopacy to the Delegation Secretary on or before a date determined by the Delegation, which date will have been published at least 45 days prior to the deadline.
 7. Following a discernment process to be determined by the Delegation, the Delegation may recommend nominee(s) for consideration by the Annual Conference.
 8. The names of all persons considered for nomination by the Delegation shall be published in The UMConnection, e-connection, and posted on the Conference website. The Delegation also shall publish, in the same manner, the discernment process followed and the name, qualifications, and Statement(s) (§ 5410.3.C.6) of the nominee(s) recommended to the Annual Conference for endorsement.

4. Rules and Guidelines for Endorsement by the Annual Conference of an Episcopal Candidate(s) to the NEJ –

A. In any quadrennium when an episcopal election will be held in the NEJ, a recommendation and endorsement of nominee(s) shall be determined at the session of the Annual Conference immediately prior to the next regular session of the NEJ in which the election will be held³³.

B. The Delegation (§ 5410.2.E.1), having followed the process described herein (§ 5410.3.C), shall recommend to the Annual Conference, nominee(s) for episcopal election by the NEJ.

C. Any Elder who meets the requirements of the Discipline is eligible for nomination as a candidate for the episcopacy.

³¹ 2008 Discipline, ¶¶ 403.1, 414, 415. ³² 2008 Discipline, ¶405.2 ³³ 2008 Discipline, ¶ 405

D. Episcopal Nominee Endorsement Process to be followed at Annual Conference

1. It is recommended that, early in the regular session of the Conference, the Delegation leader, or such other Delegation member as decided by the Delegation, shall present to the Annual Conference the name and qualifications of the recommended nominee(s) for endorsement as an episcopal candidate and shall describe the discernment process followed by the Delegation. All Delegation members should be present on stage at the time the presentation is made.
2. Following the recommendation of the nominee(s) by the Delegation, and after allowing a reasonable time for prayer and discernment, members of the Conference may make nominations from the floor. A reasonable time shall be a minimum of two hours between the recommendation of the nominee(s) by the Delegation and nominations from the floor.
3. If any nomination(s) is made from the floor, that person or persons shall have four (4) hours within which to submit a written statement (Statement) to the Conference Secretary. The Statement should describe his or her call to the episcopacy and shall provide the same information as described in ¶ 5410.3.C.6. Any person nominated who does not provide a Statement to the Conference Secretary within the four hour deadline shall be considered withdrawn from consideration. This provision does not apply to the nominee(s) recommended by the Delegation, whose statement will have already been provided to the members of the Annual Conference.
4. The Conference Secretary shall immediately copy and distribute to the members of the Annual Conference any Statements submitted.
5. Voting shall be held only after there has been a reasonable time (¶ 5410.4.D.2) for prayer and discernment after distribution of the Statements of any person(s) nominated from the floor, if any. If there are no nominations from the floor, voting shall be held at any time thereafter.
6. Immediately prior to the vote, each nominee shall have not longer than three (3) minutes to address the Annual Conference.

E. Election Process by the Conference

1. Voting for nominee(s) for episcopal endorsement shall be by written or electronic ballot.
2. Write-in candidates shall result in an invalid ballot.
3. Any nominee who receives sixty-six percent (66%) or more of all valid ballots cast shall receive the endorsement of the Annual Conference to be an episcopal candidate at NEJ.
4. If no nominee is elected after four ballots, balloting shall cease and there shall be no endorsement of an episcopal candidate from the Conference.
5. If a nominee is elected within four ballots, the Annual Conference shall decide whether to continue balloting for additional episcopal candidates. A decision to continue balloting shall require a motion and second, and be approved by 66% of the Conference. It is recommended that the motion include a specific number of additional ballots.

F. Campaigning --

1. There shall be no campaigning for or by a nominee before or during the Annual Conference.
2. No letters, buttons, or other publicity materials that advocate or oppose the election of any nominee shall be distributed by the nominee, or by any delegation, caucus, or support group of that nominee.³⁴

5. Rules CommitteeA. Membership

Membership shall consist of the following: one representative from each region, recommended to the Nominating Committee by the Regional Team Leader and elected by the Conference; the Chair of the Discipleship Council (or designate) (ex officio); the Conference Secretary (ex officio); the Conference Secretary Designate, if one (ex officio without vote), and the Bishop (ex officio). To the degree possible, the Committee should be one-half clergy and one-half laity. For instance, if the Conference Secretary and Discipleship Council Chair are both clergy, then three of the four Regional Representatives shall be laity.

³⁴ 2008 NEJ Rules of Order, Article I, Rule 31.

B. Term of Office

The term of office shall be for four years, with one-half of the regional representatives being elected in the first instance for two years, so as to ensure continuity of membership.

C. Members at Large

Members of the Rules Committee shall be members-at-large to the Annual Conference, if not otherwise a member.

D. Conference Secretary

The Conference Secretary shall be the convener of the Rules Committee.

E. Duties

Duties and Responsibilities shall include:

1. Reviewing the Rules of the Session, at least annually, and making recommendations to the Conference for any necessary amendments to the Rules. Such amendments shall be submitted for inclusion in the Pre-Conference Booklet, as required by the current Rules of the Session.
2. Reviewing the Rules of the Session each quadrennium, after the most recent General Conference, to ensure that the Rules of the Session are in compliance with any changes to the current Discipline. This task shall be done as soon as possible, but not more than three months after publication of the most recent Book of Discipline. If possible, this review shall be done and any necessary amendments identified and submitted for inclusion in the Pre-conference Booklet prior to the deadline for submitting amendments to the Rules for the ensuing annual conference session.
3. Reviewing any resolutions that propose to amend the Rules of the Session and make a recommendation of concurrence/non-concurrence. [Amend the current Rules of the Session 5410.1.G.33 by substituting the Rules Committee for the Discipleship Council in order to conform with this provision.]
4. Preparing amendments to the Rules of the Session that may be ordered by vote of the Annual Conference.
- [5.This resolution authorizes such conforming changes to the Rules of the Session as are necessary to incorporate the provisions of this resolution.]

In accordance with the closing motion, the following proposals, which were not considered at annual conference, will be referred to the appropriate conference agency for consideration and action. The text of the proposals can be found in the 2012 pre-Conference booklet.

- Resolution on Evolutionary Scientific Thinking
- Resolution on Disability Awareness Sunday
- Resolution to Stop Bullying
- Resolution in Support of Maryland Immigrant Youth
- Resolution on Governmental Landmarking of Church-Owned Property

2020 VISION: THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE VISION AND MISSION

“But Jesus looked at them and said, ‘For mortals it is impossible, but for God all things are possible.’” -Matthew 19:26

As United Methodists of the Baltimore-Washington Conference we claim a God-sized vision, based on a Gospel dream that empowers us to see a future transformed by faith, growth and ministry. This ministry unfolds in congregations as people of faith gather to worship God, share in the ministries of the congregations and serve their communities. In congregations, leaders become more fully alive as they live out their calling from God; congregations flourish as they create and cultivate disciples; and people’s faith comes to life as it is put into service for the transformation of the world. Our vision compels us to look earnestly and creatively outside the windows of our church buildings to see a world in need and to respond to that need in Christ’s name.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference Mission Field

Located right outside the doors of all of our congregations are the non- and nominally religious, the poor, new immigrants and people desiring meaning and purpose in their lives. Our unwavering belief in the Gospel and our tradition of social holiness calls us to love our neighbors and to share God’s grace and healing.

Around the world and in our own backyard are people who are hungry for the Gospel and for food, those dying of malaria and those spiritually and physically suffering because of inadequate or no housing, inadequate health care, a lack of schools and an insufficient number of churches. The world is our parish and Jesus calls us to respond to the needs of the world in partnership with the people of Maryland, Washington, D.C., the panhandle of West Virginia, Bermuda and with our Wesleyan brothers and sisters in Zimbabwe, Russia and South Korea. We are called to throw open the doors of the church so that all may enter and all may go out in mission and ministry.

2020 Vision

The Baltimore-Washington Conference Vision and Mission

We seek to become like Christ as we call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make and cultivate disciples, grow vital Acts 2 congregations and transform the world.

As the church looks to the future, we see a God-shaped world. Our vision is bold as we plan miraculous growth in our congregations, leaders, disciples and mission. In the midst of challenging cultural and economic shifts, which are leading people away from the institutional church, we dare to see a healthy conference that is a model for calling, equipping and inspiring effective leaders to make new disciples, grow vital Acts 2 congregations, and transform lives and communities. We are the body of Christ whose congregations are capturing the hearts, minds and imaginations of people in the community, particularly the non- and nominally religious, the poor in spirit and the financially poor. We see a conference that is supporting revitalized congregations as they connect with children, youth and young adults, as they become more multicultural and as they collaborate to end malaria, homelessness and poverty. We see a conference that is inspiring its existing disciples to deepen their relationship with Christ and the world and forming new faith communities through new worship services and by starting new congregations. We see a conference made up of congregations that are extravagant with their time, talents and money to serve this important and urgent mission of our time. We see a conference that is becoming healthier financially to be the best for the Kingdom of God. This is the Baltimore-Washington Conference, filled with the grace of Jesus Christ and the passion to serve the world. While we have much to rejoice about in our life together, God has bigger plans for us as we seek to become like Christ, as we call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make and cultivate disciples, grow Acts 2 congregations and transform the world.

Discipleship

Through listening sessions with more than 450 people we learned that, in the Baltimore-Washington Conference, the holy conversation has shifted from membership to discipleship, from joining a church to following Jesus. We also learned that people affirm the conference's strong commitment to, and balanced blend of, mission around the world and our focus on evangelism and social justice. People are also proud to be a part of a diverse conference and want us to grow in our diversity. But people also shared how they are hungering for a clearer understanding of what it means to be a disciple, for concrete ideas on how to deepen discipleship, for a better understanding of what it means to be a vital Acts 2 congregation, how to connect with people in the community, how to address racism and prejudice so that we become more multicultural and how to strengthen stewardship within our congregations. Clarity is critical to our mission.

Who is a disciple? Disciple means “learner.” Disciples give their lives to Jesus, learning and following his teachings daily and striving toward holiness of heart and life. (Ephesians 4:11-16)

What does a disciple do? A disciple seeks to have the mind of Christ. Disciples share their faith by being living, loving examples of the Great Commandment (Matthew 22:37-39) and the Great Commission (Matthew 28:18-20).

How do disciples grow? As disciples of Jesus Christ, we are invited into an adventure of discipleship and to deepen our faith as we move along our spiritual journey. John Wesley called this adventure the means of grace. While God's grace is always unearned, the means of grace are ways that enable the Holy Spirit to create and deepen faith in the heart of a believer. Believers can use the means of grace to open their hearts and lives to God's work within them. Wesley divided the means of grace into two categories, with individual and communal components:

- Works of Piety include prayer, fasting, meditating, reading the Scriptures, attending worship, healthy living, regularly receiving the sacraments, Christian conferencing and participating in a small group or Bible study.
- Works of Mercy include doing good works, visiting the sick and imprisoned, sharing faith, feeding the hungry, giving generously to the needs of others, seeking justice, serving with the poor and ending oppression and discrimination.

What are the signs of a growing disciple? A disciple regularly engages in the means of grace, both works of piety and mercy, and manifests the fruit of the Spirit in daily living – love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control (Galatians 5:22-23).

What is a vital Acts 2 congregation? Today's congregations are called to be as vital and Spirit-led as the early church found in Acts 2:37-47, which:

- Celebrate in passionate worship,
- Connect as one through radical hospitality,
- Develop disciples through intentional faith development,
- Serve like Christ in risk-taking mission,
- Share faith through loving conversations with others, and
- Give generously to the mission of God.

We call this the Discipleship Adventure as it engages the congregation spiritually and holistically and moves the congregation to the mission field.

What do vital Acts 2 congregations do? Vital Acts 2 congregations are churches Called to Action through the prompting of the Holy Spirit to:

- Create inspiring worship that attracts, engages and sends disciples forth for witness and service,
- Create and grow ministries to serve children and youth and engage disciples of all ages in small groups where they practice and live the means of grace,
- Encourage and support the gifts of laity so that they serve and lead effectively,
- Encourage and support the gifts of clergy so that they serve and lead effectively, and
- Engage in the community and world to make new disciples and serve the needs of others.

What are the marks of a vital Acts 2 congregation?

Vital Acts 2 congregations:

- Grow over time,
- Involve more of their people in ministry,
- Engage in their community, and
- Give generously to mission.

Our vision is making disciples and transforming the world.

As we make disciples, we anticipate achieving hope-filled 2020 Goals.

Discipleship Goals – (Matthew 5:14-16) The Baltimore-Washington Conference will:

1. Train and support congregations to make new disciples so that our conferencewide average is one new disciple for every 10 worshippers. Presently we make one new disciple for every 15 worshippers. 2014 – 1 for 14; 2016 – 1 for every 13; 2018 – 1 for every 12; 2020 – 1 for every 10.
2. Increase the number of churches growing in worship attendance a year from 264 to 400. 2014 – 300; 2016 – 335; 2018 – 370; 2020 – 400.
3. Equip our congregations so that they have one-third of their average worship attendance involved in at least one small group annually. 20% of our churches will meet this goal by 2014; 40% by 2016; and 60% by 2020.

Leadership Development Goals – (1 Peter 2:9) The Baltimore-Washington Conference will:

1. Train and coach clergy so that by 2016, based upon Staff-Parish evaluations, 50% of our congregations report positive measurable changes toward the drivers of pastor vitality identified in the Call to Action and by 2020, 66% of our congregations report such change.
2. Call, equip, send and support clergy, especially young adult clergy with the proven gifts to start new faith communities, so that by 2014 we have clergy leaders for 4 new congregations; 8 new congregations by 2016; 12 new congregations by 2018; and 16 new congregations by 2020.
3. Involve 8% of the conference's lay worshippers in a leadership development experience by 2014; 12% by 2016; 14% by 2018; and 15% by 2020, so that congregations will be strengthened with trained lay spiritual leaders.
4. Call, equip, send and support 120 new young adult clergy (24-35) and 500 young adult laity (18-35) for ministry in congregations, communities and conference leadership, so that we grow younger and reach younger people with 20 new clergy and 100 new laity by 2014; 45 new clergy and 225 new laity by 2016; 75 new clergy and 375 new laity by 2018; and 120 new clergy and 500 new laity by 2020.

Congregational Development Goals – (Ephesians 2:19-22) The Baltimore-Washington Conference will:

1. Increase the number of highly vital Acts 2 congregations from 22% to 40% based on the Call to Action 2010 metrics. 2014 – 28%; 2016 – 32%; 2018 – 36%; 2020 – 40%.
2. Train and equip lay and clergy spiritual leaders and their congregations to start 16 new congregations and start 160 new worship services. 2014 – 4 new congregations and 40 new worship services; 2016 – 8 new congregations and 80 new worship services; 2018 – 12 new congregations and 120 new worship services; 2020 – 16 new congregations and 160 new worship services.

3. Reduce the benevolence factor to approximately 16% to reduce apportionments to 10% of all the spending of our congregations.

Mission Goals – (Micah 6:8, John 21:15-17) The Baltimore-Washington Conference will:

1. Build 500 units of permanent, supportive housing to help end homelessness.
2. Raise $2.1 million to help end death by malaria.
3. Increase the percentage of our worshippers engaged in mission, mercy, justice and evangelism within their community or somewhere around the world from 64% to 90%. 2014 – 70%; 2016 – 77%; 2018 – 84%; 2020 – 90%.

2020 Vision: A $230 million vision (Matthew 6:21, Acts 20:35)

The conference's God-sized vision invites generous United Methodists and generous foundations, businesses, non-profits, mission-minded congregations and devoted individuals to join the churches in their apportionment giving to fund the 2020 vision. By 2020 the conference will raise $124 million through apportionments and $106 million from other funding sources. To meet our God-sized vision we will pray and work together with our leadership and skilled resource people to raise the funds to achieve the vision:

- Grow Vital Congregations – Funding for BWC congregations to become more vital – $10 million; Begin an endowment to start new congregations – $2 million; Resource the growth of congregations with fewer than 100 in worship – $1 million.
- Grow Mission – Begin an endowment to fund mission – $5 million; end homelessness by building 500 units of permanent, supportive housing – $80 million; end deaths by malaria by supporting the global initiative – $2.1 million; provide hope for Zimbabwe by building clinics, new congregations, orphanages and mission centers - $1 million; establish an endowment for campus ministry – $2 million;
- Grow Spiritual Leaders – Begin an endowment to fund leadership development – $2 million; provide hope for Russia by starting congregations, developing camping and retreat ministries and offering theological education – $1 million;
- Holistic, Conferencewide Growth – $124 million through congregational apportionments to grow our mission, congregations, disciples and leaders.

A projected plan will include potential funding from the following sources. A feasibility study will help to further shape fundraising goals.

- Individual Gifts – $43 million ($8 million from individuals and $35 million through tax credit contributions and mortgages)
- BWC Congregations – $14 million ($10 million of which will stay with the congregations that raise the funds. 600 congregations at an average of $6,000 per congregation a year for 4 years = $14,400,000)
- Designating BWC Funds and Church Property Sales – $8 million
- Government Grants – $29 million
- Foundation Gifts – $7 million
- Corporations – $3 million
- Apportionments – $124 million.

The mission and vision of the Corporations remain in concert with the Conference. The benevolent care program administered through the Corporation, utilizing funds raised by the Asbury Foundation, Inc., continues to provide services to individuals whose circumstances, in the discretion of the board, require financial assistance, without regard to race, religion, color, creed or national origin.

The most recent Annual Report indicated that in 2010 Asbury Communities remained strong financially, in resident services and value, and in market reputation. Last year saw Asbury:

- Develop additional services to support residents,
- Enhance opportunities for resident choice and well-being,
- Use technology to benefit residents and operate more efficiently,
- Train and encourage associates to share their best with their communities and the industry at large,
- Build upon the strengths of its unique communities, strengths that reflect the power of each individual to inspire the best in all.

To further the connection with the faith communities that are key to maintaining the core values of Asbury Communities, Inc., the Office of Church Relations was established in 2011. Rev. Wayne A. DeHart, a retired member of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, serves as the director.

Asbury Atlantic

Asbury Atlantic traces its origins from the Asbury Methodist Home, Inc. and its predecessor, established in 1926. The primary purpose and mission of the Home was to provide a home or homes for the aged members of The United Methodist Church and such other members of society as the Home could accommodate, and whose circumstances, in the discretion of the trustees, required such aid, without regard to race, color, creed or national origin. Since that time, the mission was refined to focus the organization on "creating services for seniors that enhance the value of the entire span of life." In addition, the scope of Asbury Atlantic has expanded from Asbury Methodist Village in Gaithersburg, Md., to include Asbury~Solomons Island in Solomons, Md., and Bethany Village Retirement Center in Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Asbury Atlantic, Inc. and Asbury~Solomons, Inc., a Maryland not-for-profit corporation, own and operate a continuing care retirement community in Solomons, Maryland, and are affiliated with Asbury Communities, Inc. (formerly Asbury Services, Inc.).

On May 25, 2007, as reported on page 316 of the 2007 Journal, the Baltimore-Washington Conference approved a new Covenant Relationship Agreement between Asbury Atlantic and Asbury-Solomons, Inc. The report to the Annual Conference in 2007 sets the stage for the Covenant Relationship Agreement between Asbury Atlantic Inc. and the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference. (See pages 530 – 532 of the 2007 Conference Journal.) On Sept. 29, 2009, the revised Covenant Relationship Agreement was signed by all interested parties. On Feb. 16, 2011, all necessary documents as required by the Agreement were conveyed to the Annual Conference.

Asbury Atlantic continues to value the strong relationship with the Baltimore-Washington Conference through clergy representation. In addition, the Episcopal representative appointed by Bishop John R. Schol, the Rev. Richard E. Stetler, a retired member of the Baltimore- Washington Conference, serves on the Asbury Atlantic, Inc., Board of Directors.

Asbury Foundation

Asbury Foundation is a 501(c)(3) not-for profit organization that secures philanthropic support for the mission and to enhance the quality of life for seniors served by the Asbury system. Central to the Foundation's mission is the effort to enable residents who outlive their financial resources, through no fault of their own, to remain in their home at Asbury. In 2010, 316 Asbury residents received benevolent care support or healthcare financial assistance because their savings, insurance or Medicaid did not fully cover the expense of care. The Rev. Dennis E. Yocum serves as a member of the Asbury Foundation, Inc. Board of Directors.

Asbury Methodist Village

Asbury Methodist Village is the largest continuing care retirement community in Montgomery County, Md., and the 14th largest in the United States. Currently, 1,300 adults age 60-plus reside there. The not-for-profit community includes 712 apartment homes, 74 villas, 43 courtyard homes, and 133 assisted living and 257 skilled care suites, private and shared. Asbury Methodist Village's 130 acres include trails, ponds and a 17-acre wildlife preserve. The healthcare center is Medicare- and Medicaid-certified. Residents have access to the community's Benevolent Care program. Since its founding, no resident has ever been asked to leave due to inability to pay.

Asbury Methodist Village has always had a strong relationship with the Baltimore-Washington Conference. The current four-person pastoral care staff includes two United Methodist clergy. The Revs. Gerald A. Green Jr. and Charles P. Leger were appointed by Bishop Schol to Extension Ministry serving the Asbury Methodist Village. In addition, the Asbury Methodist Village Board of Governors is chaired by the Rev. Dennis E. Yocum.

Asbury-Solomons Island

Established in 1996, Asbury-Solomons Island is the only accredited continuing care retirement community in Southern Maryland. More than 450 people age 60 and older reside here. The not-for-profit community includes 228 apartment homes, 72 cottage homes, 24 assisted living suites and 48 skilled-care accommodations, both private and shared. Located on 58 acres along the banks of the Patuxent River, the campus has walking trails and fishing and crabbing piers. The 24-hour skilled center is Medicare- and Medicaid-certified. Residents have access to the community's Benevolent Care program. Since its founding, no resident has ever been asked to leave due to inability to pay. The Rev. Charles L. Harrell serves on the Asbury-Solomons Island Board of Governors.

BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCENOMINATIONS COMMITTEE

The Nominations Committee shall nominate according to the mandates outlined in the BOD. When the BOD does not provide specific direction about the composition and organization of a council, board, commission or committee the Nominations Committee shall nominate pursuant to the Baltimore- Washington Conference guidelines. The Nominations Committee was asked to invite nominations from across the Conference and develop a process that ensures regional, racial, gender, cultural, and congregational-size inclusiveness. The Nominations Committee prepared a profile of each council, board, commission and committee to determine the regional, racial, gender, age, cultural, and congregational-size of each committee. The Nominations Committee then sent a “Nominations Survey of Interest” throughout the Conference. Utilizing all of the information gathered, the Nominations Committee nominates the following leaders to the 2012 Annual Conference.

The first number listed is the year the individual’s term will expire if elected and the second number indicates the number of terms. Most boards and agencies of the conference are two-year terms and a person may serve a maximum of three terms for six years. Some boards by Discipline may be more than a four-year term and an individual, in that case, may serve up to two terms except for the Board of Ordained Ministry in which a person may serve up to three terms.

CONFERENCE LEADERSHIP 2011

With all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love, making every effort to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope of your calling, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all and through all and in all. But each of us was given grace according to the measure of Christ's gift. Therefore it is said, "When he ascended on high he made captivity itself a captive; he gave gifts to his people." The gifts he gave were that some would be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until all of us come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to maturity, to the measure of the full stature of Christ. -Ephesians 4:2-8; 11-13 (NRSV)

Notes: AS-Annapolis Southern Region, BA-Baltimore Region, WA-Washington Region, WS-Western Region

Year and term of office: (14-1)-term expires 2014 and in first term; (14-2)-term expires 2014 and in second term; (1)-elected quadrennially and in first quadrennium; (2)-elected quadrennially and in second quadrennium. When persons are elected quadrennially, they serve a maximum of two terms except for the Board of Ordained Ministry which may serve a maximum of 3 terms by Discipline.

Inclusiveness: The nominations committee has sought to have regional, racial, gender, and lay/clergy inclusiveness in the groups and in the chairs. The committee also seeks to insure that 20-30% of the boards, committees, and councils are persons under 40.

Recommendation: Groups should meet when most laity are available to increase lay participation.

MEMOIRS OF CLERGY, CLERGY SPOUSES AND LAITY

HAROLD A. AMMONS*1925-2011

Harold Andrew Ammons, was born Dec. 28, 1925, in Baltimore, the only son of Hollis Andrews Ammons and Ruth Brackett Ammons. As a young child he was taken to Union Square M. E. Church where he participated in all activities, from pre-school through Epworth League and Youth Fellowship and choir.

While he was still a young child, the church organist recognized his soprano voice and paid for lessons at Peabody Preparatory School where he sang in the Children's Chorus. This led to private lessons from the chorus director and some elocution lessons from another faculty member. He always felt that his voice was a gift from God which opened many doors and led to further opportunities in life.

He was drafted for Army service during his senior year in high school, and served in Europe during the closing months of World War II. He then was stationed in the Philippines after the war ended. Upon discharge in May 1946 he entered the Baltimore Veterans Institute where he finished his high school credits in time to enroll in what is now Lycoming College in the fall of 1946, graduating with a degree in sociology and English in 1950. His theological degree was earned at Westminster Seminary, now Wesley Theological Seminary, in 1953.

During the pastorate of Rev. Jesse Dawson at Union Square, the parsonage became his second home as he bonded with the Dawson children, especially the eldest David, later also an Elder in the conference. He credited Jesse Dawson with helping him discern his call to the ministry.

As a student in 1952, he was appointed to Back River Church in Essex and stayed until 1956, when he was appointed to the Trinity-Brook Hill Charge in Frederick. Subsequent appointments were: 1959, Brookfield-Immanuel Charge in Brandywine; 1964, Asbury in Arnold; 1968, Violetville in Baltimore; 1980, Hillsdale-Chatsworth (now Martin Luther King Memorial) in Baltimore; 1983, Waverly in Baltimore; and finally in 1985 to Melville Chapel in Elkridge, from which he retired in November, 1990. He subsequently was asked to return to Violetville as a volunteer assistant and was made pastor emeritus. He shared his love of music by singing in the choirs of all the churches he served.

Rev. Harold Ammons did not build or serve huge churches (although he helped several congregations to burn their mortgages), but he was a diligent pastor who loved the people of his congregations and sought to serve them and his Lord throughout his ministry.

He and Betty Jane Beyer, with whom he had grown up at Union Square, were married April 27, 1957. They were blessed with two sons who survive.

Survivors include his wife of Baltimore, and sons Richard Beyer Ammons of Baltimore, and Phillip Leonard Ammons, who lives in Norwich, CT with his wife Rita.

The Rev. Harold A. Ammons, a retired Elder, died Dec. 23, 2011, five days before his 86th birthday, after several years struggle with dementia but in time to sing his Christmas hallelujahs with the heavenly choir. As his pastor remarked, he even made it in time for the rehearsal a few days before. A hymn-filled service was held at Violetville UMC Dec. 29, with the Rev. Sheridan Allmond officiating and the Rev. Ann Adams participating. Burial was in Loudon Park Cemetery in Baltimore.

STANLEY R. BICE*1934-2011

Stanley Rex Bice Jr. was born Jan. 23, 1934, at Walter Reed Hospital, the son of 2nd Lt. Stanley Rex Bice Sr. and Louise Humphries Bice.

After Stanley's father was killed at the end of World War II, he and his mother, brother and sister lived with his maternal grandfather and grandmother in Mayo. He attended Mayo Elementary School and his remaining school years in the Annapolis school system.

Stanley's call to the ministry was early in his life. Mayo UMC was an important integral part of his spiritual journey. The ministers of Mayo UMC and the church members loved their Lord and each other. The "war orphans" of their church became their family. The church members always made sure Stanley had transportation, attended all the church programs and were there for him in every way.

The witness of one of the church families was instrumental in Stanley's understanding of giving all your gifts and service to the Lord. Ted and Lorena Entwisle and their son, Stan, were an example of tithing and giving, a principle he practiced and led others to do so.

Rev. Nimon took his vacation funds and enrolled Stanley at Pfeiffer College in North Carolina. He worked in the kitchen and became fond of grits and hush puppies.

He attended Western Maryland College his junior and senior year, then Westminster Seminary until it moved to Washington and became Wesley Seminary.

Stanley received his deacons' orders in 1957 and his Elder orders in 1960. He was appointed to serve Wesley Chapel and Mt Calvary in Bristol, during his years of seminary.

He was appointed to Perkins Chapel in Glenn Dale in 1959 and served the Glenn Dale churches for 18 years during which time a new parsonage and church building were completed. While there, he preached at the Afro-American Church in Glenn Dale for several years. They had a union in 1972 and re-named the church Glenn Dale UMC.

Stanley met Churalene Sinyard, a member of Lanham UMC, and they were married Aug. 6, 1960. Their two sons were born in the new parsonage.

In 1978 he was appointed to Clinton UMC and during 15 ½ years helped pay off several mortgages of a previous building program. In 1993, he was appointed to First UMC in Laurel; he completed a renovation project for more than $2 million. He retired in 2000, due to health issues, and moved to a condo in Annapolis.

In 2005, the Bices moved to Riderwood Village in Silver Spring, where he ministered to its residents. He enjoyed refinishing furniture in his spare time and any activities involving his family. In October 2007 he celebrated 50 years in ministry.

Survivors include his wife, Churalene of Silver Spring, sons Stanley Bice from Arnold and Kenneth Bice of San Antonio, Texas, and two grandsons.

The Rev. Stanley R. Bice Jr., a retired Elder, died at Riderwood Village, Dec. 25, 2011, after a few weeks in the Riderwood health care facility. A Service of Celebration was held Dec. 29 at First UMC in Laurel, conducted by clergy colleagues and friends.

WILLIAM WESLEY DODGE1915-2012

William Wesley Dodge was born in Fairfax County, Virginia, Dec. 8, 1915. He was a graduate of American University in Washington, D.C. and Duke Divinity School.

Dodge began his ministry in 1941 at Shenandoah Junction. In 1947, he was appointed to Ridgeville and in 1949 to Rockville. Eight years later in 1957, he was appointed to Hiss, and in 1963 to Congress Heights. In 1970, he moved to Severna Park and stayed there 10 years until he retired in 1980 and moved to Waynesville, N.C.

He and Mary Lee Milholland were married in 1941 at the beginning of his ministerial career. They were married 68 years until her death in 2009.

Dodge was deeply involved in the community at the S.E. Jurisdictional Center at Lake Junaluska, N.C. He enjoyed many hours at his hobby of caning chairs. His greatest joy was his family, along with his extended church family. He also enjoyed and appreciated music.

Survivors include a daughter, Dorothy Dodge of Turners Falls, Mass., and two grandchildren.

The Rev. William Wesley Dodge died March 3, 2012, in Asheville, N.C. An interment service will be held in the summer of 2012 in Stony Point, N.C., for both Wesley and Mary Lee Dodge.

MARCUS AVERY EARP III 1928-2011

Marcus Avery Earp III was born Jan. 27, 1928, in Huntington, W. Va., the son of the late Marcus A. Earp II and Addie L. McGinnis Earp. He graduated from Marshall University and earned his Master of Divinity degree at Wesley Theological Seminary.

He had served with the U.S. Naval Reserve and Civil Air Patrol.

In 1950, he married Joyce Smith and they had two children.

Earp began his ministerial career in the West Virginia Conference in 1956. He was ordained an Elder in the Baltimore-Washington Conference in 1961. In 1960, he was appointed to Smithville in Baltimore and two years later to Fork. In 1964 he was appointed to Eutaw in Baltimore and stayed until 1969 when he moved to Brooklyn Heights UMC. In 1973, he was appointed to Asbury UMC in Charles Town, W. Va., then in 1980 to the Damascus-Friendship Charge. His last appointment was to Patapsco in Dundalk in 1987, where he remained until he retired in 1992. Retirement was not the end of his ministerial career. He served at John Wesley UMC in Hagerstown for a number of years, and recently worked with the Rev. George Earle in Hedgesville.

Earp was a member of the Maryland Bible Society.

Survivors include his wife, Joyce Smith Earp, a son, Marcus Avery Earp IV of Herndon, Va., and a daughter, Kathryn Denise Spradling of Chambersburg, Pa.; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The Rev. Marcus Avery Earp III, a retired Elder, died July 11, 2011, at his home in Hedgesville, W. Va. The Rev. George Earle officiated at a funeral service at the Brown Funeral Home in Inwood, W. Va., July 15.

JOHN LINWOOD FORD 1919-2011

John Linwood Ford was born June 17, 1919, in Upper Marlboro, a son of the late Rev. James and Carrie Stewart Ford.

Ford was a veteran of the U.S. Air Force during World War II. Upon discharge he entered the ministry. For two years from 1957 to 1959, he served a church in Strasberg, Va. He was then appointed to Community UMC in Northeast Washington, where he coordinated the building of the church. He served there for 18 years. In 1977, he was appointed to Asbury UMC in Frederick and remained there until his retirement in 1986.

Retirement didn't stop him and he served as interim pastor on the Buckeystown Charge and the Simpson Christian Community Church in New Market. He also served as an associate pastor at the Frederick Presbyterian Church.

In Frederick, he was active in civic organizations including the NAACP, the Frederick County Scholarship Aid Fund and Kiwanis International. He was on the boards of directors of the Frederick Rescue Mission, the YMCA, and the Commission on Aging. He maintained affiliation with the Sidney Mudd Lodge No. 748 of Upper Marlboro and the American Legion.

Survivors include Beverly Ford, his wife of 29 years, of Walkersville; three daughters: Lynda Parker of Washington, D.C., Carol Spriggs and Anne Hammond of Hyattsville; one son, James Ford of Cleveland, Ohio; a stepson, Jonathan E. Townes of Tucson, Ariz.; eight grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a grandson.

The Rev. John Wesley Linwood Ford, an Associate Member, died Aug. 1, 2011, at the Citizen's Care and Rehabilitation Center in Frederick, where he had been a resident for 20 months. The Rev. Ronald Simmons officiated at a service at Asbury UMC in Frederick Aug. 5.

FREDERICK W. FORKEL JR. 1917-2011

Frederick William Forkel Jr. was born June 8, 1917, in Brooklyn, New York, to the late Lillian Granberg Forkel and Frederick W. Forkel Sr.

He was a graduate of City College of New York City, and studied at Columbia University, Evangelical Theological Seminary and Union Theological Seminary where he obtained his Bachelor of Divinity Degree. Later he was awarded a Master of Sacred Theology Degree from Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, Pa.

Forkel transferred from the New York Conference in 1943 to the Atlantic Conference of the Evangelical Church and was appointed to what became, in 1946, the Emanuel Evangelical United Brethren in Baltimore. It later was relocated to Catonsville. Emanuel opened in 1840 to serve the growing German immigrant population. Forkel remained there through conference realignments, denominational mergers (1968), growth, relocation and building challenges until 1970. In all, while there, he served in five conferences and three denominations, "all without switching denominations," said conference historian the Rev. Ed Schell, who followed him in death five weeks later.

His next, and last, appointment was to Memorial UMC, the first pastor appointed by the new denomination (UMC) to what had been the national church of the United Brethren when it opened in the District of Columbia in 1893. He served for 10 years until retirement in 1980, through its relocation to Silver Spring.

Forkel's first wife, Emily Schroeder, died at the age of 31 in 1952. He was married to four successive wives, all of whom predeceased him. In addition to Schroeder, he married Grace Lovell of College Park, Francis Erb Russell of Catonsville and in 2004, Mary Riddle Lawrence of Catonsville.

Survivors include three daughters: Ellen Suljak, Phyllis Kepp of Glenwood, and Susan Hamrick; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. He is also survived by his stepchildren: Suzan Kiepper, Stephen Russell, Charles and Barbara Lawrence, and Sue and Ray Sidoti.

The Rev. Frederick W. Forkel, a retired Elder, died Nov. 18, 2011, less than a month after the death of his wife, Mary Forkel. The Rev. Mark Waddell officiated at a Service of Witness to the Resurrection Nov. 23 at Catonsville UMC.

C. ALAN HOGLE

Alan Hogle was born Jan. 16, 1930, in Brooklyn, N.Y., to the Rev. Charles Newman Hogle and Marian Grace Fitzgerald. He was a fourth generation (United) Methodist minister.

A graduate of Baldwin Wallace College, Western Reserve University and Hartford Seminary, Hogle spent much of his ministerial career in extension ministry. He pastored St. Matthew's UMC in Bowie from 1963-66; and helped to integrate McKendree UMC in Washington, D.C., from 1967-69.

For the next 25 years he was "in ministry to the secular world" with the U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services, where he worked on interstate adoptions. He retired from there in 1991 and in 1993 moved to Florida where he served as visitation minister at a United Church of Christ until he retired in 2000. During that time he was a chaplain for the Florida Alzheimer's Association in Fort Myers, Fla.

Hogle had a life-long commitment to peace and justice. He worked tirelessly for a world and church of welcome and inclusion, open to all, regardless of race, gender and sexual orientation.

He is survived by his wife of 57 years, Teddy Joy Couchman Hogle of East Haven, Conn.; their four children: Mark Alan Hogle of Naples, Fla., Heather Jean Hogle of New Haven, Robin Joy Losso, a Presbyterian pastor in Thompson Ridge, N.Y., and Charles Patrick Hogle of Rochester, N.Y.; and two grandchildren.

The Rev. C. Alan Hogle, 82, died from congestive heart failure April 9, 2012, in Branford, Conn. A celebration of his life was held at First Presbyterian Church (USA) in New Haven, May 6.

PENNELL "PENNY" JESTER
1922-2011

Pennell "Penny" V. Jester was born Jan. 31, 1922, in Stillpond, Kent County, to the late James A. and Lucille Jester. He graduated from Sykesville Senior High School in 1940 and joined the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Jester served United Methodist churches for 22 years from 1968 to 1990, including Mt. Carmel in Pasadena, 1969-1973; Chesaco Avenue in Baltimore from 1974-1979; then Faith in Pasadena until 1983; and Solley, Solley-Marley and Marley from 1983 until he retired in 1990.

During these ministry years, from 1962 until 1985, he was also a letter carrier in Catonsville for the US Postal Service.

Jester was a member of Community UMC in Pasadena; the King David Lodge #68 where he was a past master; the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters in the MD Community #1 & Concordia Chapter #3; and the Eastern Star Arundel Chapter. His hobbies included reading, fishing, crabbing and taking car trips.

Survivors include his wife of 64 years, Laura V. Jester; sons Pennell J. Jester of Glen Burnie, Dennis B. Jester Sr. of Pasadena, Neil W. Jester of Stevensville; and Otto P. Jester of Salisbury; a daughter, Claudine M. J. Castro of Hampstead, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Pennell "Penny" V. Jester, a retired Local Pastor, died Oct. 3, 2011, at the Baltimore Washington Medical Center. A funeral service was held Oct. 11, at the Stallings Funeral Home in Pasadena.

CHARLES EDWARD JOHNSON*1933-2012

Charles Edward Johnson and his identical twin brother Maurice were born July 22, 1933, in Hagerstown, sons of the late Maurice Needy, and Helen Irene (Schmidt) Johnson Sr. He graduated from Hagerstown High School in 1951 and went on to earn degrees from Hagerstown Junior College, Shepherd College and Shippensburg State College.

After his retirement from over 30 years in education, Charles attended Wesley Seminary in Washington D.C., and became a Local Pastor. He served Piney Plains Charge in 1986-88, then the Potomac Park-McKendree Charge in LaVale 1988-1990. After suffering an aneurism, which left him paralyzed on his left side in November, 1990, he retired from the ministry, but not from leading an independent and full life as a layman.

At age five he and his twin, Maurice, began what would be a lifelong love of singing when they performed in the acapella boys choir at the Presbyterian Church in Hagerstown.

After college, the brothers enlisted in the U.S. Army, 101st Airborne Division at Fort Jackson, S.C. They handled media relations during the 1957 "Little Rock 9" school desegregation crisis. He spent three years in Little Rock achieving four promotions to Sergeant E6.

Following discharge in 1958, Johnson spent 17 years in the Washington County School System as a television writer and instructor, classroom teacher and administrator. He started his teaching career at Boonsboro High School and Washington Street Junior High. He was also an elder and Chairman of the Congregation at First Christian Church in Hagerstown.

In 1973, he became the first Director of the Western Maryland Vocational Resource Center in Cresap-town. He also taught at Allegany and Fort Hill High Schools, Allegany Community College, and at Shepherd University Graduate School.

Johnson received many awards and honors while in the public school system. Throughout his education career he travelled broadly and extensively in order to gain first-hand experiences with a variety of teaching and learning situations, and used these tools in the classroom.

He was an active layman at Otterbein UMC, where, among other activities, he served as the first president and an organizer of a chapter of the United Methodist Men. He was also active in many community organizations, including Optimist Clubs, and the Allegany County Cancer Society. He and his brother received the Award for Outstanding Achievement and Worthwhile Contribution to Community Life from the Hagerstown Community College.

Johnson was preceded in death by his twin brother and fellow pastor, Maurice N. Johnson Jr.

He is survived by his daughters, Julie Wagener of New Market, Laurie Bender of Hagerstown, and Catina Femi of Monroe, N.C.; son, Charles E. Johnson Jr. of Bensalem, Pa.; and five grandchildren.

Charles Edward Johnson, a Local Pastor, died Friday, March 30, 2012, in Hagerstown. The Rev. Stephen Robison officiated at a memorial service April 4 at the Rest Haven Funeral Chapel in Hagerstown.

MILLARD B. KNOWLES*1929-2011

Millard Byrd Knowles was born Nov. 17, 1929, in Prince George's County and attended Baltimore City College, Western Maryland College, and Oberlin Graduate School of Theology. He received a D. Min from United Theological Seminary.

Most of Knowles' 60-year ministerial career was spent in the West Ohio Conference. He was retired when he came to Baltimore-Washington Conference in 1992, to serve as part-time pastor at Old Otterbein UMC in Baltimore. He stayed for 14 years until retiring again in 2006. In 2008, he became Pastor of Visitation/Pastor Emeritus at Perry Hall UMC.

He is remembered as a long time Director of the Conference Historical Society.

“Millard was a man of great wisdom and could tell a Bible story better than anyone else. When he spoke you felt as if you were right there with the people of the Bible!” said the Rev. Jeffrey Paulson, his “unofficial adopted son.”

Knowles, whose ministerial career began in 1949, and E. Carolyn Peed were married in 1950 and had three children. She died in 2008.

Survivors include his daughters Robin Knowles Wallace from Ohio, Elizabeth Anne Phipps from Maine and son Jonathan M. Knowles from Vermont, and four grandchildren.

The Rev. Millard Byrd Knowles, a retired Elder, died Dec. 15, 2011, at Oakcrest Retirement Village. The Rev. Victor Harner officiated at a funeral service at Perry Hall UMC Dec. 17. A graveside service was held at Gardens of Faith in Baltimore.

JOHN WILLIAM LANSING 1931-2011

John William Lansing was born Oct. 30, 1931, in Wilmington, Del., where his father was a research chemist for Dupont. His father died when he was four. His mother worked for Dupont, and when he was 13, they moved to Albuquerque.

Lansing served as an Army medic in Italy and Austria during the Korean conflict. After discharge, he attended the University of New Mexico. He was a graduate of Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in 1957, then completed a Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago. He served a church in Texas during his seminary years, and a church in Minneapolis for two years. But teaching is what beckoned him.

Lansing taught philosophy and theology at Central Methodist College in Fayette, Missouri, and served as Chair of Religion and Philosophy at Oklahoma City University (1974-78).

As a hobby, he was doing computer programming, which turned into a profession. He became a computer programmer for Hertz Data Center in Oklahoma City until 1985.

In 1985, Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore offered him a systems analyst position at the Homewood campus. The Lansings moved to Towson, became active in Towson UMC, and he transferred into the Baltimore-Washington Conference in 1987, continuing his secular employment until he retired in 1997.

“John’s real ministry was in teaching,” said his wife, Phyllis Lansing, whom he married in Texas in 1958, six months after they met during orientation at SMU, “at the college level and at every church we attended over the years.” He was instrumental in bringing the Disciple program to Towson UMC, where for years he taught many adult and young adult classes and sang in the choir. After retirement, he worked with the church’s computer system, expanding the network from one to 10 computers and teaching members how to use them for church record keeping and demographics.

The Lansings moved to Charlestown in 2003 and became choir members at Catonsville UMC for four years, until John’s health precluded further choir singing. He moved to the Care Center in 2010.

He was pre-deceased by a son, Thomas Anthony, who died in an auto accident in 1966.

Survivors include his wife of 53 years, daughter Christine Lansing and son John C. Lansing.

The Rev. John William Lansing, a retired Elder, died Oct. 10, 2011, from diabetes and dementia. The Rev. Rod Miller officiated at a memorial service Dec. 10, 2011, at Towson UMC where for many years Lansing had been an active layman. His body was donated to the Maryland Anatomy Board.

SANDRA WIMBERLY LEATHERY*1964-2011

Sandra Wimberly was born Oct. 19, 1964, to Mescal Bradford Wimberly and the late Albert Wimberly.

She and Paul Leathery were married in 1999. They had two children.

Leathery became a diaconal minister in 1999 and usually served churches as director of children's ministries. Her first church was her home church, Millian Memorial UMC, where she worked from 1999-2001. She also served Westminster UMC in 2001-02, Rising Hope UMC 2005-2006, Monocacy Valley Church (independent) 2007-2008; and Concord-St. Andrews UMC 2010-2011. At Rising Hope she was director of volunteer ministries, and she did a number of small jobs in between the churches.

One of those was taking several trips to Guatemala to adopt their son in 2002. He was 11 months old and had a cleft palate when he came with his new parents to the United States.

Her whole ministry was being an advocate for the lost, lonely and left out, said her husband. She had plans to attend Wesley Theological Seminary to become an ordained Deacon.

Survivors include her husband, Paul Leathery, and two children, Matthew D. Leathery, 10, and Laura R. Leathery, 7, and her mother, Mescal Bradford Wimberly of Cambridge.

Sandra Wimberly Leathery, a diaconal minister serving in The United Methodist Church, died unexpectedly in her sleep Nov. 23, 2011. A memorial service was held Dec. 7 at Millian Memorial UMC, her home church. The Rev. Alice Ford officiated and the Rev. Keary Kincannon from Rising Hope UMC in Alexandria, Va., where she had worked, delivered the homily. Also participating were District Superintendent Evan Young, the Rev. Earl Sulmonetti and Pastor Bruno Torres.

DONALD LEE MASON*1932-2012

Donald Lee Mason was born Jan. 16, 1932, in Grafton, W. Va., the son of the late Stephen Adolphus Mason and Ruby Watson Mason. He was a graduate of West Virginia University and Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C.

Mason began his ministerial career in 1964 in the Virginia Conference. In 1966, he became a member of the Baltimore Conference and was appointed to Bristol.

From 1969 to 1972, he was in Cumberland at the Central-Davis Memorial Charge. In 1973, he was appointed to Glenelg UMC and remained there until 1979, when he was appointed to Emanuel UMC in Catonsville, where he remained until taking a leave of absence in 1982. He retired in 1985.

He and Patricia Ann Delaney married in 1951 and had five children. He worked for the Bowman Distribution Company in Cleveland, Ohio, before he was called to ministry in the 1960s.

His daughter, Penny Wayson, wrote in a tribute to her father, "No matter what we thought we were missing in life or needing from another's we did not have, you showed us what mattered, led by example, and brought us into the lives of people who had so much less but valued their faith and comfort of family above all else. ... You taught me to accept the goodness in others rather than to stand in judgment when it was not mine to give."

Survivors are his wife of 61 years, Patricia Ann Mason; his children, Penny Lee Wayson and sons Donald Stephen "Skip" Mason and John David Mason, all of Grafton, W. Va.; Rebecca Diane Feeney of Morgantown, W. Va.; and Laura Beth Higdon of Catonsville; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Donald Lee Mason, retired clergy member of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, died suddenly April 21, 2012, in Morgantown, W. Va. His longtime friend, the Rev. Charles Harless officiated at a funeral service April 25 in Grafton, W. Va.

SHIRLIMARIE M. McARROY-GRAY

1948-2011

Shirlimarie Mahalia McArroy-Gray was born April 6, 1948, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Under her grandmother's care she accepted Christ at the age of 6. She was the first member of her family to graduate from high school. She received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology from the University of the District of Columbia, followed by a Juris Doctor Degree (JD) from George Washington University

National Law Center and a Masters of Divinity Degree from Howard University School of Divinity. In December 1997 she earned a Doctor of Ministry Degree from United Theological Seminary. She was ordained in the Baltimore-Washington Conference as a Deacon in June 1994 and as an Elder in June 2003.

McArroy-Gray served as pastor of the Pisgah Charge (Alexandria Chapel and Pisgah Chapel) in Indian Head from 1995 to 2003. During this appointment, she ministered to women who were victims of domestic violence. In 2003 she was appointed to Ward's Memorial UMC in Owings and in 2009, she was appointed to Lanham UMC, where she served until her health began to fail in 2010.

Prior to her ministerial career, she was a senior litigator in the District of Columbia Superior Courts Public Defender Office. In 2009 she became an instructor in the Baltimore-Washington Conference Discipleship Academy, where she was one of the first instructors for the Certified Lay Ministry training course.

McArroy-Gray received numerous awards such as the Council of Legal Opportunity Scholarship, Georgia Harkness Scholarship, the Ford Foundation Fellowship and the Vernon Johns Preaching Award. Her academic achievements were featured in Jet and Essence Magazines, Gospel Today and several other publications. She was the author of "Wounded in the House of a Friend: A Paradigm of Affirmation and Healing for African-American Women Victims of Domestic Violence."

She is survived by adopted daughters; sisters Adiya Imani McAlroy-Gray and Amira "Kalah" Makaela McAlroy-Gray; a special brother, the Rev. Robert Walker; and a very special friend, Bernice McGhee.

The Rev. Shirlimarie McArroy-Gray died Aug. 18, 2011, of heart complications at the Washington Hospital Center. The Rev. Rodney Smothers officiated at her funeral Aug. 24. at St. Paul UMC in Oxon Hill, where the church claimed her as its "honored daughter." Also participating in the service were the Revs. Ianther Mills, Washington East District Superintendent; the Revs. Robert Walker, George De Ford, Jane Wood and Winifred Blogman, and Pastor Johnsie Cogman.

JOHN ANSON MOTE

1920-2011

John Anson Mote was born Jan. 18, 1920, in Piqua, Ohio, one of six children of the late Sharon Roscoe Mote and Mary Gearhart Mote. In spite of being raised during the Great Depression, all six children graduated from college.

In high school he was the lead singer in a cowboy band, "The Roosevelt Rangers," which performed weekly on a local radio station. He also sang in a male quartet and became a music major in college. He graduated from Western Maryland College and went to St. Nazaire, France, to do relief work with a Quaker Transport Unit.

He completed seminary at Duke Theological Seminary and began his ministry at Calvary Methodist Church in Washington, D.C., in 1951. Over 59 years of ministry, he served many churches: Perry Hall-Salem, then Salem, 1953-1958; Caroline Street until 1963; Brookland and Shepherds of the Streets from 1963-1966, then Brookland until 1971, which he was responsible for integrating. From 1971-1973, he was appointed to Christ UMC in Landover Hills; from 1973-1976, to Wesley Freedom. In 1976, he moved to A.W. Wilson Memorial and retired after a heart attack in 1985. He continued serving as Minister of Visitation in the Baltimore area. His final retirement was in 2000 as Alzheimer's disease began to rob him of his faculties.

Mote felt called to the ministry after Pearl Harbor was attacked. He lost his effort to be classified 4-E, to be assigned to a Civilian Public Service Camp, and was inducted into the Army Aug. 8, 1942. All five Mote brothers served in the military during WWII. He protested many regulations in the military, as well as being a conscientious pacifist, and was given a "discharge without honor." Fifty-four years later through the repeated intervention of a friend, who wrote letters on his behalf to senators, congressmen, the head of the NAACP and the Dept. of the Army, he received his honorable discharge.

Active in civil rights, he and his daughters attended Dr. Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech in 1963. He also marched with Dr. King in Selma, Ala.

Mote is the author of two self-published autobiographical books, a children's book and a book of poetry. He enjoyed river rafting, playing a euphonium in a band, and riding a dog sled.

Survivors include his wife of 59 years, Maxine Mote; daughters Debbie Rice of Baltimore, Karen Wilson of Camano Island and Susan Smith of Mebane, N.C.; and three grandchildren.

The Rev. John Anson "Jack" Mote, a retired Elder, died from pancreatic cancer at his home on Camano Island, Wash., Oct. 4, 2011. Memorial services were held Oct. 29 at Stanwood UMC in Stanwood, Wash., and Nov. 13 at Lovely Lane UMC in Baltimore.

JAMES E. PERRY 1920-2012

James E. Perry was born Jan. 16, 1920, in Bethpage, Tenn., to farmers, James and Volney Perry. He attended Martin Junior College and received his Bachelors Degree from Butler University and his D. Min. from Boston University in 1947. He was ordained an Elder in Baltimore Conference in 1949.

Perry came to the Baltimore-Washington Conference in 1947 and served at Lanham until 1951 when he became a chaplain in the U.S. Air Force. He returned in 1955 and was appointed to Shady Side. In 1959 he was appointed to La Vale, where he served until 1964 when he went to Brooklyn UMC for four years. His next appointment was to Baldwin Memorial UMC in Millersville, from which he retired in 1971.

For 23 years following his chaplaincy, while serving the churches, he was a Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force Reserves, where he served as chaplain for the Eastern Region, taking two weeks from his pastorates to go on active duty in Colorado.

He and Marjorie Lemaire Perry were married in 1946; she died in 2010, after 64 years of marriage. His ashes were interred next to hers in Mt. Vernon, Tenn., "where he wanted to be," said his son Bray Perry.

Survivors include three sons, Bray Perry from Linthicum; and twins Mark Perry of York, Pa., and Vlainie Perry of Odenton; and three grandchildren.

The Rev. James E. Perry, a retired Elder, died Feb. 11, 2012, at his son's home in Linthicum. His charge church was Centenary UMC in Shady Side. There was no memorial service at his request.

EDWIN AUSTIN SCHELL 1923-2011

The Rev. Edwin Austin Schell was born in St. Louis Jan. 10, 1923. As a young man he worked for the streetcar company and developed a lifelong interest in public transit. When he moved to Washington, D.C., he worked in the scheduling administration for Capital Transit and attended American University.

Encouraged by his pastor at Calvary Church he sold his streetcar transfer collection to help finance his theological studies. He was ordained Deacon in 1952 and Elder in 1953 after completion of his theology degree from the Theological School of Drew University.

Schell was appointed to Broadway Methodist Church and remained in that pastorate until 1960. From 1960 to 1962, he was appointed to Curtis Bay-Arundel Cove, then from 1962 to 1966, to Linden Heights. At Woodberry Methodist Church in 1966, he became involved in the Baltimore Streetcar Museum, in which he remained active after leaving Woodberry in 1975. While at Woodberry he was the chaplain for Goodwill Industries.

Schell was appointed to historic Stone Chapel in 1975 and, in 1980, to Old Otterbein Church, a United Methodist Heritage Landmark. He retired from there in 1988.

In 1958, Schell was elected president of the Conference Historical Society and worked toward the re-chartering of the society in 1961. At the same time, he worked toward fitting himself to the needs of the Society through post-graduate work in History and in Archival Administration at Wesley Theological Seminary and at the University of Maryland.

In 1962 he became executive secretary of the Historical Society to manage the society's collections and business. He held the position for decades while serving pastorates part time. At the time of his death he was the executive secretary emeritus of the Commission on Archives & History and United Methodist Historical Society of the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Through the Strawbridge Shrine Association, he was active in acquiring another Heritage Landmark, the Robert Strawbridge House, in 1973, and in relocating the John Evans House to the Strawbridge site in 1979.

He guided the society's work in national celebrations of two bicentennials in 1966 and 1984 to observe the beginning of American Methodism and of the Christmas Conference, at which the denomination was organized in 1784 in Baltimore.

Schell became known locally and nationally for his encyclopedic knowledge of the complex history of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, its churches and institutions, and recorded much of that knowledge in extensive card catalog files. He also contributed chapters and articles to "Those Incredible Methodists," the conference's definitive history, and to many other church history publications.

In the last few months of his life, Schell was compiling histories of Lovely Lane Church and of the American Methodist Historical Society, the predecessor to the current conference historical society. Both projects were near completion and are expected to be brought to fruition by friends and colleagues, the last of many contributions to Methodist history by the Rev. Edwin A. Schell.

He retained his love of streetcars and volunteered weekly in the Baltimore museum's library where he organized the archives of the old Baltimore Transit Co.

The reading room at Lovely Lane Methodist Museum is named in his honor. He was a recipient of a Distinguished Service Award from The United Methodist Church. The parsonage at Old Otterbein UMC is named Schell House in honor of him and his wife.

He was married to the former Ruth Herman Timanus for nearly 50 years. She predeceased him in January 2010.

Survivors are her daughters, Rita La Cotti of Joppa and Nancy Cann of Severna Park; three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

JOHN D SNOWDEN JR*1933-2011

John Dewitt Snowden Jr. was born Nov. 29, 1933, in Raleigh, N.C., the son of the late Commora Brown Snowden and John Dewitt Snowden Sr.

He received his early education in both Virginia and North Carolina as he traveled between mother, grandmother and aunt and boarded at school in Miller's Tavern, Va. He graduated from Jefferson High School in Charlottesville, Va., in 1950.

Snowden joined the U.S. Air Force upon graduation, was stationed in several states and served 14 months in Japan. After discharge he attended North Carolina College, majoring in music.

Though christened in the Episcopal Church, he later joined Ebenezer UMC in Lanham, where he was an active lay person, serving as lay leader, president of the Usher Board, organizer of the Junior Ushers and acolytes. He was a member of the Gospel Choir, often playing bass guitar. It was in Ebenezer that he met his wife, Cecelia, whom he married in 1980.

Snowden was employed in Washington D.C. as a computer specialist for the Computer Science Corporation, the District of Columbia and the Federal Treasury Department, from which he retired in 1984.

He then answered the call to ministry he'd heard while in the military, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology in 1983 and a Master of Divinity from Howard University in 1987. He was ordained a Deacon in 1985 and an Elder in 1990.

His first appointment was in 1986 to Asbury UMC on the Hagerstown Charge. In 1990, he served at St. Matthew's UMC in Dundalk, then in 1998 went to Elderslie-St. Andrews in Baltimore. In 2000 he moved to Brooks UMC in St. Leonard from which he retired in 2004. In 2006, he was called back into service at Mt. Hope UMC in Sunderland, which he served until ill health caused him to retire again in March, 2011.

Among his most cherished memories was a mission trip to Ghana with the Revs. Conrad and Diana Parker.

Survivors include his wife, Cecelia Snowden of Lanham; two sons: John D. Snowden III of Charlottesville, Va., and Gregory Freeman of Brandywine; a stepson, Robert W. Clark Jr., and step-daughter, Cheryl D. Clark; six grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and two godchildren.

The Rev. John D. Snowden Jr., a retired Elder, died Nov. 5, 2011, two weeks before his 78th birthday. A wake was held Nov. 13 at Brooks UMC in St. Leonard, followed by a funeral service Nov. 14 at Union Bethel AME in Brandywine, where he worshipped.

ARTHUR FREDERICK WALZ JR.1940-2011

Arthur Frederick Walz Jr. was born Feb. 1, 1940, in Morristown, N.J., the son of the late Arthur F. Walz Sr. and Beatrice L. Wynn Walz. He attended Graceland Park Methodist Church in Baltimore County until moving to Manchester, Md., in 1958, where he was a member of St. Johns Methodist Church in Carroll County.

At a revival held at St. Johns, Fred came to know Jesus as his personal Savior. Not too long after, while sitting alone in the sanctuary and reading the bulletin insert that said there was a need for Methodist pastors, the Lord spoke to him and called him to preach.

Fred said, "No," not me. "I can't speak in front of people and get very tongue-tied." But the Lord said, "I want you." Fred finally said yes, "only if You do it because I can't."

After graduating from high school and working at Black and Decker for 18 months, he had enough money to attend Asbury College, from which he graduated in 1964.

In the meantime he met Prudence M. Wienhold at a Youth for Christ rally in Hampstead, Md. They communicated for three years and married in August, 1964.

Fred and Prudence lived in Wilmore, Ky., while he studied at Asbury Theological Seminary, graduating in 1969 with an M. Div. Degree and local preacher's license in hand.

Appointed by Bishop Lord, he began his 40 years in ministry at Aldersgate UMC in Baltimore, from 1969 to 1976, where he preached, had revivals, missionary conferences, lay witness missions, increased attendance and paid off the mortgage. Bishop James Mathews then appointed him to St. Andrews UMC in Hagerstown from 1976-1979. His next appointment was First UMC in Berkeley Springs, W. Va., 1979-1988; what a great adventure the Lord had in store! He preached, had revivals, started a pastor's prayer group that met on Fridays at 6:30 a.m., raised funds to build a new parsonage and got it built in two weeks with the Helping Missionaries from Elkart, Ind. At Hollywood UMC, from 1988 to 1994, he needed two services to accommodate the growing congregation. Next was Smithville UMC in Dunkirk, 1994-2003; and Patapsco UMC in Dundalk, from 2003-09. The bishop didn't know this was in the neighborhood where Fred grew up. He helped renovate the building to be more suitable for worship and Sunday School.

It was there he was diagnosed with renal cancer. He received excellent treatment at the Weinberg Cancer Center at Johns Hopkins Hospital. After many chemotherapies, the cancer seemed to be dormant, but Fred was tired and didn't have the stamina that it takes to be a full-time pastor. He retired from the ministry in 2009.

The Walzes moved to Lexington, Ky., and Fred continued the chemo. Finally it wasn't working.

Survivors include his wife of 47 years, Prudence Mae Wienhold Walz; a daughter, Jennifer Lynne Walz of Lexington; two sons, Jonathan Frederick Walz of Winter Park, Fla. and Jerald Henry Walz of Blacksburg, Va.

The Rev. Arthur Frederick Walz Jr., a retired Elder, was surrounded by his family in Lexington, Ky., when he went to be with his Savior Oct. 11, 2011. The memorial service was held Oct. 15 at Trinity Hill UMC in Lexington, with the Rev. Steve Drury officiating.

We give God the glory for the wonderful pastoral adventure He allowed us to share. Romans 14:7-8. Jesus is Lord.

EDWIN W. WILLIAMS 1938-2011

Edwin W. Williams was born Nov. 9, 1938, in Parkersburg, W. Va.. He was the third child of the late Dr. Joshua O. Williams Sr. and Agnes P. Williams. He was educated in the public school systems of Pittsburgh, Baltimore and New York City.

Williams graduated from Morgan State University and worked for a short time as a social worker for the city of New York. He received his call to ministry in 1963 and entered the Gammon Theological Seminary of Atlanta, Ga., graduating with honors in 1966. He was ordained Deacon in the West Virginia Conference in 1966 and Elder in 1967.

Williams is a part of the seventh generation of United Methodist ministers in his family. He holds the distinction of being the last ministerial candidate accepted in the Washington Conference prior to the integration of The United Methodist Church.

In 1963, during his first year of seminary, he met Dorothy Louise Ford, a student nurse at Grady Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. After a three-year courtship, she became his wife and soul mate for more than 45 years. He was the proud father of two sons,

Inspired by contact with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. at his father's church in New York City, Williams was among the many thousands who participated in the Selma to Montgomery March in 1965.

After serving two years in the West Virginia Conference, he transferred to the Baltimore-Washington Conference, where he served faithfully until retirement in 2004. During his 38 years of active ministry he served Main Street UMC in Westminster, 1968-69; Metropolitan UMC in Indian Head, 1969-1979; including Shiloh UMC from 1970-1972. From 1979-1984, he was at Grace UMC in Fort Washington; and from 1984 to 1992, at Asbury-Broadneck UMC in Annapolis. From 1992 to 2000, he was appointed to McKendree-Sims-Brookland UMC in Washington, D. C. His last appointment in 2000 was to Corkran UMC in Temple Hills, from which he retired in 2004.

In addition to his pastoral duties Williams served on both the district and conference Boards of Ordained Ministry. He was the recipient of many certificates and awards including the Harry Hosier Award in 1976 for outstanding leadership in the Black United Methodist Church. In May, 2008, he was inducted into the Preacher's Hall of Fame in Washington, D. C.

His hobbies were reading, traveling, watching television, and treasure hunting in thrift stores.

Upon retirement he moved to Selma, Ala., to start a new chapter in his life. He enjoyed supporting his wife, Dorothy, in her involvement with the youth of her home church, Elbethel Baptist Church, which included a mentoring and tutorial program. He especially enjoyed tutoring in history and social studies, attending Sunday school and occasionally preaching at the 11 a.m. service.

After seven years, he reunited with The United Methodist Church and they settled on Barrett Road UMC in Selma. He will be remembered there for his keen mind, his love for books, his quiet, gentle spirit, his organizational and administrative skills as a pastor, but most of all for his special interest in children and young people.

Survivors include his wife of 45 years, Dorothy Ford Williams; two sons, Rev. Dr. Thurman L. Williams of Baltimore, and Mark A. Williams of Atlanta; and four grandchildren.

The Rev. Edwin W. Williams, a retired Elder, died Dec. 17, 2011, in Selma, Ala.. The Rev. Deborah E. Born officiated at his funeral Dec. 23, at Barrett Road UMC in Selma. The eulogy was delivered by his son, Dr. Thurman L. Williams, pastor of New Song Community Church in Baltimore and the Scriptures were read by his youngest son, Mark A. Williams, and nephew, Nelson Williams, Jr., both of Atlanta, Ga. The Rev. Rodney Smothers officiated at a memorial service Jan. 16, 2012, at Corkran Memorial UMC in Temple Hills.

CARL E. YOUNG 1908 - 2011

Carl E. Young was born June 11, 1908, to the late Jacob and Rosa Metzger Young in Williamsport, Pa. He graduated from Williamsport High School in 1926 and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Albright College in 1930, followed by a Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Evangelical School of Theology, now United Theological Seminary, in 1933. He received his Masters of Divinity in 1950 from Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary and was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity by Albright College in 1966.

He was assigned to serve Zion Evangelical Church in Scranton, Pa., in 1934. He served a three-point charge in Mt. Holly Springs, Pa., then was appointed in 1936 to Walbrook Memorial Church in Baltimore where he stayed 17 years. In 1954, he became the founding and senior pastor of Milford Mill UMC in Pikesville and was there for 19 years until he retired in 1972. Even then, he continued serving as pastor of visitation at Grace UMC in Baltimore for five years.

In 1934 he and Lois Spencer Horton were married. After his second retirement in 1977, they moved to Bethany Village in Mechanicsburg, Pa. They both immediately became involved in the new community. He served as the first campus chaplain, which included writing biographies of all the residents. Lois Young died in 1981. Carl Young continued as editor of The Village for the next 10 years. He married Martha Barner Boyer in 1983.

Young was instrumental in raising $1.5 million for the Health Care Center. In 1984, it was his vision that established the Care Assurance Fund for Bethany Village. It reached $100,000 by the end of the first year. In 1991 he was declared the “Father of the Care Assurance Endowment Fund,” which now exceeds $10 million and supports a growing number of residents that have outlived their assets.

In recognition of his contributions to the community, Bethany Village gives the annual Carl E. Young Outstanding Service Award to one of its associates. In 2003, Young was chosen the “Cumberland County Outstanding Senior. In 2004, he was named the Distinguished Alumnus by the Albright College Alumni Association.

Few of us see so many changes in our life time. Young saw the first airplane, the first Model “T”, changing from a telephone party line to dial then to I-phone, the first black and white TV to modern HD and 3D in your own living room, from farm-picked dinner to TV dinners, the old wood stove to the microwave, from the ice box to fully electric refrigerator, from the radio to all the modern communications of computer and social network. He marveled at seeing his grandson and talking to him on a small screen on his kitchen table. Whatever period of time has seen such changes?

Dad was so much more than all he accomplished in his full and joyful life. To be in his presence was to experience a vitality for living, a passionate interest in others, a deep appreciation for natural beauty, and overflowing generosity, a gratitude for little things, and an abiding joy in his relationship with his Heavenly Father. To know him was to enjoy the twinkle in his eyes, his anytime hymn whistling, a grin over some mischief to come, and mostly his words of wisdom, encouragement and vision. His example of walking daily in God’s presence is one that inspires us to live as such.

He was preceded in death by his wives, Lois Horton Young and Martha Barner Boyer Young.

Survivors include his four daughters: Mary Lois Miller of Cabot, Pa.; Margaret Wray of Durham, NC; Ruth McGuire of St. Paul, Austria; and Kathryn Carmines of Mechanicsburg, Pa.; 15 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

The Rev. Carl E. Young died Dec. 20, 2011, at his home in Bethany Village in Mechanicsburg, Pa. At 103, he was the oldest member of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. A celebration of his life was held Dec. 29, in the Bethany Village Community Room.

GERALD “JERRY” ZIMMERMAN 1917-2011

Gerald R. “Jerry” Zimmerman was born Dec. 4, 1917, in New Cumberland, Pa., the son of John and Jennie Hoffman Zimmerman.

He was an Associate Member who had served in churches for 28 years. He was appointed to Providence UMC in Towson in 1980 and pastored the church until 1985 when he retired and was accorded a Pastor Emeritus status. In his retirement, he served an interim appointment at St. Johns of Hamilton UMC in Baltimore, and as a visitation pastor at Towson UMC.

Prior to becoming a minister, Zimmerman was a printer for 30 years, working for the Harrisburg Telegraph and the Baltimore Sun newspapers. He was a veteran of WWII, serving in the Navy’s secret Codebreaking and Signals Intelligence unit in North Africa.

He was a member of the American Legion Post 945, and a member of Mt. Moriah Masonic Lodge #116 for 60 years.

His wife of 66 years, Ruth Moody Zimmerman, preceded him in death.

Surviving are two sons: Lt. Col. Jeffrey Zimmerman USMC (Ret.) of Severna Park and Jere Zimmerman of Boiling Springs, Pa.; five grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and a step-grandson.

Rev. Gerald R. Zimmerman died Aug. 24, 2011. A memorial service was held Aug. 29 in the Community Center at Bethany Village in Mechanicsburg, Pa. A funeral service was held Aug. 30 at Musselman's Funeral Home in Lemoyne, Pa.

CLERGY SPOUSE MEMOIRS

DOROTHY BEATRICE KYLE BENNETT 1924-2011

Dorothy Beatrice Kyle was born June 27, 1924, the only child to the late Willie Kyle and Wilson Shelton in Lynch, Ky. She was educated in Statesbury, W. Va., and received formal training from Apex College and Coppin State College.

She married Sustin Bennett Sr., 17 years her senior, in 1947 at the beginning of his ministerial career, which started at age 40. He owned and spent many years working in the Lincoln Barber Shop on Pennsylvania Ave. in Baltimore.

Bennett was First Lady for 27 years in the churches her husband served after his ordination as Deacon in 1947 in the Washington Conference. These included Methodist churches in Hamilton, Va., from 1947-49, Sparrows Point, 1950-52, Mt. Zion-Halls in Magothy 1952-57, St. Matthews in Turner Station 1958-61, and from 1962 until he retired in 1975, at St. Paul's UMC in Baltimore. He died in 1980.

Bennett taught elementary school in the Anne Arundel County school system for 22 years.

She was an active member of Unity UMC and Mt. Zion UMC of Magothy. She served on various local church and district committees and was president of the United Methodist Women. She especially enjoyed her time with the Golden Girls of Magothy. She sang in the church choirs.

Bennett was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, Tau Gamma Delta Sorority, vice president of New Carroll Manor, Toastmaster National District. She loved to travel and in her earlier years to teach cosmetology.

Survivors include her stepson Sustin Bennett Jr. of Baltimore, and goddaughter Dorothy Kasey-McNeill, who was by her side when she died. She is also survived by a granddaughter and a great-grandson.

Dorothy Beatrice Kyle Bennett, the wife of the late Rev. Sustin R. Bennett Sr., died Nov. 16, 2011. The Rev. Melvin T. Bonds officiated and the Rev. Kwame Abayomi gave the eulogy at a funeral service Nov. 22 at Unity UMC in Baltimore. Interment is in Arbutus Memorial Park with her husband.

ELIZABETH "BETSEY" CAMPAIGNE 1941-2011

Elizabeth Bennett was born Feb. 14, 1941, in Washington, D.C., the third child to the late Clarence O. and Louise M. Bennett. She attended elementary and junior high school in Washington, D.C., and graduated from Wheaton High School in 1958. She earned a BA degree in psychology at American University in 1962, and a Master's degree in General Administration from the University of Maryland University-College (UMUC) in 1995.

She and Curtis Campaigne were married in 1970 at Wesley Seminary. He came into the Baltimore Conference in 1969 from the Troy Conference and served at Asbury UMC in Washington, D.C., from 1969 to 1974, then for two years at Anacostia. In 1976, he was appointed to St. Paul UMC in Chevy Chase and in 1982 to the Hollywood Charge, from which he retired in 1988.

She was an active minister's wife as editor of newsletters, choir member and Sunday school teacher at the churches her husband served, in addition to helping with retreats, suppers and bazaars.

Immediately following college, Campaigne went to work for various defense contractors for 34 years, retiring on March 1, 2008. For 10 years while her children were young, she became the director/teacher at the St. Paul Nursery School in Chevy Chase, and then Hollywood (Md.) UMC Preschool.

As a young person, Campaigne was a member of the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution (C.A.R.) and rose to the rank of National President her senior year of college. She joined the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1962 and served as National Chairman of Junior Membership for three years, was a Chapter Regent and had maintained her membership in the Constitution Chapter in D.C. She held five Senior National Officer positions.

Campaigne was well known in Calvert County, her residence since 1988, and Southern Maryland for her work with social service organizations, where she was a director on the Board of SMILE Ecu-menical Ministries, Inc. representing St. Paul UMC in Lusby, and served as its president, vice-president and secretary. She was a Chief Election Judge and a six-year member on the County Board of Social Services. Campaigne was also Secretary of the Board of Directors for the Southern Maryland Tri-County Community Action Committee, Inc.

In all her work, church, community and family activities, she was well known for her "can do" attitude, her enthusiasm, her team work and a willingness to give the job 100 percent of her time and talent. She will especially be missed for her laughter. She loved to read, travel and organize (Campaigne Clutter Control was her side business).

She is survived by her husband of Lusby; her son, David Campaigne of Baltimore; daughter Christina Watson of Virginia Beach, Va.; and four grandchildren. A sister and brother also survive.

Elizabeth "Betsey" Campaigne, the wife of the Rev. Curtis Campaigne, died from cancer Sept. 1, 2011, at the Mandrin House Hospice Center in Anne Arundel County. The Rev. Sheldon Reese officiated at her funeral at Hollywood UMC Sept. 7. Also participating were the Revs. Charles Harrell and David Graves.

AGNES ALLEN CARRINGTON 1920-2011

Agnes Bertha Elizabeth Allen was born in Baltimore March 13, 1920, the first daughter of the late Leigh and Agnes Allen. She received her education in the Baltimore County Public School system, and later graduated from Cortez Peters.

She was the second wife of the Rev. N.B. Carrington when they married in 1957. At the time he was pastor of Union Memorial, which he served from 1953 to 1966 until he retired. His memoir states that "they walked hand in hand in Christian service." In 1967, he became associate pastor at Metropolitan UMC in Baltimore, where he remained until 1976. He died in 1979.

Carrington held many positions with the Women's Society, now called United Methodist Women. She was deeply involved with the Baltimore-Washington Conference and was a long-time volunteer at the United Methodist Historical Society at Lovely Lane UMC.

She enjoyed crafts, taking photos, attending Baltimore Orioles baseball games and being a "high roller" on her bowling team. She cared for many house plants and loved to travel.

Survivors include her sister, Elvira Gosnell of Baltimore; four grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; and an "adopted" daughter, Jean Cox.

Agnes Allen Carrington, the wife of the late Rev. Napoleon "N.B." Carrington, died June 15, 2011, in Baltimore. A service was held June 30 at Arbutus Memorial Park.

DOROTHY MAE CHASTAIN

Dorothy Mae Chastain was born Jan. 4, 1912, in Eckhart, the daughter of Mrs. H. P. Northcraft. At an early age, she moved with her grandparents, William and Anna McDonald, to Berlin, Pa., where she was raised. She later lived with an aunt and uncle in Cresaptown, where she met and married the Rev. Louis Chastain, 19 years her senior.

He served many churches in Maryland, West Virginia and Washington, D.C., changing every couple years, from 1920 until he retired from Dumbarton in 1959. He died at the age of 87 in 1980.

Chastain spent many years as a volunteer, beginning as a Red Cross nurses' aide during World War II at Memorial and Allegany Hospitals. In later years, she volunteered at nursing homes in Cumberland and Allegany County, and primarily at Lions Manor in Cumberland. One great love was having Bible study in her home.

Surviving are her two daughters: Carole Elaine Barnes of Leesburg, Va., and Dania Chastain Strasburg of Charlottesville, Va.; one son, Dan Chastain of Chicago; a grandson, five great-grandchildren; and a number of step-grandchildren.

Dorothy Mae Chastain, the wife of the late Rev. Louis Chastain, died at Cumberland Arms in Cumberland Sept. 26, 2011. She had lived there since August 1998. Pastor David Hattenfield officiated at a funeral service at the Cornerstone Baptist Church Sept. 29.

FRANCES "MOLLY" CLULOW

1923 - 2011

Frances "Molly" Smith was born Dec. 24, 1923, in Timmons, Ontario, then raised in Cornwall and London, England. She and Glenn Clulow met and married while he was stationed in England in 1943. She was supportive of her husband who upon discharge opened his own jewelry business, then in 1949 began the long process of college and seminary, leading toward ordination in 1957.

His appointments included Darlington in 1954, Union Square in 1956, then to Baldwin Memorial in Millersville in 1960. For four years, 1964-1968, he served Ames UMC in Pikesville, then took a year off for them both to go to Liberia as missionaries with the Koinonia Foundation. They returned to parish ministry and he was appointed to First UMC in Bradbury Heights from 1969 to 1972, when they moved to Magothy UMC. They stayed there 10 years until his retirement in 1982. They moved to Florida for their retirement years. He died in 2007.

BETTY JUNE ROBERTS

1937-2011

Betty June Bremker Roberts was born June 26, 1937, in Baltimore, the only child of Edward and Helen Bremker.

She met McCarl Roberts when she was in high school and he was in college. He and his sister performed a popular magic act. When his sister married, he needed a new assistant. The first candidate for the job as a magician's assistant was Betty Bremker. The business relationship bloomed into romance and they were married in 1956, while she was in college and he was in seminary.

Betty Roberts graduated from Towson University and became an elementary school teacher. She was a dedicated wife and partner in ministry during the 21 years her husband served churches. These were at Grace UMC in Falls Road, and Bosley in Sparks, 1955-1962; Arnolia UMC 1962-1974; St. Matthews UMC at Bowie until 1976, when he became executive director of the Maryland Bible Society. Betty Roberts became his assistant and continued to work at MBS for five years after he retired in 1995.

McCarl wrote of her, "I have been cared for and protected for all my days with a care and protection, which no man could deserve, and for which no thanks are adequate, and which I can only acknowledge. Without her, life for me would have been impossible. The happiest day of my life was the day I met her, and the saddest day was the day she died. She loved our Lord before she loved me."

Betty Roberts sang in the choirs, taught in the Sunday School, served as president of the United Methodist Women, was a youth counselor and worked at fund raising. She played the piano and violin, loved crafts and was an excellent swimmer. "She was beautiful inside and out,"

Shortly before her death, she received this note from a former parishioner: "Betty, the greatest gifts you are giving us, as you go to God's heaven, are the kind and loving memories of having enriched so many lives – your bright smile and quick wit, your merry heart and happy laughter and your gentle demeanor – all of these and so much more will remain with us who have cherished you and your presence in our lives."

Survivors include her husband of 55 years, a daughter Kimberly, son Keith Roberts and five grandchildren.

Betty Roberts, the wife of the Rev. W. McCarl Roberts, retired, died Nov. 4, 2011, after losing her battle with ovarian cancer. Her body was cremated and a private graveside service was conducted Dec. 2.

ALICE LEE WRIGHT

Alice Lee Armiger was born Sept. 19, 1920, in Jacobsville, near Glen Burnie, to the late William Leslie and Alice Lee Armiger.

Lee Armiger, as she was known, married the Rev. Malcolm “Mac” Wright in 1941 at the beginning of his ministerial career, and faced the challenges of Christian ministry with him as they served a number of churches. These included Mt. Nebo from 1941-43, East Harford from 1944-46, Pipe Creek in 1947-48, Ridgeville, 1948-53, and Epworth in Gaithersburg for nine years. At Epworth she supported him in the relocation and construction of the church.

In 1964, Mac Wright became incapacitated from multiple sclerosis and went on disability leave, then retired in 1979. Thus began a new phase of her life as she supported him throughout his disability until his death in 1983. In the 1960s, they moved to a house in Gaithersburg across the street from Asbury Methodist Village, where she lived with her daughter until her death.

DR. W. ASTOR KIRK
1922-2011

W. Astor "Bill" Kirk, a United Methodist layperson, was born in 1922 in poverty in Texas. He earned his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Howard University, and pursued a doctorate in political science at the University of Texas. He completed postgraduate studies at the London School of Economics and Political Science in England as a Fulbright scholar.

Kirk served as a director of the public affairs department of the Board of Church and Society of The United Methodist Church from 1961 to 1966 and as interim General Secretary of the Board in 1987 and 1988. He played an historic role in ending institutional segregation in The United Methodist Church.

In 1960, he was elected secretary of the Committee of Five, a group established by the Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church with a mandate to end racial segregation within the denomination. The Central Jurisdiction was a structure created in 1939 to segregate African-Americans within the Methodist Church. Kirk wrote numerous papers and studies for the Committee of Five analyzing the history of segregation within the denomination and recommending strategies for ending it.

During a discussion concerning the merger of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren denominations at the 1964 General Conference of The Methodist Church, Kirk, serving as an alternate delegate, moved an amendment to the proposed plan of merger, which included the continuation of the Central Jurisdiction, that “the Central Jurisdiction structure of the Methodist Church not be made a part of the Plan of Merger.”

After lengthy debate, the motion, known as “The Kirk Amendment,” passed 464 to 362, establishing the denomination’s commitment to end institutional segregation.

Following the 1964 General Conference, Kirk was elected chair of the Committee of Five. As chair, he helped negotiate the mergers of the Delaware and North Carolina-Virginia annual conferences of the Central Jurisdiction with overlapping annual conferences.

In 1965 when southern church leaders argued before the denomination’s Judicial Council that Jurisdictional Conferences had the right to preserve segregated conferences within their boundaries, Kirk took a three-month leave of absence from the Board of Church and Society to prepare a brief arguing that the denomination did have the authority to end segregated conferences. In his brief and oral argument, Kirk argued that the issue of segregation had become a “distinctively connectional matter.” The Council’s 1965 Judicial Decision No. 232 states: “We have no doubt that the creation of a racially inclusive church is now a matter ‘distinctively connectional.’”

He was also an advocate for the end of discrimination against women and lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people within the church. His last book, “Ending Institutional Discrimination within United Methodism – A Brief Interpretative History,” examines the history of discrimination against African Americans, women, and lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people within the denomination.

Before his death, Kirk had prepared an omnibus resolution to end discrimination against sexual minorities for the 2012 General Conference of The United Methodist Church and was scheduled to lead a workshop entitled “Ending Discrimination in the UMC: How Can the Past Inform the Future?” at a conference sponsored by the Reconciling Ministries Network and the Methodist Federation for Social Action later that month.

Kirk and his late wife Vivian had been members of Foundry UMC in Washington since 1984 where he served in many leadership roles.

He was predeceased by his wife in 2010 and daughter Marie Kirk Dunn.

Survivors include his son William A. Kirk Jr. and four granddaughters.

Dr. W. Astor “Bill” Kirk died Aug. 12, 2011 in Washington, DC. The Rev. Dean Snyder officiated at a memorial service at Foundry UMC, Aug. 19. A private ceremony and interment was held earlier that day for the family. Foundry has established the Dr. W. Astor and Vivian Kirk Memorial Fund in his memory.

POLICY AND PROCEDURE REGARDING SEXUAL MISCONDUCT, ABUSE OR HARASSMENT FOR THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Introduction

The Baltimore-Washington Conference (BWC) sexual misconduct policy is based on Scripture, our United Methodist theology of sexual ethics, and the Book of Discipline. The policy sets forth

- our understanding of and commitment to appropriate clergy and lay sexual conduct boundaries,
- reporting procedures, and
- guidelines for responding when there is a report of inappropriate sexual behavior.

Biblical and Theological Foundation

As people of God, created in God's image (Genesis 1:27), we mutually care for one another and respect each other as Jesus did and commanded us to do. Matthew 7:12 says, "In everything do to others as you would have them do to you; for this is the law and the prophets." (NRSV) We affirm that everyone is of sacred worth and that God intends for all people to live in healthy and life-giving relationships that affirm and value their personhood. As United Methodists we covenant with God and one another to live holy lives and to relate to one another following Jesus' example.

We recognize that sexuality is God's gift to everyone and that God desires for everyone to live fulfilled lives in relationship with one another. We call everyone to be spiritually disciplined in their relationship with one another so that all relationships are healthy and life-giving as stewards of God's gift of sexuality.

Statement of Commitment

Sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and sexual abuse all violate the integrity of the individuals involved and are prohibited in our congregations and ministries. All United Methodists, clergy and laity, in the BWC are called to exercise their various ministries so that we do not violate a person physically or emotionally or violate the policies of The United Methodist Church or BWC. The BWC does not tolerate inappropriate behavior from United Methodist clergy or lay members or anyone participating in any of our ministries, and will seek to hold those who violate the policy accountable for their actions according to church and civil laws.

Sexual misconduct by a United Methodist clergy person or any lay member or any non-United Methodists who participate in any of our ministries is a betrayal of a sacred trust with the victims, God and the Christian community.

What is Sexual Abuse, Misconduct and Harassment?

Sexual abuse, misconduct and harassment are behaviors that communicate unwanted or inappropriate sexual interest and/or content. Examples include, but are not limited to, displaying sexually suggestive visual materials; making sexual comments or innuendo about one's own or another person's body; inappropriately and impermissibly touching another person's body, hair or clothing; touching or rubbing oneself in the presence of another person; exposing sexual body parts and sexual intercourse.

Sexual abuse is unwanted advance of a sexual nature and includes physical contact, verbal communication, exposing sexual body parts or physical gestures of a sexual nature.

Sexual misconduct includes a range of behaviors used to obtain sexual contact against a person's will, including but not limited to any sexual conduct between an adult and a minor. In the UMC/BWC, sexual misconduct also includes any dating, romantic or sexual relationship between 1) church staff members (clergy or lay) and any other staff member, parishioner or ministry participant; 2) a church leader (actual or perceived) and a ministry participant; and/or 3) a church volunteer and a ministry participant. Exceptions to this may include consensual relationships that have been reported to church officials and approved in advance pursuant to the following procedures: 1) Any church staff person (clergy or lay) who desires to have a dating, romantic or sexual relationship with any other staff member, parishioner or ministry participant, shall consult the senior or lead pastor and the Staff-Parish Relations Committee chair. If the person is the lead pastor, he or she shall consult with his or her district superintendent. 2) Church leaders or volunteers who desire to have a dating, romantic or sexual relationship with a ministry participant shall consult with the pastor.

No sexual abuse, misconduct or harassment will be allowed or tolerated on church premises or during any ministry activity, regardless of the location.

Sexual harassment includes a range of behaviors (based on sexual interest or sexual communication) that intimidate, demean, humiliate or coerce. These behaviors range from the subtle forms that can create a hostile working, learning or worshipping environment to the most severe forms of stalking, assault or rape.

Because sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and sexual abuse are violations of one's personhood, unethical and may be illegal, these behaviors violate our theological understanding of what God expects from us in relationship with one another. The BWC or its designee shall investigate all allegations of misconduct, harassment and abuse.

Procedures When Sexual Abuse, Misconduct, or Harassment Occurs

1. Any church staff member (clergy or lay), parishioner or ministry participant, who observes or hears of any inappropriate sexualized behavior occurring on church premises or (regardless of the location) in connection with any church ministry or church activity, shall immediately report such to the pastor and the chairperson of the Staff-Parish Relations Committee. If there is reason to believe that a crime may have been committed (e.g., rape, or a minor was involved), the police shall be contacted immediately by the person who observes or is informed of the behavior. The only exception to this duty to report the matter to the police applies solely in the narrow circumstances in which the information would be protected from disclosure by the clergy-penitent privilege. In that case, the clergy person shall immediately consult with the district superintendent about whether reporting is appropriate.
2. When a report of sexual misconduct, abuse or harassment is received by the pastor or Staff-Parish Relations Committee chairperson, he or she shall contact the district superintendent immediately (within no more than eight hours); the district superintendent shall provide direction on how to handle the situation including the protocol for investigation and response to the report. All reports and follow up shall be documented in writing by the pastor, Staff-Parish Relations Committee chairperson and superintendent. Copies shall be submitted to the bishop's office within seven days of the actions taken.

3. If the report involves a clergy person, the district superintendent shall immediately contact the bishop. A report of the incident shall be provided to the Board of Ordained Ministry Executive Committee. The Board of Ordained Ministry may suspend the pastor according to the Book of Discipline in order to protect the individual (s) and the congregation and to conduct an investigation. The original report and/or complaint, as well as a report about how the matter was resolved, shall be provided to the Board of Ordained Ministry and entered into the clergyperson's personnel file.
4. If the report involves a lay person or a non-clergy staff, the Staff-Parish Relations Committee shall review the situation and determine whether the lay person should be prohibited from participation in ministry activities, or if the report involves a staff person whether she or he should be suspended. During the investigation period, the Staff-Parish Relations Committee shall implement a "buddy system." A buddy system provides that the individual under investigation be accompanied by a church staff person or parishioner at all times while the individual under investigation is on church property or participating in church ministries, whether on or off church property. Under no circumstances shall the "buddy" be a family member or close friend of the person under investigation.
5. If a lay person is making sexual advances, stalking or other unwanted sexual behavior toward a clergy person, the clergy person shall contact the district superintendent who shall schedule a meeting with the Staff-Parish Relations Committee in order to develop a process for providing support for the clergy person and determining how to communicate appropriate boundaries and behaviors to the lay person.
6. All complaints and reports of sexual misconduct, abuse or harassment shall be treated as allegations pending investigation, with sensitivity to a presumption of innocence, while at the same time taking appropriate steps to ensure the safety of all individuals. Whether the congregation will be made aware of the allegations during the investigation will be determined by consultation with the pastor, district superintendent, the Staff-Parish Relations Committee, law enforcement personnel and/or experienced consultants. If the allegations are found to be true, a report approved by the district superintendent shall be provided to the congregation. Any sexual abuse, misconduct or harassment committed by a clergy person's immediate family member or anyone living in the clergy person's household shall be reported immediately (within eight hours) to the district superintendent. The district superintendent, in consultation with the bishop's office and the Conference Chancellor, shall determine whether any actions are required.
7. In addition to the standard background investigations of a potential staff person, pastors shall consult with their district superintendent before hiring in order to determine whether a potential hire has a record of sexual misconduct, abuse or harassment. Laity or former clergy who have had inappropriate activity with minors or rape or sexual assault with adults are to have a buddy system when participating in church activities.
8. The district superintendent shall enter into a church's file the original complaint against a lay person, the findings and actions, and it shall remain in the church's file.

Safe Sanctuary Procedures

Every congregation shall have a safe sanctuary policy and shall provide training at least annually for all who work with youth or children. Staff Parish Relations Committees shall require a background check for all staff and shall review the National Sex Offenders' registry at least twice a year for their staff and for youth and children's workers.

Care for the Clergy/Laity

The district superintendent, when appropriate, shall provide referral options for counseling, arrange for reconciliation and for pastoral care and support to any individuals or family members victimized by sexual harassment, abuse or misconduct.

Care for the Congregation

The Bishop and Cabinet shall provide for the congregation a process for healing if a report or complaint has resulted in disruption. The process for healing may include counseling for the parties involved, a worship service, mediation and ongoing conflict management, sharing of information about the nature of the complaint and any appointment issues. Encourage clergy, staff and relevant laity to seek training in responding to the needs of all persons involved, including victims, perpetrators and silent witnesses; provide a safe place for all ages and gender orientation; develop or identify educational materials; and publicize a zero-tolerance position.

This policy was adopted by the Baltimore-Washington Conference on June 1, 2012.

JOINT SCHOLARSHIP COORDINATING TASK FORCE

It is our privilege to report 28 scholarships for 2012-2013 academic year have been awarded, totaling $21,200. INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Council on Finance and Administration of
The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying Combined Statement of Financial Position of The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. and Subsidiary and The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office (collectively referred to as Conference) as of December 31, 2011, and the related Combined Statements of Activities and Cash Flows for the year then ended. These combined financial statements are the responsibility of the Conference's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these combined financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the combined financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the combined financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As more fully described in Note 8 to the combined financial statements, the Conference accounts for post-retirement benefit obligations on a pay-as-you-go basis. In our opinion, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the funded status of post-retirement obligations be recorded in the Combined Statement of Financial Position and changes in the funded status be recognized as changes in net assets in the year the change occurs. The effects on the combined financial statements of the preceding practice are not reasonably determinable.

In our opinion, except for the effects on the matter discussed in the preceding paragraph, the combined financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. and Subsidiary and The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office as of December 31, 2011, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE
NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Activities

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. (BWC) was formed to provide for the promotion of the Christian faith, missionary, and benevolent causes.

BWC Borrower, LLC was formed to finance, manage, and maintain property and operate a management business for this purpose. BWC is the sole member of BWC Borrower, LLC.

The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office (Episcopal Office) was formed to manage many aspects of BWC, including presiding over sessions, overseeing fiscal and program operations, and to ensure fair process.

Principles of Combination

The combined financial statements include the accounts of BWC, BWC Borrower, LLC and the Episcopal Office (collectively referred to as the Conference). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Accounting Standards Codification

All references in the combined financial statements to the Codification refer to the Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. The Codification is the single source of authoritative GAAP in the United States.

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying combined financial statements are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America on the accrual basis of accounting, whereby revenue is recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

Basis of Presentation

Under the Codification, the Conference is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE
NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, CONTINUED

Unrestricted net assets are assets that are neither permanently restricted nor temporarily restricted by donor-imposed stipulations. These resources include:

- Operating – to support operations
- Property – restricted for property acquisitions
- Medical Benefits – designated by the Board to fund medical premiums
- Designated for Loans – to fund low interest loans to the United Methodist Churches
- Designated for Post - Retirement Health Benefits – to fund post-retirement health benefits

Temporarily restricted net assets are contributions whose use is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that either expire by the passage of time or can be fulfilled by use for specified purposes.

Permanently restricted net assets are contributions whose use is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that neither expire by the passage of time nor can be fulfilled or otherwise removed by the Conference's actions.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the combined financial statements and revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Conference considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

The Conference maintains its cash in financial institutions which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Conference believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

Funds Due to Others

Amounts represent proceeds from the sale of a church property, which is due to the Washington – Columbia District.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE

Investments

Under the Codification, investments are recorded at fair value. Investments received as gifts and bequests are recorded at fair value at the gift date. To adjust the carrying value of the investments, realized and unrealized gains and losses are reported in the Combined Statement of Activities. See Note 3 for further discussion of the valuation of investments.

The Conference invests in a professionally managed portfolio that contains stocks and bonds of publicly traded companies, mutual funds, and pooled investments. Such investments are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market, and credit. Due to the level of risk associated with such investments and the level of uncertainty related to the changes in value of such investments, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risks in the near-term would materially affect investment balances and the amounts reported in the combined financial statements.

Other Receivables

Other receivables include amounts due from individuals and organizations related to the Conference for pension and medical costs. At December 31, 2011, management recorded an allowance for uncollectible accounts of $184,384.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment greater than $2,500 are recorded at cost if purchased or fair value at the date of the donation if gifted. Lesser amounts are expensed. Depreciation is determined using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets.

Apportionments

The Conference receives a significant portion of its revenue in the form of apportionments from local churches that are members of the Conference. Apportionments are accepted from the local churches; however, they are not a legal obligation. As such, apportionments are recognized as revenue when received, since the amount to be received is undeterminable until paid by the local churches. The Conference's apportionment policy is to include apportionments received by Tuesday following the second Friday subsequent to the date of the accompanying Combined Statement of Financial Position. Apportionments are used to fund mission and ministries of the Conference and General Church World Services.

Medical Premiums

The Conference receives premiums from local churches that are members of the Conference. These premiums are used to pay for medical insurance for clergy and lay employees of the Conference.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE

Contributions

In accordance with the Not-for-Profit Entities Revenue Recognition Topic of the Codification, contributions received are recorded as either unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support. All contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted, either temporarily or permanently, by the donor. The Conference's policy is to utilize temporarily restricted support against qualifying expenses as they are incurred. Contributions are carried at the present value of expected future cash flows. Management determines the allowance for uncollectible promises to give by identifying specific uncollectible accounts and by using historical experience.

Camping Registration and Events

The Conference receives registration fees from families for camps owned and operated by the Conference. The Conference also hosts numerous seminars and conferences throughout the year, for which registration fees are collected by the Conference. Revenue is recognized in the year such services and events occur.

Program Expense

Apportioned funds categories represent the following:

- Discipleship – All department staffing costs for the Councils on Ministries and Human Resource Development as well as the activities of the ministries, missions performed within the Conference, establishing new churches, growth of existing churches, activities and programs undertaken to develop both clergy and lay religious education, and spiritual enrichment of all clergy and lay persons within the Conference
- Stewardship - All financial and administrative components of the Conference, including the treasury function, trustees, pension and health benefits for clergy and lay employees and costs of the Conference Center offices
- Leadership – Costs for departments linked directly to the Bishop's office
- General Church and Jurisdictional Apportionment – Funds collected by the Conference from local churches and designated by the Conference to send to the General Church and World Services

Subsequent Events

The Conference has evaluated subsequent events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure in the combined financial statements through May 24, 2012, the date the combined financial statements were available to be issued.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE

2. INCOME TAXES

The Conference is exempt from federal and state income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Income which is not related to exempt purposes, less applicable deductions, is subject to federal and state corporate income taxes. The Conference had no net unrelated business income for the year ended December 31, 2011.

The Conference follows the provisions of Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes under the Income Taxes Topic of the Codification. The Codification requires the evaluation of tax positions, which include maintaining its tax-exempt status and the taxability of any unrelated business income, and does not allow recognition of tax positions which do not meet a "more-likely-than-not" threshold of being sustained by the applicable tax authority. Management does not believe it has taken any tax positions that would not meet this threshold.

The Conference files federal and state information returns and is no longer subject to income tax examinations by major tax authorities for years prior to 2008.

3. VALUATION OF INVESTMENTS

Investments at December 31, 2011 consisted of the following:

Common Stocks	$ 1,057,612
Corporate Bonds	29,672
Mutual Funds	3,790,233
Pooled Investments	18,803,006
Total	$ 23,680,523

Investment income (loss) for the year ended December 31, 2011 consisted of the following:

Interest and Dividends (Net of $44,473 of Investment Fees)	$ 155,670
Realized Gain on Sale of Investments	145,301
Unrealized Loss on Investments	(452,946)
Total	$ (151,975)

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE

The Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures Topic of the Codification establishes a hierarchical disclosure framework, which prioritizes and ranks the level of market price observability used in measuring investments and other financial instruments at fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Level 1 – Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The Conference considers its investments in common stocks and mutual funds to be Level 1 investments.

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. The Conference considers corporate bonds, government securities, certain nonpublic mutual funds, and pooled investments to be Level 2 investments.

Level 3 – Pricing inputs are unobservable for the investment and include situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the investment. The Conference does not currently hold any Level 3 investments.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may be categorized into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Conference's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment. There were no changes in these methodologies during the year ended December 31, 2011.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value:

Common Stock and Mutual Funds: Valued at quoted prices in an active market.

Nonpublic Mutual Funds: Valued at the net asset value per share that may be redeemed at the date of the Combined Statement of Financial Position.

Corporate Bonds: Valued based on stated interest rates and quality rating.

Pooled Investments: Investments through the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits of the United Methodist Church (General Board), which consist of diversified nonpublic mutual funds and are valued using the net asset value per share that may be redeemed at the date of the Combined Statement of Financial Position.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE

The methods described above produce a fair value that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Conference believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The table below presents the balances of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the hierarchy as of December 31, 2011:

4. NOTES AND MORTGAGE RECEIVABLE

Notes receivable of $843,722 in 2011 represent the net amount of loans issued at interest rates varying from interest free to 7.5%.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE
NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, CONTINUED

Future maturities of these notes at December 31, 2011 are as follows:

Year Ending December 31,	2012	$	445,815
	2013		83,664
	2014		79,767
	2015		81,536

Less: Allowance for Doubtful Notes Receivable			677,427
		$	843,722

In February 2012, the Conference restructured several notes receivable. As a result, approximately $101,000 of interest receivable and $76,000 of notes outstanding were forgiven.

The mortgage receivable bears interest at a fixed rate of 10% and requires monthly payments of principal and interest through 2013.

5. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment as of December 31, 2011 consisted of the following:

Land	$	1,613,701
Building and Improvements		16,637,390
Furniture, Fixtures, and Equipment		2,315,835
Vehicles		171,336

		20,744,262
Less: Accumulated Depreciation		5,909,920
	$	14,834,342

The Conference owns approximately 570 acres of land used by the Outdoor Ministries. The land was donated to the Conference during the period 1948 through 1960 for which no value was determined and, therefore, no amount is included in the Combined Statement of Financial Position.

Depreciation expense was $670,790 for the year ended December 31, 2011.

THE BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, INC. AND AFFILIATE

6. NOTES PAYABLE

The Conference has a note payable to a bank which bears interest equal to the five-year treasury rate plus 300 basis points, with principal and interest payments due monthly through November 2014. A lump-sum payment of the remaining principal balance is due in December 2014. The note is to be collateralized by the West River Methodist Center property. The balance on the note was $1,115,603 at December 31, 2011.

The Conference also has a note payable to the Board of Childcare of the United Methodist Church which bears interest at 5%, subject to adjustment at specified dates. The note requires quarterly principal and interest payments through December 31, 2035. The note is collateralized by the conference center in Maple Lawn, Maryland. The balance on this note was $5,720,000 at December 31, 2011.

Future maturities at December 31, 2011 are as follows:

Year Ending December 31,	2012	$ 292,313
	2013	294,310
	2014	1,308,980
	2015	260,000
	2016	260,000
	Thereafter	4,420,000
		$ 6,835,603

7. PENSION EXPENSE

The Conference participates in three Multi-Employer Pension Plans which are administered by the General Board of Pensions of the United Methodist Church (General Board). The Conference provides pension benefits for members of the clergy under three plans. Services provided prior to January 1, 1982 are covered by a Defined Benefit Plan (Pre-82 Plan). As of December 31, 2011, the General Board determined the Conference's portion of the Pre-82 Plan of the Conference is over funded by $10,870,927. The Pre-82 Plan contributions have been designated by the Conference as funds for future retirement liabilities. An analysis of the funding is performed annually.

Services provided subsequent to December 31, 1981 are covered by the Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP), which has components of both a defined benefit and defined contribution plan. The Conference contributed $934,371 to the MPP Plan for the year ended December 31, 2011.

Services provided subsequent to December 31, 2006 are covered under a Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP Plan), which has components of both a defined benefit and defined contribution plan. An analysis of the funding of the CRSP Plan is performed annually. The Conference contributed $4,374,783 to the CRSP Plan for the year ended December 31, 2011.

A characteristic of multi-employer plans is assets contributed by an employer are not segregated into separate accounts nor restricted to allow for matching of assets to liabilities of any one employer. As such, since plan assets are not segregated on a conference-by-conference basis, the Conference is not required to record a liability related to the Pre-82, MPP or CRSP Plans.

Lay employees of the Conference are covered by a defined contribution plan (Plan). The level and funding of retirement benefits to individual participants of the Plan are determined annually by the Conference within certain guidelines established by the General Board of Pensions. The Conference contributed approximately $263,000 to the Plan for the year ended December 31, 2011.

8. POST-RETIREMENT MEDICAL BENEFITS

Post-retirement medical benefits for all retired personnel and their spouses, widows, and widowers are provided under a discretionary plan administered by the General Board. The Conference accounts for the obligation on a pay-as-you-go basis and the cost of post-retirement medical benefits was approximately $2,484,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011. GAAP requires that the funded status of post-retirement obligations, representing the difference between plan assets and accumulated post-retirement obligations, be recorded in the Combined Statement of Financial Position and that changes in the funded status be recognized as changes in net assets in the year the change occurs.

9. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Conference guarantees a lease for Living Springs United Methodist Church (Living Springs). The property is located in Bowie, Maryland, and the original lease term expires on October 31, 2012. Living Springs merged with another congregation in 2010, and the Conference is required to make monthly payments of approximately $7,500, plus annual payments for real estate taxes and common area maintenance, on the lease. An accrual of $108,760 has been recorded in the Combined Statement of Financial Position as of December 31, 2011, representing the present value of remaining future lease obligations, net of anticipated sublease income.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

The Conference leases office space in Washington, D.C. and Hagerstown, Maryland, as well as office equipment which expire through May 2012. Rent expense was $166,004 for the year ended December 31, 2011.

Future minimum lease payments due during the year ended December 31, 2012 are $6,352.

Contingent receivables of approximately $4,000,000 exist at December 31, 2011. These contingent receivables are conditional donations made by the Conference to churches in the Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. that will be repaid only if the church ceases to be a United Methodist Church.

10. TEMPORARILY AND PERMANENTLY RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

Temporarily restricted net assets are available for the following purposes.

Trustee Restricted Income, Scholarships	$ 4,508
Endowment Grants and Loans	606,887

The net assets released from restrictions were used for the following purposes:

Purchased Capital Additions – Capital Funds Gifts	$ 102,852
Grants and Scholarships	73,357
Funds Held for Giving	1,151,889
	$ 1,328,098

11. ENDOWMENT FUNDS

The Conference’s permanent endowment consists of various donor restricted funds established to provide a source of income for ongoing donor advised program expenses. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Conference has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA), enacted in Maryland on April 14, 2009, as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds, absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Conference classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund, and (c) the change in unrealized gains and losses of invested endowments to the extent allocations do not reduce the endowment value below the original corpus. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets, until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Conference in a manner consistent with the donor’s stipulations or unrestricted net assets.

Return Objectives and Risk Parameters

The Conference’s investment policy is to provide a common investment vehicle, which will generate a stable and continuously growing income stream to support operations. The overall investment goal is to preserve the purchasing power of the future stream of endowment payout for those funds. Other goals include maximizing return within reasonable and prudent levels of risk and maximizing the value of the endowment while maintaining liquidity needed to support spending in prolonged down markets. The Conference seeks a return on investment consistent with levels of investment risk that are prudent and reasonable given medium- to long-term capital market conditions and investment objectives.

Endowment Spending Policy

The Conference follows the specific spending requirements of each endowment and, if there are no donor stipulations, the income is used for the purpose and mission of the Conference.

Endowment net asset composition by type of fund as of December 31, 2011:

	Unrestricted	Temporarily Restricted	Permanently Restricted	Total
Endowment Net Assets, Beginning of Year	$ -	$ 559,303	$ 1,732,373	$ 2,291,676
Investment Return:
Investment Income	-	57,213	-	57,213
Net Appreciation, Realized and Unrealized	-	11,251	-	11,251
Total Investment Return	-	627,767	1,732,373	2,360,140
Appropriation of Endowment Assets for Expenditure	-	-	-	-
Endowment Net Assets, End of Year	$ -	$ 627,767	$ 1,732,373	$ 2,360,140

12. DONATED SERVICES

No amounts have been reflected in the combined financial statements for donated services, as no objective basis is available to measure the value of such services. However, a substantial number of volunteers donate significant amounts of time to the Conference's program services, fund-raising campaigns, and general administration.

13. RESTATEMENT

During 2011, the Conference determined net asset balances at January 1, 2011 were improperly allocated between unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted. In addition, unrestricted net assets were increased and accounts payable and accrued expenses were decreased by $977,432 to properly reflect liabilities due to the General Board for pension and health care costs. Accordingly, the Combined Statement of Financial Position has been restated to correct these balances as follows:

	Unrestricted	Temporarily Restricted	Permanently Restricted
Net Asset Balance, As Previously Reported	$ 37,416,950	$ 1,341,986	$ 1,616,970
Correction for Improper Allocation between Net Asset Balances	59,493	(174,896)	115,403
Correction for Pension and Health Care Costs	977,432	-	-
Net Asset Balance, As Restated	$ 38,453,875	$ 1,167,090	$ 1,732,373

ADDITIONAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc.

We have audited the combined financial statements of The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. and Subsidiary and The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011, and our report thereon dated May 24, 2012, which was qualified for accounting for post-retirement benefit obligations, appears on Page 1. Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the combined financial statements as a whole. The Combining Schedule – Statement of Financial Position, Combining Schedule – Statement of Unrestricted Activities and Statement of Activities – The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the combined financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and related directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the combined financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the combined financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the combined financial statements or to the combined financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, except for the effects on the additional financial information referred to above of the qualified opinion on the combined financial statements as described above, such information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the combined financial statements as a whole.

CORRECTION FORM, 2012 JOURNAL

Much of the information in this Journal, including addresses and phone numbers are pulled from Gateway, the online database of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. If you find your personal or church contact information is incorrect, please follow the instructions below. Each person is responsible for keeping their own information up to date.

Logging into Gateway:

1. In your browser, go to www.bwcumc.org and click on “Sign In” at the top of the page.
2. If you know your username and password, type them in the fields provided.
3. If you’ve forgotten your username or password, click on “Forgot your Password” in the body of that page. Follow the instructions to request your username and password. This information will be sent to the e-mail address linked to your record.
4. We highly recommend you change your user name and password to something that’s easy to remember. You may do so by clicking on “My Contact Info” on the left navigation and following the instructions below.

Changing your contact information:

1. Follow the instructions above to log in.
2. Once logged in, on the left navigation, click on “My Contact Info.”
3. Click the “Edit” box at the top of the page.
4. Type changed information into the appropriate fields.

Errors in appointment history or church relationships may be reported to Office of Communications AND your Regional Administrator.
